(8) The profits and gains computed above shall be aggregated with other income of the assessee and thereafter deduction under Chapter VI-A will be allowed.

SHORT NOTES ON THE INCOME-TAX ACT, 1961I. GENERAL*[From assessment year 2006-07 and onwards]

The Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 which was in force upto and including the assessment year 1961-62 was repealed with effect from 1st April, 1962 and in its place a new Act called the Income-tax Act, 1961 was introduced which is the operative Act for and from the assessment year 1962-63. Since its introduction, the new Act has undergone innumerable changes by way of amendments, substitutions, deletions and insertions of various provisions so much so that it is difficult to keep track of the frequent changes made and the years from which these have become operative. Salient features of the Act are explained in a very simple language so as to make them understandable in relation to assessment year 2006-07 and subsequent years.

(i) Assessment

The Income-tax Act is a machinery for computing the total income of the previous year from various sources as classified in section 14 [Refer item VI(i) on page 68]. Such computation or assessment is made after allowing various exclusions, exemptions and deductions as provided in the Act. The Income-tax Act does not, however, prescribe the rates at which tax is to be charged. Section 4 of the Income-tax Act lays down that income-tax shall be charged for any assessment year in respect of the total income of the previous year computed under the Income-tax Act at the rates prescribed by the Finance Act which is passed every year by the Parliament. Thus, while the total income is computed under the Income-tax Act which is a permanent enactment, the tax payable on such income has to be worked out at the rates laid down in the Finance Act which is an annual enactment. An assessment, therefore, comprises of two stages: (1) computation of total income, and (2) determination of the tax payable thereon. When both these stages are completed, an assessment is said to have been made.

As the Finance Bill is usually passed by the Parliament and receives the assent of the President long after 1st April, the question arises "what would be the effective rates at which tax has to be charged for the current assessment year during the pendency of the bill?" The answer to this question is provided in section 294 of the Income-tax Act which lays down that the effective rates in that case would be the rates in force in the preceding assessment year or the rates proposed in the Finance Bill in respect of the current assessment year, whichever is more favourable to the assessee.

To sum up, the tax in relation to the income of any assessment year is to be charged with reference to the rates enacted by the Finance Act of that year. To illustrate, if the assessments in respect of the earlier assessment years 2007-08 and 2008-09 are completed during the financial year 2009-10, the rates at which tax is to be charged for the said assessment years would be the rates laid down under Part I of the First Schedule to the Finance Act, 2007 and Part I of the First Schedule to the Finance Act, 2008, respectively.

(ii) Assessment year[Section 2(9)]

The question then arises as to what is an assessment year? In the Income-tax Act, the Income-tax year is described as assessment year; that is, the year in which the income of the previous year which ended before the commencement of the assessment year, is to be assessed. The assessment year comprises of a period of twelve months corresponding to a financial year, commencing from 1st April and ending on 31st March. Thus, the assessment year 2009-10 commenced from 1st April, 2009 and would end on 31st March, 2010.

(iii) Previous year[Section 3]

There will be only one previous year for all assessee ending on 31st March for all sources of income. In other words the financial year immediately preceding the assessment year shall be the uniform previous year. In the case of newly set up business or profession during the financial year, the previous year will end on 31st March, even though the period comprised in the previous year may be less than 12 months. For example, an assessee has started a new business on 1-8-2008, his previous year for the assessment year 2009-10 would be of 8 months beginning from 1-8-2008 and ending on 31-3-2009 and for the subsequent assessment years his previous year will consist of 12 months beginning with 1st April and ending on 31st March [Proviso to section 3].

(iv) Assessee[Section 2(7)]

The assessee is a person by whom any tax or any other sum of money (such as interest, penalty) is payable under the Income-tax Act or in respect of whom any proceeding under the Act has been taken for the assessment of his income or loss or of the income or loss of any other person in respect of which he is assessable or of the amount of refund due to him or to such other person. It also includes every person deemed to be an assessee under Chapter XV of the Income-tax Act, 1961.

Under section 2(31) of the Income-tax Act, persons (i.e., assessee) are divided into following categories:

- (i) Individual;
- (ii) Hindu undivided family which consists of all persons lineally descended from a common male ancestor and is assessable in respect of income derived from the joint family corpus not being the income earned by its individual members in their individual and personal capacity;
- (iii) Company [As defined under section 2(17) of the Income-tax Act (e.g., any Indian company)];
- (iv) Firm¹ [A partnership of two or more persons (but not exceeding 20 persons) carrying on a business or profession constituted under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932];
- (v) Association of persons or a body of individuals (i.e., combination of persons formed for promoting a joint venture or a joint enterprise, executors of an estate, trustees of a trust, etc.);
- (vi) Local authority (e.g., Municipality, Local Boards, etc.); and
- (vii) Every artificial juridical person, not falling in any of the preceding categories (i.e., a Hindu deity).

As per Explanation to section 2(31), 'person' includes an association of persons or a body of individuals or a local authority or an artificial juridical person, whether or not such person or body or authority or juridical person was formed or established or incorporated with the object of deriving income, profits or gains.

(v) Residential status of an assessee:

(Section 6)

The income liable to tax in the hands of an assessee is determined on the basis of residential status. For this purpose, the assessee is divided into the following two categories:

- (i) Resident in India, and
- (ii) Non-resident in India.

Individuals and Hindu undivided families who are resident in India are again classified as,—

- (a) Ordinarily resident, and
- (b) Not ordinarily resident.

1. ORDINARILY RESIDENT IN INDIA:

(A) IN RESPECT OF "INDIVIDUALS"

Section 6 of the Income-tax Act, deals with residence in India. The residential status of an individual would be determined as under:

(1) An individual will be treated as resident in India in any previous year if he fulfills any of the following two conditions laid down in section 6(1),—

- (a) he is in India in that year for a period or periods amounting in all to 182 days or more; or
- (b) having within the four years preceding that year been in India for a period or periods amounting in all to 365 days or more and has been in India for 60 days or more in that year.

(2) Under Explanation to section 6(1) of the Income-tax Act, the residential status of an individual who is rendering service outside India and who visits India during leave or vacation in any previous year or an individual who is outside India and who comes on a visit to India in any previous year will be determined as under:

(a) an Indian citizen who leaves India in any previous year for the purposes of employment outside India or as a crew member of an Indian ship^{1a} would be treated as resident in India if the period of his stay in India in that year amounts to 182 days or more [instead of 60 days as stated in 1(b) above]. Conversely, if the period of his stay in India is less than 182 days, he will be treated as "non-resident" for that year and his foreign income would not attract tax liability.

(b) an *Indian citizen or a person of Indian origin*² who resides outside India and who comes on a visit to India in any previous year will be treated as resident in India if his stay in India in that year amounts to 182 days or more [instead of 60 days as stated in 1(b) above]. Conversely, he will be treated as "non-resident" if the period of his stay in India in that year is less than 182 days.

(3) An individual (whether Indian citizen or not) who is outside India and who comes on a visit to India in any previous year will be treated as "non-resident" in India if his stay in India in that previous year is less than 182 days subject to the condition that during the preceding four previous years his stay in India does not amount to 365 days or more.

1. From assessment year 2010-11 and onwards, 'firm' shall also include a limited liability partnership of two or more partners carrying on a business or profession constituted under the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008.

1a. W.e.f. 1-4-1990, such crew members would be treated as "non-resident" in India if they are on board such ship outside the territorial waters of India for 182 days or more during any year [Circular No. 586, dt. 28-11-1990 :186 ITR (St.) 167].

2. A person shall be deemed to be of Indian origin if he, or either of his parents or any of his grand-parents, was born in undivided India [Explanation to section 115C(e)].

- EXAMPLES:* (1) Mr. A who was abroad, returned to India on 1-7-2008 and again left India on 10-1-2009. Since his stay in India during the previous year exceeds 181 days (i.e., 194 days), he will be regarded as “resident” for the assessment year 2009-10 [Section 6(1)(a)]. However, if his stay in India during the preceding four previous years (2004-05 to 2007-08) was less than 365 days and his stay in India during the previous year 2008-09 was also less than 182 days, he will be regarded as “non-resident” for the financial year ending on 31-3-2009 [Section 6(1)(c) read with Explanation].
- (2) Mr. A who is an Indian citizen or a person of Indian origin came on a visit to India on 1-7-2008. He left India on 10-1-2009 i.e., after a stay of more than 181 days (i.e., 194 days). Prior to 1-4-2008, he was in India for over 365 days during the four previous years 2004-05 to 2007-08. He will be regarded as “resident” for the assessment year 2009-10 as his stay in India during the previous year 2008-09 is of more than 181 days [Section 6(1)(c) read with Explanation].
- (3) Mr. A who is an Indian citizen or a person of Indian origin came on a visit to India on 1-7-2008. He left India on 25-12-2008 i.e., after a stay of 178 days. Prior to 1-4-2008, he was in India for over 365 days during the preceding four previous years 2004-05 to 2007-08. Mr. A will be regarded as “non-resident” for the assessment year 2009-10 as his stay in India during the previous year 2008-09 was less than 182 days [Section 6(1)(c) read with Explanation].
- (4) Mr. A who is an Indian citizen leaves India on 25-9-2008, as a member of the crew of an Indian ship or for the purposes of employment outside India and comes to India on a visit after 1st April, 2009. He was in India for over 365 days during the preceding four previous years 2004-05 to 2007-08. For the assessment year 2009-10, Mr. A will be regarded as “non-resident” despite the fact that he was in India for a period of more than 365 days in the preceding four previous years and was in India for more than 60 days but less than 182 days (i.e., 178 days) during the previous year 2008-09 [Section 6(1)(c) read with Explanation].

(B) IN RESPECT OF “HUF, FIRM & OTHER ASSOCIATION OF PERSONS”

A Hindu undivided family, firm or other association of persons is said to be resident in India in any previous year except where during that year the control and management of its affairs is situated wholly outside India [Section 6(2)].

(C) IN RESPECT OF A “COMPANY”

A company is said to be resident in India in any previous year if it satisfies any of the following two conditions:

- (i) it is an Indian company, or
- (ii) during that year, the control and management of its affairs is situated wholly in India [Section 6(3)].

2. NON-RESIDENT:

(a) An individual who does not satisfy both the conditions as mentioned on facing page for residence in India as laid down in section 6(1) will be treated as “non-resident” in that previous year.

EXAMPLE: Mr. A, who is neither a citizen of India nor a person of Indian origin, was in India for over 365 days during the financial years from 2004-05 to 2007-08. However, he did not visit India during the financial year 2008-09 except for 59 days. In this case, Mr. A will be regarded as “non-resident” for the assessment year 2009-10, as his stay in India during the financial year 2008-09 was less than 60 days.

(b) A Hindu undivided family, firm or other association of persons will be treated as “non-resident” in India in any previous year if the control and management of its affairs is situated wholly outside India during that year.

(c) A company will be treated as “non-resident” in India in any previous year if it is not an Indian company and also if the control and management of its affairs is not situated wholly in India in that year.

3. NOT ORDINARILY RESIDENT IN INDIA

IN RESPECT OF “INDIVIDUALS” AND “HINDU UNDIVIDED FAMILIES”:

It may be noted that under the Income-tax Act the status of “not ordinarily resident” in India is accorded only to “Individuals” and “Hindu undivided families” and not to any other categories of assessee. Accordingly, remaining categories of assessee are classified either as “resident” (which means “ordinarily resident”) or as “non-resident”, as the case may be.

An individual will be treated as “not ordinarily resident” in India in any previous year if he has been a non-resident in India in 9 out of 10 previous years preceding that year, or has during the 7 previous years preceding that year been in India for a period of, or periods amounting in all to, 729 days or less [Section 6(6)(a)].

A Hindu undivided family (HUF) will be treated as “not ordinarily resident” in India if the manager of the HUF has been a non-resident in India in 9 out of 10 previous years preceding that year, or has during the 7 previous years preceding that year been in India for a period of, or periods amounting in all to, 729 days or less [Section 6(6)(b)].

In both the cases, i.e., individual/HUF, both the conditions are required to be complied with to be treated as “not ordinarily resident” in India.

(vi) Scope of income liable to tax:

(Sections 5, 5A & 9)

(1) Persons who are resident and ordinarily resident are chargeable to tax on all income:

- (a) which is received or is deemed to be received in India;
- (b) which accrues or arises or is deemed to accrue or arise in India; and
- (c) which accrues or arises outside India [Section 5(1)].

In respect of husband and wife governed by the system of community of property under the Portuguese Civil Code of 1860 in force in the State of Goa and in the Union territories of Dadra and Nagar Haveli and Daman and Diu, the income of husband and wife, except salary income, is to be apportioned equally between husband and wife and assessed separately in their respective hands after giving rebates/reliefs, etc. to each one of them [Section 5A].

(2) The liability of the persons who are resident but not ordinarily resident is the same as in the case of persons who are resident and ordinarily resident [Refer (1) above] except that the income which accrues or arises outside India is not includible in their total income unless it is derived from a business controlled in or a profession set up in India [Proviso to section 5(1)].

(3) Non-residents are liable in respect of income received or deemed to be received in India or which accrues or arises or is deemed to accrue or arise in India [Section 5(2)]. They are not at all liable in respect of income accruing or arising outside India even if it is remitted to India.

(4) Irrespective of residential status, all income accruing or arising, whether directly or indirectly, through or from: (a) any business connection in India; or (b) any property in India; or (c) any asset or source of income in India; or (d) the transfer of a capital asset situate in India, shall be deemed to accrue or arise in India and chargeable to tax in India [Section 9(1)(i)].

However, no income shall be deemed to accrue or arise in India to non-resident news agencies or film makers, where their operations in India are confined to gathering and transmitting news outside India or shooting films in India [Clause (c) and (d) of the Explanation 1 to section 9(1)(i)].

(5) Salary income, irrespective of residential status, shall be deemed to accrue or arise in India and chargeable to tax in India if it is earned in India [Section 9(1)(ii)]. In respect of a crew member of an Indian ship, refer footnote No. 1 on page 50. In respect of Government servant who is a citizen of India and working in a foreign country, the salary paid to him in a foreign country is deemed to accrue or arise in India [Section 9(1)(iii)]. However, foreign allowances and perquisites granted to such government employee posted in a foreign country are specifically exempt u/s. 10(7).

(6) The following incomes which are payable outside India, are deemed to arise in India—

- (a) dividend paid by an Indian company [Section 9(1)(iv)];
- (b) interest payable on moneys borrowed and brought into India [Section 9(1)(v)]; and
- (c) royalty and technical service fees, where the royalty is payable in respect of any right or fees are payable in respect of technical services used for business or profession in India. Royalty and technical service fees will be exempt, if payable: (1) through an agreement made before 1-4-1976 which is approved by the Central Government; and (2) in respect of computer software supplied by a non-resident manufacturer along with a computer or computer based equipment under approved specified scheme of the Government of India [Section 9(1)(vi)/(vii)].

For the purposes of section 9, where the income is deemed to accrue or arise in India u/s. 9(1)(v)/(vi)/(vii) [Refer (b) & (c) above], such income shall be included in the total income of the non-resident, whether or not the non-resident has a residence or place of business or business connection in India [Explanation to section 9].

(7) Remittances out of foreign income received in India are entirely exempt from income-tax in the case of “resident” as well as “non-resident” assessee. However, the foreign income even though not remitted to India is liable to be charged to tax on accrual basis in the case of every ordinarily resident assessee but in the case of not ordinarily resident assessee such foreign income is chargeable on accrual basis if it arises from business controlled in or a profession set up in India as stated in (2) above.

ILLUSTRATION: For assessment year 2009-10, Mr. A, aged 50 years, has income from the following sources:—

Income in India:

(a) Income from house property in India	Rs. 30,000
(b) Income from proprietary business in India	Rs. 90,000
(c) Interest on debentures of Indian companies	Rs. 50,000
Income in India	Rs. 1,70,000	Rs. 1,70,000

Foreign income:

(i) Interest on deposits with banks situated outside India (not accrued in India) ..	Rs. 30,000
(ii) Dividend on shares in foreign companies (not accrued in India) ..	Rs. 10,000
Foreign income	Rs. 40,000	Rs. 40,000
Gross total income		Rs. 2,10,000

If Mr. A is “resident and ordinarily resident in India”, his gross total income under the Income-tax Act will be Rs. 2,10,000. However, he will be entitled to relief in respect of double taxation under section 90 or section 91 of the Act in respect of foreign income of Rs. 40,000 which has suffered tax in India as well as in foreign country.

If Mr. A is “resident but not ordinarily resident in India”, his gross total income will be Rs. 1,70,000 and the foreign income of Rs. 40,000 will not be included in his gross total income as it does not arise from a business controlled in or profession set up in India.

If Mr. A is “non-resident in India”, he will be assessable only on his Indian income of Rs. 1,70,000 and his foreign income from whatever source will not be included in his gross total income.

PERSON RESIDENT OUTSIDE INDIA:

The interest income from Non-Resident (External) Account in any bank in India is exempt under section 10(4)(ii) in the case of an individual who is a “person resident outside India” [as defined in section 2(q)³ of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act] or is a person who has been permitted by the Reserve Bank of India to maintain the aforesaid Account.

A citizen of India who stays out of India for employment or business, or a citizen of India who stays outside India for any other purpose, with an intention to stay outside India for an uncertain period, will be considered “person resident outside India”.

(vii) Special provisions relating to certain income of non-resident Indian citizen and foreign nationals of Indian origin⁴:

[Chapter XII-A (Sections 115C to 115-I)]

The salient features of the special provisions are as under:

(a) Any income derived other than dividends referred to in section 115-O by non-resident Indian⁵ from a foreign exchange asset is called “Investment income” [Section 115C(c)]. For this purpose, “foreign exchange asset” means any specified asset acquired or purchased with, or subscribed to in, convertible foreign exchange⁶. The assets so specified under section 115C(f) are:

(1) shares in an Indian company;

(2) debentures issued by an Indian company which is not a private company as defined in the Companies Act, 1956;

3. Under section 2(q) of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1973, “person resident outside India” means a person who is not resident in India. It may be noted that “person resident in India” is elaborately defined under section 2(p) of the said Act.

4. Other non-residents and foreign companies who are not “non-resident Indian” or “foreign nationals of Indian origin” will be governed by section 115A.

5. “Non-resident Indian” means an individual, being a citizen of India or a person of Indian origin who is not a “resident”.

A person shall be deemed to be of Indian origin if he, or either of his parents or any of his grand-parents, was born in undivided India.

6. “Convertible foreign exchange” means foreign exchange which is for the time being treated by the Reserve Bank of India as convertible foreign exchange for the purposes of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1973, and any rules made thereunder.

- (3) deposits with an Indian company which is not a private company as defined in the Companies Act, 1956;
 - (4) securities of the Central Government; and
 - (5) such other assets as may be notified by the Central Government.
- (b) In computing the “investment income” of a non-resident Indian, no deduction will be allowed:
- (1) in respect of any expenditure or allowance under any provision of the Income-tax Act, and
 - (2) in respect of deductions permissible under Chapter VI-A [Section 115D(1)/(2)].

In computing income chargeable under the head “Capital gains” in respect of shares in, or debentures of, an Indian company, the provisions of the 2nd proviso to section 48 [relating to “adjusted cost” (refer page 144)] will not apply [Section 115D(2)(a)].

However, where the non-resident Indian elects to furnish return of income to the Assessing Officer for any assessment year, the deductions permissible under the provisions of Income-tax Act will be allowed for that year.

(c) Where the total income of a non-resident Indian consists only of “investment income” and/or income by way of “long-term capital gains”⁷ of an asset other than specified asset, such income shall be charged to tax at a flat rate of 20% by way of income-tax⁸. However, income by way of “long-term capital gains” of any specified asset (i.e., foreign exchange asset) shall be charged to tax at a flat rate of 10%, as against 20%, by way of income-tax⁸ [Section 115E].

Any income arising from the transfer of a long-term capital asset, being an equity share in a company is exempt u/s. 10(38) in relation to assessment year 2005-06 and subsequent years subject to conditions that the transaction of sale of such equity share is entered into on or after 1-10-2004 and such transaction is chargeable to securities transaction tax as provided in Chapter VII [Sections 96 to 115] of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2004. Any income arising from the transfer of a short-term capital asset, being equity share in a company will be chargeable u/s. 111A(1)(i) @ 15% [10%, in relation to assessment years 2005-06 to 2008-09] by way of income-tax⁸, subject to conditions that the transaction of sale of such equity share is entered into on or after 1-10-2004, such transaction is chargeable to securities transaction tax as provided in Chapter VII [Sections 96 to 115] of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2004 and non-resident Indian exercises option u/s. 115-I [Refer sub-item (f) on facing page]. However, if such option is not exercised u/s. 115-I, it will be charged @ 20% by way of income-tax⁸ u/s. 115E(i).

The 1st proviso to section 48 provides a separate method of computation of capital gains (whether short-term or long-term) arising from transfer of shares or debentures of an Indian company held by a non-resident Indian. The cost of acquisition, expenditure incurred in connection with such transfer and the full value of consideration received or accruing as a result of such transfer should be converted into the same foreign currency as was initially utilised for the purchase of the said shares or debentures. The capital gains should be computed in that foreign currency and then such gains should be reconverted into Indian currency. This manner of computation of capital gains will be applicable in respect of capital gains accruing or arising from every reinvestment thereafter in, and sale of, shares or debentures of, an Indian company [1st proviso to section 48⁹]. Refer Example No. 4 on page 57.

(d) The income from foreign exchange assets (called investment income) and long-term capital gains of an asset other than specified asset will constitute a separate block of income and charged to tax at a flat rate of 20% by way of income-tax⁸. However, “long-term capital gains” of any specified asset (i.e., foreign exchange asset) will be charged to tax at a flat rate of 10%, as against 20%, by way of income-tax⁸ [Also refer 2nd para of item (c) above]. If the non-resident Indian has any other income in India, such other income will constitute an altogether separate block of income and charged to tax as if such other income were the total income. The aggregate of income-tax⁸ so calculated in respect of the said two blocks of income will be the tax payable for the relevant assessment year [Section 115E]. Refer Example No. (3) on page 56.

7. “Long-term capital gains” means income chargeable under the head “Capital gains” relating to a capital asset, being a foreign exchange asset which is not a short-term capital asset. For definition of short-term/long-term capital asset, refer page 138.

8. The income-tax so arrived at is to be increased by surcharge on income-tax, if any, in relation to: (a) assessment years 2006-07 to 2009-10 [Vide Paragraph A of Part I of the First Schedule to the Finance Act, 2006/2007/2008/2009]; and (b) assessment year 2010-11 [Vide Paragraph A of Part III of the First Schedule to the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009]. Aggregate of I.T. & S.C. is to be increased by an additional surcharge on I.T. & S.C.

9. The benefit of computing the capital gains on sale of shares/debentures of an Indian company, as explained in the para, available to non-resident Indians, is also applicable to other non-residents [Vide 1st proviso to section 48].

(e) The long-term capital gains arising from the transfer of any foreign exchange asset will be exempt from tax to the extent the net proceeds realised on transfer are re-invested or re-deposited within six months after the date of such transfer in any asset (hereafter referred to as the new asset) i.e., specified asset [as mentioned in para (a) on page 53]; or Savings certificates¹⁰ notified u/s. 10(4B).

However, where the new asset is transferred or converted (otherwise than by transfer) into money within a period of three years of its acquisition, the capital gains arising from the transfer of the original asset which has been exempted from tax shall be deemed to be the long-term capital gains of the previous year in which the new asset is transferred or converted into money [Section 115F].

(f) A non-resident Indian has the option to claim that in respect to any particular assessment year the special provisions relating to taxation of “investment income” and “long-term capital gains” under which the tax on such income is to be charged at a flat rate should not apply to him. Such option can be exercised by furnishing his return of income for that assessment year u/s. 139 declaring therein that the provisions of Chapter XII-A (i.e., flat rate) should not apply to him. In cases where such option is exercised in respect of any assessment year, the whole of the total income of that assessment year will be charged to tax under the general provisions of the Income-tax Act [Section 115-I].

(g) A non-resident Indian who becomes a resident in any subsequent year has the option to claim that the special provisions of Chapter XII-A shall continue to apply to him in relation to income derived from foreign exchange asset (other than shares in Indian companies) for that assessment year and for every subsequent assessment year until the transfer or conversion of such assets into money. Such option can be exercised by furnishing a declaration in writing to that effect along with his return of income for that assessment year [Section 115H].

(h) A non-resident Indian having only investment income or income by way of long-term capital gains arising from the transfer of any foreign exchange asset or both need not file the return of his income under section 139(1) if the tax deductible from such income has been correctly deducted at source. However, it is permissible for him to opt under section 115-I of the Income-tax Act to submit the return of income and claim the refund due to him, if any, as explained in Examples No. (1) to (3) given hereafter [Section 115G].

EXAMPLES:

(1) Mr. A who is a citizen of India has settled outside India. He comes on a visit to India every year but his stay in India during the financial years 2004-05 to 2008-09, is less than 182 days. His status for the purposes of section 6 is non-resident. His “investment income” in India during financial year 2008-09 (assessment year 2009-10) as a result of various investments made by him in foreign exchange asset is as under:

(i) Interest on Central Government securities	Rs. 40,000
(ii) Interest on debenture issued by a public limited Indian company	Rs. 35,000
(iii) Interest on deposits with a public limited Indian company	Rs. 85,000
Investment income	Rs. 1,60,000

At the time of payment of such “investment income”, the tax deducted at source is at the rate of 20% as I.T. plus Additional surcharge (i.e., Education Cess & Sec. High. Edu. Cess) @ 2% plus 1% on I.T. (i.e., 20.6%)

Rs. 32,960

Assuming that Mr. A has only “investment income” in India and he elects under section 115-I not to be governed by Chapter XII-A and opts to furnish his return of income under section 139(1) declaring therein that the provisions of Chapter XII-A shall not apply, then, his tax liability for the financial year 2008-09 (assessment year 2009-10) is to be worked out as given hereunder:

Income accruing or arising in India (investment income)	Rs. 1,60,000
Less: Deduction in respect of interest on Central Government securities:
Deduction under Chapter VI-A is not allowable vide section 115D(2)(a)	Rs. Nil
Total (taxable) income	Rs. 1,60,000
Tax deducted at source on Rs.1,60,000 @ 20.6%	Rs. 32,960
Less: I.T. plus Addl. S.C. payable on total (taxable) income of Rs. 1,60,000 (Refer page 230)	Rs. 1,030
Refund due to Mr. A	Rs. 31,930

NOTE: In order to be entitled to this refund of Rs. 31,930, Mr. A should submit the return of income together with a refund application and declaration as stated above on or before 31-3-2011.

10. Notified savings certificates were 6-year National Savings Certificates VIth Issue and VIIth Issue [Notification No. S.O. 653(E), dated September 8, 1982: 137 ITR (St.) 48]. Investments in these certificates are discontinued w.e.f. 1-4-1989.

I-T NOTES

NON-RESIDENT INDIAN

(2) In the Example (1) on page 55, if the “investment income” is Rs. 3,20,000 made up of interest on Central Government securities Rs. 30,000, interest on deposits with a public limited Indian company Rs. 1,30,000 and interest on debenture from public limited Indian company Rs. 1,60,000.

In this Example, it is in the interest of Mr. A to opt for submission of return of income under section 139(1). It is so because on total (taxable) income Rs. 3,20,000, I.T. & Addl. S.C. (i.e., Education Cess & Sec. High. Edu. Cess) on I.T. at the scheduled rates would be Rs. 19,570 (Refer page 232) as against Rs. 65,920 tax deducted at source under the special provisions.

(3) Assuming that during financial year 2008-09 (assessment year 2009-10) in addition to investment income of Rs. 80,000 by way of interest on deposits with public limited Indian companies, Mr. A has interest income of Rs. 1,60,000 in India being interest on bank fixed deposits.

Aggregate of tax deducted at source:

1. In respect of investment income of Rs. 80,000 @ 20% as I.T. plus Addl. S.C. (i.e., Education Cess & Sec. High. Edu. Cess) @ 2% plus 1% on I.T. (i.e., 20.6%)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 16,480
2. In respect of interest income of Rs. 1,60,000 on bank deposits @ 30% as I.T. plus Addl. S.C. (i.e., Education Cess & Sec. High. Edu. Cess) @ 2% plus 1% on I.T. (i.e., 30.9%)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 49,440
Aggregate of tax deducted at source	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 65,920

(a) Mr. A opts that provisions of Chapter XII-A (Refer page 55) may not apply:

Investment income	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	80,000
Interest on bank deposits	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	1,60,000
Gross total income	..	..							Rs.	2,40,000
Less: Deduction u/s. 80L is not available as the said section is omitted from assessment year 2006-07 and onwards	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	Nil
Taxable income	..	..							Rs.	2,40,000
Tax deducted at source	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	65,920
Less: I.T. & Addl. S.C. on I.T. on total (taxable) income of Rs. 2,40,000 (Refer page 231)									Rs.	9,270
Refund due to Mr. A	..								Rs.	56,650

In order to be entitled to this refund of Rs. 56,650, Mr. A should submit the return of income with a refund application as stated in note to Example (1) on page 55.

(b) If Mr. A desires that provisions of Chapter XII-A (Refer page 55) shall apply:

(i) Income other than investment income:
Interest on bank fixed deposits	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 1,60,000
Less: Deduction u/s. 80L(1) is not available as the said section is omitted from assessment year 2006-07 and onwards	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. Nil
Income other than investment income in India	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 1,60,000	Rs. 1,60,000
(ii) Investment income:
Interest on deposits with public limited Indian companies	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 80,000
Taxable income	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,40,000
Tax deducted at source (Rs. 16,480 plus Rs. 49,440)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 65,920
Less: I.T. & Addl. S.C. on income other than investment income Rs. 1,60,000 @ scheduled rates (Refer page 230)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 1,030
I.T. on investment income Rs. 80,000 @ 20% u/s. 115E plus Addl. S.C. (i.e., Education Cess & Sec. High. Edu. Cess) @ 2% plus 1% on I.T. (i.e., 20.6%)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 16,480
Aggregate of I.T. & Addl. S.C.	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 17,510	Rs. 17,510
Refund due to Mr. A	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 48,410

In this Example, it is in the interest of Mr. A that he should opt that provisions of Chapter XII-A, in respect of his investment income, may not apply.

NOTE: In cases where the total income of a person of Indian origin (and who has settled outside India) includes “Investment income” it is in his interest that he is governed by the provisions of Chapter XII-A if such investment income:

- (1) exceeds Rs. 9,50,000, for assessment year 2009-10;
- (2) exceeds Rs. 5,10,000, for assessment year 2008-09; and
- (3) exceeds Rs. 5,00,000, for assessment years 2006-07 & 2007-08.

(4) Mr. A who is a non-resident Indian had purchased shares of an Indian company by investing US $ 10,000 on 1-1-1990. The value in rupees at the time of purchase being Rs. 2,55,000 (i.e., at Rs. 25.50 per 1 US $). He sold the said shares for Rs. 6,30,000 on 27-6-2008 (assessment year 2009-10), when the prescribed conversion rate in accordance with Rule 115A was, say, Rs. 45 per 1 US$. On the sale of said shares, securities transaction tax as provided in Chapter VII of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2004, is not paid. Mr. A does not have any other income except capital gain. Under first proviso to section 48, the computation of capital gains is to be worked out as under:

Sale price to be converted into the same foreign currency as was initially utilised for the purchase of said shares:

Sale price of shares Rs. 6,30,000 ÷ Rs. 45 (being the prescribed conversion rate in accordance with Rule 115A of 1 US $ at the time of sale)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	US$ 14,000
Less: Cost of acquisition of shares in US $	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	US$ 10,000
Long-term capital gain	..	..							US$ 4,000

Long-term capital gain of US $ 4,000 is to be reconverted into Indian rupees:

US $ 4,000 × Rs. 45 (being the prescribed reversion rate in accordance with Rule 115A of 1 US $ at the time of sale)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 1,80,000

Tax on long-term capital gain Rs. 1,80,000 @ 10% as I.T. plus Addl. S.C.(i.e., Edu. Cess & Sec. High. Edu. Cess) @ 2% plus 1% on I.T. (i.e., 10.3%)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 18,540

Notes: (1) If the net proceeds realised on sale of shares are re-invested or re-deposited within six months after the date of sale in any specified assets mentioned in item (a) on page 53, then, the long-term capital gain on such shares will be exempt u/s. 115F [For details, refer item (e) on page 55].

(2) If the securities transaction tax had been paid in respect of the shares referred to in above Example and conditions prescribed in the 2nd para of item (c) on page 54 were complied with, the long-term capital gain of Rs. 1,80,000 will be exempt u/s. 10(38).

(viii) Scheme of Advance Rulings in transactions involving non-residents/specified residents:

[Chapter XIX-B (Sections 245N to 245V)]

A separate authority is constituted by the Central Government to avoid needless litigation involving:

- (1) a non-resident;
- (2) a transaction which has been undertaken or is proposed to be undertaken by a resident applicant with a non-resident; and
- (3) a resident assessee falling within any such class or category of persons as may be notified¹¹ by the Central Government [Section 245N(b)].

‘Authority’ means the Authority for Advance Rulings (AAR) [Section 245N(d)]. The AAR will give advance ruling in pursuance of an application for advance ruling in the prescribed Form No. 34C, 34D & 34E in quadruplicate made by an assessee referred to in (1), (2) & (3) above, respectively. Such an application can be withdrawn by the applicant within 30 days from the date of the application [Section 245Q].

The AAR will not allow the application where the question raised in the application:

- (a) is already pending before any income-tax authority or Appellate Tribunal or any court in regard to an applicant being non-resident & resident [i.e., (1) & (2) above]. In regard to an applicant being a notified resident [i.e., (3) above], this bar would be operative only where the issue is pending before any court. Thus notified resident can seek advance ruling where the matter is pending before any income-tax authority or Appellate Tribunal;
- (b) involves determination of fair market value of any property; and
- (c) relates to a transaction or issue which is designed prima facie for the avoidance of income-tax in regard to an applicant being non-resident and resident [i.e., (1) & (2) above] [1st proviso to section 245R(2)].

11. Notified class or category of persons, is a public sector company as defined in section 2(36A) [vide Notification No. S.O. 725(E), dt. 3-8-2000: 245 ITR (St.) 5].

The AAR will give advance ruling on question of law or fact in relation to: (i) a transaction which has been undertaken or is proposed to be undertaken by a non-resident applicant; or (ii) the tax liability of a non-resident arising out of a transaction which has been undertaken or proposed to be undertaken by a resident applicant with such non-resident. In other words, the AAR will not allow an application which relates to the tax liability of the resident. However, an advance ruling pronounced, before the date on which the Finance Bill, 2003 receives the assent of the President (i.e., 14-5-2003), by the AAR in respect of an application by a resident applicant referred to in (2), shall be binding on the persons specified in section 245S [Section 245N(a) read with proviso thereto].

The ruling so given by the AAR shall be binding on the applicant, the Commissioner and the income-tax authorities subordinate to the Commissioner unless there is a change either in law or facts on the basis of which the advance ruling was pronounced [Section 245S]. No income-tax authority or the Appellate Tribunal shall proceed to decide any issue in respect to which an application has been made by a resident applicant u/s. 245Q(1) [Section 245RR].

(ix) Income of other persons deemed to be the income of the person sought to be taxed:
(Sections 60 to 65)

(1) Under section 60, all income arising to any person by virtue of a transfer whether revocable or not and whether effected before or after the commencement of the Income-tax Act, 1961, shall, where there is no transfer of the assets from which the income arises, be chargeable to tax as the income of the transferor and shall be included in his total income.

(2) Under section 61, all income arising to any person by virtue of a revocable transfer of assets shall be charged as the income of the transferor and shall be included in his total income subject to the following exceptions made by section 62:

(a) where the income arises to any person by virtue of a transfer by way of trust which is not revocable during the life time of the beneficiary, and, in the case of any other transfer, which is not revocable during the life time of the transferee. In such cases, the income in question will be assessed in the hands of the beneficiary or the transferee, as the case may be, provided the transferor derives no direct or indirect benefit from such income; or

(b) where the income arises to any person by virtue of a transfer made before 1-4-1961 which is not revocable for a period of six years and the transferor derives no direct or indirect benefit from such income.

(3) INCOME OF INDIVIDUAL TO INCLUDE INCOME OF SPOUSE, MINOR CHILD, ETC.:

(a) In computing the total income of an individual, such income as arises directly or indirectly to the spouse of such individual by way of salary, commission, fees or any other form of remuneration in cash or in kind from a concern in which such individual and one or more of his relatives as defined under section 2(41) has a substantial interest (that is, not less than 20% of the voting power in a case where the concern is a company and in any other case not less than 20% of the profits of the concern) will be included in the total income of such individual [Section 64(1)(ii) read with Explanation 2 to section 64(1)].

However, where both the husband and wife have a substantial interest and both are in receipt of remuneration from such concern, the remuneration from such concern will be included in the total income of the husband or wife, as the case may be, whose total income excluding such remuneration is greater [Explanation 1 to section 64(1)].

Where the spouse possesses technical or professional qualifications and the income is solely attributable to the application of his or her technical or professional knowledge and experience, the provisions of section 64(1)(ii) shall not apply [Proviso to section 64(1)(ii)].

EXAMPLE 1: Messrs. Dalal & Company is a non-professional firm consisting of partners A, B & C sharing profits and losses equally. The wife of partner C is entitled to a remuneration of Rs. 10,000 per month without any technical or professional qualifications. The taxability of remuneration of Rs. 1,20,000 per annum will be dealt with as under:

(1) The remuneration of Rs. 1,20,000 will be included in the total income of Mr. C as his share in the firm (one-third) is not less than 20%.

(2) If the share of partner Mr. C in the above firm had been less than 20%, the remuneration received by Mrs. C would be taxed in her hands.

(3) If Mrs. C possesses technical or professional qualifications and the remuneration is attributable to the application of such technical or professional knowledge and experience, the remuneration received by Mrs. C will be taxed in her hands even if share of partner Mr. C in the above firm is 20% or more [Proviso to section 64(1)(ii)].

