Habits Of Highly Interesting People

All Habits Will Make You Interesting In The First Place

We all love to hangout around cool and interesting people. What makes people interesting in the first place: being adventurous, doing crazy stuff, wit and humor or just excellent communication? Whatever the reason interesting folks get a lot of attention, at parties and functions people crowd around them and they are the life of the party.

The best way to be interesting is to be interested.

Become interested in the people around you; express a genuine interest to know them, their hobbies, their passions and what they do for their living. Be interested in your surroundings, in the events happening around you. Becoming interested is a surefire way of becoming interesting. Here are 10 habits that can help you to be more interesting:

Habit # 1 : Liking yourself

For other people to like you it is essential that you like yourselves first. Your first love should be self love. Always be confident while speaking. Stand erect and look at people in the eye while having a conversation. A lack of confidence will drive people away from you as they perceive you have nothing worthwhile to say.

“Nobody will think you’re somebody if you don’t think so yourself.”
- African-American proverb

Habit # 2 : Uniqueness

We all have stories to tell about our lives. What is your story? Is it dull and boring or is it interesting and worth sharing? If you have a great life with lots of cool stuff going on then you already have an interesting story to tell.

A photograph of a field of tulips. Most of the tulips are a deep, dark red color. In the center-right of the frame, there is a single tulip that is white with prominent, dark red or maroon streaks running vertically down its petals, making it stand out from the rest of the field. The background is filled with more red tulips, slightly out of focus, and green foliage at the bottom.

Trusting your individual uniqueness challenges you to lay yourself open.
- James Broughton

Habit # 3 : Read well

What information have you got to share with others? To talk well it is necessary that you read well. Read books, lots of them. Read the newspaper daily , at least the headlines so that you have at least some clue when people are talking about the current affairs. Read any interesting, strange or funny article you come across so that you can share it with your friends.

The man who does not read good books has no advantage over the man who cannot read them.

- Mark Twain

Habit # 4 : Being funny

We all love to have a good laugh. Funny and witty people attract a lot of attention and are generally very popular. Being witty takes time and work. You can start by reading jokes, funny quotes or watching comedy sitcoms. Though time taking it is worth to develop such a talent as humor is a fail safe way to become interesting.

There is hope for the future because God has a sense of humor and we are funny to God.
- Bill Cosby

Habit # 5 : Active listening

Whenever someone talks to you; listen, listen actively. Most of us are passive listeners waiting for the other guy to end his talk so that we can start ours. When you listen actively, you give your hundred percent attention to the person talking to you, this shows a genuine interest from your side. Active listening will allow you to learn a lot and will establish your image as an interesting person.

I like to listen. I have learned a great deal from listening carefully. Most people never listen.
- Ernest Hemingway

