IFRS training in your city

IFRS is fast emerging as a common accounting language across the world. In India, the first phase of IFRS convergence process starts from 2011 and hence it has become necessary for accounting professionals in particular, and business executives in general, to become aware of the basic concepts of IFRS.

KPMG in India is committed to train the accounting professionals/ chartered accountants in IFRS and in this regard has taken several training initiatives across various cities.

In continuation of these efforts, KPMG is pleased to announce a two-day beginner level training programme in Aurangabad/ Ahmedabad/ Coimbatore that will focus on the concepts of IFRS in detail.