EXAMPLE 2: Mr. A and his wife have a substantial interest in a limited company holding shares carrying not less than 20% of voting power in the limited company. Both Mr. A and Mrs. A draw from the company remuneration of Rs. 1,20,000 & Rs. 96,000, respectively. The income of Mr. A & Mrs. A, other than remuneration from the company, is Rs. 2,20,000 & Rs. 2,00,000, respectively.

The remuneration received by spouse is required to be included in the total income of the spouse whose other income is greater as explained hereunder:

Total income of Mr. A
Total income other than remuneration	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,20,000
Remuneration from the company:
(1) Receivable by Mr. A	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 1,20,000
(2) Receivable by Mrs. A but includible in Mr. A's assessment as provided under Explanation 1 to section 64(1)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 96,000	Rs. 2,16,000
Gross total income of Mr. A	..									Rs. 4,36,000
Total income of Mrs. A
Total income other than remuneration	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,00,000
Remuneration received by Mrs. A from the company	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 96,000
Less: Included in the assessment of Mr. A under Explanation 1 to section 64(1)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 96,000	Rs. Nil
Gross total income of Mrs. A	..									Rs. 2,00,000

Note: If Mrs. A possess technical or professional qualifications and the remuneration is attributable to the application of such technical or professional knowledge and experience, the remuneration received by Mrs. A will be taxed in her hands [Proviso to section 64(1)(ii)].

(b) Any income which arises directly or indirectly to the spouse of any individual from assets transferred directly or indirectly to the spouse by such individual otherwise than for adequate consideration (love and affection is not an adequate consideration) or in connection with an agreement to live apart, will be deemed to be the income of the transferor of the assets [Section 64(1)(iv)].

(c) Any income which arises directly or indirectly from assets transferred directly or indirectly on or after 1-6-1973 by an individual to son's wife otherwise than for adequate consideration, will be included in the total income of such individual [Section 64(1)(vi)].

(d) Any income which arises directly or indirectly to any person or association of persons from assets transferred directly or indirectly otherwise than for adequate consideration to the person or association of persons by an individual, will be included in the total income of such individual, to the extent to which the income from such assets is for the immediate or deferred benefit of his or her spouse [Section 64(1)(vii)].

(e) Any income which arises directly or indirectly to any person or association of persons from assets transferred directly or indirectly on or after the 1st day of June, 1973, otherwise than for adequate consideration, to the person or association of persons by an individual, will be included in the total income of such individual, to the extent to which the income from such assets is for the immediate or deferred benefit of his son's wife [Section 64(1)(viii)].

EXAMPLE: Mr. A transfers a sum of Rs. 3 lakhs to his brother Mr. B on 1-4-1985. Mr. B creates a trust by which he settles the said amount of Rs. 3 lakhs received from Mr. A for the benefit of Mr. A's wife, minor child, son's wife and son's minor child. It is assumed that:

- the personal income of Mr. A is Rs. 2,00,000;
- the income of the trust created by Mr. B is Rs. 60,000;
- the share of each beneficiary is 25%.

Income arising from the assets transferred indirectly is to be aggregated with the income of Mr. A u/s. 64(1)(vii) & 64(1)(viii). Total income of Mr. A will be as under:

(i) Personal income	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,00,000
(ii) Share of income of wife from the trust [Included u/s. 64(1)(vii)]	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 15,000
(iii) Share of income of minor child from the trust	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. ¹² Nil
(iv) Share of income of son's wife from the trust [Included u/s. 64(1)(viii)]	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 15,000
(v) Share of income of son's minor child from the trust	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. ¹² Nil
Gross total income of Mr. A	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,30,000

It may, however, be noted that though under the provisions of section 64 as discussed above, the income legally arising to a person is deemed to be the income of another person in the circumstances mentioned above, the income arising from the investment of such "deemed income" will not be includible in the income of such other persons, except, where such income arises to a minor child.

(f) Under section 64(1A), all income accruing or arising to a minor child shall be included in the total income of the parent, except the following—

- (1) income accruing or arising to a minor child on account of any manual work done by him; or
- (2) income accruing or arising to a minor child on account of any activity involving application of his skill, talent or specialised knowledge & experience; or
- (3) income accruing or arising to a minor child suffering from any disability of the nature specified in section 80U.

The income of minor shall be included—

- (1) where the marriage of his parents subsists, with the income of that parent whose total income (excluding minor's income) is greater; or
- (2) where the marriage of his parents does not subsist, with the income of that parent who maintains the minor child in the previous year.

Where any such income is once included in the total income of either parent, any such income arising in any succeeding year shall not be included in the total income of the other parent, unless the Assessing Officer is satisfied, after giving that parent an opportunity of being heard, that it is necessary so to do.

Income not exceeding Rs. 1,500 in respect of each minor child, whose income is to be included, is exempt under section 10(32).

Note: "Child" in relation to an individual, includes a step-child and an adopted child of that individual [Section 2(15B)].

(4) INCOME OF INDIVIDUAL TO INCLUDE INCOME OF CERTAIN HINDU UNDIVIDED FAMILIES:

Where an individual being a member of a Hindu undivided family throws his separate property into the common hotchpot of the family after 31-12-1969, the entire income arising from such converted property will be included in the total income of such individual [Section 64(2)(b)].

Similarly, where an individual transfers directly or indirectly his separate property (instead of throwing into the common stock of the family) to the Hindu undivided family of which he is a member otherwise than for adequate consideration, the entire income arising from such converted property will be included in the total income of the individual [Section 64(2)(b)].

Where the income from converted property is included in the total income of the individual, such income is to be excluded from the total income of the family [Proviso to section 64(2)].

In the event of a partial or total partition in the family, the income arising to the spouse from the whole or any part of the converted property allotted to the spouse on such partition will be deemed to arise to the spouse from assets transferred indirectly by the individual to the spouse and will be includible in the income of the individual under section 64(1) read with section 64(2)(c).

EXAMPLE: An individual being a member of a Hindu undivided family converted his separate property on 1-1-1970 into property belonging to his Hindu undivided family. The income in respect of such converted property is Rs. 1,50,000. Assuming that the family consists of Mr. A, Mrs. A, 2 minor sons and 1 major son, the income in respect of the HUF is to be assessed as under:

Total income of the HUF from converted property	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 1,50,000
Less: Exclusion from the total income [Proviso to section 64(2)]	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 1,50,000
							Taxable income of HUF	Rs. Nil

The income of Rs. 1,50,000 shall be deemed to arise to Mr. A and will be included in his total income [Refer section 64(2)(b)].

However, in cases where there is a partial partition or total partition amongst the members of the family, only the income received by Mr. A and Mrs. A from the partitioned assets shall be included in the total income of Mr. A under section 64(1) read with section 64(2)(c). In respect of income arising to minor sons, provisions of section 64(1A) as explained in item (f) above will apply. The income received by the major son from the partitioned assets will not, however, be included in the total income of Mr. A.

The provisions of section 171(9) as explained hereafter will not be applicable to a partial partition of a separate property converted into HUF property after 31-12-1969.

Assessment of a Hindu undivided family where partition is effected before 1-1-1979:

(Section 171)

Under the provision of the Income-tax Act, a total or partial partition of a Hindu undivided family can be claimed at the time of making the assessment of the Hindu undivided family and finding to that effect shall be recorded by the Assessing Officer under section 171(3) if he is satisfied that a partition, whether total or partial, has actually taken place. The assessment after partition is then to be made as indicated in the relevant sub-sections of section 171.

Partial partition of a Hindu undivided family after 31-12-1978 to be de-recognised:
[Section 171(9)]

“Partial partition” as defined in clause (b) of the Explanation to section 171 means a partition which is partial as regards the persons constituting the Hindu undivided family, or the properties belonging to the Hindu undivided family, or both.

With effect from 1-4-1980, a partial partition among the members of a Hindu undivided family hitherto assessed as undivided effected after 31-12-1978 will not be recognised. This sub-section further stipulates that cases in which finding of such partial partition has been recorded under sub-section (3) of section 171 before or after 18th day of June, 1980, the same shall be treated as null and void. This sub-section is introduced with a view to curb the tendency to avoid or reduce the tax liability by the creation of multiple Hindu undivided families through the medium of partial partitions. In other words, despite the partial partition, such Hindu undivided family shall be liable to be assessed as if no partial partition has taken place.

This sub-section is, however, not applicable in a case where a total partition has taken place even after 31-12-1978.

(5) INCOME INCLUDES LOSS:

Explanation 2 to section 64 provides that the word “income” shall include “loss” for the purposes of section 64.

II. PRIVATE TRUSTS

[Sections 161, 164 & 166]

(i) DEFINITE TRUST:

In the case of a Definite trust (i.e., where the shares of the beneficiaries are determinate or known), the income falling to the share of each beneficiary is liable to tax in the hands of the trust under section 161, as a representative assessee, at the rate applicable to each beneficiary. However, under section 166 there is no bar to such share of income from the trust being assessed in the hands of the respective beneficiaries.

Section 161(1A) provides that, a definite trust will be liable to be taxed at the maximum marginal rate¹³, if the income of such trust consists of, or includes, profits and gains of business.

However, the maximum marginal rate will not apply in a case where the profits and gains of business are receivable under a trust declared by any person by “will” exclusively for the benefit of any relative dependent on him for support and maintenance, and such trust is the only trust so declared by him.

(ii) DISCRETIONARY TRUST:

A trust is regarded as “discretionary trust” if the income or any part thereof is not specifically receivable on behalf of, or for the benefit of, any one person or where the individual shares of the beneficiaries are indeterminate or unknown.

“Discretionary trust” is liable to tax under section 164 at the maximum marginal rate¹³.

The maximum marginal rate of tax will not apply under conditions mentioned hereunder:

(a) Where none of the beneficiaries has any other income chargeable under the Income-tax Act exceeding the maximum amount not chargeable to tax in the case of an association of persons, and none of the beneficiaries is a beneficiary under any other trust; or

(b) where the relevant income is receivable under a trust declared by any person by “will” and such trust is the only trust so declared by him; or

(c) where the trust was created before 1-3-1970 by a non-testamentary instrument exclusively for the benefit of the relatives of the settlor mainly dependent on him for their support and maintenance; or

(d) where the relevant income is receivable by the trustees on behalf of a provident fund, superannuation fund, gratuity fund, pension fund or any other fund for the benefit of persons employed in business or profession.

The provisions of section 167B applicable to association of persons (refer page 67) which provides for tax at maximum marginal rate will not apply to the above cases [Vide Circular No. 577, dt. 4-9-1990: 185 ITR (St.) 49].

However, if the relevant income consists of, or includes, profits and gains of business, exceptions specified in (a) to (d) above will not apply unless such profits and gains are receivable under a trust declared by any person by ‘will’ exclusively for the benefit of any relative dependent on him for support and maintenance and such trust is the only trust so declared by him. Barring this exception, tax will be charged at the maximum marginal rate on the whole income of the trust if any of its income consists of, or includes, profits and gains of business [2nd Proviso to section 164(1)].

13. Maximum marginal rate of tax: (a) for assessment years 2008-09 & 2009-10 is 30% I.T. + S.C. @ 10% of I.T. where the total (taxable) income exceeds Rs. 10,00,000 + Addl. S.C. @ 3% of aggregate of I.T. & S.C.; and (b) for assessment years 2006-07 & 2007-08 is 30% I.T. + S.C. @ 10% of I.T. where the total (taxable) income exceeds Rs. 10,00,000 + Addl. S.C. @ 2% of aggregate of I.T. & S.C.

Where the property is held under trust in part only for religious or charitable or religious purposes and the remaining part is held for other purposes, the tax chargeable shall be,—

(a) tax on that part of the income which is applicable to charitable or religious purposes, to the extent it is not exempt under section 11, at the rate applicable to an association of persons;

(b) tax on that part of the income which is applicable to charitable or religious purposes, to the extent it is not exempt under section 11 or section 12 by virtue of contravention of provisions of sections 11(4A), 13(1)(c) and 13(1)(d), at the maximum marginal rate of income-tax including surcharge and additional surcharge on I.T. & S.C., if any, of respective year; and

(c) tax on income which is applicable to other purposes, at the maximum marginal rate of income-tax including surcharge and additional surcharge on I.T. & S.C., if any, of respective year.

EXAMPLE: A trust, created before 1-4-1962, partly for charitable purposes has the following income for the assessment year 2009-10:

(i)	Income from property held in trust in part for charitable purposes	Rs. 2,20,000
	Less: Permitted accumulation @ 15% of Rs. 2,20,000	Rs. 33,000
	Amount actually applied on objects of the trust	Rs. 27,000
	Balance liable to tax	Rs. 1,60,000
(ii)	Income from the remaining part of the trust property (non-charitable purposes) in which the shares of beneficiaries are not known	Rs. 1,00,000
	Total income liable to tax	Rs. 2,60,000

The tax payable will be:

(1)	I.T. on Rs. 1,60,000 relating to charitable part as if it were the total income of an AOP	Rs. 1,000
(2)	I.T. on Rs. 1,00,000 at the maximum marginal rate of tax @ 30%	Rs. 30,000	Rs. 31,000
	Add: Additional surcharge (i.e., Education Cess & Sec. High. Edu. Cess) @ 2% plus 1% on I.T. Rs. 31,000	Rs. 930
	Total tax	Rs. 31,930

Such trust will be taxable even if the income of such trust is below the taxable limit of respective year.

III. ORAL TRUSTS

[Sections 160(1)(v) and 164A]

“Oral trusts” will be charged to tax at the maximum marginal rate¹⁴. A trust which is not declared by a duly executed deed in writing will be considered as an oral trust. If trustee or trustees of such an oral trust files duly signed statement in writing containing the following details:

- (i) purposes of the trust;
- (ii) particulars of the trustees;
- (iii) particulars of the beneficiaries; and
- (iv) particulars of the trust properties, with the Assessing Officer, within 3 months from 1-6-1981, in respect of oral trust created before that date or within 3 months from the date of declaration of trust in other cases, then, such oral trust shall be deemed to be a trust declared by a duly executed deed in writing. In other words, such trusts will not be assessed at the maximum marginal rate under section 164A. The existing provisions of section 160(1)(iv), 161 and 164 will be applicable for assessment of such trusts as discussed in the Chapter relating to “Private Trusts” on page 61.

IV. INCOME OF CHARITABLE AND RELIGIOUS TRUSTS

[Sections 2(15), 2(24), 11, 12, 12A, 12AA, 13 & 115BBC]

(i) Income exempt from tax and conditions:

[Sections 2(15), 2(24), 11(1), 11(1B), 12A & 12AA]

The “charitable purpose” includes relief of the poor, education, medical relief, and the advancement of any other object of general public utility [Section 2(15)^{14a}].

However, in relation to assessment year 2009-10 and onwards, the advancement of any other object of general public utility shall not be treated as charitable purpose, if it involves the carrying on of—

- (1) any activity in the nature of trade, commerce or business, or
- (2) any activity of rendering any service in relation to any trade, commerce or business, for a cess or fee or any other consideration, irrespective of the nature of use or application, or retention, of the income from such activity [Proviso to substituted section 2(15)^{14b}].

^{14a}. For the notes on amendment of section 2(15) by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 2.1.

^{14b}. For the gist of Circular No. 11, refer sub-item 13 of item A on page 327.

Income in the form of voluntary contribution made with a specific direction that they shall form part of the corpus of the trust will be excluded from the total income of the trust u/s. 11(1)(d). Voluntary contributions will be included in the total income of the trust only if it loses exemption under section 11. This is consequential to inclusion of voluntary contributions in the definition of income [Section 2(24)(ia)]. From assessment year 2007-08 and onwards, income by way of any anonymous donation is to be included in the total income and is chargeable to tax @ 30% as I.T. u/s. 115BBC [For details, refer item (viii) on page 67].

The income derived from property held under trust or institution (referred to as trust for brevity) wholly for charitable or religious purposes is exempt, provided:

(1) 85% of its income derived from property held under trust is applied to such purposes in India [Section 11(1)(a)/(b)];

(2) the trust has made an application in Form No. 10A for registration with the Commissioner before 15-8-1973 or within one year from the date of creation of the trust, whichever is later, and such trust is registered u/s. 12AA [Section 12A(1)(a)]. The provisions of section 12A(1)(a) shall not apply in relation to any application made on or after 1-6-2007 [2nd proviso to section 12A(1)(a)]. Consequently, no application u/s. 12A(1)(a) for registration of trust is required to be made on or after 1-6-2007. In respect of an application for registration of trust made on or after 1-6-2007, the provisions of sections 11 & 12 shall apply in relation to income of trust if the person in receipt of the income has made an application for registration of the trust in Form No. 10A to the Commissioner and such trust is registered u/s. 12AA [Section 12A(1)(aa)]. Where an application has been made on or after 1-6-2007, the provisions of sections 11 & 12 shall apply in relation to the income of such trust from the assessment year immediately following the financial year in which such application is made [Section 12A(2)].

Section 12AA prescribes the procedure for registration of trust where the application for registration is received by the Commissioner u/s. 12A(1)(a)/(aa). Under this procedure, the Commissioner will call for such documents or information as may be necessary to satisfy himself about the objects of the trust and the genuineness of its activities. He may also make inquiries in this regard. After granting a reasonable opportunity of being heard, the Commissioner may register or refuse to register the trust by passing an order in writing, which shall be communicated to the applicant [Section 12AA(1)(b)]. Such order is to be passed before the expiry of six months from the end of the month in which the application was received u/s. 12A(1)(a)/(aa). An appeal can be filed to the Appellate Tribunal against order for refusal of registration passed u/s. 12AA [Section 253(1)(c)]. W.e.f. 1-10-2004, where a trust has been granted registration u/s. 12AA(1)(b) and subsequently the Commissioner is satisfied that the activities of such trust are not genuine or are not carried out in accordance with the objects of the trust, he may, after affording reasonable opportunity of hearing to it, cancel the registration by passing an order in writing [Section 12AA(3)]; and

(3) where the total income of the trust as computed under the Income-tax Act before exemption under sections 11 and 12 exceeds the maximum amount which is not chargeable to income-tax in any previous year, the accounts of the trust for that year are required to be audited by an accountant as defined in the Explanation to section 288(2) and the audit report in Form No. 10B is to be filed with the return of income [Section 12A(b)].

If the income is derived from property held under trust in part only for charitable or religious purposes, the income applied to such purposes in India will also qualify for exemption provided the trust was created before 1-4-1962. If the trust was created after 1-4-1962, the provisions of section 164(3) will apply [Refer sub-item (ii) on page 61].

Explanation to sub-section (1) of section 11 prescribes that, in cases, where the amount spent on the objects of the trust during a previous year is less than 85% of its income, the deficiency can be made good at the option of the trustees to be exercised in writing before the expiry of the time allowed for furnishing the return of income under section 139(1) as under:

(a) where the deficiency is due to the reason that the whole or part of the income which has accrued has not been received during the previous year, such deficiency may be made good during the previous year in which such income is actually received, or in the next previous year;

(b) where the deficiency is due to any other reason, the same is to be made good in the previous year immediately following the previous year in which the deficiency has occurred [Clause (2) of the Explanation to section 11(1)].

Where the option is exercised but in the event of non-application of such income for the purposes of the trust within the stipulated time, such income shall be deemed –

(1) in cases referred to in (a) above, as income of the previous year immediately following the previous year in which such income was actually received; and

(2) in cases referred to in (b) above, as income of the previous year immediately following the previous year in which such income was derived [Section 11(1B)].

(ii) Accumulation of income and conditions:[Section 11(2), (3) & (3A)]

Accumulation or setting apart of any part of the trust income for future application to charitable or religious purposes in India is permissible without attracting tax liability provided –

(1) the trustees give notice to the Assessing Officer in the prescribed Form No. 10 specifying the purpose for which the income is to be accumulated or set apart and the period for which the income is to be accumulated or set apart, not exceeding –

(a) 5 years¹⁵, in respect of income accumulated or set apart on or after 1-4-2001;

(b) 10 years¹⁵, in respect of income accumulated or set apart on or before 31-3-2001; and

(2) the money so accumulated or set apart is invested or deposited in an approved pattern of investments specified in section 11(5) as detailed in item (vii) on page 66 [Section 11(2)].

If, in any year, the accumulated income ceases to remain invested or deposited in any of the forms or modes specified in section 11(5), it will be liable to tax as income of that year. Similarly, if in any year the accumulated income is applied to purposes other than religious or charitable purposes or ceases to be set apart for application to such purposes, it will be subject to tax as the income of that year. Further, if the accumulated income or any part thereof is not utilised for the specified purposes during the period of accumulation or during the year immediately following the expiry thereof, the amount which has not been so utilised will be liable to tax as income of the previous year immediately following the expiry of the accumulation period [Section 11(3)(a)/(b)/(c)].

However, income allowed to be accumulated or set apart shall not be denied exemption later on if, due to circumstances beyond the control of the trustees, it cannot be spent for the purposes for which it was accumulated or set apart but is utilised, with the permission of the Assessing Officer, on any other charitable or religious purposes in conformity with the objects of the trust [Section 11(3A)].

Any amount credited or paid, out of accumulated income, to another trust or institution registered u/s. 12AA or to any fund or institution, etc. referred to in section 10(23C)(iv)/(v)/(vi)/(via), either during the period of accumulation or thereafter shall not be treated as application of income for charitable or religious purposes [Explanation to section 11(2)]. If, in any year, accumulated income is credited or paid to another trust or institution registered u/s. 12AA or to a fund or institution, etc. referred to in section 10(23C)(iv)/(v)/(vi)/(via), it will be liable to tax as income of the previous year in which such payment or credit is made [Section 11(3)(d)]. The Assessing Officer (AO) shall not have power u/s. 11(3A) to allow application of accumulated income by way of payment or credit to another trust or institution referred to in section 11(3)(d) [1st proviso to section 11(3A)]. However, in case the trust or institution, which has invested or deposited its accumulated income in approved pattern of investment specified u/s. 11(5), is dissolved, the AO may allow application of such income for the purposes referred to in section 11(3)(d) in the year in which such trust or institution was dissolved [2nd proviso to section 11(3A)]. If the AO allows application of such income, the same will be treated as application of income for charitable or religious purposes and exemption will be allowed.

(iii) Income from voluntary contributions^{15a}:(Section 12)

(A) Voluntary contributions received by a trust created wholly for charitable or religious purposes (not being contributions with a specific direction that they shall form part of the corpus of the trust) shall be deemed to be income of the trust subject to exemption under section 11. Please refer item (i) on page 62. In order to establish that the contributions were received with the specific direction that they shall form part of the corpus of the trust, it is advisable to obtain confirming letters to that effect from the donors [Section 12(1)].

It may be noted that income by way of voluntary contributions received by private religious trusts or trusts created partly for charitable or religious purposes will not be exempt from tax.

(B) The value of any medical/educational services, made available by a trust running a hospital/medical institution/educational institution either free of cost or at concessional rate, to any person specified in clauses (a), (b), (c), (cc) & (d) of section 13(3) [Refer item (vi) on facing page] will be deemed to be income of such trust/institution during the previous year in which such services are so provided and will be chargeable to income-tax. In such a case, provisions of section 11(1) will not apply [Section 12(2)]. Also refer sub-item (7) of item (vi) on facing page.

(C) Any amount of donation received by the trust or institution in terms of section 80G(2)(d) [Refer sub-item (s) of condition (2) on page 219] in respect of which accounts of income and expenditure have not been rendered to the authority prescribed in section 80G(5C)(v), in the manner specified therein, or which has been utilised for purposes other than providing relief to the victims of earthquake in Gujarat or which remains unutilised in terms of section 80G(5C) and not transferred to the Prime Minister's National Relief Fund on or before 31-3-2004 will be deemed to be income of the previous year and chargeable to tax [Section 12(3)].

15. In computing the period of 5 years/10 years, as the case may be, period if any, during which accumulated income could not be applied for the purpose for which it is so accumulated, due to an order or injunction of any court, shall be excluded [Vide 1st proviso to section 11(2)].

15a. For the notes on new section 13B inserted by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 2.2.

(iv) Exemption of capital gains:

[Section 11(1A)]

On sale of a capital asset of a charitable trust, whether it is a long-term or a short-term capital asset, and reinvesting the net consideration (i.e., sale proceeds as reduced by any expenditure incurred wholly and exclusively in connection with such sale) in another capital asset, then, the capital gain equivalent to reinvestment in the new asset shall be deemed to have been applied to charitable purposes and will, therefore, be exempt.

(v) Business income of the trust:

[Section 11(4) & 11(4A)]

Under section 11(4) where exemption is claimed in respect of income of any business undertaking held under trust for charitable and religious purposes, such income shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of the Income-tax Act and if the income so computed exceeds the income shown in the accounts of the undertaking, the excess shall not be entitled to exemption.

Section 11(4A) provides that provision relating to exemption, accumulation and application of trust income as contained in section 11(1), (2), (3) & (3A) will not apply to any profits and gains of business, unless the business is incidental to the attainment of the objectives of the trust, and separate books of account are maintained by such trust in respect of such business.

(vi) Exemption under section 11 not available in certain cases:

(Section 13)

The following income of charitable or religious trust does not qualify for exemption under section 11:

(1) Any income of private religious trust which does not enure for the benefit of public [Section 13(1)(a)].

(2) Any income of charitable trusts and institutions created or established after 31-3-1962 for the benefit of any particular religious community or caste [Section 13(1)(b)].

(3) Any income of religious trusts and institutions created or established after 31-3-1962 which enures directly or indirectly for the benefit of any person referred to in section 13(3), i.e., author of the trust or founder of the institution or a substantial contributor to the trust or institution or any relative of such author, founder or substantial contributor, etc. [Section 13(1)(c)(i)].

"Substantial contributor" for this purpose means a contributor whose total contribution upto the end of relevant previous year exceeds Rs. 50,000 [Section 13(3)(b)].

(4) Any income of religious trusts and institutions whether created or established before or after 31-3-1962, if any part of their income or property is, during the previous year, used or applied, directly or indirectly, for the benefit of any person referred to in (3) above [Section 13(1)(c)(ii)]. However, in the case of trusts or institutions created or established before 1-4-1962, the exemption under section 11 will not be denied if any part of their income or property is used or applied for the benefit of any person referred to in (3) above in compliance with the mandatory term of the trust or a mandatory rule governing the institution [1st proviso to section 13(1)(c)].

(5) In a case where the funds of the trust or institution are invested in a concern in which any person referred to in (3) above has a substantial interest and such investment exceeds 5% of the capital of the concern [Section 13(4)].

The persons referred to in (3) above shall be deemed to have substantial interest in a concern, being a company, if they beneficially own shares (not being shares entitled to a fixed rate of dividend) carrying not less than 20% of the total voting power and in the case of any other concern, they are entitled, either singly or taken together, to not less than 20% of the profits of such concern. However, if the investment by the trust in such concern does not exceed 5% of the capital of such concern, the income of the trust from such concern alone is not entitled to exemption, but the rest of the income of the trust will qualify for exemption [Vide Circular No. 51, dt. 23-12-70: 79 ITR (St.) 72].

(6) Any profits and gains of business will not be exempt in the case of charitable or religious trusts and institutions except in cases covered under the heading "Business income of the trust" above.

(7) Exemption to trust/institution running educational institution/medical institution/hospital will not be denied wholly but only to the extent of income specified in section 12(2) as explained in sub-item (B) of item (iii) on facing page [Section 13(6)].

(8) From assessment year 2007-08 and onwards, income by way of any anonymous donation referred to in section 115BBC [For details, refer item (viii) on page 67] [Section 13(7)].

The uniform pattern of investment of charitable trust as laid down in section 11(5) is as under:

- (1) Investment in Government savings certificates [Section 11(5)(i)], including Indira Vikas Patra & Kisan Vikas Patra [Vide Circular No. 566, dt. 17-7-1990: 185 ITR (St.) 1].

Even if such public sector company ceases to be a public sector company, such investment made in shares of such company will be deemed to be an investment u/s. 11(5)(vii) for a period of 3 years from the date on which such public sector company ceases to be a public sector company. In respect of other investment or deposit, same shall be deemed to be an investment or deposit u/s. 11(5)(vii) for the period up to the date on which such investment or deposit becomes repayable by such company [Proviso to section 11(5)(vii)].
- (9) Deposits with or investment in any bonds issued by a financial corporation which is engaged in providing long-term finance for industrial development in India and which is eligible for deduction u/s. 36(1)(viii) [Section 11(5)(viii)].

(b) any trust fund having invested in non-approved pattern of investment before 1-3-1983 and continues to be so invested after 30-11-1983;

(c) the trust holds shares in a company other than shares in a public sector company & shares prescribed as a form or mode of investment u/s. 11(5)(xii) after 30-11-1983 [Section 13(1)(d)(iii)].

However, proviso to section 13(1)(d) provides that the above provisions will not apply in relation to:

(i) any assets held by the trust where such assets form part of corpus of the trust as on the 1-6-1973;

(viii) Certain anonymous donations received by trusts, etc. are not eligible for exemption

u/s. 10(23C) & 11 and chargeable to tax at flat rate of 30%:

[Sections 13(7), 10(23C) & 115BBC]

From assessment year 2007-08 and onwards, section 115BBC provides that where the total income of an assessee, being a person in receipt of income on behalf of any university or other educational institution referred to in section 10(23C)(iiiad)/(vi) or any hospital or other institution referred to in section 10(23C)(iiiie)/(via) or any fund or institution referred to in section 10(23C)(iv) or any trust or institution referred to in section 10(23C)(v) or any trust or institution referred to in section 11, includes income by way of any anonymous donation, the income-tax payable shall be the aggregate of: (1) the amount of income-tax calculated on income by way of any anonymous donation, at the rate of 30%; and (2) the amount of income-tax with which the assessee would have been chargeable had his total income been reduced by the amount of the income referred to in (1) [Section 115BBC(1)^{17a}].

Provisions of section 115BBC(1) shall not apply to any anonymous donation received by any trust or institution created or established: (1) wholly for religious purposes; and (2) wholly for religious and charitable purposes other than any anonymous donation made with a specific direction that such donation is for any university or other educational institution or any hospital or other medical institution run by such trust or institution [Section 115BBC(2)].

'Anonymous donation' is defined to mean any voluntary contribution referred to in section 2(24)(ia), where a person receiving such contribution does not maintain a record of the identity, indicating the name and address of the person making such contribution and such other particulars as may be prescribed [Section 115BBC(3)].

Income by way of anonymous donation which is taxable u/s. 115BBC shall not be exempt u/s. 10(23C)/u/s. 11 [vide 13th proviso to section 10(23C)/section 13(7)].

[Sections 139(4A) & 139A]

It is obligatory for the trustees of charitable or religious trust or institution to file voluntary return of income under section 139(4A) if the total income of the trust or institution, without giving effect to the provisions of sections 11 & 12, exceeds the maximum amount not liable to tax. The return is required to be filed within the time allowed u/s. 139(1) of the Income-tax Act.

- Notes:*
1. The income of the trust as is not exempt under section 11 or section 12 is taxable as if it is an association of persons [Section 164(2)].
 2. If the trust has not been allotted permanent account number and is required to furnish return of income u/s. 139(4A), then, such trust has to apply for allotment of permanent account number within the prescribed time [Section 139A];
 3. Where the total income of the trust as computed under the Income-tax Act before allowing exemption u/s. 11 or 12 exceeds the maximum amount which is not chargeable to income-tax in any previous year, the accounts are to be audited by an accountant as defined in the Explanation to section 288(2) [Section 12A(b)].

(x) Levy of tax at "maximum marginal rate" in the case of charitable and religious trusts in certain circumstances:

[Section 164(2)]

Sub-section (2) of section 164 provides that in the case of income derived from property held under trust wholly for charitable or religious purposes or which is in the nature of voluntary contributions received by the trust or which is of the nature of profits and gains of business, tax shall be charged on so much of the income as is not exempt under section 11 or section 12 as if the income not so exempt were the income of an association of persons.

However, in a case where the whole or any part of the aforesaid income is not exempt under section 11 or section 12 because of the contravention of the provisions of section 13(1)(c) and 13(1)(d), tax shall be charged on such income or part thereof, as the case may be, at the "maximum marginal rate".

V. ASSOCIATION OF PERSONS/BODY OF INDIVIDUALS:

[Sections 40(ba), 67A, 80A(3), 86 & 167B]

The provisions of above sections prescribes the scheme of assessment of an association of persons (AOP), body of individuals (BOI) and the members thereof. In the following circumstances, AOP/BOI will be charged to tax at the maximum marginal rate¹⁸ under section 167B:

- (a) where the shares of the members in the whole or any part of the income of AOP/BOI are indeterminate or unknown on the date of formation of such association/body or at any time thereafter;
- (b) where the share of the member, in the whole or any part of the income of AOP/BOI are determinate or known, and any member thereof has taxable income (excluding his share from association/body).

However, in a case (a) above, if any of its member is taxable at a rate higher than the maximum marginal rate, then the AOP/BOI will be charged to tax at such higher rate instead of at the maximum marginal rate.

17a. For the notes on amendments made in section 115BBC(1) by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 2.3.

18. Refer footnote No. 13 on page 61.

HEADS OF INCOME

Further, in a case (b) on page 67, if any of its member is taxable at a rate higher than the maximum marginal rate, then the portion of total income of AOP/BOI relating to the share of that member shall be charged to tax at such higher rate and the balance of total income shall be charged at the maximum marginal rate.

Where the share of the members of AOP/BOI are determinate and known and none of the member has taxable income, then the AOP/BOI will be charged to tax at the slab rates applicable to individual.

While computing the business or professional income of AOP/BOI, interest, salary, bonus, commission or remuneration paid to a member will not be allowed as deduction under section 40(ba) [For details, refer sub-item (8) of item (ii) on page 129].

Where the shares of members of AOP/BOI are determinate or known, computation of share of its members is to be made in accordance with section 67A as under:

(1) deduct interest, salary, bonus, commission or remuneration, by whatever name called, paid to the member from the total income of the AOP/BOI;

(2) the balance so arrived at in (1) above is to be apportioned amongst the members in the proportion in which they are entitled to share in the income of the AOP/BOI, under the same heads of income as in the case of AOP/BOI;

(3) if the amount apportioned to a member as in (2) above:

(a) is a profit, any interest, salary, bonus, commission or remuneration paid to the member by the AOP/BOI is to be added to such apportioned amount and the resultant amount will be member's share in the income of AOP/BOI;

(b) is a loss, any interest, salary, bonus, commission or remuneration paid to the member by the AOP/BOI is to be adjusted against the apportioned loss and the resultant amount will be member's share in the income of AOP/BOI.

(4) interest paid by a member on capital borrowed by him for the purposes of investment in the AOP/BOI will be allowed as deduction from his share (chargeable under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession") as determined in (3) above.

Where any deduction admissible under sections 80G, 80GGA, 80GGC, 80HH, 80HHA, 80HHB, 80HHC, 80HHD, 80-I, 80-IA, 80-IB, 80-IC, 80-ID, 80-IE, 80J or 80JJ is allowable in computing the total income of the AOP/BOI, no deduction under the same section shall be allowed in the hands of its member in computing his share of income from the AOP/BOI [Section 80A(3)].

Under section 86 the share of a member as computed under section 67A:

(a) will be included in the total income of the member for rate purposes only if AOP/BOI is chargeable to tax at usual rates and not at maximum marginal rate; or

(b) will not at all be included in the total income of the member, if the AOP/BOI has been taxed at maximum marginal rate or at a higher rate; or

(c) will be included in the total income of the member and income-tax shall be payable thereon, if no income-tax is chargeable on the total income of the AOP/BOI, as the provisions of section 86 will not apply in such circumstances.

The Central Board of Direct Taxes has clarified by its Circular No. 320 of 11th January, 1982 [134 ITR (St.) 166] that "in the cases of registered societies, trade and professional association, social and sports clubs, charitable or religious trusts, etc., where the members or trustees are not entitled to any share in the income of the association of persons, the provisions of section 167A/167B will not be attracted and, accordingly, tax will be payable in such cases at the rate ordinarily applicable to the total income of an association of persons and not at the maximum marginal rate."

VI. COMPUTATION OF TOTAL INCOME

(i) Heads of income:

(Section 14)

For the purpose of computation of total income of an assessee on which tax is to be charged, income from various sources is to be computed under the following heads:

- (1) Salaries.
- (2) Income from house property.
- (3) Profits and gains of business or profession.
- (4) Capital gains.
- (5) Income from other sources (i.e., residuary income which does not fall under any of the preceding heads).

(ii) Expenditure incurred in relation to income not includible in total income:

(Section 14A)

For the purposes of computing the total income under Chapter IV (i.e., sections 15 to 59), no deduction will be allowed in respect of expenditure incurred by the assessee in relation to income which does not form part of the total income under the Income-tax Act.

The Assessing Officer (AO) shall not reopen or rectify any assessment in relation to assessment year 2001-02 and earlier years in order to withdraw the deduction for expenses, if any, allowed against exempt income in those assessment years [Proviso to section 14A].

W.e.f. 1-4-2007 (assessment year 2007-08 and onwards), where the AO is not satisfied with the correctness of the claim of the assessee in respect of expenditure incurred in relation to such income which does not form part of the total income, he shall determine the quantum of such expenditure in accordance with such method as may be prescribed¹⁹ [Section 14A(2)]. Section 14A(3) provides that the AO shall follow the above procedure as laid down in sub-section (2), even if the assessee claims that the expenditure against such exempt income is 'nil'.

SALARIES

[From assessment year 2006-07 and onwards]
[Sections 15, 16 & 17]

Income under the head “Salaries” comprises remuneration in any form (including perquisites) due for personal service under an express or implied contract of employment or service. Thus, the contractual relationship should be as between an employer and employee¹.

Income from “salaries” is chargeable to tax on due basis.

Explanation to section 9(1)(ii) clarifies that income which falls under the head “Salaries” for services rendered in India shall be regarded as income earned in India and “salaries” payable for rest period or leave period which is preceded and succeeded by services rendered in India and forms part of the service contract of employment shall also be regarded as income earned in India. It may be noted that when a person employed in India settles in a foreign country after retirement and receives his pension abroad, the pension so paid to him will be taken as income accruing in India and will be liable to tax even though he may be a non-resident. This is because the pension is paid on account of services rendered in India.