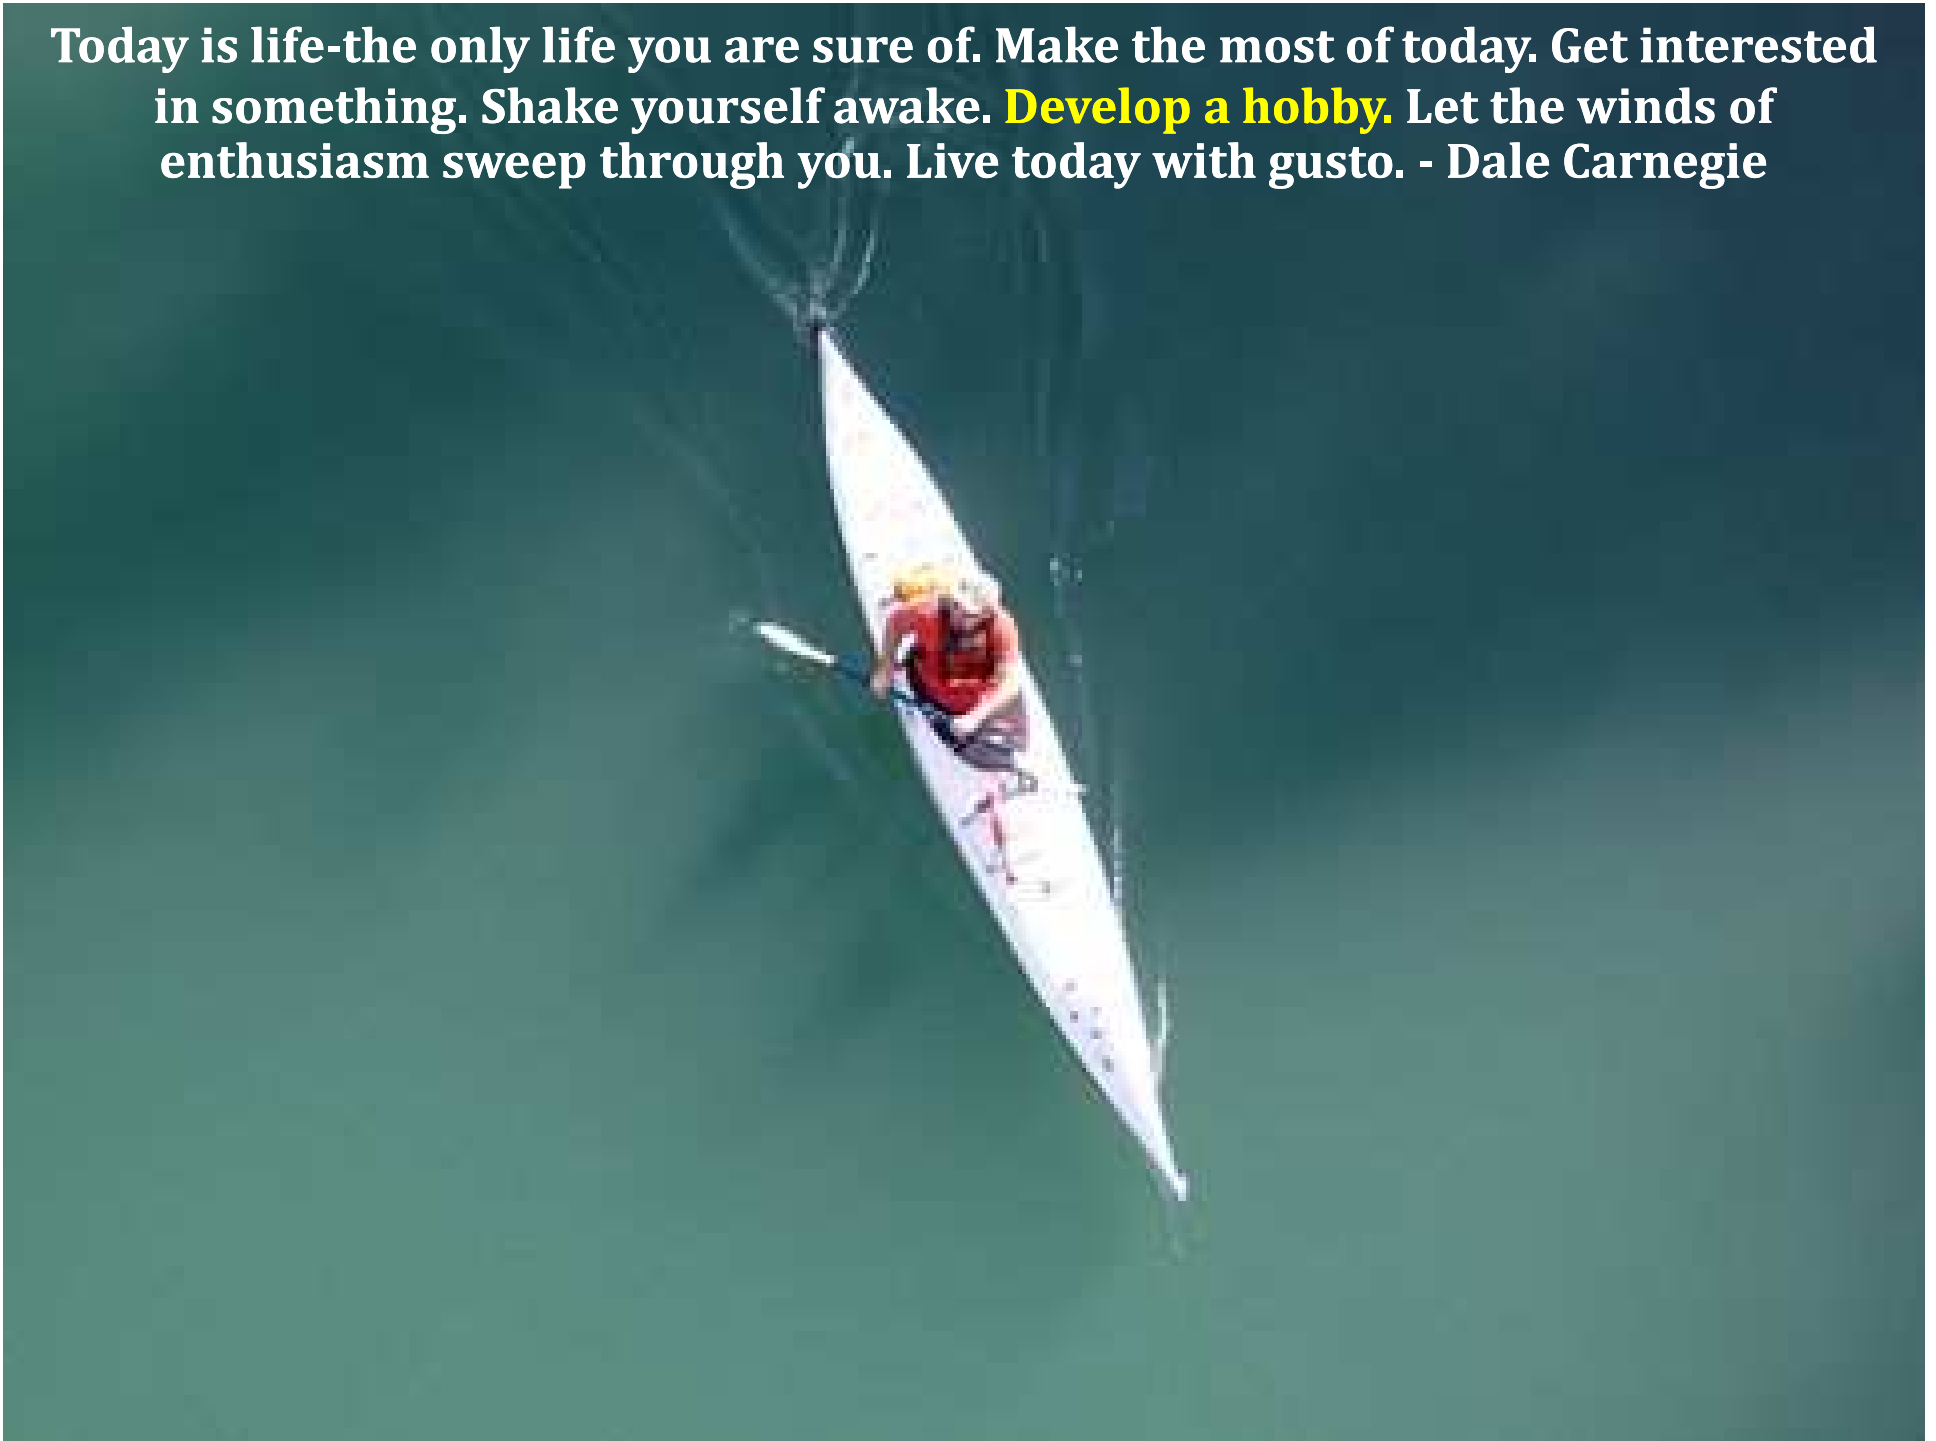

Habit # 6 : Hobbies

Take up an interesting hobby, something that you are excited and passionate about and can share it with your friends. An outdoor hobby would be better as it allows interaction with a lot of people. It is also much better than spending your entire time sitting in your room in front of the TV or computer.

Today is life-the only life you are sure of. Make the most of today. Get interested in something. Shake yourself awake. Develop a hobby. Let the winds of enthusiasm sweep through you. Live today with gusto. - Dale Carnegie

Habit # 7 : Style and appearance

Style and appearance matter a lot. A good looking guy or a girl gets lot of attention than ordinary folks. But lets accept it , not everyone is blessed with good looks. These days with the right grooming almost anyone can look good. The clothes you wear tell a lot about you. The first impression is the best impression and more often than not we are judged by our looks and what we wear.

Fashion fades, only style remains the same.
- Coco Chanel

Habit # 8 : Optimistic

Optimism is a great quality to have. Everyone loves to talk to positive people full of life. The negative ones, who keep whining and complaining all the time, are a put off. Who would you love to talk to and spend your time with? It's obvious. Have positive outlook towards life and treat life as an adventure.

A photograph of a dirt path winding through a forest. The scene is bathed in a warm, golden light, likely from a low sun, creating a misty or foggy atmosphere. The trees are mostly bare, suggesting autumn or winter. The path is covered in fallen leaves and has some puddles reflecting the light. In the lower-left corner, there is a quote in white and yellow text.

A pessimist is one who makes difficulties of his opportunities and an optimist is one who makes opportunities of his difficulties.*

- Harry S. Truman

Habit # 9 : Charisma

Charisma will make you a great leader and will attract people to you. It is sometimes called as personal magnetism. Few have it developed to a very good extent that we can't help being attracted and influenced by them. The air around them is filled with aura and charm that just sucks people in. Being charismatic is one quality that will help you to stand out in a crowd.

Being a leader gives you charisma. If you look and study the leaders who have succeeded, that's where charisma comes from, from the leading.

Seth Godin

Habit # 10 : Being different

What do you do different from others. Do you do ordinary things in an extraordinary way or do you do extraordinary things. What talents or abilities do you have that can make you stand apart from the crowd? Dare to be different and people will flock to you to know what you are doing.

Don't be afraid to be different. Make your differences into advantages. It can and will work for you.
- Unknown quotes

Using these simple habits will help you to attract better people to close to you. There are many ways to be interesting. You can choose one or you can choose a bit of each to create a path of your own to interestingness. You live your life only once, get out there and be interesting.

You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. You are the guy who'll decide where to go. ~Dr. Seuss

Thank You Very Much Sompong Yusoontorn
