It celebrates womanhood and pays tribute to the indomitable spirit of women around the world and across the globe. This day, we celebrate the social, economic, cultural and political achievements of Women in order to promote gender parity in every sphere of our lives. Being a woman myself, it gives me immense pleasure to convey my hearties wishes on this day as President, The Institute of Company Secretaries of India. My wishes are not only for women but also for the men who respect, motivate and contribute to the lives of women, be it as father, brother, son, friend, colleague or in any other capacity. I as a Woman believe in interdependence and I wish the Society a happy intertwined life. CS Binani also expressed that God has gifted women with an exclusive combination of beauty, compassion and intellect. I wish all to celebrate the spirit of womanhood not only today but everyday. In Indian corporate governance context, this Women's Day is also special as many women are now part of Boardrooms in India after SEBI requirement to introduce gender diversity.