In the case of a Government servant, who is a citizen of India and is posted abroad, the salary paid to him abroad is deemed to accrue or arise in India under section 9(1)(iii) even though the service is rendered by him outside India. However, foreign allowances and perquisites granted to such government employees posted to a foreign country are specifically exempt under section 10(7). This concession is not, however, available to Indian employees in private service who are posted abroad. In respect of members of the crew of foreign-going Indian ship, refer footnote No. 1a on page 50.

Income which is assessable under the head “Salaries”

(i) any salary due from an employer or a former employer to an assessee in the previous year, whether paid or not [Section 15(a)];

(ii) any salary paid or allowed to him in the previous year by or on behalf of an employer or a former employer though not due or before it became due to him. This includes salary paid in advance and where it is included in the total income of any previous year in which it is paid, it will not be included again in the total income of the previous year in which such salary becomes due [Section 15(b) read with Explanation 1];

(iii) any arrears of salaries paid or allowed to him in a previous year by or on behalf of an employer or a former employer, if not charged to income-tax for any earlier previous year [Section 15(c)].

It may, however, be noted that if as a result of receipt of any arrears of salary, the total income is assessed at a rate higher than that at which it would otherwise have been assessed, the assessee may apply to the Assessing Officer concerned for appropriate relief under section 89 of the Income-tax Act. Relief will be granted in accordance with Rule 21A of the Income-tax Rules² (for computation of relief, refer page 74).

Ordinarily, the word “salary” is understood as periodical payment for services rendered by an employee to an employer. However, for the purposes of sections 15 and 16, it is defined under section 17(1) as inclusive of the following items:

- (i) Wages [Section 17(1)(i)];
- (ii) Any annuity or pension [Section 17(1)(ii)];
- (iii) Any gratuity [Section 17(1)(iii)];
- (iv) Any fees, commissions, perquisites or profits in lieu of or in addition to any salary or wages [Section 17(1)(iv)];
- (v) Any advance of salary [Section 17(1)(v)];
- (vi) Any payment received by an employee while in service in respect of any period of leave not availed of by him³ [Section 17(1)(va)];
- (vii) (a) The portion of the annual accretion in any previous year to the balance at the credit of an employee participating in a recognised provident fund, consisting of employer’s contributions in excess of 12% of the salary of an employee [Section 17(1)(vi)],
- (b) Interest credited on the balance in so far as it exceeds 9.5%⁴ [Section 17(1)(vi)];

1. It may be noted that the salary, bonus, commission or remuneration received by a partner of a firm from the firm will not be chargeable under the head “Salaries” [Explanation 2 to section 15]. It will be charged under the head “Profits and gains of business or profession” [Section 28(v)].

2. For the purposes of deduction of tax at source u/s. 192(1), certain categories of employers have been empowered to allow the relief u/s. 89 to its employees subject to the condition that employee furnishes particulars in the prescribed Form No. 10E to the employer (For details, refer page 93).

3. The encashment of unutilised leave at the time of retirement on superannuation or otherwise is exempt under section 10(10AA). For further details, refer page 77.

DEARNESS ALLOWANCE

This is an additional payment over and above the basic salary for meeting the high cost of living and is chargeable under the head “Salaries”.

COMMISSION

If the terms and conditions of service are such that commission is not paid as bounty benefit but is paid as part and parcel of the remuneration for services rendered by the employee, such payment would be in the nature of salary rather than a benefit or perquisite. For example, if an employee is appointed on a fixed monthly remuneration plus a commission of 1% on sales, the commission being part of his remuneration, will not be a benefit, amenity or perquisite but will be regarded as remuneration. If however, on the terms and conditions of service either there is no obligation on the employer to pay the commission or it is a matter purely at the discretion of the employer, such payment would be treated as a benefit by way of addition to salary rather than in lieu of salary.

BONUS

The payment of bonus will be treated as salary and not as a benefit or perquisite in the following type of cases:

- (a) Payment of bonus made under a service agreement between the employer and the employee;
- (b) Bonus paid under the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965;
- (c) Bonus paid in accordance with the decision of a trade association which is binding on its members;
- (d) Bonus paid as an award by a Labour Tribunal where the award is binding on the employer and the employees.

If the bonus is paid gratuitously without there being any legal or contractual obligation, the payment will be in the nature of a perquisite or benefit.

COMPENSATORY ALLOWANCE

Compensatory allowances to meet expenses wholly, necessarily and exclusively incurred by the employee in the performance of duties (conveyance allowance) or to meet expenses at the place of employment (city compensatory allowance) or at a place where he resides are treated as income under section 2(24)(iiia) and 2(24)(iiib)⁵. However, such of those allowances as are prescribed in Rule 2BB of the Income-tax Rules, 1962 will be exempt under section 10(14).

Under Rule 2BB, the allowances which have been prescribed as exempt u/s. 10(14) are as under:

(1) PRESCRIBED ALLOWANCES EXEMPT U/S. 10(14)(i) [VIDE RULE 2BB(1) OF THE INCOME-TAX RULES, 1962]:

GRATUITIES

Under section 10(10) of the Income-tax Act, 1961 gratuities received by different categories of employees are exempt from tax to the extent mentioned below:

(1) Death-cum-retirement gratuity:

Death-cum-retirement gratuities received by the employees of the Central Government, State Governments, local authorities and members of the Defence services are totally exempt from tax under section 10(10)(i) of the Income-tax Act and should not, therefore, be included in the salary income.

It may be mentioned here that u/s. 10(15)(iv)(i), interest earned by employees of the Central or State Government or a public sector company on deposit of moneys due to them on their retirement whether on superannuation or otherwise, in the scheme notified by the Central Government [Vide Notification No. G.S.R. 598 (E): 182 ITR (St.) 63] is fully exempt. The deposit itself is exempt from wealth-tax without any monetary limit.

9. The words and figure, "for a period of more than 30 days", omitted w.e.f. 1-4-2006 vide Income-tax (Twenty-second Amendment) Rules, 2005 [277 ITR (St.) 53].

10. Upto 6-11-2007, for the words in italics 'underground mines' read 'underground coal mines' vide Income-tax (Thirteenth Amendment) Rules, 2007 [295 ITR (St.)1].

(2) Gratuity received under the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972:

[Applicable to employees to whom provisions of section 1(3) of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, applies]

Such gratuity is, however, exempt from tax to the extent it does not exceed the amount in accordance with the provisions of sub-sections (2) & (3) of section 4 of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, as provided in section 10(10)(ii) of the Income-tax Act. The gratuity exempt from tax is accordingly to be calculated as discussed below.

According to section 4 of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, gratuity shall be payable to an employee on the termination of his employment after he has rendered continuous service for not less than five years.

Sub-sections (2) & (3) of section 4 of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 further state that the employer shall pay gratuity to an employee at the rate of fifteen days' wages for each completed year of service or part thereof in excess of six months on the basis of wages last drawn by the employee concerned or Rs. 3,50,000¹¹, whichever is less.

Under section 2(s) of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, the word "wages" is defined as under:-

"Wages" means all emoluments which are earned by an employee while on duty or on leave in accordance with the terms and conditions of his employment and which are paid or are payable to him in cash and includes dearness allowance but does not include any bonus, commission, house rent allowance, overtime wages and any other allowance.

The extent of exemption for gratuity for the purposes of Income-tax Act is as under:

- (a) for every completed year of service or part thereof in excess of six months, based on the rate of wages last drawn by the employee concerned [Section 4(2) of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972] 15 days' wages
- OR
- (b) the amount of gratuity payable to an employee subject to a maximum of [Section 4(3) of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972] Rs. 3,50,000¹¹ whichever is less of (a) & (b).

EXAMPLE: Shri A an employee completed 40 years and 7 months of service with C & Co. Ltd., and at the time of retirement he received Rs. 2,10,000 as gratuity under the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972. He retired in the month of January, 2009. His monthly wages on the date immediately preceding the date of retirement was Rs. 7,800. The gratuity payable under section 4(2) of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 is as under:

- (a) The period of service 40 years & 7 months
- (b) No. of completed years of continuous service under the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 .. 41 years
- (c) Wages drawn preceding the date of retirement Rs. 7,800 per month

Gratuity exempt:

1. Wages per day	Rs. 7,800 ÷ 26 ¹² = Rs. 300
2. Multiply each day's wages by 15	Rs. 300 × 15 ¹³ = Rs. 4,500
3. Multiply 15 days' wages by 41	Rs. 4,500 × 41 ¹⁴ = Rs. 1,84,500

For the assessment year 2009-10, the gratuity exempt from income-tax will be Rs. 1,84,500 as the said amount is in accordance with the provisions of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972.

The balance of Rs. 25,500 (Rs. 2,10,000 less Rs. 1,84,500) paid under section 4(5) of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972 does not qualify for exemption u/s. 10(10)(ii) of the Income-tax Act and the same is to be included under the head "Salaries".

(3) Gratuity received by employees of private sector and statutory corporations:

[Applicable to employees who are not covered under item (2) above]

Gratuity received on retirement, incapacitation, death of the employee or termination of his employment¹⁵ is exempt under section 10(10)(iii) of the Income-tax Act to the extent mentioned below.

Gratuity not exceeding one-half month's salary for each year of completed service calculated on the basis of average salary for ten months immediately preceding the month in which any such event occurs, subject to such limit as may be notified by the Central Government (at present such limit is Rs. 3,50,000¹⁶).

11. The ceiling limit increased from Rs. 1,00,000 to Rs. 3,50,000, in relation to an employee retiring on or after 24-9-1997 [Vide the Payment of Gratuity (Amendment) Act, 1998].

12. As per Explanation to section 4(2) of the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972.

13. This represents fifteen days' wages.

14. This represents the number of completed years of continuous service.

15. The Central Board of Direct Taxes has clarified that the expression 'termination of employment' used in section 10(10) of the Income-tax Act, covers the case of an employee whose services comes to an end due to resignation [Vide Circular F. No. 194/6/73-IT(A1), dt. 19-6-73].

16. The exemption limit increased from Rs. 2,50,000 to Rs. 3,50,000 in relation to the employees, who retire or become incapacitated prior to such retirement or die on or after the 24th September, 1997, or whose employment is terminated on or after the said date [Vide Notification No. 10772, dt. 20-1-1999 issued u/s. 10(10)(iii) of the Income-tax Act: 236 ITR (St.) 252].

“Salary” for the purposes of gratuity received by: (i) employees of statutory corporations, and (ii) employees in private sector, includes dearness allowance, if the terms of employment so provide but excludes all other allowances and perquisites [Vide Explanation to section 10(10) and read with Rule 2(h) of Part A of the Fourth Schedule].

Where gratuity is received by an employee from two or more employers in the same year, the maximum amount of gratuity exempt from tax shall not exceed Rs. 3,50,000¹⁷. In cases where an employee who has received gratuity in any earlier year from his former employer or employers, receives gratuity from another employer in a later year, the limit of Rs. 3,50,000¹⁷ will be reduced by the amount of gratuity which has been exempted in any earlier year or years [Vide 1st and 2nd proviso to sub-clause (iii) of section 10(10)].

EXAMPLE: Shri A an employee completed 38 years of service with B & Co. Ltd. and at the time of retirement on 31-3-2009, he received Rs. 3,60,000 as gratuity. His aggregate salary in the immediately preceding ten months was Rs. 1,80,000 (i.e., from 1-5-2008 to 28-2-2009).

Average salary per month i.e., Rs. 1,80,000 ÷ 10 months	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 18,000
Gratuity qualifying for exemption is ½ month's average salary Rs. 9,000 × 38 years of service = Rs. 3,42,000 subject to ceiling limit of Rs. 3,50,000	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 3,42,000
Gratuity received	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 3,60,000
Less: Gratuity qualifying for exemption	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 3,42,000
Gratuity to be included in the salary income	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 18,000

The amount of Rs. 18,000 will, however, be included in the salary for the period from 1-4-2008 to 31-3-2009 and the income under the head “Salaries” is to be computed for the assessment year 2009-10 as under:

Salary from 1-4-2008 to 31-3-2009 (Rs. 18,000×12)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,16,000
Gratuity for inclusion in the salary income as computed above	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 18,000
Base for deduction u/s. 16(i) ¹⁸ & 16 (iii)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,34,000
Less: (1) Standard deduction under section 16(i) ¹⁸	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. Nil ¹⁸
(2) Deduction under section 16(iii):
Professional tax deducted (say)	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,000	Rs. 2,000
Taxable salary for assessment year 2009-10	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 2,32,000

Note: Under section 89, an employee is required to make an application to the Assessing Officer for the grant of relief in respect of arrears of salary for the assessment year 2009-10. For the purposes of deduction of tax at source u/s. 192(1), certain categories of employers have been empowered to allow the relief u/s. 89 to its employees subject to the condition that employee files particulars in the prescribed Form No. 10E to the employer [Section 192(2A)]. For explanatory notes on this section, refer facing page].

(B) In respect of gratuity:

The relief admissible under section 89 read with Rule 21A(1)(b) is to be computed in the following manner:

(a) Where the payment of gratuity is made in respect of past services of an employee extending over a period of not less than 15 years:

(1) Find out the tax on total income [including therein the amount of gratuity which is not exempt u/s. 10(10)] of the previous year in which the gratuity is received.

(2) To find out the average rate of tax on total income, divide the tax arrived at in (1) by total income of the previous year in which gratuity is received.

(3) To find out the tax payable on the gratuity, multiply the average rate of tax arrived at in (2) by the amount of gratuity.

(4) Add one-third of the amount of gratuity to the total income of each of the three years immediately preceding the previous year in which the payment by way of gratuity is made.

(5) Find out the tax on total income, of each of the three preceding previous years, arrived at in (4).

(6) To find out the average rates of tax on total income of each of the three preceding previous years, divide the tax computed in (5) of the relevant previous year by the total income of that year.

(7) Total the average rates of tax of these three years and divide the result by three in order to find out the average of these three average rates of tax.

(8) To find out the tax payable on the gratuity, multiply the average of the three average rates of tax arrived at in (7) by the amount of gratuity.

(9) The relief u/s. 89 is the difference between the tax on gratuity as computed in (3) and (8).

(b) Where the payment by way of gratuity is made in respect of the past services of an employee extending over a period of not less than 5 years but less than 15 years, the method of calculating the relief will be the same as shown in (a) above except that the total income of each of the two (instead of three) immediately preceding previous years is to be increased by an amount equal to one-half (instead of one-third) of the amount of the gratuity.

(c) Where the payment of gratuity is in respect of past services of less than 5 years, no relief is admissible u/s. 89.

(C) In respect of compensation:

The relief admissible under section 89 read with Rule 21A(1)(c) is to be computed in the following manner:

Where the payment of compensation is received by an assessee from his employer or former employer at or in connection with the termination of his employment after continuous service for not less than 3 years and where the unexpired portion of his term of employment is also not less than 3 years.

The method of calculating relief under section 89 is the same as stated in steps (1) to (9) of the preceding item “(B)(a) in respect of gratuity” except that wherever the word “gratuity” appears, the same is to be substituted by the word “compensation”.

Retrenchment compensation

Retrenchment compensation received by a workman from his employer under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, or under any other Act or award or contract of service, etc. is exempt from tax under section 10(10B). The exemption is limited to the amount calculated in accordance with the provisions of section 25F(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, subject to a monetary ceiling of such amount, not being less than Rs. 50,000, as may be notified by the Central Government. The Central Government has notified monetary ceiling limit of Rs. 5,00,000 as exempt u/s. 10(10B) in respect of workman who receives compensation at the time of his retrenchment on or after 1-1-1997 [Vide Notification F. No. 200/21/97/ITA-I, dt. 25-6-1999: 240 ITR (St.) 184].

However, where retrenchment compensation is paid under a scheme approved by the Central Government, the whole of the compensation will be exempt i.e., without any monetary ceiling limit.

Voluntary retirement

Section 10(10C)^{19a} provides that any amount received or receivable (i.e., in instalment) by an employee of—

1. a public sector company; or
2. any other company; or
3. an authority established under a Central, State or Provincial Act; or
4. a local authority; or
5. a co-operative society; or
6. a University established or incorporated by or under a Central, State or Provincial Act and an institution declared to be a University u/s. 3 of the University Grants Commission Act, 1956; or
7. an Indian Institute of Technology within the meaning of section 3(g) of the Institutes of Technology Act, 1961; or
8. such institute of management as may be notified by the Central Government; or
9. any State Government; or
10. the Central Government; or
11. an institution, having importance throughout India or in any State or States, as may be notified by the Central Government²⁰, on his voluntary retirement in accordance with any scheme or schemes of voluntary retirement or in the case of a public sector company, a scheme of voluntary separation, is exempt to the extent such amount does not exceed Rs. 5,00,000 [Section 10(10C)].

Voluntary retirement scheme is to be framed in accordance with the guidelines prescribed under Rule 2BA²¹ of the Income-tax Rules, 1962.

Where exemption has been allowed to an employee u/s. 10(10C) for any assessment year, no exemption thereunder shall be allowed to him in relation to any other assessment year [2nd proviso to section 10(10C)].

21. For Board's clarification on Rule 2BA, refer Circular No. 640, dt. 26-11-1992 [199 ITR (St.) 2].

APPROVED SUPERANNUATION FUND

Any payment from an approved superannuation fund made—

- (a) on the death of a beneficiary (i.e., widows, children or dependents of an employee), or
 - (b) to an employee in lieu of or in commutation of an annuity on his retirement at or after a specified age or on his becoming incapacitated prior to such retirement [subject to a maximum of one-third (if gratuity is also payable) or one-half (in any other case) of such annuity], or
 - (c) by way of refund of contributions on the death of a beneficiary,
- is exempt from income-tax under section 10(13) of the Income-tax Act, 1961.

Superannuation fund may be set up by the employer for the sole purpose of providing annuities for employees on their retirement at or after a specified age or on their becoming incapacitated prior to such retirement, or for widows, children or dependents of persons who are or have been such employees on the death of those persons. Such a fund should be approved by the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner of Income-tax by following the procedure prescribed in Part B of the Fourth Schedule to the Income-tax Act read with Rules 82 to 97 of the Income-tax Rules.

The fund is funded by employer's and employee's contribution. The employee's contribution qualifies for deduction u/s. 80C from gross total income. The contribution that can be made by the employer is upto 27% of employee's salary for each year as reduced by employer's contribution to the provident fund of such employee for that year [Rule 87 of the Income-tax Rules]. Employer's contribution will not be treated as perquisite [Section 17(2)(v)].

Under Rule 90 of the Income-tax Rules, any payment in commutation of annuity shall not exceed—

- (1) in a case where the employee receives any gratuity, the commuted value of one-third of the annuity receivable, and
- (2) in any other case, the commuted value of one-half of the annuity receivable.

Any payment out of the fund, if liable to be taxed, the trustees of the fund will have to deduct tax at source u/s. 192(5) read with rule 6 of Part B of the Fourth Schedule to the Income-tax Act, 1961. Where an employee leaves one employment and takes up another employment and the first employer transfers the fund in respect of that employee to the fund of the second employer, such transfer will not be liable for deduction of tax at source. That is, it will not be treated as income of the employee and will be exempt u/s. 10(13) [CBDT's F. No. 216/15/78 AII, dt. 13-1-1982].

EXEMPTION OF AMOUNT RECEIVED BY WAY OF ENCASHMENT OF UNUTILISED EARNED LEAVE BY RETIRING EMPLOYEES:

[Section 10(10AA)]

Cash equivalent of leave salary received only *at the time of retirement*²² whether on superannuation or otherwise is wholly exempt in the case of Central or State Government employees. For others, cash equivalent of leave salary received *at the time of retirement*²² whether on superannuation or otherwise is exempt subject to certain conditions and limits explained hereunder:

- (1) Earned leave entitlement must not exceed 30 days for every year of actual service rendered by him as an employee of the employer from whose service he has retired.
- (2) Earned leave so encashed must not be for more than 10 months.
- (3) Leave salary must be based on average salary drawn by the employee during ten months immediately preceding his retirement.
- (4) The sum so payable shall not exceed Rs. 3,00,000, where the employee retires after 1-4-1998²³;
- (5) Even if non-Government employee has received the sum from different employers in different or in the same previous year, the ceiling limit stated in (4) above will be applied on all such payments put together if such payment received earlier had not been taxed.

“Salary” includes dearness allowance, if the terms of employment so provide, but excludes all other allowances and perquisites [Rule 2(h) of Part A of the Fourth Schedule] [Vide Explanation to section 10(10)].

22. Section 17(1)(va) provides that the encashment of earned leave while in service will be treated as salary.

23. Vide Notification No. S.O. 588(E), dt. 31-5-2002 issued u/s. 10(10AA)(ii) of the Income-tax Act [Refer 256 ITR (St.) 30].

EXAMPLES:

1. Shri A, an employee of Messrs C. & Co. Limited, at the time of retirement was paid Rs. 2,88,000 as cash equivalent of earned leave to his credit. He retired on 31st January, 2009. His monthly salary at the time of retirement was Rs. 24,000. He was drawing this sum from March 2008 onwards. The earned leave to his credit at the time of retirement was 12 months. The company allows earned leave at the rate of one month (30 days) for every year of actual service.

Average salary for preceding 10 months	Rs. 24,000 per month
Maximum period of leave that can be encashed	10 months
(a) Leave salary admissible: 10 months × Rs. 24,000	Rs. 2,40,000
(b) Maximum exemption permissible	Rs. 3,00,000
Lower of (a) and (b) viz. Rs. 2,40,000 qualifies for exemption	Rs. 2,40,000

Out of Rs. 2,88,000 received only Rs. 2,40,000 will be exempt under section 10(10AA) and the balance Rs. 48,000 will be taxed as salary income for the assessment year 2009-10. Thus, the total gross salary would be Rs. 2,88,000 [Rs. 2,40,000 (Rs. 24,000 salary per month × 10 months) plus Rs. 48,000 taxable leave salary].

2. Mr. B, an employee of Messrs B & Co. Limited, retired on 28-2-2009, after 20 years of service. Earned leave at his credit was 9 months upto the date of his retirement. He had taken 630 days of leave. He was entitled to 1½ month's leave for every completed year of service. His salary was Rs. 10,000 per month which he was drawing for the last 10 months. The company paid him Rs. 1,35,000 as cash equivalent of leave at his credit.

Leave entitlement:

Total service	20 years
Leave entitlement restricted to 30 days for every year of actual service (30 days × 20 years)	600 days
Less: leave taken during entire service	630 days
Leave at his credit	Nil

Mr. B is not entitled to exemption under section 10(10AA) as the leave at his credit calculated according to Explanation to section 10(10AA) is less than the leave already taken.

3. If, in the above Example 2, Mr. B had taken only 540 days of leave (while in service) then:

Leave at his credit (600 days less 540 days)	60 days (i.e., 2 months)
Leave encashment exempt under section 10(10AA): 2 months × Rs. 10,000	Rs. 20,000

The balance of Rs. 1,15,000 (Rs. 1,35,000 less Rs. 20,000) will be taxed as salary income for the assessment year 2009-10.

NOTE: Cash equivalent of leave salary payable on the death of a Government servant to his legal heirs is not liable to income-tax [Vide Circular No. 309, dated 3-7-1981: 132 ITR (St.) 3]. This is because the receipt in the hands of the family is not in the nature of one from an employer to an employee. On the same analogy, in my opinion, cash equivalent of leave salary payable on the death of any other employee to his legal heirs would also not be liable to income-tax.

CLASSIFICATION OF PERQUISITES

It is important to note that under section 17(2), perquisites are classified as under:

- (i) the value of rent-free accommodation provided to the assessee by his employer [Sec. 17(2)(i)];
- (ii) the value of any concession in the matter of rent in respect of any accommodation provided to the assessee by his employer [Sec. 17(2)(ii)];
- (iii) the value of any benefit or amenity granted free of cost or at concessional rate to the following categories of employees:—

- (a) a director of a company [Sec. 17(2)(iii)(a)];
- (b) an employee of a company who has substantial interest in the company, i.e., an employee who is the beneficial owner of at least 20% of the ordinary shares [Sec. 17(2)(iii)(b)]; and
- (c) any other employee whose income under the head “Salaries” exclusive of all non-monetary benefits or amenities exceeds Rs. 50,000 in relation to the aggregate salary due to, or received by, an employee from one or more employers. In other words, where the salary of any other employee is less than Rs. 50,000, the value of any benefit or amenity granted free of cost or at concessional rate will be exempt unless the benefit or amenity is of obligatory nature referred to in (v) on facing page [Sec. 17(2)(iii)(c)].

For assessment year 2001-02 to 2007-08, the value of any benefit provided by a company free of cost or at a concessional rate to its employees by way of allotment of shares, debentures or warrants, directly or indirectly, under any Employees’ Stock Option Plan or Scheme of the company offered to such employees will not be regarded as a perquisite²⁴, if such Plan or Scheme is in accordance with the guidelines issued by the Central Government²⁵ [Proviso to section 17(2)(iii)]. However, where an employee sells such securities, the gains will be assessable as capital gains, under the normal provisions of law relating to capital gains [Also refer page 149]. Consequent to insertion of clause (d) in section 115WB(1), w.e.f. 1-4-2008, proviso to section 17(2)(iii) is omitted from the said date (i.e., assessment year 2008-09 and onwards). The value of such perquisite will be chargeable to tax in the hands of employer as fringe benefits in relation to assessment year 2008-09 and 2009-10 [For details, refer Serial No. 3 of the Table on page 200]. For assessment year 2000-01, the value of any such benefit provided by a company will be taxed as a perquisite u/s. 17(2)(iiia) [Refer item (iv) hereafter].

From assessment year 2010-11 and onwards, value of any specified security or sweat equity shares allotted by employer or former employer, free of cost or at concessional rate to employee will be regarded as perquisite [Vide new section 17(2)(vi)^{25a}].

The use of the employer's vehicle for journey by the employee from his residence to his office or other place of work, or from such office or place to his residence, will not be regarded as benefit or amenity granted free of cost or at concessional rate to the employee [Explanation to section 17(2)(iii)];

(iv) for assessment year 2000-01, the value of any specified security allotted or transferred during 1-4-1999 to 31-3-2000, directly or indirectly, by any person free of cost, or at concessional rate, to an individual who is or was in employment of that person. Where the said allotment or transfer of specified securities is in pursuance of a stock option exercised by the individual before 31-3-2000, the said value of specified securities will be taxable in the previous year in which the option is exercised. In such a case, value of perquisite is the difference between the fair market value of the specified securities on the date of exercising option and the actual cost at which they were acquired [Section 17(2)(iiia)]. Where the employee sells or transfers the specified securities so acquired, the cost of acquisition will be taken as the fair market value on the date of exercising the option [Section 49(2B)]. Also refer page 149.

(v) any sum paid by the employer in respect of any obligation which, but for such payment, would have been payable by the assessee. For example, the tax dues of an employee, the sum spent on the education of an employee's children and the sums spent on gas, electric energy and water are a few instances of such obligatory payments [Sec. 17(2)(iv)];

(vi) any sum payable by the employer, whether directly or through a fund (other than recognised provident fund or an approved superannuation fund or a Deposit-linked Insurance Fund), to effect an assurance on the life of the assessee or to effect a contract for an annuity [Sec. 17(2)(v)];

(vii) the value of any other fringe benefit or amenity as prescribed in the sub-rule (7) of rule 3 [Refer item (ix) on page 85]. However, for assessment year 2006-07 to 2009-10, the value of fringe benefits chargeable to tax under Chapter XII-H (Sections 115W to 115WL) in the hands of the employer, will be excluded from the value of such fringe benefits includible in the employee's salary as perquisite [Sec. 17(2)(vi)^{25a}].

It may be noted that, in relation to assessment years 2006-07 to 2009-10, the value of perquisite (i.e., fringe benefit or amenity) specified in rule 3(2) [Refer item (ii) on page 82]; rule 3(6) [Refer item (viii) on page 84]; rule 3(7)(ii) [Refer item (ix)(d) on page 86]; Rule 3(7)(iii) [Refer item (ix)(e) on page 86]; rule 3(7)(iv) [Refer item (ix)(f) on page 86]; rule 3(7)(v) [Refer item (ix)(g) on page 86]; rule 3(7)(vi) [Refer item (ix)(h) on page 87]; and rule 3(8) [Refer item (x) on page 87] will be excluded from the value of fringe benefits includible in the employee's salary as perquisite. The employer of such employee is liable to pay FBT under Chapter XII-H (Sections 115W to 115WL) in respect of value of such fringe benefit or amenity. However, in relation to assessment year 2010-11 and onwards, value of fringe benefit or amenity as may be prescribed is includible in the employee's salary as perquisite [Vide new section 17(2)(viii)^{25a}].

W.e.f. 1-4-2008 (assessment year 2008-09 and onwards), in the case of an employee of an employer who is not liable to pay fringe benefit tax under Chapter XII-H, the value of perquisite (i.e., fringe benefit or amenity) specified in new rule 3(2) [Refer item (ii) on page 82]; new rule 3(6) [Refer item (viii) on page 84]; new rule 3(7)(ii) to 3(7)(vi) [Refer item (ix)(d) to (ix)(h) on pp. 86-87, respectively] and new rule 3(7)(ix) [Refer item (x) on page 87] will be included in employee's salary as perquisite.

Refer High Court and Supreme Court Judges (Conditions of Service) Amendment Act, 1988 [173 ITR (St.) 89].

(iii) The use of a motor car by an employee from his residence to his normal place of his duties and back:

The use of the employer's vehicle for journey by the employee from his residence to his office or other place of work, or from such office or place to his residence, will not be regarded as benefit or amenity granted by the employer and hence value of perquisite will be "nil" [Explanation to section 17(2)(iii)].

* The perquisite in respect of use of motor car as computed in Example (i) & (ii) above, is not to be included as perquisite of the employee in relation to assessment year 2006-07 and subsequent years, if the employer is liable to pay fringe benefit tax under Chapter XII-H.

(iv) Where transport is provided for a group of employees to the place of employment:

Where transport is provided by the employer for a group of employees for the purposes of going from residence to the place where the duties of employment are to be performed and vice-versa, the value of perquisite, in my opinion, in such cases will be “nil” as there is no provision in Rule 3(2) for the valuation of such perquisite.

(v) Services of a sweeper, a gardener, a watchman or a personal attendant provided to employee:

[Refer Rule 3(3) of the Income-tax Rules, 1962]

The value of benefit to the employee or any member of his household³⁰ resulting from the provision by the employer of services of a sweeper, a gardener, a watchman or a personal attendant, will be the actual cost to the employer. Actual cost in such a case will be the amount of salary paid or payable by the employer or any other person on his behalf for such services as reduced by the amount paid by the employee for such services.

(vi) Gas, Electric energy or Water supplied to employee:

[Refer Rule 3(4) of the Income-tax Rules, 1962]

The value of this perquisite will be as under:—

(a) where gas, electric energy or water are supplied to the employee for his household consumption, the value of benefit will be taken to be the sum equal to the amount paid on that account by the employer to the agency supplying the gas, electric energy or water;

(b) where such supply is from resources owned by the employer, without purchasing them from any other outside agency (e.g., employer generating its own power), the value of perquisite would be the manufacturing cost per unit incurred by the employer.

The value of perquisite so arrived at as in (a)/(b) is to be reduced to the extent of amount paid by the employee in respect of such services.

Gas, electricity and water charges paid by the employer in so far they are for the protection of the property (e.g., outside lighting) or are connected with the accommodation set apart by the employer for the occupation of guests is not to be regarded as perquisite from the employer.

(vii) Free or concessional educational facilities:

[Refer Rule 3(5) of the Income-tax Rules, 1962]

The value of benefit to the employee resulting from the provision of free or concessional educational facilities for any member of his household³⁰ shall be as under:

(a) where the educational institution is not maintained and owned by the employer, amount of expenditure incurred by the employer for such facilities will be chargeable in the employee's hands as a perquisite;

(b) where the educational institution is maintained and owned by the employer, the value of perquisite to the employee will be determined with reference to the cost of such education in a similar institution in or near the locality. However, if the cost of such education per child does not exceed Rs. 1,000 per month, the value of perquisite will be ‘nil’.

(c) where free educational facilities for member of employee's household³⁰ are allowed in any other educational institution by reason of his being in employment of that employer, the value of the perquisite to the employee will be determined with reference to the cost of such education in a similar institution in or near the locality. However, if the value of such benefit per child does not exceed Rs. 1,000 per month, value of perquisite will be ‘nil’.

The value of perquisite so arrived at as in (a)/(b)/(c) is to be reduced to the extent of amount paid or recovered from the employee in respect of such educational facilities.

It may be noted that specific allowances in the nature of “Children education allowance” and “Allowances to meet the hostel expenditure on children” granted to the employee are exempt u/s. 10(14)(ii) read with Rule 2BB(2) of the Income-tax Rules, 1962. For gist of the said rule, refer page 71.

(viii) Free/concessional transport to employees by an undertaking engaged in the carriage of passengers/goods:

[Refer Rule 3(6) of the Income-tax Rules, 1962]

Sub-rule (6) of rule 3 is omitted w.e.f. 1-4-2005 (assessment year 2006-07 & onwards) by the Income-tax (Seventh Amendment) Rules, 2005 and hence the value of perquisite mentioned hereunder will not be taxed in the hands of the employee. In relation to assessment years 2006-07 to 2009-10, it will be taxed in the hands of employer who is liable to pay fringe benefit tax under Chapter XII-H [For details, refer pp. 199-204]. From assessment year 2010-11 and onwards, it will be taxed as perquisite, in the hands of employee, as may be prescribed in the rules to be framed.

New sub-rule (6) inserted in rule 3, w.e.f. 1-4-2008 (assessment year 2008-09 and onwards) by the Income-tax (Fourteenth Amendment) Rules, 2007, provides that the value of perquisite mentioned hereunder will be taxed in the hands of the employee of the employer who is not liable to pay fringe benefit tax under Chapter XII-H.

³⁰. “member of household” includes: (a) spouse(s); (b) children and their spouses; (c) parents; & (d) servants and dependents [Vide clause (iv) of the Explanation to Rule 3].

Where an employer engaged in the carriage of passengers or goods has made a provision for private or personal journey free of cost or at concessional fare to any of its employee or to any member of his household³¹, in any conveyance owned, leased or made available by any other arrangement by such employer for the purpose of transport of passengers or goods, the value at which such benefit or amenity is offered by such employer to the public as reduced by the amount, if any, paid by or recovered from the employee for such benefit or amenity, will be perquisite in the hands of the employee. However, journey tickets for leave travel, tours and transfers which are already exempt u/s. 10(5) and 10(14) would continue to be exempt [Vide sub-para VI of para 5.1 of Circular No. 15, dt. 12-12-2001: 253 ITR (St.) 1-13].

In respect of an employee being an employee of an airline or the railways, the provisions of Rule 3(6) shall not apply [Proviso to Rule 3(6)].

[Refer Rule 3(7) of the Income-tax Rules, 1962]

Section 17(2)(vi) provides that the value of any other fringe benefit or amenity [excluding the fringe benefits chargeable to tax in the hands of the employer under Chapter XII-H (Refer pp. 199-204)] as may be prescribed will be treated as perquisite. Assessment year 2008-09 and onwards:

Sub-rule (8) of rule 3 is omitted w.e.f. 1-4-2005 (assessment year 2006-07 & onwards) by the Income-tax (Seventh Amendment) Rules, 2005 and hence the value of perquisite mentioned below will not be taxed in the hands of the employee.

Item (ix) inserted in sub-rule (7) of rule 3, w.e.f. 1-4-2008 (assessment year 2008-09 and onwards), provides that the value of perquisites mentioned below will be taxed in the hands of the employee irrespective of the fact that whether such employer is liable to pay fringe benefit tax under Chapter XII-H or not.

The value of any other benefit or amenity, service, right or privilege provided by the employer, the value of perquisite is to be determined on the basis of cost to the employer under an arm's length transaction as reduced by employee's contribution, if any.

The perquisite value will be 'nil' in respect of expenses on telephones including a mobile phone actually incurred on behalf of the employee by the employer.

The perquisite value will be 'nil' also in respect of periodicals and journals provided to the employee for discharge of his work [Vide sub-para XV of para 5.1 of Circular No. 15, dt. 12-12-2001: 253 ITR (St.) 1-16].

It may be noted that the value of a benefit or amenity is to be included in the total income when it is actually granted or provided to the employee. In cases where any benefit or amenity due to an employee under the terms of service is waived by him, the value of the benefit or amenity not enjoyed will not be included in his total income. Likewise, the value of any benefit or amenity granted free of cost or at a concessional rate will be exempt in the case of an employee referred to in item (iii) (c) on page 78, unless the benefit or amenity is of a obligatory nature referred to in item (v) on page 79.

Note: For valuation of reimbursement of medical expenses/medical facilities by the employer, refer item 3(i) on page 88.

2. TAX PAID BY EMPLOYER ON NON-MONETARY PERQUISITES PROVIDED TO EMPLOYEE,

If an employer pays (i.e., bears) tax on salary income of an employee, the tax so paid will be treated as perquisite and added to the salary income of the employee by grossing up u/s. 195A.

From assessment year 2003-04 and onwards, section 10(10CC) provides that employer may, at his option, pay the tax on non-monetary perquisites within the meaning of section 17(2) (refer pp. 78-79). The tax so paid will be exempt and will not be added as perquisite of an employee being an individual. It may be noted that the tax so paid by the employer will not be deductible as expenditure from business or professional income of the employer [Section 40(a)(v)].

W.e.f. 1-6-2002, in respect of such perquisites, employer has an option to pay tax on whole or part of such income and the tax so paid is not deductible at source from the employee's salary [Section 192(1A)].

However, w.e.f. 1-6-2002, the employer has to pay the tax on such perquisites at the average rate of income-tax in force for the financial year on salary income, including the non-monetary perquisites [Section 192(1B)]. The tax so paid by the employer will be deemed to be tax deducted at source from salary income. The

(b) Conveyance and travelling allowance:

Under section 10(14), any special allowance or benefit, not being in the nature of a perquisite within the meaning of section 17(2), is exempt from tax, if specifically granted to meet expenses wholly, necessarily and exclusively incurred in the performance of the duties of an office or employment of profit, as may be prescribed, to the extent to which such expenses are actually incurred for that purpose. Allowance like conveyance and travelling are treated as income under section 2(24)(iiia) & 2(24)(iiib).

The Central Board of Direct Taxes is empowered to prescribe the allowances and the extent thereof which would be exempt under section 10(14). Accordingly, the Board has framed Rule 2BB prescribing the allowances which are exempt u/s. 10(14). For gist of this rule, refer pp. 70-72.

(c) Value of travel concession in India:

Under section 10(5), leave travel concession received by, or due to, an employee (whether citizen of India or not) for himself and his family⁴⁵ in connection with his proceeding on leave or on retirement or termination of service, to any place in India is exempt from tax subject to following conditions:

(1) The Central Board of Direct Taxes is empowered to frame rules [Refer Rule 2B hereafter] which will lay down the cases and the circumstances in which the value of the travel concession or assistance received for journey to any place in India during leave or on retirement or termination of service would qualify for exemption under section 10(5). The Board will also lay down in the said rules the conditions regarding number of journeys and the amount of exemption per head.

(2) The exemption will be limited to the amount of expenses actually incurred by the employee for the purpose of such travel. Thus, the employee will be required to keep an account of the actual expenditure incurred per person in the family and furnish evidence of such expenditure when he avails of the leave travel concession under section 10(5). If the employee has not incurred any expenditure, exemption under section 10(5) will not be allowed in respect of leave travel concession received from the employer.

Rule 2B. Conditions for the purpose of section 10(5).—

(1) The amount exempted under clause (5) of section 10 in respect of the value of travel concession or assistance received by or due to the individual from his employer or former employer for himself and his family, in connection with his proceeding,—

(a) on leave to any place in India;

(b) to any place in India after retirement from service or after the termination of his service, shall be the amount actually incurred on the performance of such travel subject to the following conditions, namely:—

(i) where the journey is performed on or after the 1st day of October, 1997 by air, an amount not exceeding the air economy fare of the National Carrier by the shortest route to the place of destination;

(ii) where places of origin of journey and destination are connected by rail and the journey is performed on or after the 1st day of October, 1997 by any other mode of transport other than by air, an amount not exceeding the air-conditioned first class rail fare by the shortest route to the place of destination; and

(iii) where the places of origin of journey and destination or part thereof are not connected by rail and the journey is performed on or after 1st day of October, 1997 between such places, the amount eligible for exemption shall be—

(A) where a recognised public transport system exists, an amount not exceeding the first class or deluxe class fare, as the case may be, on such transport by the shortest route to the place of destination; and

(B) where no recognised public transport system exists, an amount equivalent to the air-conditioned first class rail fare, for the distance of the journey by the shortest route, as if the journey had been performed by rail.

(2) The exemption referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be available to an individual in respect of two journeys performed in a block of four calendar years commencing from the calendar year 1986⁴⁶.

Provided that nothing contained in this sub-rule shall apply to the benefit already availed of by the assessee in respect of any number of journeys performed before the 1st day of April, 1989 except to the extent that the journey or journeys so performed shall be taken into account for computing the limit of two journeys specified in this sub-rule.

(3) Where such travel concession or assistance is not availed of by the individual during any such block of four calendar years, an amount in respect of the value of the travel concession or assistance, if any, first availed of by the individual during first calendar year of the immediately succeeding block of four calendar years shall be eligible for exemption.

45. Under Explanation to section 10(5) of the Income-tax Act, “family”, in relation to an individual, means—

(i) the spouse and children of the individual; and

(ii) the parents, brothers and sisters of the individual or any of them, wholly or mainly dependent on the individual.

It may be noted that under sub-rule (4) to rule 2B, after 1-10-1998, the exemption is to be restricted to two surviving children of an individual. However, this restriction of two surviving children will not apply in respect of children born before 1-10-1998 and also in case of multiple births after one child [Proviso to sub-rule (4) of rule 2B].

46. Accordingly, 1st block of four years will commence from the calendar year 1986 and will end on calendar year 1989 (i.e., from 1-1-1986 to 31-12-1989), 2nd block of four years will be from 1-1-1990 to 31-12-1993, 3rd block of four years will be from 1-1-1994 to 31-12-1997, 4th block of four years will be from 1-1-1998 to 31-12-2001, 5th block of four years will be from 1-1-2002 to 31-12-2005, 6th block of four years will be from 1-1-2006 to 31-12-2009 and 7th block of four years will be from 1-1-2010 to 31-12-2013.

DEDUCTIONS FROM "SALARIES"

DEDUCTIONS PERMISSIBLE UNDER SECTION 16 FOR THE ASSESSMENT YEARS 2005-06 to 2010-11:

(1) Standard deduction:[Section 16(i)]

Separate deduction will not be available in respect of expenditure on books, expenditure on travelling for the purpose of employment and expenditure incidental to employment. Instead, a standard deduction will be allowed in respect of the above mentioned items of expenditure for assessment year 2005-06 and earlier years as stated hereunder,—

Assessment year	Standard deduction:
2006-07 to 2010-11 . .	is Rs. 'Nil' as section 16(i) is omitted w.e.f. 1-4-2006.
2005-06 . .	in the case of an employee whose income from salary, before allowing deduction u/s. 16(i)—
	(a) does not exceed Rs. 5,00,000, standard deduction u/s. 16(i)(A) is 40% of salary subject to a maximum of Rs. 30,000; and

This standard deduction is to be claimed before allowing any deductions permissible under Chapter VI-A of the Act.

For the purpose of deduction of tax at source on salary payable to employees during the financial year ending 31-3-2006 and subsequent financial years, employer should ensure that standard deduction is not considered.

(2) Entertainment allowance:

[Section 16(ii)]

Entertainment allowance received by an employee will first be included in employee's income under the head "Salary" and thereafter a deduction therefrom is permissible subject to the conditions and limits laid down under section 16(ii). From assessment year 2002-03 and onwards, entertainment allowance received, by an employee of a non-Government employer, is not eligible for deduction u/s. 16(ii) and hence said allowance received by such employee will be taxed as income under the head "Salaries".

(3) Tax on employment:

[Section 16(iii)]

Any sum paid by an employee on account of the tax on employment (i.e., profession tax) which is levied by a State Government is allowable as deduction from the salary of the employee provided it has been paid by him [Section 16(iii)].

Employers can allow deduction for the profession tax paid by the employee while computing the tax to be deducted at source from "Salaries".

DEDUCTION OF TAX AT SOURCE FROM "SALARIES"

Under section 192⁴⁷, tax should be deducted at source on "Salary" payments if the annual estimated income under this head exceeds the maximum amount not liable to tax. The obligation to deduct the tax lies on the person responsible for the payment of salary i.e., employer. For this purpose, the employer should make an estimate of the total emoluments payable to an employee during the financial year after taking into account the increment or arrears of pay which are expected to be paid during that financial year.

It may be noted that under section 192, the tax on salary is to be deducted at the rates applicable to the estimated salary for the entire relevant financial year and where an employee has during that year worked under more than one employer, then in order to facilitate proper deduction of tax at source from the aggregate salary due or received in the same year, the employee may furnish in the prescribed Form No. 12B, to one of the said employer as he may choose, details of the salary due or received from such other employer or employers during that year and also the tax deducted therefrom.

Where an employee having any income chargeable under the head "Salaries" has, in addition, any income chargeable under any other head of income (not being a loss under any such head other than the loss under the head "Income from house property") for the same financial year, he may send to his employer, a statement of particulars of such other income and the tax, if any, deducted thereon and also the loss, if any, under the head "Income from house property" [Vide Rule 26B(1)]. This statement is to be accompanied by verification as prescribed in Rule 26B(2). When such statement of particulars are sent by the employee, the employer shall take that also into account for deducting tax at source. In case particulars regarding income under other heads of income are furnished, the employer has to ensure that the tax deductible from the salary except for the loss under the head "Income from house property" is in no case reduced by including the income from other heads of income and the tax deducted thereon [Vide section 192(2) & 192(2B)].

A government servant or an employee in a company, co-operative society, local authority, university, institution, association or body, if he is entitled to relief under section 89 (refer page 74), he may furnish to the employer the prescribed particulars in the prescribed Form No. 10E. If he does so, the employer shall compute the relief under section 89 on the basis of such particulars and take it into account while deducting tax at source [Vide section 192(2A)].

A person responsible for paying salary (i.e., employer) is required to furnish to the employee to whom such payment is made, a statement giving correct and complete particulars of perquisites and/or profits in lieu of salary provided to him and the value thereof in the prescribed Form No. 12BA (if the amount of salary paid or payable to the employee is more than Rs. 1,50,000)/Form No. 16 (if the amount of salary paid or payable to the employee is not more than Rs. 1,50,000) [Section 192(2C)]. For failure to furnish such statement will attract penalty of Rs. 100 for every day during which the failure continues [Section 272A(2)(i)].

For the financial year ending on 31-3-2010, from the estimated salary income so computed, deduct profession tax paid by the employee.

47. For the notes on sub-sections (1A) & (1B) of section 192, refer item 2 on page 87.

The resultant income is the gross salary income for the financial year ending on 31-3-2010 which is subject to the following deductions:

(1) under section 80C in respect of specified savings i.e., L.I.P., P.F., P.P.F., NSC VIII Issue, etc. paid/contributed/invested as explained on page 211;

(2) under section 80CCC in respect of contribution to certain pension funds as explained on page 213;

(3) under section 80CCD in respect of contribution to pension scheme of Central Government as explained on page 214;

(4) under section 80CCE, the aggregate amount of deductions u/s. 80C [Refer (1) above], 80CCC [Refer (2) above] & 80CCD [Refer (3) above] shall not, in any case, exceed Rs. 1,00,000 as explained on page 214;

(5) under section 80D on account of payment of medical insurance premia (Mediclaime) made by the employee as explained on page 214;

(6) under section 80DD in respect of expenditure incurred on the handicapped dependant/dependant with disability as explained on page 216;

(7) under section 80E in respect of interest on loan taken for higher education as explained on page 217;

(8) under section 80G in respect of specified donations made by the employee [Vide Circular No. 9, dt. 29-9-2008: 306 ITR (St.) 17-51]; and

(9) under section 80GG in respect of payment of rents made by the employee as explained on page 219.

The balance figure so arrived at is the taxable salary for the financial year ending on 31-3-2010 (Refer Example on page 286).

The income-tax on the taxable “salary” so arrived at should be computed at the rates in force during the financial year. Such rates are specified in Part III of the First Schedule to the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009.

It may be noted that deduction for standard deduction u/s. 16(i) and rebate of (deduction from) income-tax u/s. 88, 88B, 88C & 88D is not available as the said sections are omitted w.e.f. 1-4-2006 (assessment year 2006-07 and onwards).

The resultant amount of income-tax so arrived at shall be increased by surcharge on income-tax, if any, and further increased by additional surcharge on I.T. & S.C. (if any). The aggregate amount so arrived at should then be deducted in equal instalments from the salary of each month [For Example, refer page 286].

It may be that some arrears of pay, bonus, etc., which were not anticipated to be paid during the financial year ending on 31-3-2010 when the tax computation was made are subsequently paid during the course of that financial year or the payments which were expected to be made are not made. This will entail re-computation of the tax deductible at source. Sub-section (3) of section 192, therefore, permits the employer to adjust any short or excess deduction in the remaining months of that year.

The tax deducted at source from the income under the head “Salary” is a sort of tax recovered in advance. To avoid loss of revenue on this account, the deduction of tax at source, i.e., at the point where the salary is paid, is mandatory.

An employee having taxable income⁴⁸ is required to file his return of income. Failure to file such return by ‘due date’ as prescribed in section 139(1)⁴⁹ [for details, refer pp. 189-191], will attract penal interest u/s. 234A @ 1% from 8-9-2003 and onwards [at 1½%, from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003; @ 1½%, from 1-6-1999 to

48. It may be noted that, section 71(2A) provides that where in respect of any assessment year, the net result of computation under the head “Profits and gains of business or profession” is a loss, and the assessee (i.e., employee) has income assessable under the head “Salaries”, the assessee (i.e., employee) shall not be entitled to have such loss set-off against his salary income.

49. Section 139(1A) provides that an individual receiving salary income may, at his option, furnish his return of income to his employer, in accordance with and subject to the conditions specified in the notified scheme i.e., Scheme for Bulk Filing of Returns by Salaried Employees, 2002 [256 ITR (St.) 13]/Scheme for Filing of Returns by Salaried Employees through Employer, 2004 [265 ITR (St.) 35]. The employer in turn shall furnish all such returns filed by the employees in such form (including on a floppy, diskette, magnetic cartridge tape, CD-ROM or any other computer readable media) and manner as specified in the said scheme. The employee in such a case will be deemed to have furnished a return of income u/s. 139(1).

31-5-2001; @ 2%, upto 31-5-1999] p.m. or part of a month on tax determined u/s. 143(1) or 143(3) less advance tax paid, if any, and tax deducted at source, from 1st August to the date of ex-parte assessment u/s. 144. In addition, for the failure to file return of income before the end of the assessment year may attract penalty under section 271F. For assessment year 2009-10, if return of income is filed after 31-3-2010, penalty of Rs. 5,000 may be levied u/s. 271F [For details, refer page 197].

WHEN IS THE TAX DEDUCTED FROM SALARIES TO BE CREDITED TO THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT?

Rule 30 of the Income-tax Rules, 1962, lays down that the tax deducted at source shall be paid to the credit of the Central Government:

- (a) in the case of deduction by or on behalf of Government, on the same day;
- (b) in all other cases, within one week from the last day of the month in which the deduction is made.

The employers deducting tax at source have to file quarterly statements for tax deducted at source. For further details, refer “Chart for deduction of tax at source” on pp. 349-351.

CONSEQUENCES FOR FAILURE TO DEDUCT TAX OR PAY THE TAX SO DEDUCTED

Section 201(1) provides that where any person, including the principal officer of a company,—

- (a) who is required to deduct any sum in accordance with the provisions of the Income-tax Act; or
- (b) by an employer referred to in section 192(1A), does not deduct, or does not pay, or after so deducting fails to pay, the whole or any part of the tax, as required by or under the Income-tax Act, then, such person shall be deemed to be an assessee in default in respect of such tax. No penalty shall be charged u/s. 221 from such person if the Assessing Officer is satisfied that such person has good and sufficient reasons for failure to deduct and pay such tax. Where such person is deemed to be an assessee in default in respect of such tax, he or it shall be liable to, —

- (i) simple interest under section 201(1A) at 1% for every month or part of a month [at 12% p.a. from 8-9-2003 to 31-3-2008; 15% p.a., from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003; 18% p.a., from 1-6-1999 to 31-5-2001; 15% p.a., upto 31-5-1999] on the amount of such tax from the date on which such tax was deductible to the date on which such tax is actually paid,
 - (ii) penalty under section 221 not exceeding the amount of such tax,
 - (iii) for failure to deduct the whole or any part of the tax, penalty equal to the tax that should have been deducted will be levied under section 271C, and
 - (iv) prosecution u/s. 276B for failure to pay the tax deducted at source to the credit of the Central Government.

INCOME FROM HOUSE PROPERTY[For assessment year 2006-07 and onwards](Sections 22 to 27)(i) House property:

A house property consists of buildings or lands appurtenant thereto. The land may be in the form of a court yard or compound forming part and parcel of the building. Such land is to be distinguished from a purely open plot of land. Any rent received from such a vacant plot is not assessable as “Income from house property” but as “Income from other sources” which is chargeable under section 56.

(ii) House property used for business or profession:

Section 22 excludes from its charge income from any house property or any portion thereof which is occupied by the owner for the purposes of his business or profession. The expenditure incurred by the owner on such property by way of current repairs, municipal taxes, etc., can be claimed as a deduction against his income from business or profession. Depreciation in respect of such property can also be claimed as a deduction against such income. Further, when a property consisting of residential quarters is let-out by an assessee to his employees and such letting out is subservient and incidental to the carrying on of the assessee's business, the income from such property is assessable under the head “Profits and gains from business or profession” and not under the head “Income from house property”.

(iii) Person liable to tax under the head income from house property:

Under section 22, it is the owner who is chargeable to tax in respect of income under this head. In addition, under section 27, the following are deemed to be owners:—

(1) When an individual transfers without adequate consideration any house property owned by him to his or her spouse [not being a transfer in connection with an agreement to live apart] or to a minor child not being a married daughter, the legal ownership in respect of that property would vest in the spouse or minor child after such transfer. However, the income from the property so transferred would be assessed in the hands of the individual who transferred the property despite the cessation of his legal ownership [Section 27(i)].

(2) The holder of an impartible estate shall be deemed to be the individual owner of all the properties comprised in the estate [Section 27(ii)].

(3) A member of a co-operative society, company or other association of persons to whom a building or part thereof is allotted or leased under a house building scheme of the said society, company or association, as the case may be, shall be deemed to be the owner of that building or part thereof [Section 27(iii)].

(4) A person who is allowed to take or retain possession of any building or part thereof in part performance of a contract to buy [Section 27(iia)].

(5) A person who acquires any rights in or with respect to any building or part thereof by way of sale or exchange or lease for a term not less than 12 years, excluding any rights by way of lease from month to month or for a period not exceeding one year [Section 27(iib)].

(iv) Annual value of a house property:[Section 23(1)]*(1) BONAFIDE ANNUAL VALUE:

(a) The bonafide annual value of a property is the starting point for the computation of income from house property. Section 23(1)(a) lays down that the annual value of a property is the sum for which the property could reasonably be expected to let from year to year. The ordinary meaning of the words “to let” is to grant use of for rent or for hire which takes in its sweep the concept of granting use and occupation of a building for a licence fee. What is, therefore, to be seen is the inherent capacity of the property to yield income from year to year. In determining such notional income, several factors have to be taken into consideration, such as actual realisation by way of licence fee, consideration received by the owner such as charges normally payable by the owner being borne by the tenant, the location of the property, the capacity of the property to fetch income depending upon demand and supply position over a period of years, etc.

Municipal valuation is one of the tests to be applied in determining the bonafide value of a property. Under the Municipal Corporation Act, the municipal authorities determine the municipal valuation of a property with reference to the sum for which the property could reasonably be expected to let from year to year. If the property is given on leave and licence basis, the municipal authorities take the licence-fee into consideration for fixing the municipal valuation. Therefore, unless the actual realisation by way of rent or licence-fee is higher than the municipal valuation, the bonafide annual value is ordinarily determined with reference to the municipal rateable value on the basis of which municipal taxes are levied. This is because the municipal rateable value is also determined on the basis of the gross rent of the house property. Some of the municipalities compute the rateable value after deducting from the gross rental value a certain allowance for repairs and service taxes¹. In such cases, the net municipal rateable value is to be suitably increased in order to determine the bonafide value or the reasonable rent of the property. In cities like Mumbai (Bombay), Chennai (Madras), Delhi and Kolkata (Calcutta), the municipalities compute the rateable value after deducting an allowance of 10% of the gross rateable value on account of repairs. The municipal rateable value is accordingly increased in these cities for income-tax purposes by one-ninth of the rateable value. As regards properties situated in other towns, the amount to be added back to the municipal rateable value depends upon the deduction for repairs allowed by the respective municipalities.

(b) In respect of property which is let wholly or partly, annual value (i.e., bonafide letting value) of such property will be taken to be the sum so arrived at in sub-item (a) above or the actual rent received or receivable², whichever is higher [Section 23(1)(b)].

(c) In respect of property or any part of the property is let and was vacant during the whole or any part of the previous year and owing to such vacancy the actual rent received or receivable² is less than the sum referred to in sub-item (a) above, the amount so received or receivable will be deemed to be the annual value (i.e., bonafide letting value) of the property [Section 23(1)(c)].

EXAMPLE:— Suppose municipal rateable value of a residential building in Mumbai is Rs. 7,200 but it is let-out on a compensation of Rs. 9,600 per annum. The bonafide letting value will be either the compensation receivable or the gross rateable value computed on the basis of municipal rateable value, whichever is higher, as illustrated below:

(1) Compensation receivable	Rs.	9,600
(2) Rateable value	Rs.	7,200
Add: 1/9th of Rs. 7,200	Rs.	800	Rs. 8,000
The bonafide letting value u/s. 23(1)(b) will be higher of the two, viz.
	Rs.	9,600

(2) ANNUAL VALUE:

From the bonafide letting value determined in the manner indicated in item (1) above, a deduction is to be made under proviso to section 23(1) on account of property taxes levied by a local authority. The amount so arrived at is the annual value of a house property.

However, the deduction for local taxes levied by a local authority will be allowed in the previous year in which the taxes are actually paid by the assessee. It has been specifically provided that even if in a previous year taxes relating to more than one year are paid, the entire payment will be allowed as a deduction as explained in the Examples given hereunder:

EXAMPLE 1: For assessment year 2009-10, municipal rateable value of a building in Mumbai is Rs. 9,000. The municipal taxes payable thereon is Rs. 2,500, but the owner had not paid it before 31-3-2009.

Rateable value	Rs.	9,000
Add: 1/9th of Rs. 9,000	Rs.	1,000	Rs. 10,000
Less: Municipal taxes Rs. 2,500 inadmissible since not paid before 31-3-2009			Rs. Nil
Annual value			Rs. 10,000

EXAMPLE 2: In assessment year 2010-11, the owner pays the arrear of last year's and the current year's municipal taxes aggregating Rs. 5,000. The annual value will be:

Rateable value	Rs.	9,000
Add: 1/9th of Rs. 9,000	Rs.	1,000	Rs. 10,000
Less: Municipal taxes paid during the year (for assessment years 2009-10 and 2010-11)			Rs. 5,000
Annual value			Rs. 5,000

1. The municipality first determines the gross rent of a house property. From such gross rent, the following expenses are first deducted:—

- if the property is fitted with a lift, liftman salary and cost of electricity consumed, and
- if it is fitted with electric water pump, the pumpman salary.

From the balance, the municipality allows deductions on account of service taxes, such as sewerage tax and water tax.

2. 'Actual rent received or receivable' will not include the amount of rent which the owner cannot realise in the circumstances as prescribed in rule 4 of the Income-tax Rule, 1962 [Explanation to section 23(1)].

Under the said rule 4, the amount of rent which the owner cannot realise shall be equal to the amount of rent payable but not paid by a tenant of the assessee and so proved to be lost and irrecoverable where,—

- the tenancy is bonafide;
- the defaulting tenant has vacated, or steps have been taken to compel him to vacate the property;
- the defaulting tenant is not in occupation of any other property of the assessee;

(d) the assessee has taken all reasonable steps to institute legal proceedings for the recovery of the unpaid rent or satisfies the Assessing Officer that legal proceedings would be useless.

EXAMPLE 3: The municipal rateable value of a residential building situated in Mumbai city is Rs. 7,200. Repair cess levied at 63% (the property being residential and classified by the Bombay Municipality as category 'B' building is not structurally repaired by the Board) is Rs. 4,536.

(v) Self-occupied property:

[Section 23(2), 23(3) & 23(4)]

(A) The annual value of a house or part of a house shall be taken to be 'nil', if—

(1) it is in the occupation of the owner for the purposes of his own residence; or

(2) it cannot actually be occupied by the owner due to his employment, business or profession carried on at any other place and he has to reside at that place in a building not belonging to him [Section 23(2)].

It may be noted that, where the annual value of the house is taken to be 'nil', as discussed above, then, deduction shall be allowed only in respect of interest payable, not exceeding Rs. 30,000 on funds borrowed for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, repairing, renewing or reconstructing the said self-occupied property [vide 1st proviso to section 24(b)].

However, where such a house has been acquired or constructed with capital borrowed on or after 1-4-1999 and such acquisition or construction is completed—

(a) within three years from the end of the financial year in which capital was borrowed (applicable in relation to assessment year 2003-04 and subsequent years),

(b) before 1-4-2003 (applicable in relation to assessment year 2002-03), then, interest payable not exceeding Rs. 1,50,000 shall be allowed [vide 2nd proviso to section 24(b)].

It may be noted that there is no stipulation regarding the date of commencement. Consequently, the construction of the residential unit could have commenced before 1-4-1999 but, as long as its acquisition/construction is completed, before period/time specified in (a)/(b) above, interest payable not exceeding Rs. 1,50,000 will be allowed as deduction.

However, in relation to assessment year 2003-04 and subsequent years, deduction under 2nd proviso to section 24(b) is subject to condition that the assessee furnishes a certificate, from the person to whom such interest is payable on capital borrowed, specifying the amount of interest payable by the assessee for the purpose of such acquisition or construction of the property, or, conversion of the whole or any part of the capital borrowed which is outstanding as a new loan. "New loan" for this purpose means the whole or any part of the loan taken by the assessee subsequent to capital borrowed, for the purpose of repayment of such capital [vide 3rd proviso to section 24(b) read with Explanation thereto].

(B) The annual value of a house or part of a house, referred to in (A) above, shall not be taken to be nil, if—

(1) the house or part of the house is actually let during the whole or any part of the previous year; or

(2) the owner derives any other benefit from that house [Section 23(3)].

The annual value in respect of such a house will be computed under section 23(1) in the manner and method explained in item (iv) on pp. 97-98.

3. The percentage of State education cess vary in accordance with the amount of rateable value fixed by the Bombay Municipality.

4. Repair cess/State education cess are in the nature of taxes levied by the State Government and not by a local authority, hence not deductible under proviso to section 23(1). However, upto assessment year 2001-02 such taxes levied by the State Government were deductible under the then clause (vii) of section 24(1).

(C) Where two or more than two houses are in the occupation of owner for the purposes of his own residence, then, the annual value u/s. 23(2) shall be taken to be 'nil' only in respect of any one house of his choice. The annual value of the remaining house or houses used for self-occupation by the owner will be computed u/s. 23(1) in the manner and method explained in item (iv) on pp. 97-99 as if the said house/houses were let-out [Section 23(4)].

EXAMPLE 1: Shri Shah owns a house in Mumbai which was let-out by him from 1-4-2008 to 30-6-2008 i.e., for three months. The compensation received during these 3 months was Rs. 6,000. Since 1-7-2008 it was in the occupation of Shri Shah. The municipal rateable value of the property is Rs. 21,600. The income from house property will be as under:

Municipal rateable value	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	21,600
Add: 1/9th of Rs. 21,600	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	2,400
											Rs.	24,000
Less: Full municipal taxes actually paid during the year	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	6,000
Annual value of the property under section 23(1) read with section 23(3) ⁵	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	18,000
Less: Deduction under section 24(a):
@ 30% of annual value Rs. 18,000	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	5,400
Property income	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	12,600

EXAMPLE 2: During the financial year 2008-09, Shri Roy is a member of the Union Co-operative Housing Society and has been allotted a flat, the municipal valuation of which is Rs. 20,000. The society submits bills to individual members every year for the maintenance expenses including municipal taxes, etc., etc. Shri Roy has also paid his proportionate share of interest amounting to Rs. 17,000 in respect of loan borrowed by the society for construction. His other sources of income are Rs. 2,90,000 and Rs. 50,000 on account of interest on fixed deposits with various companies and interest on fixed deposits with banks, respectively. He has invested Rs. 50,000 in NSC VIII Issue on 29-9-2008.

The total income for the assessment year 2009-10 is computed as under:

1. Property income/loss:
Annual value (being self-occupied)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	⁶ NIL
Less: Deduction under 1st proviso to section 24(b):

Loss in respect of house property	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	17,000
2. Other sources of income:
Interest on fixed deposits with companies	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	2,90,000

											Rs.	3,40,000
Less: Set-off of loss in respect of property income u/s. 71(1) ⁷	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	17,000
Gross total income	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	3,23,000
Less: Deduction under Chapter VI-A:
Deduction u/s. 80C:
Investment in NSC VIII Issue Rs. 50,000. As investment does not exceed
Rs. 1,00,000, amount deductible is	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	50,000
Taxable income	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	2,73,000

(vi) Loss from house property:

Loss in respect of house property whether let-out or self-occupied can be set-off under section 71(1) & 71(2) against any other head of income in the same assessment year.

Loss arising on account of any deduction admissible under section 24 such as interest on borrowings for the purpose of acquiring the property will not be ignored and is eligible for the set-off in the same assessment year.

Loss under the head "Income from house property" which cannot be wholly set-off, against income from any other heads of income in the same assessment year, will be allowed to be carried forward and set-off against "Income from house property" of immediately succeeding eight assessment years [Section 71B].

In cases where the property is self-occupied and not let-out during any part of the previous year the annual value of such self-occupied property will be taken at 'nil' and no deduction u/s. 24 will be allowed except the deduction in respect of interest payable on funds borrowed for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, repairing, renewing or reconstructing such self-occupied property. However, the maximum permissible deduction in respect of such interest is Rs. 30,000 [1st proviso to section 24(b)]. It may be noted that, the maximum permissible deduction in respect of such interest is Rs. 1,50,000 where such a house has been acquired or constructed with capital borrowed on or after 1-4-1999 and such acquisition or construction is completed before period/time specified in (a) & (b) of item (v)(A) on page 99 [2nd and 3rd proviso to section 24(b)]. To illustrate, where the property (acquired on 1-4-2008) is self-occupied

5. As the house has been let-out from 1-4-2008 to 30-6-2008, annual value of the house is not to be taken at 'nil' [Vide section 23(3)]. Annual value of a house in such a case is to be computed u/s. 23(1).

6. Where house or part of a house is in the occupation of the owner for the purposes of his own residence and which is not let-out during any part of the previous year, the annual value of such house or part of a house is to be taken at 'Nil' [Vide section 23(2) read with section 23(3)].

7. Refer item (vi) hereafter.

throughout the year, the annual value as stated above is to be taken at 'nil'. If, during assessment year 2009-10, the interest payable on capital borrowed on 31-3-2008 for the purpose of acquiring such property is Rs. 1,40,000, the loss of Rs. 1,40,000 under the head "Income from house property" can be set-off u/s. 71(1)/71(2) against any other head of income in the same assessment year. However, if such interest payable is in excess of Rs. 1,50,000, the loss for the purposes of set-off against other heads of income is to be restricted to Rs. 1,50,000.

(vii) Property owned by co-owners:

Section 26 provides that where a house property is owned by two or more persons and their respective shares are determinate, such persons shall not be assessed in respect of such property as an association of persons but the share of each co-owner will be included in his total income.

Where the property is occupied throughout the year by the co-owners for their self-occupation, the annual value falling to the share of each co-owner is to be taken at 'nil' as explained in Example 2 on page 100.

(viii) Deductions from house property income:

[Section 24]

Section 24 provides that the income under the head "Income from house property" is to be computed after making the following deductions from the annual value determined under section 23:

- (1) a sum equal to 30% of the annual value determined u/s. 23 [Section 24(a)],
- (2) where the property has been acquired, constructed, repaired, renewed or reconstructed with borrowed capital, the amount of any interest payable⁸ on such borrowings [Section 24(b)],
- (3) In respect of self-occupied property whose annual value is taken to be 'nil' u/s. 23(2) [For details, refer sub-item (A) of item (v) on page 99], interest not exceeding Rs. 30,000 payable on borrowed capital for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, repairing, renewing or reconstructing such self-occupied property will be allowed as deduction [1st proviso to section 24(b)].

However, where the self-occupied property referred to in section 23(2) is acquired or constructed with capital borrowed on or after 1-4-1999 and such acquisition or construction is completed before period/time specified in (a) & (b) of item (v)(A) on page 99, then interest payable not exceeding Rs. 1,50,000, as against Rs. 30,000, will be allowed as deduction [2nd/3rd proviso to section 24(b)]. It may be noted that there is no stipulation regarding the date of commencement. Consequently, the construction of the residential unit could have commenced before 1-4-1999 but, as long as its acquisition/construction is completed, before period/time specified in (a) & (b) of item (v)(A) on page 99, interest payable not exceeding Rs. 1,50,000 will be allowed as deduction.

It may further be noted that, interest, if any, payable by an assessee in respect of funds borrowed for the acquisition or construction of house property and pertaining to the period prior to the previous year in which such property has been acquired or constructed, shall be deducted in five equal annual instalments commencing from the previous year in which the house was acquired or constructed and each of the four immediately succeeding previous years. The amount of interest so deductible shall not include any amount of such interest allowed as a deduction under any other provision of the Income-tax Act [Explanation to section 24(b)].

EXAMPLE: Shri Shah inherited a house property from his deceased brother who had directed Shri Shah to pay Rs. 4,000 per annum to the widow of the deceased. The rateable value of the building as per municipal valuation is Rs. 36,000. Shri Shah borrowed a sum of Rs. 1,00,000 for the purposes of heavy repairs to the house and paid Rs. 10,000 as interest. Shri Shah has mortgaged the property and the mortgaged amount is spent on the marriage of his daughter and interest paid on the mortgage is Rs. 5,000 per annum. Municipal taxes levied and paid during financial year 2008-09 is Rs. 10,000.

Assessment year 2009-10:

Rateable value as per municipal valuation	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	36,000
Add: 1/9th of Rs. 36,000	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	4,000
										Rs.	40,000
Less: Municipal taxes levied and paid during the year	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	10,000
Annual value	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	30,000
Less: Deductions allowable under section 24:
(1) @ 30% of annual value	Rs. 30,000	[Sec. 24(a)]	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	9,000
(2) Premium paid to insure the property against risk of damage	[not admissible] ⁹	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	Nil
(3) Annual charge on the property	Rs. 4,000	[not admissible] ⁹	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	Nil
(4) Ground rent	[not admissible] ⁹	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	Nil
(5) Interest	Rs. 10,000	on borrowed capital (for heavy repairs)	[Sec. 24(b)]	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	10,000
(6) Interest	Rs. 5,000	on mortgage for marriage of daughter	[not admissible] ¹⁰	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	Nil
(7) Sum paid on account of land revenue	[not admissible] ⁹	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	Nil	Rs. 19,000
Property income										Rs.	11,000

8. The Board has clarified that "Interest on house building advance taken by Central Government servants under the House Building Advances Rules can be allowed as deduction u/s. 24(1)(vi) i.e., under the then section 24(1)(vi)/under substituted section 24(b)] on accrual basis even though such interest is payable later" [Circular No. 363, dt. 24-6-83: 143 ITR (St.) 2].

9. Upto assessment year 2001-02, deductions in respect of these payments were admissible under the then section 24.

10. Since the amount on mortgage is raised for personal expenses, the interest payable thereon is not deductible.

(ix) Special provision for cases where unrealised rent allowed as deduction is realised subsequently:

Recovery of irrecoverable rent allowed as a deduction earlier will be brought to tax in the year of recovery as income from house property. No deduction either under section 23 or section 24 as it stood immediately before its substitution by the Finance Act, 2001, will be allowed from the amount so brought to tax. It is not necessary that the assessee must be the owner of the house property in that year (i.e., the year in which irrecoverable rent is realised) and recovery of such irrecoverable rent can be brought to tax only in the hands of the assessee who availed the benefit of deduction u/s. 24(1)(x) as it stood immediately before its substitution by the Finance Act, 2001 in earlier year or years [Section 25A].

It may be noted that the provisions of section 25A will apply to unrealised rent pertaining to assessment year 2001-02 and earlier years. Unrealised rent pertaining to assessment year 2002-03 and subsequent years, provisions of section 25AA will apply [Refer item (x) hereafter].

EXAMPLE: Mr. Dalal had let-out a house property to Mr. Shah at an annual rent of Rs. 12,000. During assessment years 1981-82, 1982-83 and 1983-84 Mr. Shah failed to pay the rent. In assessment year 1984-85, Mr. Dalal was allowed deduction of Rs. 12,000 only as irrecoverable rent u/s. 24(1)(x). On 31-3-1984 Mr. Dalal sold the house, after evicting Mr. Shah. In assessment year 2009-10, Mr. Dalal recovered Rs. 30,000 inclusive of Rs. 12,000 allowed u/s. 24(1)(x) (out of Rs. 36,000 being the unpaid rent) from Mr. Shah through the Court.

House property income for assessment year 2009-10 of Mr. Dalal will be	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 12,000

- Notes:*
- (1) No deduction under the then sections 23 or 24 will be allowed from this sum of Rs. 12,000.
 - (2) In assessment year 2009-10 even though Mr. Dalal does not own the said house, the above sum of Rs. 12,000 will be brought to tax as house property income.
 - (3) Mr. Dalal cannot claim the sum of Rs. 6,000 (Rs. 36,000 unrealised rent less Rs. 30,000 recovered rent), the irrecoverable rent not allowed in earlier years, as deduction under the then section 24(1)(x). This is because no deduction under the then sections 23 or 24 is allowable from this sum of Rs. 12,000.

(x) Unrealised rent received subsequently to be charged to income-tax:

Recovery of unrealised rent from property let to a tenant will be brought to tax in the year of realisation as "Income from house property". It is not necessary that the assessee must be owner of such house property in that year (i.e., the year in which unrealised rent is realised) [Section 25AA].

It may be noted that the provisions of section 25AA will apply to unrealised rent pertaining to assessment year 2002-03 and subsequent years. Unrealised rent pertaining to assessment year 2001-02 and earlier years, provisions of section 25A will apply [Refer preceding item (ix)].

(xi) Special provision for arrears of rent received:

Arrears of rent, in respect of let-out property, received by an assessee and which has not been charged to income-tax for any previous year will be deemed to be income from house property in the previous year of receipt. Such arrears of rent after deducting a sum equal to 30% of such amount will be charged to income-tax as income from house property, whether the assessee is the owner of such property in that year or not [Section 25B].

PROFITS AND GAINS OF BUSINESS OR PROFESSION[From assessment year 2006-07 and onwards]Sections 28 to 44DA Business:

As defined in section 2(13) of the Income-tax Act, “Business” includes any trade, commerce or manufacture or any adventure or concern in the nature of trade, commerce or manufacture.

For the purpose of computing business income, speculation business, if any, carried on by an assessee will be treated as distinct and separate from any other business carried on by him [Explanation 2 to section 28].

(ii) Profession:

Under section 2(36), “Profession” is defined to include vocation. Income from the exercise of any profession or vocation which calls for an intellectual or manual skill, falls under this head. It covers cases of doctors, lawyers, chartered accountants, architects, consulting engineers, artists, sculptors, musicians, singers, etc.

(iii) Business or professional income:

Under section 28¹, following income is assessable as income from business or profession:

(a) profits & gains of business or profession carried on during any part of the previous year [Section 28(i)];

(b) compensation received for: (1) modification in, or termination of, managing agency agreement, and (2) nationalisation of business or property [Section 28(ii)];

(c) income derived by a trade, professional or similar association from specific services performed for its members [Section 28(iii)];

(d) profit on sale of import entitlement licences granted to exporter [Section 28(iiiia)];

(e) cash assistance received or receivable by exporter [Section 28(iiib)];

(f) any duty of customs or excise re-paid or re-payable as drawback to exporter [Section 28(iiic)];

(g) any profit on the transfer of the Duty Entitlement Pass Book Scheme, being the Duty Remission Scheme under the export and import policy formulated and announced u/s. 5 of the Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992 [Section 28(iiid)];

(h) any profit on the transfer of the Duty Free Replenishment Certificate, being the Duty Remission Scheme under the export and import policy formulated and announced u/s. 5 of the Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992 [Section 28(iiie)];

(i) the value of any benefit or perquisite arising from business or profession [Section 28(iv)];

(j) any interest, salary, bonus, commission or remuneration, by whatever name called, due to, or received by, a partner of a firm from such firm. However, the amount of salary, remuneration, etc. and/or interest which is disallowed in the hands of the firm u/s. 40(b) and taxed at the flat rate, will be reduced from the salary, etc. and/or interest assessable in the hands of the partner [Section 28(v)];

(k) any sum received or receivable in cash or in kind under an agreement or arrangement whether in writing or not for—

(1) not carrying on any activity in relation to any business, or

(2) not sharing any know-how, patent, copyright, trade-mark, licence, franchise, or any other business or commercial right of similar nature or information or technique likely to assist in the manufacture or processing of goods or provision for services.

However, provisions contained in (1) above will not apply to any sum, received or receivable, in cash or kind, on account of transfer of right to manufacture, produce or process any article or thing or right to carry on any business, which is chargeable as “Capital gains”. It will also not apply to any sum received as compensation, from the multilateral fund of the Montreal Protocol on Substances that Deplete the Ozone layer under the United Nations Environment Programme, in accordance with the terms of agreement entered into with the Government of India [Section 28(va)];

(l) any sum received, on or after 1-10-1996, under a ‘Keyman insurance policy’ including the sum allocated by way of bonus on such policy [Section 28(vi)].

(iv) Receipts deemed to be profits and gains of business or profession:

Under section 28, profits and gains of any business or profession are chargeable to tax provided the business or profession is carried on in that year. However, the following receipts are deemed to be the profits chargeable to tax even though the business or profession to which they relate ceased to be in existence in the year of their receipt:

(a) section 41(1) provides that where an allowance or deduction has been made in the assessment for any year in respect of loss, expenditure or trading liability and subsequently, during any previous year any amount is received by the assessee whether in cash or in any other manner whatsoever in respect of such loss or expenditure or any benefit is obtained in respect of such trading liability by way of remission or cessation thereof, the amount so received or the value of the benefit so obtained shall be deemed to be profits and gains of the business or profession and accordingly chargeable to income-tax as the income of that previous year, whether the business or profession in respect of which the allowance or deduction has been made is in existence in that year or not. Even successor-in-business receiving the benefit will be taxed on such benefit. For this purpose, where any person is succeeded by any other person in the business or profession of the first mentioned person, the other person will be the successor. Amalgamated company will be the successor of amalgamating company in the case of amalgamation. Successor firm will be successor, if it succeeds to the business or profession of another firm [Explanation 2 to section 41(1)^{1a}].

In cases where the assessee/successor-in-business writes off unilaterally loss or expenditure or trading liability, such remission or cessation will be deemed to be profits and gains of business or profession. It is not necessary that the other party to the transaction, like a trade creditor, should abandon his claim before the remission can be deemed as profits and gains of business or profession [Explanation 1 to section 41(1)].

(b) where an asset representing expenditure of a capital nature on scientific research is sold without having been used for other purposes and the proceeds of the sale together with the amount of deduction allowed under section 35(2) & 35(2B) exceed the amount of capital expenditure, such excess or the amount of deductions allowed, whichever is less, shall be chargeable to income-tax as income of the business or profession of the previous year in which the sale took place [Section 41(3)];

(c) where a deduction has been allowed in respect of a bad debt or part of debt under section 36(1)(vii), and, if the amount subsequently recovered on such debt or part is greater than the difference between the debt or part of debt and the deduction so allowed, the excess realisation shall be deemed to be profits and gains of business or profession, and accordingly chargeable to income-tax as the income of the previous year in which it is recovered, whether the business or profession in respect of which the deduction has been allowed is in existence in that year or not [Section 41(4)].

EXAMPLE: A business debt of Rs. 30,000 was due to an assessee out of which Rs. 20,000 was written off by him as irrecoverable in the assessment year 2004-05 and allowed as a deduction in that assessment. Thus, the balance amount of Rs. 10,000 was considered to be recoverable. As against Rs. 10,000 the assessee has actually recovered Rs. 15,000 in the previous year relevant to the assessment year 2009-10. Whether the business in respect of which deduction had been allowed is in existence in that year or not, the difference of Rs. 5,000 [Rs. 15,000 less Rs. 10,000] will be deemed to be the business income of the assessee for the assessment year 2009-10;

(d) any sum received after the discontinuance of a business shall be treated as income of the recipient in the year of receipt, if such sum would have been included in the total income of the person who carried on the business had such sum been received before such discontinuance [Section 176(3A)];

(e) where any profession is discontinued in any year on account of the cessation of the profession by reason of the retirement or death of the person carrying on the profession, any sum received after the discontinuance shall be deemed to be the income of the recipient and charged to tax accordingly in the year of receipt, if such sum would have been included in the total income of the aforesaid person had it been received before such discontinuance [Section 176(4)].

(v) Deductions from business or professional income:

Business expenditure is allowable only when any business or profession was carried on by the assessee at any time during the previous year. No deduction is admissible where the business or profession has been discontinued and has not been carried on at any time during the previous year.

Some of the important deductions admissible in computing the income from business or profession are discussed below:—

(1) Rent, rates, taxes, repairs and insurance for business or professional premises: [Section 30 read with section 38]

(a) where the premises are occupied by the assessee as a tenant, the rent paid for the premises and if he has undertaken to bear the cost of repairs² to the premises, the amount paid on account of such repairs;

(b) where the premises are owned by the assessee, the amount paid by him on current repairs² to the premises;

(c) any sums paid on account of land revenue, local rates or municipal taxes;

(d) the amount of any premium paid in respect of insurance against risk of damage or destruction of the premises.

Where the hired premises are occupied by the assessee partly for business or professional purposes and partly as dwelling house, the deduction in respect of rent paid, cost of repairs² and any sum paid on account of land revenue, local rates or municipal taxes will be allowed only in proportion to the part used for the purposes of business or profession.

If the premises, used partly for business or professional purposes and partly for residential purposes, are owned by the assessee, proportionate expenditure, in relation to the part used for business or professional purposes will be allowed on account of cost of current repairs², premium in respect of insurance against risk or damage or destruction of premises, land revenue, local rates or municipal taxes.

1a. For the notes on provisions relating to 'Demerger of companies', refer item (34)(I) on page 127.

2. It may be noted that, expenditure in the nature of capital expenditure incurred in relation to "cost of repairs" and "current repairs" referred to above will not be allowed as deduction from business or professional income [vide Explanation to section 30]. However, depreciation on such capital expenditure may be allowable at the appropriate rates prescribed.

(2) Repairs and insurance of machinery, plant and furniture:[Section 31]

Current repairs to, and premium paid in respect of insurance of, machinery, plant or furniture used for the purposes of business or profession is an admissible deduction. It may be noted that, expenditure in the nature of capital expenditure in relation to “current repairs” will not be allowed as deduction [vide Explanation to section 31]. However, depreciation on such capital expenditure may be allowable at the appropriate rates prescribed.

(3) Depreciation:[Section 32]

Depreciation allowance in respect of buildings, machinery, plant or furniture is to be allowed as a deduction. Depreciation will be allowed, if due, whether it is claimed or not by the assessee [Explanation 5 to section 32(1)].

(i) Conditions for allowing depreciation allowance [Section 32(1)]:

(a) the assets should be owned, wholly or partly, by the assessee. This means that two or more assessee's owning depreciable assets and using them in their business or profession will be eligible to claim depreciation on the fractional value of such assets owned by each of them; and

(b) the assets should actually be used for the purpose of the assessee's business or profession.

Depreciation is allowable on tangible assets (i.e., buildings, machinery, plant or furniture) and also on intangible assets acquired on or after 1-4-1998 (i.e., know-how, patents, copyrights, trade-marks, licences, franchises or any other business or commercial rights of similar nature).

(ii) “Plant” has been defined to include ships, vehicles, books, scientific apparatus and surgical equipment used for the purposes of business or profession but does not include tea bushes or livestock or buildings or furniture and fittings [Section 43(3)].

(iii) Disallowance of depreciation on land:—Depreciation is not allowable on the cost of the land on which the building is erected but only on the superstructure. As for buildings, it may be noted that legal ownership through registered conveyance deed is not required. It is enough if the building is occupied and used for business [Vide Mysore Minerals Ltd. Vs. CIT (S.C.) (1999) 239 ITR 775].

(iv) Depreciation in respect of machinery acquired on hire purchase agreement:—Under section 32(1), depreciation on machinery and plant is to be allowed only to the owner thereof who actually uses it for the purpose of his business or profession. In the case of machinery or plant acquired under hire purchase agreement, the lessee is allowed depreciation under Circular No. 9, dt. 23-3-1943.

(v) Depreciation of full cost in respect of books:—Depreciation @ 100% will not be allowed on machinery or plant whose cost does not exceed Rs. 5,000. Instead, depreciation at normal rates will be allowed as part of the block of assets in accordance with Rule 5 of the Income-tax Rules, 1962. However, in respect of cost of books purchased by an assessee carrying on: (1) profession [subject to condition that books are annual publications³]; and (2) business of lending library, depreciation @ 100% will be allowed without any monetary ceiling on its cost [Vide item (9) on page 112].

(vi) Basis for calculation of depreciation allowance:— This is to be calculated as under:—

Under section 32(1)(ii), depreciation will be allowed on the written down value of the block of assets.

“Block of assets” means a group of assets falling within a class of assets, comprising—

(a) tangible assets, being buildings, machinery, plant or furniture;

(b) intangible assets, being know-how, patents, copyrights, trade-marks, licences, franchises or any other business or commercial rights of similar nature, in respect of which the same percentage of depreciation is prescribed [Section 2(11)].

(vii) Depreciation for power sector:—Under section 32(1)(i), in the case of assets acquired on or after 1-4-1997 by an undertaking engaged in generation, or generation and distribution, of power, depreciation will be allowed on the actual cost thereof to the assessee (i.e., on straight line method instead of on written down value method) at the rates prescribed in Rule 5(1A) read with Appendix I-A. The aggregate depreciation allowed in respect of any asset for different assessment years shall not exceed the actual cost of the said asset. Such an undertaking has an option that, instead of the depreciation specified in Appendix I-A, it may be allowed depreciation under Rule 5(1) read with Appendix I. Such an option is to be exercised before the due date for furnishing the return of income u/s. 139(1). Once the option is exercised, it will be final and it will apply to all subsequent assessment years.

Section 32(1)(iii) provides for the manner of computation of depreciation when an asset on which depreciation is claimed and allowed u/s. 32(1)(i) [i.e., power sector] is sold, discarded, demolished or destroyed in the previous year (other than the previous year in which it is first brought into use). The depreciation amount will be the amount by which the moneys payable in respect of such building, machinery, plant or furniture, together with the amount of scrap value, if any, falls short of the written down value thereof. This depreciation is allowable subject to the condition that the deficiency is actually written off in books of the assessee. If the moneys payable in respect of such assets, together with amount of scrap value, if any, exceeds the written down value, so much of the excess as does not exceed the difference between the actual cost and written down value shall be chargeable to income-tax as income of the business of the previous year in which moneys payable in respect of such assets became due [Section 41(2)]. For the purpose of capital gain on sale of such assets, where the asset is sold at price exceeding the actual cost, provisions of sections 48 (mode of computation) & 49 (cost with reference to certain modes of acquisition) will apply subject to the modification that the written down value as defined in section 43(6), of the assets, as adjusted, shall be taken as the cost of acquisition of the asset [Section 50A].

3. In the case of an assessee carrying on profession, depreciation @ 60%, as against 100%, will be allowed in respect of books which are not annual publications.

(viii) Actual cost:—This is defined under section 43(1)⁴ and means actual cost of the assets to the assessee, reduced by that portion of the cost thereof, if any, as has been met directly or indirectly by any other person or authority.

Interest paid or payable on borrowed funds in connection with the acquisition of a depreciable asset and capitalised as pre-commencement expenses, before the asset is first put to use can be added to the cost of the asset for claiming depreciation, investment allowance, etc. However, such interest relatable to the period after the asset acquired is first put to use cannot be added to the actual cost of the asset [Explanation 8 to section 43(1)]. The interest paid in such a case is allowable as revenue expenditure year by year.

The amount of duty of excise or the additional duty leviable u/s. 3 of the Customs Tariff Act, 1975, on asset acquired on or after 1-3-1994 will be reduced from the actual cost of the asset in respect of which credit is claimed and allowed on such asset under the Central Excise Rules, 1944 for the purposes of allowing depreciation [Explanation 9 to section 43(1)].

Subsidy, grant or reimbursement granted by the Central or State Governments or any authority established under any law or by any other person towards a portion of cost of asset acquired by the assessee will be reduced from the actual cost of asset for the purpose of allowing depreciation. If the subsidy or grant or reimbursement is of such a nature that it is not directly relatable to any particular asset, the amount so received shall be apportioned in a manner that such asset bears to all the assets in respect of or with reference to which the subsidy, grant, etc. is so received and such subsidy, grant, etc. shall not be included in the actual cost of the asset [Explanation 10 to section 43(1)].

Where an asset was acquired outside India by a non-resident assessee and such asset is brought into India and used for the purposes of his business or profession in India, the actual cost of the asset will be the actual cost as reduced by depreciation that would have been allowed had the asset been used in India since the date of its acquisition [Explanation 11 to section 43(1)].

Where any capital asset is acquired by an assessee under a scheme for corporatisation of a recognised stock exchange in India, approved by the Securities and Exchange Board of India, the actual cost of the asset will be deemed to be the amount which would have been regarded as actual cost had there been no such corporatisation [Explanation 12 to section 43(1)^{4a}].

(ix) Cost deemed to be the actual cost:—

(a) Where an asset is acquired by way of gift or inheritance, the actual cost to the assessee shall be the actual cost to the previous owner as reduced by depreciation actually allowed [Explanation 2 to section 43(1)].

(b) Where, before the date of acquisition by the assessee, the assets were at any time used by any other person for the purpose of his business or profession and the Assessing Officer is satisfied that the main purpose of the transfer of such assets, directly or indirectly to the assessee, was the reduction of a liability to income-tax (by claiming depreciation with reference to an enhanced cost), the actual cost to the assessee shall be deemed to be such amount as the Assessing Officer may, with the previous approval of the Joint Commissioner determine having regard to all the circumstances of the case [Explanation 3 to section 43(1)].

(c) Where an assessee (hereinafter referred to as the first mentioned person) buys assets from a person (hereinafter referred to as the second mentioned person) and leases them back to the second mentioned person (buy and lease back arrangement), the 'actual cost' for the purposes of depreciation in the case of the first mentioned person will be the same as the written down value of the assets at the time of transfer, in the case of the second mentioned person from whom he bought the asset [Explanation 4A to section 43(1)]. This Explanation has been given over-riding effect over the existing Explanation 3 to section 43(1), which empowers Assessing Officer to determine the actual cost, with the prior approval of Joint Commissioner, where any transfer of asset is found to be aimed at claiming enhanced depreciation and consequent reduction of tax liability.

(x) Written down value:—This is defined under section 43(6)⁵ and means:

For assessment year 1988-89:

In the case of block of assets, the written down value shall be arrived at as under:

- (a) the aggregate of the written down value of all the assets falling within that block of assets at the beginning of the previous year shall first be calculated;
- (b) the aggregate of the written down value arrived at as in (a), shall be increased by the actual cost of any asset falling in that block which was acquired during the previous year; and
- (c) the sum so arrived at in (b) shall be reduced by the moneys receivable together with scrap value, if any, in respect of any asset falling within that block which is sold or discarded or demolished or destroyed during the previous year, so, however, that the amount of such reduction does not exceed the written down value as so increased.

Assessment year 1989-90 & onwards:

The written down value of any block of assets in the immediately preceding previous year shall be reduced by the depreciation actually allowed in respect of that block of assets in relation to the said preceding previous year and as further adjusted by increase or the reduction as mentioned in (b) & (c) above.

However, in the case of slump sale, the written down value of block of assets shall be decreased by the amount of actual cost of the asset as reduced by the depreciation actually allowed. The amount of decrease should not exceed the written down value [Section 43(6)(c)(i)(C)]. The term ‘slump sale’ means the transfer of one or more undertakings as a result of the sale for a lump sum consideration without values being assigned to the individual assets and liabilities in such sales [Section 2(42C)].

Where in a previous year, any asset forming part of a block of assets is transferred by a recognised stock exchange in India to a company under a scheme for corporatisation approved by the Securities and Exchange Board of India, the written down value (WDV) of the block of assets in the case of such a company will be the WDV of the transferred assets immediately before such transfer [Explanation 5 to section 43(6)].

Where an assessee was not required to compute his total income for the purposes of the Income-tax Act for any previous year or years preceding the previous year relevant to the assessment year under consideration,—

- (1) the actual cost of an asset shall be adjusted by the amount attributable to the revaluation of such asset, if any, in the books of account;
- (2) the total amount of depreciation on such asset, provided in the books of account of the assessee in respect of such previous year or years preceding the previous year relevant to the assessment year under consideration shall be deemed to be the depreciation actually allowed under the Income-tax Act for the purposes of section 43(6); and
- (3) the depreciation actually allowed as in (2) above shall be adjusted by the amount of depreciation attributable to such revaluation of the asset [Explanation 6 to section 43(6)^{5a}].

EXAMPLE: Mr. Shah is maintaining books of account from April to March. He has the following block of assets:

	First Block (Plant 'A')	Second Block (Building 'Y')

In the Example on page 107, if plant 'A' of First Block and building 'Y' of Second Block had been sold for Rs. 10,00,000 & Rs. 35,00,000, respectively, then, not only the depreciation is not allowable for assessment year 2009-10 but the excess of Rs. 4,89,282 in respect of First Block and excess of Rs. 18,82,326 in respect of Second Block will be treated as "Short-term capital gains" under section 50 as explained in illustrations on page 150.

(xi) Depreciation on motor car manufactured outside India.—Where such car is acquired after 28-2-1975 but before 1-4-2001, no depreciation is admissible. However, depreciation will be allowed on such car if it is used⁶ for hiring to tourists, or used outside India by an assessee in his business or profession in another country. It may be noted that, in relation to assessment year 2002-03 and subsequent years, depreciation will be allowed, without restrictions, on motor car manufactured outside India if such car is acquired on or after 1-4-2001 [Clause (a) of the 1st proviso to section 32(1)].

(xii) Depreciation on machinery or plant of mineral oil prospecting concerns.—Depreciation is not allowable in respect of machinery or plant, if the actual cost thereof is allowed as deduction under an agreement entered into by the Central Government u/s. 42 [Clause (b) of the 1st proviso to section 32(1)].

(xiii) Prescribed rates at which depreciation is to be allowed.—Different rates of depreciation for different block of assets are prescribed in Appendix I, read with Rule 5(1) of the Income-tax Rules, 1962 [refer pp. 109-112]. However, in the case of an undertaking engaged in generation, or generation and distribution, of power, in respect of assets acquired on or after 1-4-1997, different rates of depreciation have been prescribed in Appendix I-A, read with sub-rule (1A) to Rule 5 of the Income-tax Rules, 1962. These rates are applicable in relation to assessment year 1998-99 and onwards. The text of Rule 5 and Appendix I/I-A are reproduced hereunder:

Rule 5. Depreciation. (1) Subject to the provisions of sub-rule (2), the allowance under clause (ii) of sub-section (1) of section 32 in respect of depreciation of any block of assets shall be calculated at the percentages specified in the second column of the Table in Appendix I to these rules on the written down value of such block of assets as are used for the purposes of the business or profession of the assessee at any time during the previous year.

(1A) The allowance under clause (i) of sub-section (1) of section 32 of the Act in respect of depreciation of assets acquired on or after the 1st day of April, 1997, shall be calculated at the percentage specified in the second column of the Table in Appendix I-A of these rules on the actual cost thereof to the assessee as are used for the purposes of the business of the assessee at any time during the previous year:

Provided that the aggregate depreciation allowed in respect of any asset for different assessment years shall not exceed the actual cost of the said asset:

Provided further that the undertaking specified in clause (i) of sub-section (1) of section 32 of the Act may, instead of the depreciation specified in Appendix I-A, at its option be allowed depreciation under sub-rule (1) read with Appendix I, if such option is exercised before the due date for furnishing the return of income under sub-section (1) of section 139 of the Act,

(a) for the assessment year 1998-99, in the case of an undertaking which began to generate power prior to 1st day of April, 1997, and

(b) for the assessment year relevant to the previous year in which it begins to generate power, in case of any other undertaking:

Provided also that any such option once exercised shall be final and shall apply to all the subsequent assessment years.

(2) Where any new machinery or plant is installed during the previous year relevant to the assessment year commencing on or after the 1st day of April, 1988, for the purposes of business of manufacture or production of any article or thing and such article or thing—

(a) is manufactured or produced by using any technology (including any process) or other know-how developed in, or

(b) is an article or thing invented in, a laboratory owned or financed by the Government or a laboratory owned by a public sector company or a University or an institution recognised in this behalf by the Secretary, Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, Government of India, such plant or machinery shall be treated as a part of block of assets qualifying for depreciation at the rate of 40 per cent. of written down value, if the following conditions are fulfilled, namely:—

(i) the right to use such technology (including any process) or other know-how or to manufacture or produce such article or thing has been acquired from the owner of such laboratory or any person deriving title from such owner;

(ii) the return furnished by the assessee for his income, or the income of any other person in respect of which he is assessable, for any previous year in which the said machinery or plant is acquired, shall be accompanied by a certificate from the Secretary, Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, Government of India, to the effect that such article or thing is manufactured or produced by using such technology (including any process) or other know-how developed in such laboratory or is an article or thing invented in such laboratory; and

(iii) the machinery or plant is not used for the purpose of business of manufacture or production of any article or thing specified in the list in the Eleventh Schedule to the Act.

6. Where tour operators/travel agents use certain foreign motor cars, owned by them, for providing transportation services to tourists, depreciation will be allowed on these cars [Vide Circular No. 609, dt. 29-7-1991: 191 ITR (St.) 1].

(xiv) Normal depreciation.—Under Rule 5 of the Income-tax Rules, 1962, depreciation allowance is to be calculated at the specified rates on all categories of depreciable assets which are in use in business or profession at any time during the previous year.

If, an asset referred to in section 32(1)(i)/32(1)(ii)/32(1)(ia) is acquired by the assessee during the previous year and is put to use for the purposes of business or profession for a period of less than 180 days in that previous year, depreciation on such asset will be allowed at 50% of the depreciation normally allowable [2nd proviso to section 32(1)].

Where the assets are subject to succession to business or profession [referred to in sections 47(xiii) or 47(xiv) or 170] or amalgamation of companies in a previous year, the total depreciation allowable on such assets being tangible assets/intangible assets in that previous year will be restricted to the depreciation at the prescribed rates, as if the succession or amalgamation had not taken place. The allowable depreciation will be apportioned between the successor and predecessor or the amalgamated company and the amalgamating company, as the case may be, on the basis of number of days for which the assets were used by each of them [5th¹⁰ proviso to section 32(1)].

(xv) Additional depreciation on new machinery or plant: Clause (ia) of section 32(1) provides for additional depreciation in relation to assessment year 2003-04 and subsequent years,—

(A) IN RESPECT OF NEW MACHINERY OR PLANT ACQUIRED AND INSTALLED AFTER 31-3-2005:

Substituted clause (ia) of section 32(1) provides for additional depreciation in relation to assessment year 2006-07 and subsequent years. The said clause (ia) provides that in the case of new machinery or plant (other than ships and aircraft) acquired and installed after 31-3-2005, by an assessee engaged in the business of manufacture or production of any article or thing, additional depreciation @ 20%¹¹ of the actual cost of such machinery or plant will be allowed as deduction u/s. 32(1)(ii). Additional depreciation allowed will be deducted from the W.D.V. of the asset.

Additional depreciation will not be allowed in respect of—

- (1) any machinery or plant before its installation by the assessee, was used either within or outside India by any other person; or
- (2) any machinery or plant installed in any office premises or any residential accommodation, including accommodation in the nature of a guest-house; or
- (3) any office appliances or road transport vehicles; or
- (4) any machinery or plant, the actual cost of which is allowed as a deduction (by way of depreciation or otherwise) in computing business or professional income of any one previous year.

(B) IN RESPECT OF NEW MACHINERY OR PLANT ACQUIRED AND INSTALLED AFTER 31-3-2002 BUT BEFORE 1-4-2005:

The then clause (ia) of section 32(1) provides for additional depreciation in relation to assessment year 2003-04 and subsequent years. The said clause (ia) provides that in the case of any new machinery or plant (other than ships and aircraft) acquired and installed after 31-3-2002 but before 1-4-2005, by an assessee engaged in the business of manufacture or production of any article or thing, additional depreciation @ 15%¹¹ of the actual cost of such machinery or plant will be allowed as deduction u/s. 32(1)(ii) in the case of—

- (1) a new industrial undertaking¹² during any previous year in which such undertaking begins to manufacture or produce any article or thing on or after 31-3-2002; or
- (2) any industrial undertaking existing before 1-4-2002, during any previous year in which it achieves substantial expansion by way of increase in installed capacity¹³ by not less than 10% [25%, in relation to assessment years 2003-04 and 2004-05] [1st proviso to the then section 32(1)(ia)].

Additional depreciation allowed will be deducted from W.D.V. of the asset. Additional depreciation will not be allowed in respect of—

- (a) any machinery or plant which before its installation by the assessee, was used either within or outside India by any other person; or
- (b) any machinery or plant installed in any office premises or any residential accommodation, including accommodation in the nature of a guest house; or
- (c) any office appliances or road transport vehicles; or
- (d) any machinery or plant, the whole of the actual cost of which is allowed as a deduction (by way of depreciation or otherwise) in computing business or professional income of any one previous year.

To avail of this deduction, the assessee is required to furnish the details of machinery or plant and increase in the installed capacity of production in the Form to be prescribed, along with the return of income, and auditor's report in Form No. 3AA certifying that the deduction has been correctly claimed in accordance with section 32(1)(ia).

10. For the notes on provisions relating to "Demerger of companies", refer item (34)(B) on page 126.

11. If an asset is acquired by the assessee during the previous year and is put to use for the purposes of business for a period of less than 180 days in that year, depreciation on such asset will be allowed @ 50% of the additional depreciation allowable (i.e., @ 10%, or as the case may be, 7½%) [2nd proviso to section 32(1)(ii)].

12. "new industrial undertaking" is defined to mean an undertaking which is not formed:

- (a) by the splitting up, or the reconstruction, of a business, already in existence; or
- (b) by the transfer to a new business of machinery or plant previously used for any purpose [Explanation to the then section 32(1)(ia)].

13. "installed capacity" is defined to mean the capacity of production as existing on the 31st day of March, 2002 [Explanation to the then section 32(1)(ia)].

(xvi) Depreciation on the construction of any structure or work on leased or rental premises.—Any capital expenditure incurred by an assessee on the construction of any structure or work by way of renovation or extension of, or improvement of the building held under lease or other right of occupancy for the purpose of his business or profession will qualify for depreciation allowance at the rates prescribed under the Income-tax Rules [Explanation 1 to section 32(1)]. Under section 32(2), the unabsorbed depreciation allowance admissible under section 32(1) will be carried forward in the same manner and to the same extent as unabsorbed depreciation in respect of other assets.

(xvii) Unabsorbed depreciation:

From assessment year 2002-03 and onwards:

Substituted sub-section (2) of section 32 provides that where effect cannot be given either in full or in part to the depreciation allowance u/s. 32(1) in any previous year for want of profits and gains chargeable for that year, or owing to the profits and gains chargeable being insufficient to absorb the depreciation allowance, then, subject to the provisions of sections 72(2) & 73(3), the unabsorbed depreciation allowance will be added to the current depreciation and if there is no current depreciation, it will be treated as current depreciation and set off in the current and subsequent previous years without any time limit. It may be noted that the unabsorbed depreciation can be carried forward and set off against income under any heads of income. This is because the unabsorbed depreciation is given the same treatment as current depreciation.

EXAMPLE:— For the assessment year 2008-09 an assessee had the following sources of income:

[illegible]

Total income for the assessment year 2008-09 will be 'nil'. Balance of unabsorbed depreciation of Rs. 3,000 will be carried forward to the assessment year 2009-10.

					Rs. 17,000
Less: Depreciation due for the assessment year 2009-10 [Conf. Bus.]	..				Rs.12,000
Unabsorbed depreciation of the assessment year 2008-09:
Unabsorbed depreciation to be treated as current depreciation [vide sub-section (2) of section 32]	..	..	..	..	Rs. 3,000
					Rs. 15,000

Income from other sources	..	..	..	..	Rs.1,49,000
Gross total income	..				Rs.1,55,000

In cases where the profits are insufficient to absorb: (1) carried forward losses; (2) current depreciation; and (3) unabsorbed depreciation of earlier years, the same should be deducted in the order given on pp. 186-187.

For the notes on ‘unabsorbed depreciation’ in relation to assessment year 2001-02 and earlier years, refer page 116 of ITRR 2004-05 (66th Year of Publication).

(4) Tea development account, coffee development account and rubber development account:

[Section 33AB]

Provisions of section 33AB are applicable to an assessee carrying on business of growing and manufacturing tea or coffee or rubber in India and the assessee has, before the expiry of 6 months from the end of the previous year or before furnishing the return of income, whichever is earlier.—

- (a) deposited any amount with National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development in an account (hereafter referred to as 'the special account') maintained by the assessee with that Bank in accordance with, and for the purposes specified in, a scheme (hereafter referred to as 'the scheme') approved in this behalf by the Tea Board or the Coffee Board or the Rubber Board; or
- (b) deposited any amount in an account [hereafter referred to as 'the Deposit Account'] opened by the assessee in accordance with, and for the purposes specified in, a scheme framed by the Tea Board or the Coffee Board or the Rubber Board, as the case may be (hereafter referred to as 'the deposit scheme'), with the previous approval of the Central Government.

On making the deposit within the stipulated time, the assessee will be entitled to a deduction (such deduction being allowed before set off of any unabsorbed losses of earlier years) equal to the amount of deposit which will, however, be restricted to 40% of the profits of such business (computed under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession" before making any deduction under this section). Where the deduction is allowed to a firm or any association of persons or any body of individuals, it will not again be allowed in the hands of any of its partner/member. Further, where any deduction in respect of any amount deposited in the special account or in the Deposit Account has been allowed under section 33AB(1) in any previous year, no deduction shall be allowed in respect of such amount in any other previous year.

The deduction under this section shall not be admissible unless the accounts of the business of the assessee for the previous year for which the deduction is claimed have been audited by an accountant as defined in the Explanation to section 288(2) and the assessee furnishes, along with his return of income, the report of such audit in the prescribed Form No. 3AC duly signed and verified by such accountant. W.e.f. 1-6-2006, Form No. 3AC is not required to be furnished along with the return of income but on demand to be produced before the Assessing Officer [Vide sections 139C & 139D].

Where any amount standing to the credit of the assessee in the special account or in the Deposit Account is released during any previous year by the National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development or withdrawn by the assessee from the Deposit Account and such amount is utilised for the purchase of—

- (a) any machinery or plant to be installed in any office premises or residential accommodation, including accommodation in the nature of a guest-house;
- (b) any office appliances (not being computers);
- (c) any machinery or plant, the whole of the actual cost of which is allowed as a deduction (whether by way of depreciation or otherwise);
- (d) any new machinery or plant to be installed in an industrial undertaking for the purposes of business of construction, manufacture or production of any article or thing specified in the list in the Eleventh Schedule, the whole of such amount so utilised shall be deemed to be the profits and gains of business of that previous year and chargeable to income-tax as the income of that previous year.

Any amount standing to the credit of the assessee in the special account or the Deposit Account shall not be allowed to be withdrawn except for the purposes specified in the scheme or, as the case may be, in the deposit scheme or in the circumstances specified below:

- (a) closure of business;
- (b) death of an assessee;
- (c) partition of a Hindu undivided family;
- (d) dissolution of a firm; and
- (e) liquidation of a company.

Where any amount withdrawn from the special account or the Deposit Account is utilised by the assessee for the purposes of any business expenditure in accordance with the scheme or the deposit scheme, then such expenditure will not be allowed as deduction in computing the income chargeable under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession".

Where any amount standing to the credit of the assessee in the special account or in the Deposit Account is released/withdrawn during any previous year for being utilised by the assessee for purposes of business in accordance with the scheme or the deposit scheme and such amount is not so utilised, either wholly or partly, within that previous year, such amount as is not so utilised shall be deemed to be the profits and gains of business of that previous year and included as the income of that previous year. However, the above provisions will not apply where the amount is released at the closure of account due to death of an assessee, partition of a HUF and liquidation of a company. But, where the amount is withdrawn consequent to the closure of business or dissolution of a firm, the amount so withdrawn shall be deemed to be the profits and gains of business or profession and charged to tax in the year of withdrawal and shall be assessed in the hands of the same business/firm as if the said business was not closed or the said firm was not dissolved.

Where any asset acquired in accordance with the scheme or the deposit scheme is sold or otherwise transferred in any previous year within 8 years from the end of the previous year in which it was acquired, such part of the cost of such asset as is relatable to the deduction allowed under this section shall be deemed to be the profits and gains of business or profession of the previous year in which the asset is sold or otherwise transferred and accordingly shall be liable to income-tax as income of that previous year. However, there will be no tax liability in respect of deductions earlier allowed if the sale or transfer of such asset is to the Government, a local authority, a statutory corporation or a Government company or if the sale or transfer is made in connection with succession of the firm by a company in the business or profession carried on by the firm subject to conditions prescribed in the Explanation to section 33AB(8) and the scheme or the deposit scheme continues to apply to the company as in the case of the firm.

(5) Site restoration fund:

[Section 33ABA]

Provisions of section 33ABA are applicable to an assessee carrying on business consisting of the prospecting for, or extraction or production of, petroleum or natural gas or both in India and in relation to which the Central Government has entered into an agreement with such assessee for such business and the assessee has before the end of the previous year—

- (1) deposited with the State Bank of India any amount or amounts in an account (i.e., special account) maintained with that bank in accordance with, and for the purposes specified in a scheme [i.e., Site Restoration Fund Scheme, 1999: 237 ITR (St.) 3] approved by the Government of India in the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas; or
- (2) deposited any amount in an account (i.e., Site Restoration Account) opened in accordance with, and for the purposes specified in, a scheme (i.e., deposit scheme) framed by the Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas.

On making deposit within the stipulated time, the assessee will be entitled to a deduction (such deduction being allowed before the set-off of any unabsorbed losses of the previous years) of a sum equal to the amount or the aggregate of the amounts so deposited, which will, however, be restricted to 20% of the profits of such business (computed under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession" before making any deduction under this section). Any amount credited to the special account (SA) or Site Restoration Account (SRA) by way of interest also will be deemed to be a deposit eligible for deduction u/s. 33ABA(1). Where the deduction is allowed to a firm or any association of persons or any body of individuals, it will not again be allowed in the hands of any of its partner/member. Further, where any deduction in respect of any amount deposited in the SA or in the SRA has been allowed under section 33ABA(1) in any previous year, no deduction shall be allowed in respect of such amount in any other previous year.

The deduction under this section shall not be admissible unless the accounts of the business of the assessee for the previous year for which the deduction is claimed have been audited by an accountant as defined in the Explanation to section 288(2) and the assessee furnishes, along with his return of income, the report of such audit in the prescribed Form No. 3AD duly signed and verified by such accountant. W.e.f. 1-6-2006, Form No. 3AD is not required to be furnished along with the return of income but on demand to be produced before the Assessing Officer [Vide sections 139C & 139D].

The deduction under this section will not be allowed in respect of any amount utilised for the purchase of:

- (a) any machinery or plant to be installed in any office premises or residential accommodation, including accommodation in the nature of a guest-house;
- (b) any office appliances (not being computers);
- (c) any machinery or plant, the whole of the actual cost of which is allowed as a deduction (whether by way of depreciation or otherwise); and
- (d) any new machinery or plant to be installed in an industrial undertaking for the purposes of business of construction, manufacture or production of any article or thing specified in the list in the Eleventh Schedule.

Any amount standing to the credit of the assessee in the SA or the SRA shall not be allowed to be withdrawn except for the purposes specified in the scheme or, as the case may be, in the deposit scheme.

Where any amount withdrawn from the SA or the SRA is utilised by the assessee for the purposes of any business expenditure in accordance with the scheme or the deposit scheme, then such expenditure will not be allowed as deduction in computing the income chargeable under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession".

Where any amount standing to the credit of the assessee in the SA or the SRA is released/withdrawn during any previous year for being utilised by the assessee for purposes of business in accordance with the scheme or the deposit scheme and such amount is not so utilised, either wholly or partly, within that previous year, such amount as is not so utilised shall be deemed to be the profits and gains of business of that previous year and included as the income of that previous year.

Where such expenditure was incurred before the commencement of the business, the period of 14 years would reckon from the previous year in which the business commenced. In case of sale or extinguishment of such rights, excess realisation is brought to tax and the deficit is allowed as deduction in the year of sale/extinguishment [Section 35A(3) & (4)¹⁵]. Where the said proceeds of the transfer (in so far as they consist of capital sums) exceed the unallowed expenditure, the excess amount will be charged to income-tax as business income in the year of transfer [Section 35ABB(3)]. Where the licence is transferred in part, the deduction to be allowed will be arrived at by reducing the proceeds of transfer (in so far as they consist of capital sums) from the unallowed expenditure and dividing the balance by the number of unexpired previous years of the licence at the beginning of the previous year of the transfer [Section 35ABB(5)]. Where the whole or any part of the licence is transferred and the proceeds of the transfer (in so far as they consist of capital sums) are not less than the amount of unallowed expenditure, then no deduction for such expenditure shall be allowed u/s. 35ABB(1) in respect of the previous year in which the licence is transferred or in respect of any subsequent previous year(s) [Section 35ABB(4)].

However, where in a scheme of amalgamation¹⁷, the amalgamating company sells or transfers the licence to the amalgamated company (being an Indian company) the proceeds will not be subject to income-tax or deduction as above. The amalgamated company will get the deduction for unexpired portion of the licence. It will also be subject to income-tax or deduction in case of transfer of licence, as if the amalgamating company had not transferred the licence [Section 35ABB(6)].

Salient features of provisions relating to demerger of companies pertaining to the computation of business income is given hereafter and those pertaining to computation of capital gain are given on page 152.

(A) DEFINITIONS: “Demerger”, in relation to companies, means the transfer, pursuant to a scheme of arrangement u/s. 391 to 394 of the Companies Act, 1956, by a ‘demerged company’ of its one or more undertakings to any ‘resulting company’ subject to conditions that: (1) all the property/liabilities of the transferred undertaking immediately before the demerger becomes property/liability of the resulting company by virtue of the demerger; (2) the property and the liabilities of the undertaking(s) are to be transferred by the demerged company at the book value immediately before the demerger; (3) the resulting company issues its shares to shareholders of the demerged company on a proportionate basis, as consideration of the demerger; (4) the shareholders holding not less than three-fourths (i.e., 75%) in value of the shares in the demerged company (other than shares already held therein immediately before the demerger by the nominee/subsidiary of resulting company) should become shareholders of the resulting company(s); (5) transfer of the undertaking is on a going concern basis; and (6) the demerger should be in accordance with such conditions as may be notified u/s. 72A(5). For this purpose, “undertaking” will include any part of an undertaking/unit/division of an undertaking or a business activity taken as a whole, but will not include individual assets/liabilities or any combination thereof not constituting a business activity. “Liabilities” for this purpose will include liabilities as specified in the Explanation 2 to section 2(19AA). ‘Value of assets’ consequent to their revaluation is to be ignored for the purpose of condition (2) above [Section 2(19AA)].

“Demerged company” is defined to mean the company whose undertaking is transferred, pursuant to a demerger, to a resulting company [Section 2(19AAA)].

“Resulting company” is defined to mean one or more companies (including a wholly owned subsidiary thereof) to which the undertaking of the demerged company is transferred and, the resulting company in consideration of such transfer of undertaking, issues shares to the shareholders of the demerged company [Section 2(41A)].

The allowable depreciation will be apportioned between the successor and predecessor or the amalgamated company and amalgamating company, as the case may be, on the basis of number of days for which assets were used by each of them. Under substituted 5th proviso to section 32(1), the above provisions have been made applicable to demerged company and resulting company also in the case of demerger.

This Chapter consisting of sections 115V to 115VZC makes special provisions for presumptive income in respect of qualifying ships of qualifying shipping companies based on tonnage of the ship. For availing this concessional tax scheme, the company has to satisfy other conditions prescribed in the said Chapter. A shipping company is given an option to be taxed under this Chapter (i.e., tonnage tax scheme) or in the normal manner under other provisions of the Income-tax Act. Once the option is exercised, it will be valid for 10 years. If a shipping company opts out of the scheme or if the qualifying shipping company misuses the scheme, such company will be excluded from the scheme and it will be debarred from re-entry into the scheme for 10 years. Section 115V pertains to definitions. Section 115VA relates to computation of profits and gains from the business of operating qualifying ships. Section 115VB defines operating ships. Section 115VC defines qualifying company. Section 115VD defines qualifying ship. Section 115VE lays down manner of computation of income under tonnage tax scheme. Section 115VF prescribes that tonnage income computed u/s. 115VG shall be deemed to be profits under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession". Section 115VG prescribes manner of computation of daily tonnage income²⁷. Section 115VH prescribes manner for calculation of tonnage income in case of joint operation, etc. Section 115VI prescribes manner of computing relevant shipping income of a tonnage tax company. Section 115VJ prescribes manner of treatment of common costs. Section 115VK pertains to method of computing depreciation u/s. 115VL(iv). Section 115VL prescribes for general exclusion of deduction and set off of losses/depreciation in computing tonnage income. Section 115VM prescribes that loss accrued to a company, before entering into the scheme, attributable to tonnage tax business, cannot be set off against tonnage income. Section 115VN relates to chargeable gains from transfer of tonnage tax assets. Section 115VO prescribes that book profit or loss of a tonnage tax company shall be excluded from the book profit of the company for the purposes of section 115JB. Section 115VP prescribes method and time of opting for tonnage tax scheme²⁸. Section 115VQ prescribes period for which tonnage tax option to remain in force. Section 115VR prescribes manner of renewal of tonnage tax scheme²⁸. Section 115VS relates to prohibition to opt for tonnage tax scheme in certain cases. Sections 115VT to VX relates to conditions for applicability of tonnage tax scheme. Sections 115VY & VZ relates to amalgamation and demerger of shipping companies. Section 115VZA relates to effect of temporarily ceasing to operate qualifying ships. Sections 115VZB & 115VZC relates to provisions of this Chapter not to apply in certain cases. An order passed by a Joint Commissioner u/s. 115VP(3)(ii) is an appealable order before Commissioner (Appeals) u/s. 246A(1)(a). An assessee aggrieved by an order passed by an Assessing Officer u/s. 115 VZC(1) may appeal to Appellate Tribunal u/s. 253(1)(ba).

Where the Assessing Officer (AO) is not satisfied about the correctness or completeness of the accounts of the assessee, or where the method of accounting is different from cash or mercantile system or where the notified accounting standards, have not been regularly followed by the assessee, the AO may make a best judgment assessment u/s. 144.

[Section 44AB³¹]

Section 44AB makes it obligatory for a person carrying on business to get his accounts audited before the “specified date” by an accountant [as defined in the Explanation to section 288(2)] if his total sales, turnover or gross receipts in business exceeds Rs. 40,00,000 in any previous year. Likewise, a person carrying on profession will also have to get his accounts audited before the “specified date” if his gross receipts in profession exceed Rs. 10,00,000. A person carrying on the business referred to in section 44AD or 44AE or 44AF or 44BB or 44BBB will also have to get the accounts audited before the “specified date” if he claims that his profit/income of a previous year is less than the deemed profit/income under those sections, irrespective of the monetary limit of turnover/gross receipts, of that previous year [Section 44AB(c)^{31a}].

Such persons will also be required to furnish audit report in the prescribed Form No. 3CB by the “specified date”.

However, where the income of an assessee is chargeable to tax on presumptive basis under sections 44B or 44BBA, such an assessee is not required to get his accounts audited u/s. 44AB.

In cases where the accounts are required to be audited by or under any other law (as in the case of companies and co-operative societies), it will suffice if the accounts are audited under such other law before the “specified date” and the assessee furnishes by the said date the report of the audit under such other law and also a further report by an accountant in the prescribed Form No. 3CA.

If the return of income is filed by the “due date” of furnishing the return of income, the return of income should be accompanied by the said audit report under section 44AB. Where the return of income is filed after the ‘due date’ of furnishing the return, assessee should file a copy of the said audit report and proof of its filing by the “specified date” along with such delayed return of income. Where a copy of the audit report u/s. 44AB and/or proof of filing thereof by the ‘specified date’ is not filed along with the return/delayed return³², it will be treated as a defective return u/s. 139(9). Penalty u/s. 271B also will be leviable for failure to get the accounts audited u/s. 44AB and/or not furnishing the said report by the “specified date”.

“Specified date” for companies and all other assessee is 30th September³², in relation to assessment year 2008-09 and subsequent years (31st October³², in relation to assessment year 2007-08 and earlier years).

31. An assessee opting for assessment of his business income on presumptive basis under sections 44AD, 44AE and 44AF [Refer pp. 134-135] is not required to get his accounts audited u/s. 44AB in relation to such business income [Vide sections 44AD(4), 44AE(5) and 44AF(4)]. 4. "specified security" and "sweat equity shares" shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in the Explanation to section 115 WB(1)(d) (refer footnote No. 2 & 3 on page 199) [Vide Explanation 3 to section 2(42A)].

CAPITAL GAINS CHARGEABLE

(d) TRANSFER: [Section 2(47)]

“Transfer”, in relation to a capital asset, includes the sale, exchange⁵ or relinquishment of the asset or the extinguishment of any rights therein or the compulsory acquisition thereof under any law or in a case where the asset is converted by the owner thereof into, or is treated by him as, stock-in-trade of a business carried on by him, such conversion or treatment; or the maturity or redemption of a zero coupon bond.

Transfer includes possession of immovable property given without registration of conveyance deed; and also transactions in agreements to buy or sell any immovable property or any rights thereon.

Transfer of movable property is complete when delivery of possession is complete. Transfer of immovable property, normally, is complete only when the conveyance deed is registered. However, for the purposes of capital gains, the transfer is treated as a complete with delivery of possession and when agreement to sell/buy immovable property is entered into or when such agreement is itself a subject matter of transaction.

2. Charge of capital gain: [Sections 45, 46(2), 46A & 47A]

Capital gain is chargeable as income of the previous year in which transfer took place [Section 45(1)].

Capital gain is chargeable on the following transactions also:

(a) Profits and gains arising from the receipt of any money or other assets from an insurance company on account of destruction of, or damage to, any capital asset as a result of flood, typhoon, hurricane, cyclone, earthquake or other convulsion of nature; or riot or civil disturbance; or accidental fire/explosion; or war, shall be deemed to be capital gains of the previous year in which such money or other assets were received. For the purposes of section 48, money received or the fair market value of the assets on the date of such receipt shall be deemed to be the full value of consideration received or accruing as a result of such transfer [Section 45(1A)].

(b) In a case where a capital asset is converted by the owner into or is treated by him as stock-in-trade of a business carried on by him, such conversion or treatment will be treated as “transfer” under section 2(47). Section 45(2) provides that for the purposes of computing “capital gains” in the case of conversion of capital asset into stock-in-trade, the fair market value of the capital asset on the date on which it was converted, will be deemed to be the full value of the consideration received on the transfer. The year of taxability will, however, be the year in which such converted stock-in-trade is sold or otherwise transferred. Thus, in the year of sale of such stock-in-trade, there will be capital gains & business income as under:

(i) Capital gains: on the difference between the cost of acquisition and the fair market value on the date of conversion (Cost of acquisition is to be increased by Cost Inflation Index), and

(ii) Business income: on the difference between the sale proceeds and the said fair market value.

Illustration 1: Mr. Shah had purchased a piece of land in May, 1981 for Rs. 1,00,000. On 1-5-2007, he started business in real estate and treated the land as stock-in-trade of that business adopting its value as on that date at Rs. 8,00,000. The fair market value of the land on 1-5-2007 was Rs. 6,50,000. On 2-3-2009 he sells the land for Rs. 17,00,000 to a builder. His capital gain and business income for assessment years 2008-09 and 2009-10 will be:

Assessment year 2008-09:
Capital gain	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. Nil ⁶
Assessment year 2009-10:
(i) Capital gain : On land on conversion from capital asset into stock-in-trade:
Fair market value on 1-5-2007, being the date of conversion	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 6,50,000
Less: Cost of acquisition in May, 1981	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 1,00,000
Indexed cost of acquisition [vide 2nd proviso to section 48]:
Cost of acquisition × Cost Inflation Index of the year in which asset is sold ÷ Cost Inflation Index of the year of acquisition, i.e., Rs. 1,00,000 × 582 ⁷ ÷ 100 ⁷
	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 5,82,000
Long-term capital gain chargeable to tax u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) [Refer item 8 on page 162]	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 68,000
(ii) Business income : On sale of land:
Sale proceeds	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 17,00,000
Less: Cost of acquisition being fair market value on the date of conversion (i.e., 1-5-2007)	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 6,50,000
Business income	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 10,50,000
Thus, the aggregate of long-term capital gain & business income for the asstt. year 2009-10 will be	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 11,18,000

5. Transaction of lending of shares or any other securities under the ‘Securities Lending Scheme, 1997’ would not result in “transfer”, provided the shares/securities lent and received back are of the same company/institution. The distinctive numbers of such shares/securities received back may, however, be different [Vide Circular No. 751, dt. 10-2-96: 224 ITR (St.)1].

6. In assessment year 2008-09, in which the capital asset was converted into stock-in-trade, there will be no capital gain. This will arise in the year when the land is actually sold, that is in assessment year 2009-10.

7. For notification on Cost Inflation Index, refer pp. 144-145/cover page 3.

Illustration 2: In the Illustration 1 on page 140, suppose Mr. Shah had started his business on 30-4-1983 and converted the land as stock-in-trade on that date at Rs. 8,00,000, then, business income in his case will be as under:

Assessment years 1984-85 to 2009-10:

Capital gain in respect of conversion of land as stock-in-trade of the business	..	..	..	..	Rs.	Nil ⁸

Assessment year 2009-10:

Business income:
Sale proceeds	..	..	..	..	..	Rs. 17,00,000
Less: Value adopted by Mr. Shah on conversion of land into stock-in-trade on 30-4-1983	..	..				Rs. 8,00,000
Business income	..					Rs. 9,00,000

(c) Where any person has had at any time during the previous year any beneficial interest in any securities, then, any profits or gains arising from transfer made by the depository or participant of such beneficial interest in respect of securities shall be chargeable to income-tax as the income of the beneficial owner of the previous year in which such transfer took place and shall not be regarded as income of the depository who is deemed to be the registered owner of securities by virtue of sub-section (1) of section 10 of the Depositories Act, 1996, and for the purposes of section 48 and the proviso to section 2(42A), the cost of acquisition and the period of holding of any securities shall be determined on the basis of the first-in-first out method⁹. The expressions “beneficial owner”, “depository” and “security” shall have the meanings respectively assigned to them in clauses (a), (e) and (l) of sub-section (1) of section 2 of the Depositories Act, 1996 [Section 45(2A)].

(d) The profits and gains arising from the transfer of a capital asset by a partner/member to a firm/association of persons/body of individuals (by way of capital contribution or otherwise) will be chargeable to tax as his income under the head “Capital gains” of the previous year in which such transfer takes place. For this purpose the amount recorded in the books of account of firm/AOP/BOI will be taken to be the sale consideration and the capital gains will be computed accordingly [Section 45(3)].

(e) The profits and gains arising from the transfer of a capital asset by way of distribution of capital assets to its partners/members on the dissolution of a firm/association of persons/body of individuals or otherwise, will be chargeable to tax as income of the firm/AOP/BOI under the head “Capital gains” of the previous year in which the said transfer takes place. For this purpose, the fair market value of the asset on the date of such transfer will be taken to be the sale consideration and the capital gains will be computed accordingly [Section 45(4)].

(f) In the case of transfer by way of compulsory acquisition under any law, the capital gains computed with reference to the compensation initially awarded shall be deemed to be the capital gains of the previous year in which such compensation or part thereof, or such consideration or part thereof, was first received. Any enhanced compensation awarded by any court, tribunal or other authority, will be charged to tax as capital gains of the previous year in which such amount is received, the cost of acquisition and cost of improvement for the purpose of enhanced compensation will be taken to be ‘nil’. If the enhanced compensation is received by a person other than the original transferor or by reason of the death of the original transferor or for any other reason, capital gains will be charged in the hands of the recipient. If the initial compensation/enhanced compensation is subsequently reduced by any court, tribunal or other authority, the capital gains assessed in the year of receipt of initial compensation/enhanced compensation will be amended to re-compute capital gains with reference to such reduced compensation. The said amendment has to be made by the Assessing Officer within four years from the end of the previous year in which the order reducing the initial compensation/enhanced compensation was passed by the court, tribunal or other authority [Section 45(5) read with section 155(16)].

(g) Any money or other assets received by a shareholder from a company on its liquidation is chargeable to tax under the head “Capital gains” in his hands. Full value of consideration received in such a case will be the money so received or the fair market value of the assets on the date of distribution, as reduced by the amount deemed as dividend u/s. 2(22)(c). The cost of acquisition of the asset will be the cost for which the previous owner, namely, the company acquired it, as increased by cost of any improvement of asset, if any, incurred by the previous owner or the shareholder, as the case may be [Sections 46(2) & 49(1)].

(h) Transfer of a capital asset by a company to its subsidiary company and vice versa, provided the transferee is an Indian company and the entire share capital of the subsidiary company is held by the parent company or its nominees, will not be chargeable to capital gains under section 47(iv) & (v).

8. This is because, the year of conversion (assessment year 1984-85) is earlier to assessment year 1985-86 from which assessment year the provisions of amended section 2(47) and sub-section (2) to section 45 came into effect. Thus, there will be no capital gain on the difference between cost of acquisition and the value adopted in the books of account on conversion of land as stock-in-trade.

9. For gist of Circular No. 768, dt. 24-6-1998, refer item G.2.D on pp. 333-334.

However, such a transaction will be chargeable to capital gains under section 47A(1), if—

(i) the transferee company converts the capital asset into stock-in-trade of its business within a period of 8 years from the date of transfer between the two companies; or

(ii) the parent company or its nominees or the holding company, as the case may be, ceases to hold the entire share capital of the subsidiary company at any time within a period of 8 years from the date of transfer between the two companies.

(i) The gains arising from transfer of a capital asset, being: (1) goodwill of a business; (2) a trademark or brand name associated with a business; (3) tenancy rights, stage carriage permits (i.e. route permits) or loom hours; (4) a right to manufacture, produce or process any article or thing (like patent right); and (5) right to carry on any business, is chargeable to tax as capital gain. Cost of its acquisition will be as explained on page 147.

(j) The gain arising on transfer of capital asset including intangible asset by a firm/sole proprietary concern to a company is not chargeable to capital gains u/s. 47(xiii)/47(xiv) if the firm/sole proprietary concern is succeeded by a company in a business carried on by it and the conditions prescribed in the proviso to section 47(xiii)/47(xiv) are complied with [For details, refer sub-item (q) of item 3 on page 143].

If the conditions specified in the proviso to section 47(xiii)/47(xiv) are not complied with by the firm/sole proprietary concern, the amount of profits and gains arising from the transfer of such capital asset/intangible asset not charged to tax u/s. 45 by virtue of conditions specified in the proviso to section 47(xiii)/47(xiv) shall be deemed to be taxable profit of the successor company in the previous year in which the requirements of the said proviso are not complied with [Section 47A(3)].

(k) Capital gain on repurchase of units referred to in section 80CCB(2): The difference between the repurchase price of units referred to in section 80CCB(2) [i.e., Equity Linked Savings Scheme] and capital value of such units [i.e., amount invested in such units] shall be chargeable to tax under the head “Capital gains” of the previous year in which such repurchase takes place or the plan referred to in section 80CCB is terminated [Section 45(6)].

(l) Buy back of shares: In the year of purchase by the company of its own shares/specified securities, the difference between the cost of acquisition [i.e., indexed cost u/s. 48] and the value of consideration received will be deemed to be capital gains arising to shareholder/holder of securities. “Specified securities” shall have the meaning assigned to it in the Explanation to section 77A of the Companies Act, 1956. It may be noted that such buy back of shares will not be considered as deemed dividend u/s. 2(22)(iv) [Section 46A].

[Sections 46(1) & 47¹⁰]

In view of this proviso, capital gain will be chargeable in such cases. It may be noted that if the transferee company converts the capital asset after the transfer as stock-in-trade, capital gain will be chargeable u/s. 47A(1) as explained in item 2(h) on page 141.

(e) Any transfer, in a scheme of amalgamation, of a capital asset by the amalgamating company to the amalgamated company if the amalgamated company is an Indian company. Refer section 47(vi).

(f) Any transfer, in a scheme of amalgamation, of a capital asset being share or shares held in an Indian company, by the amalgamating foreign company to the amalgamated foreign company, if:—

4. Mode of computation and deductions: (Sections 48, 49, 51 & 55)

Section 48 provides that, from the full value of consideration received or accruing as a result of the transfer of capital asset, the following amounts should be deducted to arrive at the amount of capital gains:

- (ii) the expenditure incurred on any improvement to the capital asset;
- (iii) expenditure incurred wholly and exclusively in connection with the transfer of the capital asset, such as stamp duty, registration charges, legal fees, brokerage, etc.

Under 2nd proviso to section 48, the cost of acquisition of a long-term (and not short-term) capital asset and cost of any improvement thereto is to be worked out as under:

(a) $\text{Cost of acquisition} \times \text{Cost Inflation Index of the year in which the asset is transferred} \div \text{Cost Inflation Index of the year of acquisition or the year beginning on 1-4-1981, whichever is later;}$

(b) $\text{Cost of improvement} \times \text{Cost Inflation Index of the year in which the asset is transferred} \div \text{Cost Inflation Index of the year of improvement to the asset.}$

The “Cost Inflation Index” will be notified by the Central Government for every year starting from financial year 1981-82 [vide clause (v) of the Explanation to section 48]. Accordingly, the Central Government has notified “Cost Inflation Index” for the financial years 1981-82 to 2008-09 vide Notification No. S.O. 709(E), dt. 20-8-1998 [233 ITR (St.) 29] read with Notification No. S.O. 773(E), dt. 20-9-1999, No. S.O. 586(E), dt. 21-6-2000, No. S.O. 510(E), dt. 11-6-2001, No. S.O. 647(E), dt. 19-6-2002, No. S.O. 844E, dt. 24-7-2003 [262 ITR (St.) 28], No. 742(E), dt. 29-6-2004 [268 ITR (St.) 207], No. S.O. 1132(E), dt. 12-8-2005 [277 ITR (St.) 9], No. S.O. 1571(E), dt. 19-9-2006 [286 ITR (St.) 29], No. S.O. 1356(E), dt. 3-8-2007 [292 ITR (St.) 172] & No. S.O. 2037(E), dt. 13-8-2008 [304 ITR (St.) 57]. Illustration: Mr. A purchased 1,000 square yards of land at Rs. 100 per square yard in 1970 and sold the same at Rs. 950 per square yard in December, 2008. The fair market value of the said plot of land as on 1-4-1981 was Rs. 150 per square yard. Expenditure incurred in connection with the sale on account of brokerage, etc. is Rs. 20,000. The long-term capital gain for assessment year 2009-10 is to be computed as under:

Sale price of 1,000 square yards @ Rs. 950 per square yard	..	..	..	..	Rs. 9,50,000
Less: (1) Cost of acquisition in 1970: 1,000 Sq. yds. @ Rs. 100 per Sq. yd.	..	..	..	Rs. 1,00,000

NOTES:

(1) The 1st proviso to section 48 provides a separate method of computation of capital gain (whether short-term or long-term) arising from the transfer of a capital asset being shares in, or debentures of, an Indian company held by non-resident Indian/non-resident. For further details, refer sub-item (c) of item (vii) on page 54.

(2) The provisions of adjusted cost as stated above will not apply to short-term capital gain in the case of all assesseees and also will not apply to long-term capital gain arising to a non-resident from the transfer of shares in, or debentures of, an Indian company referred to in 1st proviso to section 48.

(3) The 3rd proviso to section 48, provides that long-term capital gain arising from the transfer of a long-term capital asset being bond or debenture, other than capital indexed bonds issued by the Government, the cost of acquisition and cost of improvement will not be indexed. As a result, while computing the long-term capital gain/loss on transfer of bond/debenture, other than capital indexed bonds issued by the Government, only the actual cost of acquisition/improvement is to be taken into account. The cost of acquisition/improvement of capital indexed bonds issued by the Government is, however, to be indexed.

(4) The 4th proviso to section 48, provides that where shares, debentures or warrants referred to in the proviso to section 47(iii) are transferred under a gift or an irrevocable trust, the market value on the date of such transfer shall be deemed to be the full value of consideration received or accruing as a result of transfer for the purposes of section 48.

CAPITAL GAINS COMPUTATION

(5) The 5th proviso to section 48 provides that deduction will not be allowed in computing income chargeable under the head “Capital gains” in respect of any sum paid on account of securities transaction tax under Chapter VII of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2004 [Refer sub-item (D) of item 6 on page 153 and item 7 on page 162].

COST OF ACQUISITION AND COST OF IMPROVEMENT (Sections 49¹², 51 & 55)

Where any capital asset was negotiated for transfer on any previous occasion and as a result thereof, if any advance money is received and retained, the cost of the asset is to be reduced to the extent of advance money so received or retained in computing the cost of acquisition. Refer section 51.

EXAMPLE (i) Mr. A negotiated with Mr. B to transfer his immovable property (other than residential house) and received Rs. 15,000 as an earnest money in 1988. Mr. B failed to pay the stipulated price fixed for the property on the due date. The amount of Rs. 15,000 was forfeited and retained by Mr. A. Mr. A sold the said property to Mr. C in June, 2008 for Rs. 6,50,000. The cost of the property purchased in April, 1984 was Rs. 1,40,000. The long-term capital gain for assessment year 2009-10 is to be worked out as under:

Sale price of the property	Rs. 6,50,000
Less: Cost of acquisition: Property purchased in April, 1984	Rs. 1,40,000
Less: Earnest money retained	Rs. 15,000
	Rs. 1,25,000

Indexed cost of acquisition [Vide 2nd proviso to section 48]:

Rs. 1,25,000 (and not Rs. 1,40,000) $\times$ 582 ¹³ (being Cost Inflation Index of the financial year of sale i.e., 2008-09) $\div$ 125 ¹³ (being Cost Inflation Index of the financial year of acquisition i.e., 1984-85)	Rs. 5,82,000

Long-term capital gain chargeable to tax u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) [Refer item 8 on page 162]	Rs. 68,000

Where the capital asset became the property of the assessee before 1-4-1981, he has the option of substituting the fair market value as on 1-4-1981 in place of the original cost. Refer section 55(2)(b)(i).

Further, the fair market value as on 1-4-1981 is to be increased by any expenditure of a capital nature for additions or alterations made on or after that date. Refer sections 48 & 55(1)(b)(2).

EXAMPLE (ii) Mr. A purchased 10,000 square yards of land at 1 Rupee per square yard in 1964 and sold the same at Rs. 125 per square yard in December, 2008. The fair market value of the said plot of land as on 1-4-1981 was Rs. 15 per square yard. Cost of improvement incurred during financial year 1981-82 was Rs. 50,000. The long-term capital gain for assessment year 2009-10 is to be worked out as under:

Sale price of 10,000 Sq. yds. @ Rs. 125 per Sq. yd.	Rs. 12,50,000
Less: Cost of acquisition in 1964:
10,000 Sq. yds. $\times$ Re. 1 per Sq. yd.	Rs. 10,000
Fair Market value as on 1-4-1981:
10,000 Sq. yds. @ Rs. 15 per Sq. yd.	Rs. 1,50,000
Add: Cost of improvement incurred during financial year 1981-82	Rs. 50,000
	Rs. 2,00,000

Indexed cost of acquisition [Vide 2nd proviso to section 48]:

Rs. 2,00,000 [Rs. 1,50,000, being F.M.V. as on 1-4-1981 + Rs. 50,000, being cost of improvement during financial year 1981-82] $\times$ 582 ¹³ (being Cost Inflation Index of the financial year of sale i.e., 2008-09) $\div$ 100 ¹³ (being Cost Inflation Index of the financial year 1981-82)..	Rs. 11,64,000

Long-term capital gain chargeable to tax u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) [Refer item 8 on page 162]	Rs. 86,000

Note: For equity share quotation as on 1-4-1981, for the purposes of substituting fair market value in respect of computation of “capital gains” in relation to assessment year 1993-94 and onwards, refer pp. 171-178 of ITRR 2005-06 (67th Year of Publication).

Where the capital asset became the property of the assessee by any of the modes specified in section 49(1), the cost of acquisition of the asset shall be deemed to be the cost for which the “previous owner of the property” acquired it, as increased by the cost of any improvement of the asset incurred or borne by the previous owner or the assessee, as the case may be. However, if the cost for which the previous owner acquired the property cannot be ascertained, the fair market value on the date on which the capital asset became the property of the previous owner will be taken as such cost of acquisition [Section 55(3)].

Incidentally, for determining whether the capital asset is long-term or short-term [refer Note (2)(b) on page 139] the period for which such previous owner held the asset will also be added to the period for which the assessee held it [Vide Explanation 1(i)(b) to section 2(42A)]. If the said previous owner acquired the asset before 1-4-1981, the assessee will have the option to substitute the fair market value as explained in Example (ii) on page 146 [Vide section 55(2)(b)(ii)].

“Previous owner of the property” in relation to any capital asset owned by the assessee means the last previous owner who acquired it by a mode of acquisition other than those referred to in clauses (i) to (iv) of section 49(1) [Explanation to section 49(1)].

In the case of transfer of asset between holding and subsidiary companies, capital gain may arise to transferor company under section 47A [Vide item 2(h) on pp. 141-142 and item 3(d) on page 142]. If such capital gain is computed in the hands of transferor company, then for computing the capital gain in the hands of transferee company (when it sells the said asset), cost to the previous owner (i.e., transferor company) will not be taken into account. Instead, the cost at which the asset was transferred by the transferor company will be taken as the cost of acquisition of transferee company [Section 49(3)^{13a}].

COST OF ACQUISITION IN RESPECT OF GOODWILL, TRADE MARK, ETC.:

[Section 55(1)(b), 55(2)(a) and 55(2)(ab)]

Cost of acquisition of a capital asset being: (1) goodwill of a business; (2) a trade mark or brand name associated with a business; (3) a right to manufacture, produce or process any article or thing; (4) tenancy rights, stage carriage permits or loom hours; and (5) right to carry on any business, in a case where such asset is purchased by the assessee, the purchase price will be taken as cost of acquisition; and in any other case [not being a case falling u/s. 49(1)(i) to (iv)], cost of acquisition will be taken to be ‘nil’ [Section 55(2)(a)]. Cost of improvement will be ‘nil’ in respect of goodwill of a business, a right to manufacture, produce or process any article or thing and right to carry on any business [Section 55(1)(b)].

Cost of acquisition of a capital asset, being equity share(s) allotted to a shareholder of a recognised stock exchange in India under a scheme for demutualisation or corporatisation approved by the Securities and Exchange Board of India, will be the cost of acquisition of his original membership of the exchange [Section 55(2)(ab)]. However, cost of acquisition will be taken to be ‘nil’ in respect of trading or clearing rights of the recognised stock exchange acquired by a shareholder who has been allotted equity share(s) under the said scheme of demutualisation or corporatisation [Proviso to section 55(2)(ab)].

COST OF ACQUISITION IN RESPECT OF RIGHT ENTITLEMENT (i.e., RIGHT OFFER):

[Sections 2(42A) & 55(2)(aa)]

Under section 55(2)(aa), the cost of acquisition of right entitlement (i.e., right offer) in the hands of a shareholder/security holder and/or renouncee is to be arrived as under:

(1) in the case of a shareholder/security holder,–

(a) where such right offer is not renounced and such person exercises his right to subscribe to the right offer, the cost of acquisition of right offer is the amount actually paid for acquiring such right [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(iii)]. In such a case, the period of holding shall be reckoned from the date of allotment of such shares/securities [Vide sub-clause (d) in clause (i) of the Explanation 1 to section 2(42A)]. However, cost of acquisition of original shares/securities, on the basis of which the shareholder/security holder becomes entitled to right offer, is the amount actually paid for acquiring the original shares/securities [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(i)],

(b) where such right offer is renounced by him in favour of renouncee, the cost of acquisition of such right renounced is to be taken as ‘nil’ [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(ii)]. Sale price realised in respect of such right renounced will be taken as capital gain. The period of holding in the hands of renouncer will be computed from the date of offer made by the company/institution to the date of renouncement [Vide sub-clause (e) in clause (i) of the Explanation 1 to section 2(42A)]. Generally, it will be a short-term capital gain;

(2) in the case of renouncee in whose favour right offer is renounced, the cost of acquisition will be the aggregate of the amount of purchase price paid to the renouncer to acquire the right entitlement and the amount paid by him to the company/institution for subscribing to such right offer of shares/securities [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(iv)]. The period of holding in the hands of the renouncee will be reckoned from the date of allotment of such shares/securities [Vide sub-clause (d) in clause (i) of the Explanation 1 to section 2(42A)].

Illustration: Mr. A is a shareholder holding 1,000 shares of Messrs. X & Co. Ltd., the cost of which is Rs. 20,000 (i.e., amount actually paid to acquire shares). M/s. X & Co. Ltd. has made a right offer in the ratio of 1:2 at the rate of Rs. 50 per share (i.e., Rs. 10 face value plus Rs. 40 premium, per share). Right issue opened on 4-7-2008 and closed on 31-7-2008. The date of allotment of right issue was 14-8-2008. The cost of acquisition is to be worked out as under:

(1) In a case where Mr. A subscribes to 500 right shares offered by M/s. X & Co. Ltd.:

(a) Cost of 500 right shares @ Rs. 50 per share [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(iii)]	..	..	..	..	Rs.	25,000
(b) Cost of 1,000 original shares [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(i)]	..	..	..	..	Rs.	20,000
(c) The period of holding of 500 right shares will reckon from 14-8-2008 (i.e., date of allotment) [Vide sub-clause (d) in clause (i) of the Explanation 1 to section 2(42A)].

(2) In a case where Mr. A renounces on 16-7-2008, his right to 500 right shares in favour of Mr. B at the price of Rs. 10/- per share:

(a) Capital gain in respect of right renouncement in case of Mr. A would be the price realised and cost of right will be as under:
500 right shares renounced @ Rs. 10 per share	..	..	..	..	Rs.	5,000
Less: Cost of right entitlement [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(ii)]	..	..	..	..	Rs.	Nil
Capital gain	..	..			Rs.	5,000

The period of holding will be from 4-7-2008 (date of offer of right) to 16-7-2008 (date of renouncement) [Vide sub-clause (e) in clause (i) of the Explanation 1 to section 2(42A)].

Mr. A's short-term capital gain	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	5,000

(b) Cost of right shares in the hands of renouncee Mr. B will be the aggregate of:

Price paid by Mr. B to Mr. A for acquiring right entitlement [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(iv)] i.e., 500 right shares × Rs. 10 per share	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	5,000
Add: Amount paid by Mr. B to M/s. X & Co. Ltd. [Vide section 55(2)(aa)(iv)] i.e., 500 right shares × Rs. 50 per share	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	25,000
Cost of 500 right shares of M/s. X & Co. Ltd.	..	..	..	..	..	Rs.	30,000

The period of holding of 500 right shares will reckon from 14-8-2008 (i.e., date of allotment) [Vide sub-clause (d) in clause (i) of the Explanation 1 to section 2(42A)].

COST OF ACQUISITION IN RESPECT OF BONUS ISSUE:

[Sections 2(42A) & 55(2)(aa)]

Under section 55(2)(aa)(iiia), cost of bonus shares will be taken as 'nil' and the net sale proceeds will be treated as capital gain. This procedure will also apply to any other security¹⁴ where a bonus issue has been made. The period of holding of such bonus issue will be reckoned from the date of the allotment of such issue [Vide sub-clause (f) in clause (i) of the Explanation 1 to section 2(42A)]. It may be noted that for bonus issue sold on or after 1-4-1995, the aforesaid procedure will apply and the net sale proceeds will be chargeable either as short-term or long-term capital gain.

Illustration : Mr. A purchased 1,000 shares of X & Co. Ltd. on 10-6-1987 for Rs. 45,000. He was allotted 1,000 bonus shares of the said company on 10-12-2005. He sold the entire lot of 2,000 shares of X & Co. Ltd. on 7-4-2008 and Securities transaction tax paid on sale of shares is Rs. Nil. The net sale proceeds received is Rs. 1,90,000. The long-term capital gain for assessment year 2009-10 will be as under:

14. Refer footnote No. 2 on page 138.

Net sale proceeds of 2,000 shares of X & Co. Ltd. on 7-4-2008¹⁵ (Securities transaction tax paid is Rs. Nil) Rs. 1,90,000

Less: Indexed cost of shares of X & Co. Ltd.:

No. of shares	Date of acquisition	Cost of acquisition		Cost Inflation Index Factor ¹⁶		Indexed cost
1,000	10-6-1987	Rs. 45,000	×	582 ¹⁶ (Year of sale)	÷ 150 ¹⁶ (Year of acquisition)	= Rs. 1,74,600
1,000	10-12-2005	Rs. Nil ¹⁷	×	N.A. ¹⁷	=	Rs. Nil ¹⁷	Rs. 1,74,600

Long-term capital gain chargeable to tax u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii)¹⁵ [Refer item 8 on page 162] Rs. 15,400

- Notes: (1) If Mr. A had sold only 1,000 bonus shares on the said date for Rs. 95,000, the long-term capital gain will be Rs. 95,000, as the cost of bonus shares is to be taken as 'nil' vide section 55(2)(aa)(iia), and the indexed cost also will be 'nil'.
- (2) If the bonus shares referred to in note (1) were allotted on 10-12-2007¹⁵ instead of 10-12-2005, then, Rs. 95,000 [as computed in note (1) above] would be a short-term capital gain as the period of holding of such shares is less than one year [Vide sub-clause (f) in clause (i) of the Explanation 1 to section 2(42A)]. As Securities transaction tax paid is Rs. Nil, provisions of section 111A, charging short-term capital gains at the flat rate of such gains, will not apply.

COST OF ACQUISITION OF SHARES OR DEBENTURES OR BONDS IN A COMPANY RECEIVED ON CONVERSION OF DEBENTURES, ETC:

[Section 49(2A)]

Section 49(2A) provides that where the shares or debentures in a company, received on conversion of debentures, debenture-stock or deposit certificates, are sold, the cost of acquisition of such shares or debentures will be the value extinguished out of the cost of debenture, debenture-stock or deposit certificates.

Provisions of section 49(2A) as discussed above has been extended also to conversion of Foreign Currency Exchangeable Bonds referred to in section 47(xa) [Refer item (o) on page 143] in relation to assessment year 2008-09 and onwards. That is to say that where the shares or debentures in a company, received on conversion of the said Bonds, are sold, the cost of acquisition of such shares or debentures will be the value extinguished out of the said Bonds [vide substituted section 49 (2A)].

COST OF ACQUISITION OF SPECIFIED SECURITY IN THE CASE OF EMPLOYEES' STOCK OPTION [ESOP]:

[Section 49(2AA), 49(2B) & 49(2AB)]

Only for assessment year 2000-01, capital gain in respect of specified securities acquired under ESOP, by an employee by exercising stock option [referred to in section 17(2)(iia), for details, refer item (iv) on page 79], cost of acquisition thereof to the said employee shall be the fair market value on the date of exercise of option, in case the employee sells/transfers such securities [Section 49(2B)].

For assessment year 2001-02 to 2007-08, cost of acquisition of such securities [ESOP] to the employee will be its cost of acquisition, as determined under the ESOP or Scheme, which is in accordance with the guidelines issued by the Central Government. Where, however, the value of such securities has been treated as perquisite u/s. 17(2), for the reason that the allotment was not in accordance with such ESOP or Scheme, the cost of acquisition of such securities shall be the value treated as perquisite under that clause [Section 49(2AA)^{17a}]. Also refer item 3(c) on page 142.

From assessment year 2008-09 and onwards, where the capital gain arises from the transfer of specified security¹⁸ or sweat equity shares¹⁸, the cost of acquisition of such security or shares will be the fair market value which has been taken into account while computing the value of fringe benefits u/s. 115WC(1)(ba) [Section 49(2AB)]. Also refer item 3(c) on page 142.

5. Special provision for computation of capital gains in case of depreciable assets u/s. 32(1)(ii): (Section 50)

Capital gains in respect of depreciable asset referred to in section 32(1)(ii) is to be computed on the basis of block of assets. The conditions and method of computation are as under:

(1) The capital asset is an asset forming part of a block of assets¹⁹ in respect of which depreciation has been allowed [i.e., u/s. 32(1)(ii) & (iia)];

15. In respect of above shares sold, if its sale was through recognised stock exchange and Securities transaction tax had been paid, such long-term capital gain will be exempt u/s. 10(38) [For details, refer sub-item (D) of item 6 on page 153]. If the bonus shares had been allotted, say on 4-4-2008 are sold, say on 8-12-2008, and at the time of sale of bonus shares through recognised stock exchange, Securities transaction tax had been paid, such short-term capital gain will be chargeable to tax @ flat rate u/s. 111A(1)(i) [For details, refer item 7 on page 162].

16. For notification on Cost Inflation Index, refer pp. 144-145/cover page 3.

17. The cost of 1,000 bonus shares allotted on 10-12-2005 is to be taken as 'nil' vide section 55(2)(aa)(iia). As the cost is to be taken as 'nil', indexed cost also will be 'nil'.

17a. For the notes on substituted section 49(2AA) by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 5.1.

18. For the definition of 'specified security' & 'sweat equity shares', refer footnote No. 2 & 3 on page 199.

19. "Block of assets" means a group of assets falling within a class of assets comprising—

(a) tangible assets, being buildings, machinery, plant or furniture;

(b) intangible assets, being know-how, patents, copyrights, trade-marks, licenses, franchises or any other business or commercial rights of similar nature, in respect of which the same percentage of depreciation is prescribed [Section 2(11)].

 - the written down value of the block of assets at the beginning of the previous year; and
 - the actual cost of any asset falling within the block of assets acquired during the previous year,

(i) Expenditure incurred in connection with transfer Rs. 50,000 [Refer (d)]		Rs.	²¹ NIL
(ii) W.D.V. of plants 'A', 'B' & 'C' as on 1-4-2008 [Refer (a)]	..	Rs.	15,00,000
(iii) Actual cost of plant 'D' acquired during the previous year [Refer (b)]		Rs.	5,00,000		Rs.	20,00,000
Short-term capital gain	..				Rs.	5,00,000

Note: No depreciation is allowable in the above illustrations in respect of this block of assets. If, in the above illustration (2), sale proceeds (of all the asset in relevant block) had been Rs. 19,00,000 instead of Rs. 25,00,000, then, short-term capital loss would be Rs. 1,00,000 (Rs. 20,00,000 less Rs. 19,00,000) [Refer Example No. 3 of Circular No. 469, dt. 23-9-1986: 162 ITR (St.) 30].

The provisions of adjusted cost will not apply to short-term capital gain as the said provisions applies to long-term capital gain only vide 2nd proviso to section 48 [Refer item 4 on page 144 and Note (2) on page 145].

20. Since the W.D.V. is Rs. nil, the question of claiming depreciation, in respect of this block of assets, for the financial year ending on 31-3-2009 (assessment year 2009-10) would not arise.

21. In cases where all the assets of a particular block of assets are transferred during the previous year, there is no provision in sub-section (2) of section 50 for deduction of "expenditure incurred wholly and exclusively in connection with the transfer or transfers" while computing the short-term capital gains. In other words, expenditure in connection with transfer is not deductible from the sale proceeds in such cases.

SPECIAL PROVISION FOR COMPUTATION OF CAPITAL GAINS IN CASE OF DEPRECIABLE ASSET OF POWER SECTOR u/s. 32(1)(i):

(Section 50A)

Capital gain in respect of depreciable assets referred to in section 32(1)(i) [i.e., power sector] is to be computed in accordance with the provisions of section 50A and not as per section 50 discussed on pp. 149-150. For the purposes of capital gain on sale of such assets, where the asset is sold at a price exceeding the actual cost, provisions of sections 48 (mode of computation) & 49 (cost with reference to certain modes of acquisition) will apply subject to the modification that the written down value as defined in section 43(6), of the assets, as adjusted, shall be taken as cost of acquisition of the asset.

SPECIAL PROVISION FOR COMPUTATION OF CAPITAL GAINS IN CASE OF SLUMP SALE:

(Section 50B)

Any profits or gains arising from slump sale²² shall be chargeable to income-tax as long-term capital gains and it will be deemed to be capital gains of the previous year in which the transfer took place [Section 50B(1)]. However, where slump sale is of any capital asset being one or more undertakings owned and held by an assessee for not more than 36 months immediately preceding the date of its transfer shall be deemed to be a short-term capital gains [Proviso to section 50B(1)].

Where the undertaking or division is transferred in slump sale, the 'net worth' of the undertaking or division shall be deemed to be the cost of acquisition and the cost of improvement for the purposes of sections 48 (mode of computation) & 49 (cost with reference to certain modes of acquisition) and no indexation of such cost will be allowed as prescribed in the 2nd proviso to section 48 [Section 50B(2)].

In the case of slump sale, the assessee should furnish in the prescribed Form No. 3CEA along with the return of income, a report of an accountant as defined in the Explanation to section 288(2) indicating the computation of the 'net worth' of the undertaking or division and certifying that the 'net worth' has been correctly arrived at in accordance with the provisions of this section [Section 50B(3)]. W.e.f. 1-6-2006, Form No. 3CEA is not required to be furnished along with the return of income but on demand to be produced before the Assessing Officer [Vide sections 139C & 139D].

"Net worth" for the purposes of this section means the aggregate value of total assets of the undertaking or division as reduced by the value of liabilities of such undertaking or division as appearing in its books of account subject to condition that any change in the value of assets on account of revaluation of assets shall be ignored for the purposes of computing net worth [Explanation 1 to section 50B]. For computing the net worth, the aggregate value of total assets shall be: (a) in the case of depreciable assets, the written down value of the block of assets determined in accordance with section 43(6)(c)(i)(C); and (b) in the case of other assets, the book value of such assets [Explanation 2 to section 50B^{22a}].

SPECIAL PROVISION FOR FULL VALUE OF CONSIDERATION IN CERTAIN CASES:

(Section 50C^{22b})

Upto assessment year 2002-03, in the sale of land or building or both, the value declared in the transfer (sale) deed was taken as the full value of consideration for computing capital gains. There was no specific provision in the Income-tax Act to increase such declared price in the transfer (sale) deed.

Section 50C, w.e.f. 1-4-2003 (assessment year 2003-04 and onwards), provides that where the stamp valuation authority (SVA) has adopted or assessed or assessable^{22b} a value higher than the said declared price in the transfer (sale) deed for the purposes of stamp duty, the value so adopted or assessed or assessable^{22b} by the SVA will be taken to be full value of consideration received or receivable as result of transfer (sale) [Section 50C(1)].

However, an assessee may object and claim before the Assessing Officer (AO) that the value adopted or assessed or assessable^{22b} by the SVA is higher than the fair market value of the property on the date of transfer (sale) and the value so adopted or assessed or assessable^{22b} by the SVA has not been disputed in any appeal or revision or no reference has been filed before any other authority, court or the High Court, AO may refer the valuation of the property to the Valuation Officer (VO). All the provisions of the Wealth-tax Act in the matter of reference to the VO will be applicable to such reference made by the AO [Section 50C(2)].

Where the value ascertained by the VO exceeds the value adopted or assessed or assessable^{22b} by the SVA, the value adopted or assessed or assessable^{22b} by the SVA will be taken to be the full value of consideration for computing the capital gains [Section 50C(3)]. As a corollary, where the value estimated by the VO is less than that adopted or assessed or assessable^{22b} by the SVA, the value estimated by the VO will be taken as the full value of consideration.

W.e.f. 1-6-2002, in case where the value adopted or assessed by the SVA is disputed in appeal, reference, etc., as aforesaid, as and when the value adopted or assessed by the SVA is revised, the AO is empowered to amend the assessment order, wherein capital gains has been computed and assessed, within 4 years from the end of the previous year in which the order revising the value adopted by the SVA was passed in appeal or revision or reference [Section 155(15)].

22. "Slump sale" is defined to mean the transfer of one or more undertakings as a result of the sale for a lump sum consideration without values being assigned to the individual assets and liabilities in such sales [Section 2(42C)].

22a. For the notes on amendment made in the Explanation 2 to section 50B & section 50C by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 5.2. & 5.3.

22b. Upto 30-9-2009, for the words "assessed or assessable", read "assessed".

- (1) the residential house (original asset) is held for a period of more than three years;
- (2) the assessee has purchased a residential house (hereafter referred to as the new asset) within a period of one year before or two years after the date of transfer/sale of original asset or has constructed²⁴ a residential house (new asset) within a period of three years after the date of transfer/sale of the original asset;

23. An assessee shall be entitled to exemption even in respect of self-occupied residential house annual value of which is ‘nil’ under the head “Income from house property” by virtue of section 23(2) read with section 24 [Refer Circular No. 538, dt. 13-7-1989: 179 ITR (St.) 23].

24. (a) The Board has clarified that “if the amount of capital gain for the purposes of section 54, and the net consideration for the purposes of section 54F, is appropriated towards purchase of a plot (of land) and also towards construction of a residential house thereon, the aggregate cost should be considered for determining the quantum of deduction u/s. 54/54F, provided that the acquisition of plot (of land) and also the construction thereon are completed within the period specified in these sections” [vide Circular No. 667, dt. 18-10-1993: 204 ITR (St.) 103].

CAPITAL GAINS EXEMPTIONS

(3) where the amount of the capital gain is not appropriated or utilised for acquisition of the new asset before the due date of furnishing the return of income, it should be deposited by the assessee in an account with any specified bank or institution as explained in item (N) on page 159;

(4) the cost of the new asset (residential house) equals or exceeds the amount of capital gain.

Where the amount of capital gain is greater than the cost of new asset, the difference between the amount of capital gain and the cost of new asset will be chargeable as “long-term capital gain” of the previous year in which the original asset was sold.

Where the new asset is sold within 3 years from the date of its purchase or construction, as the case may be, the cost of new asset is to be reduced by the amount of capital gain exempted from tax on the original asset and the difference between the sale price of such new asset and such reduced cost will be chargeable as short-term capital gain and treated as the income of the previous year in which the new asset is sold.

EXAMPLE (iii): Mr. A is the owner of a residential house which was purchased in April, 1984 for Rs. 1,25,000. He sold the said residential house for Rs. 7,00,000 on 30-6-2008. The long-term capital gain as a result of transfer for the assessment year 2009-10 will be as under:

Sale price of the residential house	Rs. 7,00,000
Less: Cost of acquisition:
Purchased in April, 1984 for	Rs. 1,25,000
Indexed cost of acquisition under 2nd proviso to section 48:
Rs. 1,25,000 (cost of acquisition) × 582 ²⁵ (Cost Inflation Index of the financial year of sale i.e., 2008-09) ÷ 125 ²⁵ (Cost Inflation Index of the financial year of acquisition i.e., 1984-85) is	Rs. 5,82,000
Long-term capital gain chargeable to tax u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) [Refer item 8 on page 162]	Rs. 1,18,000

- (a) If Mr. A purchases on or after 1-7-2007 but before 30-6-2010²⁶ a residential house (new asset) for Rs. 2,50,000, the long-term capital gain of Rs. 1,18,000 will not be chargeable u/s. 45 for the assessment year 2009-10. But the cost of the new asset purchased shall be taken at Rs. 1,32,000 [Rs. 2,50,000 less Rs. 1,18,000] if the same is sold or transferred within 3 years from the date of its purchase.
- (b) If Mr. A constructs a residential house (new asset) costing Rs. 2,50,000²⁷ after 30-6-2008 but before 30-6-2011²⁶ then also the long-term capital gain of Rs. 1,18,000 is not chargeable u/s. 45 for the assessment year 2009-10. But the cost of the new asset shall be taken at Rs. 1,32,000 [Rs. 2,50,000 less Rs. 1,18,000] if the same is sold or transferred within 3 years of its construction.
- (c) In the above Example, if the cost of construction or purchase of the residential house (new asset) is Rs. 90,000, then, the long-term capital gain of Rs. 28,000 [Rs. 1,18,000 long-term capital gain of residential house (original asset) sold less Rs. 90,000 cost of residential house (new asset)] is chargeable u/s. 45 and income-tax thereon at the flat rate is payable u/s. 112 for the assessment year 2009-10.
- In this case, if the residential house (new asset) is sold within 3 years from the date of its purchase or construction, as the case may be, the whole amount of sale proceeds will be treated as short-term capital gain and will be included in the gross total income of the year in which such residential house (new asset) is sold or transferred as its cost at the time of sale will be taken to be ‘nil’ in view of the exemption of capital gain of Rs. 90,000 already allowed.
- (d) If the residential house (new asset) as stated above is sold after 3 years from the date of purchase or the construction, as the case may be, the cost of such residential house purchased or constructed is to be taken to be the actual cost and for the purpose of determining long-term capital gain arising on the sale, the provisions of indexed cost of acquisition would apply [Refer item 4 on page 144].

(F) TRANSFER OF LAND USED FOR AGRICULTURAL PURPOSES:

(Section 54B)

Where the capital gain arises on or after 1-3-1970 from the transfer of agricultural land which was used by the assessee or his parent for agricultural purposes for a period of two years immediately preceding the date of transfer, the capital gain arising as a result of transfer or sale of such agricultural land is not to be charged u/s. 45 provided the following conditions are fulfilled:

- the assessee has purchased any other land for being used for agricultural purposes within a period of two years after the date of transfer or sale; and
- the cost of the land so purchased equals or exceeds the amount of capital gain.

25. For notification on Cost Inflation Index, refer pp. 144-145/cover page 3.

26. If the amount of capital gain is not appropriated or utilised for acquisition of residential house (new asset) before the due date of furnishing return of income for the assessment year 2009-10, Mr. A will have to deposit the unappropriated or unutilised amount of capital gain in an account with any specified bank or institution before the due date for furnishing the return of income u/s. 139(1). For details, refer item (N) on page 159.

27. Refer footnote No. 24 on page 153.

In a case where the amount of capital gain is greater than the cost of agricultural land so purchased, the difference between the amount of capital gain and the cost of new agricultural land so purchased will be treated as capital gain relating to lands and buildings. If such new agricultural land is sold within a period of three years from the date of its purchase, its cost will be taken to be 'nil' and the entire amount received as a result of sale or transfer will be treated as capital gain relating to lands and buildings.

In a case where the amount of capital gain is less than or equal to the cost of new agricultural land, such capital gain will not be chargeable u/s. 45. However, where such new agricultural land is sold or transferred within a period of three years from the date of its purchase, the cost of such new agricultural land is to be reduced by the amount of capital gain which had been exempt from tax.

For computing capital gain and the cost of new asset, etc. under certain circumstances, please refer the method and manner explained in Example (iii) on page 154.

Where the amount of the capital gain is not utilised for acquisition of the new asset before the due date of furnishing the return of income, it should be deposited by the assessee in an account with any specified bank or institution as explained in item (N) on page 159.

(G) COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LANDS AND BUILDINGS IN THE CASE OF PERSONS OWNING INDUSTRIAL UNDERTAKING:

(Section 54D)

Section 54D provides relief from tax, in the case of persons owning industrial undertakings, in respect of capital gain arising on compulsory acquisition of any land or building used by them for the purposes of the business. This tax relief will be available only in cases where such compulsorily acquired land or building was used by the assessee for the purposes of the business of an industrial undertaking during the two years immediately preceding the date of compulsory acquisition and the assessee purchases any other land or building or constructs any other building within three years from the date of compulsory acquisition for the purposes of shifting or re-establishing the said undertaking or setting up another industrial undertaking. The capital gain, in such cases, will not be chargeable to tax u/s. 45 to the extent it is utilised for purchasing or constructing the new asset.

In a case where the amount of capital gain exceeds the cost of purchase of the other land or construction of the other building, the excess will be chargeable as capital gain u/s. 45. However, where such new land or building is sold within a period of three years, its cost will be taken to be 'nil' and the entire amount received as a result of sale or transfer will be treated as capital gain relating to lands and buildings.

In a case where the amount of capital gain is less than or equal to the purchase price or cost of construction (of new land and building), such capital gain will not be chargeable u/s. 45. However, as explained in Example (iii) on page 154, where such new land or building is sold or transferred within a period of three years from the date of its purchase or construction, as the case may be, the cost of such land or building is to be reduced by the amount of capital gain which had been exempted from tax.

Where the amount of the capital gain is not utilised for acquisition of the new asset before the due date of furnishing the return of income, it should be deposited by the assessee in an account with any specified bank or institution as explained in item (N) on page 159.

(H) LONG-TERM CAPITAL GAIN ON TRANSFER OF CAPITAL ASSETS NOT TO BE CHARGED IN THE CASE OF INVESTMENT OF CAPITAL GAIN IN CERTAIN BONDS:

3. the cost of the long-term specified asset is not less than the capital gain in respect of the original asset. If the cost of the long-term specified asset is less than the capital gain, then, capital gain proportionate to part of capital gain invested will be exempt. To illustrate, if cost of the long-term specified asset is, say, Rs. 50,000 and capital gain in respect of original asset is, say Rs. 60,000, then capital gain exempt u/s. 54EC(1)(b) will be Rs. 50,000 [i.e., Rs. 60,000 (capital gain) $\times$ Rs. 50,000 (investment in long-term specified asset) $\div$ Rs. 60,000 (capital gain) = Rs. 50,000]. The balance long-term capital gain Rs. 10,000 will be charged to tax u/s. 112(1).

After availing the exemption, the assessee has to retain the long-term specified asset for a minimum period of three years from the date of its acquisition.

If the long-term specified asset is transferred or converted (otherwise than by transfer) into money or the assessee takes loan or advance on the security of such long-term specified asset, at any time within a period of three years from the date of its acquisition, the amount of exempted capital gain on transfer of original asset will be deemed to be long-term capital gain—

- (a) of the previous year in which long-term specified asset is transferred or converted into money, or
- (b) of the previous year in which loan or advance is taken against security of such long-term specified asset. It may be noted that irrespective of the quantum of loan or advance taken, the entire exempted amount of capital gain will be brought to tax.

Where the cost of long-term specified asset is also eligible,—

- (a) for rebate of income-tax u/s. 88, the said rebate will not be allowed in relation to assessment year 2005-06 and earlier years, if the exemption is availed u/s. 54EC;
- (b) for deduction from income u/s. 80C, the said deduction will not be allowed in relation to assessment year 2006-07 and subsequent years, if the exemption is availed u/s. 54EC [Section 54EC(3)].

‘Cost’, in relation to any long-term specified asset, means the amount invested in such specified asset out of the capital gains received or accruing as a result of the transfer of the original asset.

(I) LONG-TERM CAPITAL GAIN ON TRANSFER OF CERTAIN LISTED SECURITIES OR UNIT, NOT TO BE CHARGED IN CERTAIN CASES:

(Section 54ED)

W.e.f. 1-4-2002, section 54ED provides that, where the capital gain arises from the transfer before 1-4-2006 (and not on or after 1-4-2006) of a long-term capital asset, being listed securities or unit, it will be exempt if the assessee has invested the capital gain in acquiring equity shares of an eligible issue of capital subject to fulfillment of conditions given hereunder:

1. the capital gain arises on or after 1-4-2001 but before 1-4-2006 (and not on or after 1-4-2006) from the transfer of long-term capital asset, being listed securities or unit (hereafter referred to as the ‘original asset’).

“Listed securities” is defined to mean listed securities as defined in clause (a) of the Explanation to section 112(1). As per the said clause, “Listed securities” means the securities as defined in section 2(h) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956; and such securities are listed in any recognised stock exchange in India. “Unit” means unit of a mutual fund specified in section 10(23D) or of the Unit Trust of India;

2. the assessee has, within a period of 6 months after the date of transfer or sale of the original asset, invested whole or any part of capital gain in acquiring equity shares forming part of an eligible issue of capital (such equity shares hereafter referred to as the ‘specified equity shares’).

“Eligible issue of capital” means an issue of equity shares made by an Indian public company and such shares forms part of the issue offered for subscription to the public;

3. the cost of specified equity shares is not less than the capital gain in respect of the original asset. If cost of the specified equity shares is less than the capital gain, then, capital gain proportionate to part of capital gain invested will be exempt.

After availing the exemption, assessee has to retain the specified equity shares for a minimum period of one year from the date of its acquisition.

If the specified equity shares are sold or transferred within a period of one year from the date of its acquisition, the amount of exempted capital gain on transfer of original asset will be deemed to be long-term capital gain of the previous year in which specified equity shares are sold or transferred.

Where the cost of the specified equity shares is also eligible,—

(a) for rebate of income-tax u/s. 88, the said rebate will not be allowed in relation to assessment year 2005-06 and earlier years, if the exemption is availed u/s. 54ED(1);

(b) for deduction from income u/s. 80C, the said deduction will not be allowed in relation to assessment year 2006-07 and subsequent years, if the exemption is availed u/s. 54ED(1) [Section 54ED(3)].

(J) LONG-TERM CAPITAL GAIN ON TRANSFER OF CERTAIN CAPITAL ASSETS NOT TO BE CHARGED IN CASE OF INVESTMENT IN RESIDENTIAL HOUSE:

(Section 54F)

The long-term capital gain arising from the transfer of any capital asset, not being a residential house, will be exempt if the assessee has purchased or constructed a residential house subject to the fulfillment of conditions given hereunder:

(i) the assessee is an individual or a Hindu undivided family;

(ii) the capital gain arises from the transfer of any long-term capital asset (hereafter referred to as the original asset) other than a residential house;

(iii) within a period of one year before or two years after the date of transfer or sale of original asset, the assessee purchases a residential house or constructs³⁰ a residential house (hereafter referred to as the new asset) within three years after the date of transfer/sale of original asset;

(iv) where the amount of the net consideration is not appropriated or utilised for acquisition of the new asset before the due date of furnishing the return of income, it should be deposited by the assessee in an account with any specified bank or institution as explained in item (N) on page 159.

(v) the cost of purchase or construction of new asset is not less than the net consideration in respect of the original asset;

(vi) on the date of transfer of original asset, the assessee—

(a) does not own more than one residential house, other than new asset,

(c) the income from such residential house, other than the one residential house owned on the date of transfer of the original asset, is chargeable under the head “Income from house property” [Proviso to section 54F(1)].

If these conditions are satisfied, the capital gain arising on sale or transfer of original asset will be wholly exempt.

Where only a part of the net consideration is invested in the new asset (viz. residential house), then, only proportionate capital gain will be exempt as explained in Example (iv) given hereafter.

After availing the exemption, the assessee—

(i) has to retain the new asset (residential house) for a period of not less than three years from the date of its purchase or construction, and

(ii) should not purchase any residential house other than new asset for a period of two years from the date of transfer of original asset or construct any residential house other than new asset for a period of three years from the date of transfer of original asset.

If the above conditions are not satisfied, then, the capital gain originally exempted on transfer of the original asset, shall be treated as long-term capital gain of the previous year in which such new asset is sold or residential house other than new asset is purchased or constructed, as the case may be. The residential house may be let out or self-occupied.

EXAMPLE: (iv) Mr. A transfers land (or any asset other than a residential house, bonds or debentures) on 6-6-2008 for a consideration of Rs. 9,37,000. The land was purchased on 1-6-1987 for Rs. 1,50,000. On 6-6-2008 he was owning residential house (‘RH-I’).

30. Refer footnote No. 24 on page 153.

31. Indexed cost of acquisition is arrived at as under:

Rs. 1,50,000 (Cost of acquisition) × 582 [being Cost Inflation Index of the financial year of sale i.e., 2008-09 (refer Notification on pp. 144-145)] ÷ 150 [being Cost Inflation Index of the financial year of acquisition i.e., 1987-88 (refer Notification on pp. 144-145)] = Rs. 5,82,000.

(Q) INCOME FROM GLOBAL DEPOSITORY RECEIPTS CHARGEABLE TO TAX AT LOWER RATE:

[Section 115ACA]

Assessment year 2006-07 and onwards:

Section 115ACA provides that any income by way of dividends, other than dividends referred to in section 115-O in respect of Global Depository Receipts (GDR) or income by way of long-term capital gains on transfer of GDR of an Indian company or its subsidiary⁴³, engaged in specified knowledge based industry or service⁴⁴, issued in accordance with notified Employees' Stock Option Scheme⁴⁵, and purchased in foreign currency by an individual, who is a resident and an employee of such Indian company or an employee of its subsidiary, the income-tax payable on such dividend income is 10% and 10% also on long-term capital gains arising on transfer/sale of such GDR. No deduction will be allowed to such employee under any other provisions of the Income-tax Act in respect of dividend income/long-term capital gains on GDR. In computing such long-term capital gains, provisions of 1st & 2nd provisos to section 48 will not apply.

Gross total income of such an employee will be reduced by dividend/long-term capital gains in respect of GDR and deduction under the Income-tax Act will be allowed as if the gross total income as so reduced were the gross total income of such an employee. Total income of such an employee will be reduced by dividend/long-term capital gain on GDR and income-tax will be calculated at rates in force. The aggregate tax payable will be the tax on GDR income and tax on total income as reduced by such GDR income. For the definition of "Global Depository Receipts"; "information technology service"; "information technology software"; and "Overseas Depository Bank", refer Explanation to section 115ACA.

7. Flat rate of income-tax on short-term capital gains on transfer of equity shares in a company or units of an equity oriented fund, on or after 1-10-2004:

[Section 111A]

Upto assessment year 2004-05, short-term capital gains arising from the transfer of equity shares in a company or units of an equity oriented fund is to be included in the total (taxable) income and tax is payable thereon at the applicable scheduled rates.

From assessment year 2005-06 and onwards, in the case of an assessee, any income arising from the transfer of a short-term capital asset, being an equity share in a company or a unit of an equity oriented fund and the transaction of sale of such equity share or unit is entered into (i.e., through recognised stock exchange) on or after the date on which the Securities Transaction Tax as provided in Chapter VII [Sections 96 to 115] of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2004 comes into force i.e., on or after 1-10-2004 [Vide Noti. No. 1058(E), dt. 28-9-2004: 270 ITR (St.) 120] & such transaction is chargeable to securities transaction tax⁴⁶ under that Chapter, such short-term capital gains will be taxed at the flat rate of 15% [10%, upto assessment year 2008-09] as I.T. The total (taxable) income as reduced by such short-term capital gains and long-term capital gains, income-tax on such reduced total income is payable at the applicable scheduled rates. The aggregate of income-tax is to be increased by S.C. on I.T., if any, and addl. S.C. on I.T. & S.C.

In the case of individual or a HUF, being a resident, where the total (taxable) income as reduced by such short-term capital gains, is below the exemption limit, such short-term capital gains will be reduced to the extent of short-fall and the balance of said short-term capital gains will be subject to flat rate of income-tax @ 15% [10%, upto assessment year 2008-09] [Refer Example (ix) on page 165 for the manner and method of arriving at short-fall]. The deductions under Chapter VI-A will be on gross total income as reduced by said short-term capital gains [Section 111A(2)]. The tax rebate⁴⁷ u/s. 88 [and not u/s. 88B/88C/88D/88E] will be on the total (taxable) income as reduced by such short-term capital gains [Section 111A(3)]. For the definition of the term "equity oriented fund", refer sub-item (D) of item 6 on page 153.

8. Tax on long-term capital gains:

[Section 112]

Where the total (taxable) income includes long-term capital gains, income-tax will be levied on taxable income as reduced by long-term capital gains at the rates specified in the annual Finance Act. The long-term capital gain will be subjected to flat rate of income-tax under section 112. In the case of all categories of assessee, in relation to assessment years 2006-07 to 2010-11, the flat rate of income-tax is 20%⁴⁸ plus surcharge on I.T. &

43. "Subsidiary" means subsidiary as defined in section 4 of the Companies Act, 1956 and includes subsidiary incorporated outside India.

44. "Specified knowledge based industry or service" means: (1) information technology software; (2) information technology service; (3) entertainment service; (4) pharmaceutical industry; (5) bio-technology industry; and (6) any other notified industry or service.

45. Notified scheme is "the Issue of Foreign Currency Convertible Bonds and Ordinary Shares (Through Depository Receipt Mechanism) Scheme, 1993": Refer 208 ITR (St.) 82 [vide Notification No. 1120(E), dt. 12-11-2001: 252 ITR (St.) 51].

46. Deduction will not be allowed in computing income chargeable under the head "Capital gains" in respect of any sum paid on account of securities transaction tax [5th proviso to section 48].

47. Rebate u/s. 88, 88B, 88C & 88D is not available for and from assessment year 2006-07 and onwards as said sections have been omitted w.e.f. 1-4-2006. Rebate u/s. 88E is not available for and from assessment year 2009-10 and onwards [vide section 88E(3)].

48. Long-term capital gains arising on transfer of foreign exchange asset [i.e., specified asset u/s. 115C(f)] is chargeable to income-tax at the flat rate of 10% by way of income-tax in the hands of non-resident Indians [Vide section 115E]. This flat rate of I.T. @ 10% is to be increased by surcharge, if any, at the specified rate and further increased by an addl. S.C. on I.T. & S.C.

addl. S.C. on I.T. & S.C.⁴⁹, if any.

However, proviso to section 112(1) provides that in the case of all categories of assessee, where income-tax on long-term capital gains on listed securities or unit or zero coupon bond computed in the normal manner as applicable to gains on other long-term capital assets (that is after indexation of cost of acquisition under 2nd proviso to section 48 and the flat rate of income-tax @ 20% of the gains), exceeds 10% of capital gains on the said securities or unit or zero coupon bond, computed without indexation of cost of acquisition, then such excess shall be ignored. In other words, the rate of income-tax on long-term capital gains arising from transfer of listed securities or unit or zero coupon bond will be 10% of the gains computed without indexation of cost. Further, income-tax computed u/s. 112 is to be increased by a surcharge, if any, at the specified rate, on income-tax so computed and further increased by an addl. S.C. on I.T. & S.C. [Refer Example (vii) hereafter].

“Listed securities” means the securities as defined in section 2(h) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956⁵⁰; and such securities are listed in any recognised stock exchange in India. “Unit” means unit of a mutual fund specified in section 10(23D) or of the Unit Trust of India.

The Central Board of Direct Taxes have clarified vide its Circular No. 721, dt. 13-9-1995 [215 ITR (St.) 113] that “Only that amount of long-term capital gains which is included in the total income would be subject to tax at a prescribed flat rate u/s. 112”. Thus, if there was loss of Rs. 20,000 from business and there is long-term capital gains of Rs. 1,00,000, then after setting off of business loss of Rs. 20,000 against long-term capital gains u/s. 71(2), only Rs. 80,000 [Rs. 1,00,000 long-term capital gains less Rs. 20,000 business loss set off u/s. 71(2)] would remain under the head “Capital gains” to be included in the gross total income or total income. The flat rate of tax u/s. 112 will be applicable in respect of Rs. 80,000 and not Rs. 1,00,000, since the amount of long-term capital gains included in the total income is Rs. 80,000.

In the case of individuals & Hindu undivided families where the total (taxable) income as reduced by long-term capital gain, is below the basic exemption limit, the long-term capital gain will be reduced to the extent of the short fall and the balance long-term capital gain will be subjected to the flat rate of income-tax [Refer Example (ix) on page 165].

The deduction under Chapter VI-A will be on gross total income as reduced by the long-term capital gain. In other words, such reduced gross total income will be deemed to be the gross total income of the assessee for the purposes of deductions under Chapter VI-A [Section 112(2)].

The tax rebate⁵¹ u/s. 88 [and not u/s. 88B/88C/88D/88E] will be on total (taxable) income as reduced by long-term capital gain. In other words, tax rebate u/s. 88⁵¹ will be allowed from income-tax computed on such reduced total (taxable) income [Section 112(3)].

It may be noted that the senior citizens who are eligible for rebate of income-tax u/s. 88B⁵¹, women assessee below age of 65 years who are eligible for rebate of income tax u/s. 88C⁵¹ and an assessee who is entitled to rebate u/s. 88D⁵¹ & 88E⁵¹, such tax rebate u/s. 88B/88C/88D/88E will be allowed from income-tax computed on total (taxable) income inclusive of long-term capital gain, as the provisions of section 112(3) are applicable only in respect of tax rebate allowable u/s. 88⁵¹ and not to tax rebate allowable u/s. 88B/88C/88D/88E⁵¹.

EXAMPLE (vii): Mr. A has sold units, not being unit of an equity oriented fund, of a mutual fund for Rs. 1,00,000 on 11-6-2008. The cost of acquisition of such units purchased on 9-4-2002 is Rs. 44,700. Income from other sources of Mr. A is Rs. 12,00,000. The tax on long-term capital gain payable u/s. 112(1) by Mr. A for assessment year 2009-10 will be as under:

		COMPUTATION OF INCOME-TAX: u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) under proviso to section 112(1)
Sale proceeds of units, not being unit of an equity oriented fund (sold on 11-6-2008)	Rs. 1,00,000	Rs. 1,00,000	Rs. 1,00,000
Less: Cost of acquisition of shares purchased on 9-4-2002	Rs. 44,700	—	Rs. 44,700
Indexed cost of acquisition under 2nd proviso to section 48 : Rs. 44,700 (cost of acquisition) × 582 ⁵² (CII of F.Y. of sale i.e., 2008-09) ÷ 447 ⁵² (CII of financial year of purchase i.e., 2002-03)	Rs. 58,200	—	—
Long-term capital gains chargeable to income-tax	Rs. 41,800	Rs. 55,300	Rs. 55,300
Flat rate of I.T. @ 20% on Rs. 41,800 u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii)	(A) Rs. 8,360
Flat rate of I.T. @10% on Rs. 55,300 under proviso to section 112(1)		(B) Rs. 5,530

49. Income-tax payable u/s. 112 is to be increased by surcharge, if any, at the specified rate of such income-tax. In the case of a foreign company, income-tax payable u/s. 112 is to be increased by surcharge on such income-tax. I.T. & S.C. is to be further increased by an addl. S.C. on I.T. & S.C.

50. As per section 2(h) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, “securities” includes shares, scrips, stocks, bonds, debentures, debenture stock or other marketable securities of a like nature in or of any incorporated company or other body corporate; Government securities; such other instruments as may be declared by the Central Government to be securities; and rights or interest in securities.

CAPITAL GAINS TAX ON LONG-TERM

COMPUTATION OF INCOME-TAX: u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) under proviso to section 112(1)

As the income-tax on long-term capital gains computed u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) Rs. 8,360 [Refer (A)] exceeds Rs. 5,530 [Refer (B)] being income-tax on long-term capital gains computed under proviso to section 112(1), excess of Rs. 2,830 is to be ignored and the income-tax payable on long-term capital gains is	Rs.	5,530
Add: As the total income exceeds Rs. 10,00,000, surcharge @ 10% on income-tax Rs. 5,530 [vide Paragraph A of Part I of the First Schedule to the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009 read with 1st proviso to section 2(3) of the said Act] i.e., 10% on Rs. 5,530	Rs.	553
Add: Addl. S.C. (i.e., Education Cess & Sec. High. Edu. Cess) @ 2% + 1% on I.T. & S.C. Rs. 6,083 (i.e., Rs. 5,530 plus Rs. 553)	Rs.	182
Tax payable on long-term capital gains u/s. 112(1)	Rs.	6,265

- Notes:
- If in the above example, if the said units had been purchased on 9-4-1995 instead of on 9-4-2002, the indexed cost of acquisition will be Rs. 92,581 (i.e., Rs. 44,700 × 582⁵³ ÷ 281⁵³) and long-term capital gains will be Rs. 7,419 (Rs. 1,00,000 less Rs. 92,581). Flat rate of income-tax @ 20% u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) on Rs. 7,419 is Rs. 1,484. As Rs. 1,484 does not exceed Rs. 5,530 [being 10% on long-term capital gains Rs. 55,300 (as worked out on page 163)], income-tax payable is Rs. 1,484 which is to be increased by surcharge Rs. 148 (being 10% of Rs. 1,484 I.T.) & addl. S.C. Rs. 49 [being addl. S.C. @ 3% on I.T. & S.C. Rs. 1,632 (Rs. 1,484 + Rs. 148)] and tax payable is Rs. 1,681 (Rs. 1,484 + Rs. 148 + Rs. 49).
 - If equity shares or units, being unit of an equity oriented fund, of a mutual fund, had been sold through recognised stock exchange and securities transaction tax had been paid at the time of sale, the long-term capital gains would be exempt u/s. 10(38) [For details, refer sub-item (D) of item 6 on page 153].

Assessment year 2006-07 & onwards:

Example in respect of right of substitution of the fair market value as on 1-4-1981:

Under section 55(2), where the capital asset became the property of the assessee before the 1st day of April, 1981, the assessee has the option of substituting the fair market value as on 1-4-1981, in place of the original cost for the purposes of "Capital gains".

EXAMPLE: Mr. A sold the following limited companies' shares on 18th April, 2008. His total income excluding long-term capital gain is Rs. 2,00,000. The said shares are not sold through a recognised stock exchange and no securities transaction tax is paid thereon.

Total		Rs. 58,200		Rs. 4,99,800	Rs. 4,41,600

In the above example "Capital gains" is to be computed as under:

Name of the Co.	Sale proceeds 1	Cost of shares 2	Fair Market value as on 1-4-1981 3	Indexed cost of acquisition 4	Long-term capital gains (1 less 4) 5
A & Co. Ltd.	Rs. 3,15,500	—	Rs. 50,000 ³	Rs. 2,91,000 ⁴	Rs. 24,500

C & Co. Ltd.	Rs. 63,100	Rs. 18,200 ⁶	—	Rs. 58,200 ⁷	Rs. 4,900
Total	Rs. 4,99,800			Rs. 4,65,600	Rs. 34,200

Income-tax @ flat rate of tax @ 20% on long-term capital gains of Rs. 34,200 u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) Rs. 6,840

Add: Additional surcharge @ 3% on I.T. Rs. 6,840 [vide section 2(11)/(12) of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009] Rs. 205

I.T. & Addl. S.C. payable on long-term capital gains Rs. 34,200 u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) Rs. 7,045

Notes: (1) It is assumed that none of the above companies have issued either bonus shares or right shares from 1-4-1981 to 18-4-2008.

(2) If the shares of public limited companies had been sold through recognised stock exchange and securities transaction tax had been paid thereon at the time of sale, such long-term capital gains would be exempt u/s. 10(38) [For details, refer sub-item (D) of item 6 on page 153].

(3) As the income-tax payable u/s. 112(1)(a)(ii) Rs. 6,840 does not exceed Rs. 41,160 under proviso to section 112(1)[i.e., @ 10% of Rs. 4,11,600 (Rs. 4,99,800 sales proceeds less Rs. 88,200 (Rs. 50,000 FMV + Rs. 20,000 FMV + Rs. 18,200 cost))], provisions of the said proviso will not apply.

100	30-6-1970	Rs. 35,000	Refer ¹¹	×	582 ¹⁰ (year of sale)	÷ 100 ¹⁰ (as on 1-4-1981)	= Rs. 2,03,700
50	30-9-1978	Rs. Nil ¹²	Rs. 15,000 ¹³	×	582 ¹⁰ (year of sale)	÷ 100 ¹⁰ (as on 1-4-1981)	= Rs. 87,300

12. Cost of acquisition of bonus shares is to be taken as 'nil' vide section 55(2)(aa)(iiia).

13. Since 50 bonus shares have been allotted on 30-9-1978, i.e., prior to 1-4-1981, FMV as on 1-4-1981 Rs. 15,000 (50 shares × Rs. 300 per share) is taken for the purpose of indexed cost.

By 30th September ¹⁴ , for assessment year 2008-09 and subsequent years By 31st October ¹⁴ , upto assessment year 2007-08
(b) in the case of any other assessee other than (a) above	By 31st July ¹⁴

Note: Every company or a firm shall furnish on or before the due date the return in respect of its income or loss in every previous year [3rd proviso to section 139(1)].

Every person, being an individual or HUF or AOP or BOI or an artificial juridical person, if his total income or total income of any other person in respect of which he is assessable under the Income-tax Act during the previous year, before giving effect to the provisions of sections 10A or 10B or 10BA or deductions under Chapter VI-A exceeds the maximum amount which is not chargeable to income-tax, then such person has to, on or before the due date, file his return of income or income of such other person in the prescribed form. To illustrate for assessment year 2009-10, Mr. A, aged 45 years, has income from various sources, say Rs. 2,00,000. He is entitled to deductions under Chapter VI-A, say Rs. 60,000. The total income would be Rs. 1,40,000 (Rs. 2,00,000 less Rs. 60,000). Since his income before deductions under Chapter VI-A (Rs. 2,00,000) exceeds the basic exemption limit of Rs. 1,50,000, he is required to file his return of income even though his total income is Rs. 1,40,000 (i.e., below exemption limit), after availing deductions under Chapter VI-A [4th proviso to section 139(1)].

Section 139(1A) provides that an individual receiving salary income may, at his option, furnish his return of income to his employer, in accordance with and subject to the conditions specified in the notified scheme, i.e., 'Scheme for Filing of Returns by Salaried Employees through Employer, 2004' [Refer 265 ITR (St.) 35]. The employer in turn shall furnish all such returns received by him from the employees before the due date in such form (including on a floppy, diskette, magnetic cartridge tape, CD-ROM or any other computer readable media) and manner as specified in the said Scheme. The employee in such a case will be deemed to have furnished a return of income u/s. 139(1).

Section 139(1B) provides that return of income can be filed, at the option of the assessee, on or before the due date specified u/s. 139(1), in accordance with and subject to the conditions specified in the scheme notified by the Board¹⁵, in such form (including on a floppy, diskette, magnetic cartridge tape, CD-ROM or any other computer readable media) and in the manner as may be specified in the said notified scheme. The assessee in such a case will be deemed to have furnished a return of income u/s. 139(1).

Section 139(4C) provides that every: (a) scientific research association referred to in section 10(21); (b) news agency referred to in section 10(22B); (c) association or institution referred to in section 10(23A);

13. Under rule 114C(1), class or classes of persons to whom provisions of section 139A shall not apply are —

(a) the persons who have agricultural income and are not in receipt of any other income chargeable to income-tax subject to the condition that such person shall make declaration in Form No. 61 in respect of transactions referred to in (a) to (p) of footnote No. 11 on page 175;

(b) the non-residents referred to in section 2(30);

(c) Central Government, State Government and Consular Offices in transactions where they are payers.

Every persons including persons referred to in rule 114C(2) shall ensure that PAN has been duly and correctly quoted in the document or declaration received by such person in respect of transaction referred to in (a) to (p) of footnote No. 11 on page 175.

Under rule 114D, every person referred to in rule 114C(2) shall forward to the Commissioner of Income-tax (Central Information Branch) copies of declaration of Form No. 60/61. However, copies of declaration furnished in respect of transactions referred to in (f) of footnote No. 11 on page 175 (i.e., opening a bank account) shall not be furnished to the said authorities.

Copies of declaration in Form No. 60/61 shall be forwarded in 2 instalments, that is, the forms received upto 30th September, shall be forwarded latest by 31st October of that year and the declaration till the 31st March shall be furnished latest by 30th April of that year.

14. For extended 'Due date' in relation to assessment years 2006-07 to 2008-09, refer 'footnote No. '32' on page 190.

15. The scheme notified is: (a) "Electronic Furnishing of Return of Income Scheme, 2007" [Vide Notification No. S.O. 1281(E), dt. 27-7-2007; 292 ITR (St.) 161]; & (b) "Furnishing of Return of Income on Internet Scheme, 2004" [Vide Notification No. S.O. 1074, dt. 30-9-2004; 270 ITR (St.) 44].

(d) institution referred to in section 10(23B); (e) fund or institution, trust, hospital, etc. referred to in section 10(23C)(iiiad)/(iiiae)/(iv)/(v)/(vi)/(via); and (f) trade union referred to in section 10(24)(a)/(b), will have to file its return of income in the prescribed Form, if income, without giving effect to provisions of section 10, exceeds the maximum amount not chargeable to income-tax. All the provisions of the Income-tax Act shall apply as if it were a return required to be furnished u/s. 139(1).

Section 139(4D) provides that every university, college or other institution referred to in section 35(1)(ii)/(iii), which is not required to furnish return of income or loss under any other provision of section 139, shall furnish the return in respect of income or loss as if it were a return required to be furnished u/s. 139(1).

The assessee is required to furnish prescribed information along with return of income. Details of his bank account and credit card held by him also should be furnished along with the return of income [Section 139(6)].

The dates specified on page 176 are mandatory. The Assessing Officer does not have power to extend the due dates mentioned above. Assessing Officer will not issue notice u/s. 139 requiring the assessee to furnish the return of income. But he may issue such a notice u/s. 142(1)(i), if the assessee has not filed a return *within the time allowed u/s. 139 (1) or before the end of the relevant assessment year*¹⁶. To illustrate, if the return of income for the assessment year 2009-10 is not filed by 31-7-2009, by an assessee falling under category (b) on page 176, Assessing Officer may issue notice u/s. 142(1)(i) to the assessee to furnish the said return of income, on or after 1-8-2009.

Where an assessee files a return of income after the due dates mentioned on page 176, interest at specified rate for every month or part of a month of the delay in filing return will be levied u/s. 234A in the manner explained in item 1(a) on page 189. Where a return of income is filed after the end of the relevant assessment year, penalty will be levied u/s. 271F (For details, refer page 197).

SCHEME TO FACILITATE SUBMISSION OF RETURN OF INCOME THROUGH TAX RETURN PREPARERS:

For enabling any specified class or classes of persons in preparing and furnishing returns of income, section 139B, w.e.f. 1-6-2006, empowers the Board to frame a Scheme to be notified¹⁷. The said Scheme shall authorise a Tax Return Preparer (TRP) to assist the specified class or classes of persons in preparing and furnishing their returns of income and also to affix his signature on such return [Sections 139B(1)/(2)].

‘TRP’ means an individual, other than persons referred to in section 288(2)(ii) [i.e., any officer of a scheduled bank with which the assessee maintains a current account or has other regular dealings] or section 288(2)(iii) [i.e., any legal practitioner who is entitled to practice in any civil court in India] or section 288(2)(iv) [i.e., a chartered accountant] or an employee of the ‘specified class or classes of persons’, and who has been authorised to act as a TRP under the Scheme [Section 139B(3)(a)].

‘Specified class or classes of persons’ means any person, other than a company or a person, whose accounts are required to be audited u/s. 44AB or under any other law, who is required to furnish a return of income under the Income-tax Act [Section 139B(3)(b)].

The Scheme framed by the Board u/s. 139B may provide for the following:-

- (a) the manner in which and the period for which the TRPs shall be authorised u/s. 139B(3);
- (b) the educational and other qualifications to be possessed, and the training and other conditions required to be fulfilled, by a person to act as a TRP;
- (c) the code of conduct of the TRPs;
- (d) the duties and obligations of the TRPs;
- (e) the circumstances under which the authorisation given to a TRP may be withdrawn;
- (f) any other matter which is required to be specified by the Scheme for the purposes of section 139B [Section 139B(4)].

(ii) Loss return: [Section 139(3) read with section 80]

If any person has suffered a loss in any previous year under the head “Profits or gains of business or profession” or under the head “Capital gains” and claims that the loss be carried forward and set off against the profits under the same head for the subsequent assessment year, then, he must file the return of income showing the loss within the time allowed under section 139(1) [i.e., by the due date for furnishing the return], failing which he would forfeit his right to the carry forward of the loss to succeeding year(s). For further details regarding carry forward of loss, refer page 183.

(iii) Belated return: [Section 139(4)]

If an assessee has not furnished a return of income under section 139(1) or in response to notice under section 142(1)(i), he may furnish the return at any time before the expiry of one year from the end of the relevant assessment year or before the completion of the assessment, whichever is earlier.

The assessee will be liable to pay interest under section 234A, for the period of delay [Refer Interest Chart on page 194]. Where a return of income is filed after the end of the relevant assessment year, penalty will be levied u/s. 271F [For details, refer page 197].

16. Upto 31-3-2006, for the words “within the time allowed u/s. 139(1) or before the end of the relevant assessment year” read “within the time allowed u/s. 139(1)”.

17. Notified scheme is “Tax Return Preparer Scheme, 2006” [Vide Notification No. 2039(E), dt. 28-11-2006: 287 ITR (St.)113].

(iv) Revised return:
[Section 139(5)]

If after furnishing a return, any omission or wrong statement is discovered, a revised return can be filed under section 139(5) at any time before the expiry of one year from the end of the relevant assessment year or before the completion of the assessment, whichever is earlier. No interest under section 234A is chargeable on the basis of the date of filing of the revised return.

(v) Defective return:
[Sections 139(9), 139C & 139D]

The procedure for assessment as laid down in Chapter XIV of the Income-tax Act starts with the filing of return of income under the provisions of section 139. It is, therefore, essential that the return filed should be correct and complete in all respects and should be accompanied by prescribed statements and copies of accounts and proofs in respect of tax deducted/collected at source and the advance tax and tax on self-assessment, if any, claimed to have been paid.

Where the Assessing Officer considers that the return of income furnished by the assessee is defective, he may intimate the defect to the assessee for rectifying the same within 15 days from the date of such intimation or within such further period which he may grant, on an application made in this behalf. If the defect is not rectified within the period allowed, the return filed will be treated as invalid and the assessee would render himself liable to the resultant consequences such as ex-parte assessment, interest for non-submission of a valid return, etc. The requirements which will have to be fulfilled in order to ensure that a return is not considered to be defective are mentioned in the Explanation to sub-section (9) of section 139 given hereafter. It will, therefore, be in the interest of the assessee to conform to the specified requirements in order to avoid any penal actions consequent on the filing of a defective return.

However, where the defect is rectified after the expiry of 15 days or extended time allowed by the Assessing Officer but before the assessment is made, the Assessing Officer may condone the delay and treat the return as a valid return.

REQUIREMENTS TO BE FULFILLED UNDER EXPLANATION TO SECTION 139(9):

A return of income shall be regarded as defective unless all the following conditions are fulfilled:

(i) the annexures, statements and columns in the return of income relating to computation of income chargeable under each head of income, computation of gross total income and total income have been duly filled in;

(ii) the return is accompanied by a statement showing the computation of the tax payable on the basis of the return;

Return of income shall not be regarded as defective if: (a) certificate for tax deducted at source/collected at source (w.e.f. 1-4-2007) was not furnished u/s. 203/206C to the person furnishing his return of income; and (b) such certificate is produced within a period of 2 years specified in section 155(14). Under section 155(14), the said period is within 2 years from the end of the assessment year relevant to previous year and subject to condition that the income covered under TDS/TCS certificate has been disclosed in the return of income filed by the assessee for the relevant assessment year;

(iv) where regular books of account are maintained by the assessee, the return is accompanied by copies of—

(a) manufacturing account, trading account, profit & loss account or income and expenditure account or any other similar account and balance-sheet;

(vi) where the accounts have been audited u/s. 44AB of the Income-tax Act, the return is accompanied by:

(a) the report of audit referred to in section 44AB, if the return is filed by the 'due date' of furnishing the return of income,

(b) a copy of the report of audit u/s. 44AB and proof of filing thereof, if the return is filed after the 'due date' of furnishing the return of income;

(vii) where regular books of account are not maintained by the assessee, the return is accompanied by—

(1) a statement indicating the amounts of turnover or gross receipts, gross profit, expenses and net profit of the business or profession and the basis on which such amounts have been computed, and

(2) the list of sundry debtors, sundry creditors, stock-in-trade and cash balance as at the end of the previous year.

W.e.f. 1-6-2006, section 139C provides that the Board may make rules providing for a class or classes of persons who may not be required to furnish documents, statements, receipts, certificates, reports of audit or any other documents, which are otherwise required to be furnished along with the return under any other provisions of the Income-tax Act, other than section 139D. However, on demand the said documents, statements, receipts, certificates, reports of audit or any other documents are to be produced before the Assessing Officer.

W.e.f. 1-6-2006, section 139D provides that the Board may make rules providing for the class or classes of persons who shall be required to furnish the return of income in electronic form¹⁸; the form and the manner in which the return of income in electronic form may be furnished; the documents, statements, receipts, certificates or audited reports which may not be furnished along with the return of income in electronic form but have to be produced before the Assessing Officer on demand; the computer resource or the electronic record to which the return of income in electronic form may be transmitted.

5. ASSESSMENTS AND REASSESSMENTS UNDER THE INCOME-TAX ACT, 1961

(i) Self-assessment:

(Section 140A)

Under section 140A(1), if any tax is payable on the basis of any return required to be furnished under section 115WD or 115WH or 139 or 142(1)(i) or 148 or 153A or 158BC, then, such tax shall be paid before the filing of the return and the return shall be accompanied by proof of payment of such tax (i.e., a copy of the self-assessment challan). Interest, if any, payable for delayed filing of return of income u/s. 234A [Refer page 189] or for default or deferment in payment of advance tax u/s. 234B & 234C [Refer item (7)(i) & (7)(ii) on pp. 291-294], such interest upto the date of furnishing the return also should be paid along with self-assessment tax.

Self-assessment tax is payable after taking into account, —

- (a) the amount of tax already paid under any provision of the Income-tax Act;
- (b) any tax deducted or collected at source;
- (c) any relief of tax or deduction of tax claimed u/s. 90 or 91 on account of tax paid in a country outside India (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards);
- (d) any relief of tax claimed u/s. 90A on account of tax paid in any specified territory outside India referred to in that section (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); and
- (e) any tax credit claimed to be set off in accordance with the provisions of section 115JAA (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards).

Where the amount paid as self-assessment falls short of tax and interest payable on the basis of return, the amount paid will be first adjusted against the interest and the balance, if any, against the tax payable.

For the purpose of computing the interest payable u/s. 140A(1), —

- (1) interest u/s. 234A is to be computed on the amount of the tax on the total income as declared in the return as reduced by the amount of, —
 - (a) advance tax, if any, paid;
 - (b) any tax deducted or collected at source;
 - (c) any relief of tax or deduction of tax claimed u/s. 90 & 91 on account of tax paid in a country outside India (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards);

18. The scheme notified is "Electronic Furnishing of Return of Income Scheme, 2007 [Vide Notification No. S.O. 1281(E), dt. 27-7-2007:292TR(St.) 161].

19. Authorised person should hold a valid power of attorney to do so and the same should be attached to the return.

(d) any relief of tax claimed u/s. 90A on account of tax paid in any specified territory outside India referred to in that section (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); and

(e) any tax credit claimed to be set off in accordance with the provisions of section 115JAA (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards) [Section 140A(1A)],

(2) interest u/s. 234B is to be computed on an amount equal to the 'assessed tax' or, as the case may be, on the amount by which the advance tax paid falls short of the 'assessed tax'. 'Assessed tax', for this purpose, means the tax on total income as declared in the return as reduced by the amount of, —

(a) tax deducted or collected at source, in accordance with provisions of Chapter XVII, on any income which is subject to deduction or collection and which is taken in account in computing such total income;

(b) any relief of tax or deduction of tax claimed u/s. 90 or 91 on account of tax paid in a country outside India (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards);

(c) any relief of tax claimed u/s. 90A on account of tax paid in any specified territory outside India referred to in that section (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); and

(d) any tax credit claimed to be set off in accordance with the provisions of section 115JAA (from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards) [Section 140A (1B)].

For the failure to pay the self-assessment tax, the assessee would be deemed to be in default u/s. 140A(3) and recovery proceedings would be initiated against him. However, there is no provision to levy penalty for such default u/s. 140A(3).

(ii) Regular assessment:

(Sections 143 & 144)

Regular assessment means the assessment made under section 143(3) or section 144.

(A) ACCEPTANCE OF RETURN WITHOUT CALLING THE ASSESSEE:

[Section 143(1)]

(1) W.e.f. 1-4-2008

The substituted section 143(1), w.e.f. 1-4-2008, provides that where a return has been filed u/s. 139, or in response to a notice u/s. 142(1), such return shall be processed in the manner discussed hereafter.

The total income or loss of an assessee shall be computed u/s. 143(1) after making the following adjustments to the total income or loss in the return—

(a) any arithmetical error in the return; or

(b) an incorrect claim, if such incorrect claim is apparent from any information in the return. The Explanation (a) to section 143(1) defines the term “an incorrect claim apparent from any information in the return” as such claim on the basis of an entry, in the return: (1) of an item, which is inconsistent with another entry of the same or some other item in such return; (2) in respect of which the information required to be furnished to substantiate such entry has not been furnished under the Income-tax Act; and (3) in respect of a deduction, where such deduction exceeds specified statutory limit which may have been expressed as monetary amount or percentage or ratio or fraction.

The tax and interest, if any, shall be computed on the basis of total income computed as above and intimation shall be sent to the assessee accordingly. Similarly, refund if any due shall be granted to the assessee on the basis of the income so computed. Intimation shall also be sent to the assessee where the loss declared in the return is adjusted, but no tax or interest or refund is due [1st proviso to section 143(1)]. Intimation shall be sent before the expiry of one year from the end of the financial year in which the return is filed [2nd proviso to section 143(1)]. The acknowledgement of the return shall be deemed to be intimation, in cases where no tax or refund is due and where no adjustment is made [Explanation (b) to section 143(1)].

The Board may formulate a scheme for centralised processing of returns with a view to expeditiously determining the tax payable by, or refund due to, the assessee [Section 143(1A)]. For the purpose of giving effect to the scheme made u/s. 143(1A), the Central Government may issue a notification in the Official Gazette, directing that any of the provisions of the Income-tax Act relating to processing of returns shall not apply or shall apply with such exceptions, modifications and adaptations as may be specified in that notification. However, such direction shall not be issued after 31-3-2010 [Section 143(1B)]. Every notification issued u/s. 143(1B) and the scheme made u/s. 143(1A) shall be laid before each House of Parliament [Section 143(1C)].

An assessee can file rectification application against deemed intimation (i.e., acknowledgment for return) or an intimation of tax/refund u/s. 154(1)(b).

(2) Upto 31-3-2008:

On filing of the return of income, if any tax and/or interest is found due on the basis of return, an intimation will be sent to the assessee demanding payment thereof [The then section 143(1)(i)]. If refund is due, it will be granted to the assessee and an intimation of refund will be sent to the assessee [The then section 143(1)(ii)]. The intimation u/s. 143(1) cannot be sent to the assessee after the expiry of one year from the end of the financial year in which the return is made (i.e., filed) [2nd proviso to the then section 143(1)]. If no tax and/or interest is payable by, or refund is due to, the assessee, no intimation will be sent. However, in such a case, the acknowledgment of the return issued by the department at the time of filing return of income will be deemed to be intimation [1st proviso to the then section 143(1)].

(B) ASSESSMENT AFTER HEARING THE ASSESSEE:

[Sections 142, 142A, 143(2)/(3) & 292BB]

Where the Assessing Officer decides to scrutinise the return of income filed by the assessee, he will issue a notice under section 143(2)/143(2)(ii) requiring the assessee either to attend his office or to produce, or cause to be produced there, evidence in support of the return filed. *Such a notice has to be served before the expiry of 6 months from the end of the financial year in which the return is furnished*²⁰. He may also call for the production of any accounts and documents by issuing notice under section 142(1).

W.e.f. 1-4-2008, newly inserted section 292BB provides that where an assessee has appeared in any proceeding or cooperated in any inquiry relating to an assessment or reassessment, it shall be deemed that any notice under any provision of the Income-tax Act has been duly served upon him in time in accordance with the relevant provisions of the said Act. Further, such assessee shall be precluded from taking any objection in any proceeding or inquiry under the said Act that the notice was: (1) not served upon him; or (2) not served upon him in time; and (3) served upon him in an improper manner. However, provisions of section 292BB shall not apply where the assessee has raised such objection before the completion of such assessment or reassessment.

It may be noted that having regard to the nature and complexity of accounts of the assessee and in the interests of the revenue, the Assessing Officer (AO) may direct the assessee, after obtaining previous approval of the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner, to get the accounts audited by an accountant, nominated by the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner in this behalf, and to submit the report of such audit in the prescribed Form No. 6B duly signed and verified by such accountant [Section 142(2A)]. W.e.f. 1-6-2007, AO shall not direct the assessee to get the accounts so audited, unless the assessee has been given a reasonable opportunity of being heard [Proviso to section 142(2A)]. Section 142(2C) provides that the report of such audit u/s. 142(2A) is to be furnished by the assessee to the AO within the time limit as specified by the AO. However, AO may extend the time limit within which the said audit report is to be furnished, either on his own (i.e., suo moto), or on an application made by the assessee [Amended proviso to section 142(2C)²¹]. Section 142(2D) provides that the expenses of, and incidental to, any audit u/s. 142(2A) [including the remuneration of the accountant] shall be determined by the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner and paid by the assessee. However, where any direction for audit is issued by the AO on or after 1-6-2007, the expenses of, and incidental to, such audit (including the remuneration of the Accountant) shall be determined by the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner in accordance with such guidelines as may be prescribed and the expenses so determined shall be paid by the Central Government [Proviso to section 142(2D)].

Section 142A(1) provides that for the purpose of making an assessment or re-assessment, where an estimate of the value of any investment referred to in sections 69 or 69B or the value of any bullion, jewellery or other valuable article referred to in sections 69A or 69B is required, the Assessing Officer (AO) may require the Valuation Officer (VO) to estimate the value thereof and report to him. The term VO will have the same meaning as in section 2(r) of the Wealth-tax Act, 1957 [Explanation to section 142A]. Section 142A(2) provides that for the purposes of section 142A(1), the VO will have all the powers that he has u/s. 38A of the Wealth-tax Act, 1957. Section 142A(3) provides that on receipt of the valuation report from the VO, the AO, after giving an opportunity to the assessee, may take into account the valuation report in making such assessment or re-assessment. The proviso to section 142A provides that, such reference to the VO cannot be made for assessment made on or before 30-9-2004, and where such assessment has become final and conclusive on or before the said date, except in cases of re-assessment in search cases u/s. 153A.

The assessment shall then be made under section 143(3)/143(3)(ii) on the basis of evidence produced or report of audit/valuation report, as the case may be. On the basis of such assessment, the Assessing Officer will determine the sum payable by the assessee or sum refundable to the assessee. For this purpose, the tax and/or interest paid by the assessee u/s. 143(1) will be deemed to have been paid towards such regular assessment. Where it is found that excess refund has been granted u/s. 143(1), it shall be recovered, treating it as tax payable. The assessment so made is appealable.

(C) BEST JUDGMENT ASSESSMENT:

(Section 144^{21a})

This is an ex-parte assessment called the “best judgment assessment” and is made in the following circumstances:

- (i) failure to file return of income under section 139(1) or 139(4) or 139(5) of the Act; or
- (ii) failure to comply with all the terms of a notice under section 142(1); or failure to comply with directions issued under section 142(2A); or
- (iii) having filed the return of income, the assessee fails to comply with the terms of a notice issued under section 143(2).

The Assessing Officer, after taking into account all relevant material and after giving the assessee an opportunity of being heard, will make the assessment to the best of his judgment and determine the sum payable by the assessee on the basis of such assessment. Where a notice under section 142(1) had been issued to the assessee prior to making of an assessment under section 144, then, notice of opportunity of being heard as stated above will not be given by the Assessing Officer.

20. Upto 31-3-2008, for the sentence in italics, read ‘Such a notice has to be served before the expiry of 12 months from the end of the month in which the return is furnished.’.

21. Upto 31-3-2008, for the words in italics ‘either on his own (i.e. suo moto), or on an application made by the assessee’, read ‘on an application made by the assessee [Vide the than proviso to section 142(2C)].’.

21a. For the notes on newly inserted section 144C by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 8.1

(D) APPEAL AGAINST EX-PARTE ASSESSMENT:
(Sections 246A & 264)

An assessee has right to file an appeal against the ex-parte assessment to the Commissioner (Appeals) under section 246A or to file revision application under section 264 to the Commissioner.

Section 249(4)(b) provides that an appeal against the ex-parte assessment order (where no return has been filed) shall not be admitted unless the assessee has paid an amount equal to the amount of advance tax which was payable by him.

This requirement can be waived by the Commissioner (Appeals) for any good and sufficient reasons, on an application being made by the appellant.

(iii) Reassessment:
(Sections 147^{21b} to 151)

Where the Assessing Officer has reason to believe that income assessable to tax has escaped assessment²², he may reopen the relevant assessment, after recording his reasons for doing so, by issuing a notice under section 148²³ calling upon the assessee to file a return. The return called for will have to be furnished by the assessee within the time specified in the notice issued u/s. 148(1)²⁴. W.e.f. 1-6-2001, the time limit for issuing of such a notice u/s. 149 is as under:

- (a) if income escaping assessment is less than Rs. 1,00,000 ... 4 years from the end of the relevant assessment year,
- (b) if income escaping assessment is Rs. 1,00,000 or more ... 6 years from the end of the relevant assessment year.

To illustrate, earliest assessment that can be reopened, by issuing notice on or after 1-4-2009 but before 1-4-2010, will be —

- (a) assessment year 2005-06, where escaped income is less than Rs. 1,00,000; and
- (b) assessment year 2003-04, where escaped income is Rs. 1,00,000 or more.

(iv) Time limit for completion of assessment or reassessment:
(Section 153)

The time limit for the completion of assessment under sections 143 or 144 or assessment, reassessment or recomputation under section 147 is as under:

(1) For assessment under section 143 or 144: Section 153(1) provides that the assessment proceedings have to be completed within 21 months from the end of the relevant assessment year.

(2) For assessment, reassessment or recomputation u/s. 147: Section 153(2) provides that assessment proceedings have to be completed within 1 year from the end of the financial year in which notice u/s. 148 was served. Where the notice u/s. 148 was served on or after 1-4-2005, time limit for completion of the said assessment will be 9 months, as against 1 year [2nd proviso to section 153(2)].

Section 153(2A) provides for time limit for completion of fresh assessment in pursuance of assessment set aside or cancelled in appeal or revision. Time limit for completion of fresh assessment is 1 year from the end of the financial year in which —

- (a) the order u/s. 250 or 254 (i.e., appellate order) is received by the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner, as the case may be,
- (b) the order u/s. 263 or 264 (i.e., revisionary order) is passed by the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner.

Where the said order was received by the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner, or passed by the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner, on or after 1-4-2005, the time limit for completion of said fresh assessment will be 9 months, as against 1 year [2nd proviso to section 153(2A)].

Section 153(4) provides that notwithstanding anything contained in sections 153, 153A(2) and 153B(1), the order of assessment or reassessment, relating to any assessment year, which stands revived u/s. 153A(2), shall be made within 1 year from the end of the month of such revival or within the period specified in sections 153 or 153B(1), whichever is later.

21b. For the notes on Explanation 3 inserted in section 147 by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 8.2.

22. W.e.f. 1-4-2008, the Assessing Officer may assess or reassess such income, other than the income involving matters which are the subject matter of any appeal, reference or revision, which is chargeable to tax and has escaped assessment [2nd proviso to section 147].

23. (a) In case of assessment done u/s. 143(3) or 147, notice u/s. 148 can be issued: (1) by the Assessing Officer of the rank of Income-tax Officer with the approval of Joint Commissioner, or (2) by the Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner or Joint Commissioner, prior to the expiry of 4 years from the end of the relevant assessment year. After the expiry of the said 4 years, such notice can be issued with the prior approval of the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner [Section 151(1)]. Also, such notice is to be issued after the expiry of four years only where income has escaped assessment due to the failure of the assessee either to file a return of income u/s. 139 or to disclose fully and truly all material facts necessary for his assessment for that assessment year [1st proviso to section 147].

(b) In a case other than a case referred to in (a) above, that is ex-parte assessment u/s. 144 or acceptance of return u/s. 143(1), the Assessing Officer or the Assistant Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner can issue notice u/s. 148 before the expiry of 4 years from the end of the relevant assessment year. After expiry of the said 4 years, such notice can be issued with the prior approval of the Joint Commissioner. The Joint Commissioner, if he is the Assessing Officer, can issue the notice without any such prior approval, before the expiry of 6 years from the end of the relevant assessment year [Section 151(2)].

It may be noted that the Joint Commissioner, the Commissioner or the Chief Commissioner, as the case may be, being satisfied on the reason, recorded by the Assessing Officer about fitness of a case for the issue of notice u/s. 148, need not issue such notice himself [Explanation to section 151].

24. W.e.f. 1-10-1991, two provisos inserted in section 148(1). These provisos are applicable only to return of income furnished u/s. 148(1) during the period from 1-10-1991 to 30-09-2005. The said provisos provide that, if a notice has been issued: (1) u/s. 143(2) (as it stood immediately before the amendment of said section by the Finance Act, 2002); or (2) u/s. 143(2)(ii), after the expiry of 12 months from the end of the month in which the return is furnished, but before the expiry of the time limit for completing assessment or reassessment specified u/s. 153(2), the notice so issued shall be deemed to be a valid notice.

The Explanation inserted, w.e.f. 1-10-2005, clarifies that the above provisos will not apply to any return furnished on or after 1-10-2005 in response to notice served u/s. 148.

Where the Assessing Officer (AO) directs the accounts of the assessee to be audited u/s. 142(2A), the period from the date of such direction to the last date on which the assessee is required to furnish the audit report, namely, the period specified by the AO in the notice u/s. 142(2C), is to be excluded from the limitation period [Vide clause (iii) of the Explanation 1 to section 153]. The AO is empowered u/s. 142(2C) to extend the time limit originally fixed by him in the notice, subject to the condition that the aggregate of the period originally fixed and that extended should not exceed 180 days.

(Section 154)

Section 154 provides that with a view to rectifying any mistake apparent from the record an income-tax authority referred to in section 116 may—

- (a) amend any order passed by it under the provisions of the Income-tax Act,
- (b) amend any intimation or deemed intimation u/s. 143(1), within four years from the end of the financial year in which the order sought to be amended was passed.

As the Assessing Officer can rectify intimation within the normal time limit of 4 years prescribed u/s. 154(7), assessee is advised to file also an appeal u/s. 246/246A against such intimation.

Section 154(8) provides that where rectification application is made by the assessee, on or after 1-6-2001, to an income-tax authority, the authority shall pass an order making the amendment or refusing to allow the claim within a period of 6 months from the end of the month in which the application is received by it.

Where the rectification has the effect of enhancing an assessment or reducing the refund originally granted or otherwise increasing the liability of the assessee, a show cause notice is required to be issued to the assessee before the order of rectification is passed.

Where application for rectification has been filed by the assessee within the statutory time limit u/s. 154(7), i.e., four years, but was not disposed off by the authority concerned within the said specified time, it may be disposed off by that authority even after the expiry of the time limit [Circular No. 73 dated 7-1-1972: Refer 84 ITR (St.) 4].

6. AVOIDANCE OF TAX BY CERTAIN TRANSACTIONS IN SECURITIES/UNITS

[Section 94(7)/(8)]

Section 94 deals with avoidance of tax by certain transactions in securities. Section 94(7) provides that where any person buys or acquires any securities or unit within a period of 3 months prior to the record date & sells or transfers the same within a period of 3 months after such record date and dividend or income on such securities or unit is exempt, then, the loss, if any, arising from the said sale will be ignored to the extent of such exempt dividend or income. However, w.e.f. 1-4-2005 (assessment year 2005-06 and onwards), the time limit in relation to sale of units (and not securities) is extended from 3 months to 9 months after such record date. The provisions of section 94(7) deals with purchase of securities/unit cum-dividend/cum-income and sale thereof ex-dividend/ex-income within specified period before and after the record date. In such cases, the resultant loss will be reduced by the dividend/income which is exempt and only the balance loss will be allowed to be set off.

W.e.f. 1-4-2005 (assessment year 2005-06 and onwards), section 94(8) provides that where a person buys or acquires any units (hereafter referred to as original units) within a period of 3 months prior to the record date for bonus units & he is allotted additional units (i.e., bonus units) on the basis of holding of the original units, the loss, if any, arising on sale of all or any of the original units, within a period of 9 months from the said record date, shall be ignored for the purposes of computing his income and the amount of loss so ignored shall be deemed to be the cost of purchase or acquisition of bonus units so allotted which are held by him on the date of such sale or transfer of the original units.

The term 'interest'/'record date'/'securities'/'unit' is defined in clauses (a)/(aa)/(b)/(d) of the Explanation to section 94.

7. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

(A) TREATMENT OF LOSSES:

(i) Set off and carry forward of losses:
(Sections 70, 71, 71A, 71B & 72)

Loss under any source falling under any head of income, other than "Capital gains", is to be set off against income from any other source under the same head of income in the same assessment year [Section 70(1)]. Loss relating to short-term capital asset is to be set off against gains from long-term capital assets and/or gains from any other short-term capital assets in the same assessment year [Section 70(2)]. Loss relating to long-term capital asset is to be set off only against gains from any other long-term capital assets in the same assessment year [Section 70(3)].

Loss under any source falling under any head of income, other than "Capital gains", is to be set off against income from any other source under any other head of income in the same assessment year [Section 71(1)].

Where there is income under the head "Capital gains" and loss under any other head of income, the assessee has option either to set off of such loss against income under the head "Capital gains" (whether short-term or long-term) or not to claim such set off in the same assessment year [Section 71(2)].

Where in respect of any assessment year, the net result of the computation under the head "Profits and gains of business or profession" is loss and the assessee has income assessable under the head "Salaries", the assessee shall not be entitled to have such loss set off against salary income [Section 71(2A)].

For the notes in respect of loss under the head "Capital gains", refer sub-item (iv) on page 185.

For the notes in respect of loss under the head "Income from house property", refer item (vi) on page 100.

Under section 72, unabsorbed business losses in a previous year can be carried forward and set off against income in the subsequent previous year subject to certain conditions given hereunder:

- (a) loss arising from business or profession can be carried forward and set off for eight succeeding assessment years; but only against profits and gains from business or profession;
- (b) where in addition to unabsorbed business loss, there is unabsorbed depreciation, effect should be given to unabsorbed business loss first;
- (c) the loss must have been determined in pursuance of a return filed within the time allowed u/s. 139(1); and
- (d) loss in speculation business will be treated separately. Such losses can be set off only against speculation profit as provided in section 73 [Refer sub-item (iii) on page 185].

(ii) Carry forward and set off of accumulated loss & unabsorbed depreciation allowance in amalgamation or demerger, etc.:

(Sections 72A & 72AA)

(A) COMPANY OWNING AN INDUSTRIAL UNDERTAKING OR A SHIP OR A HOTEL OR A BANKING COMPANY AMALGAMATING WITH ANOTHER COMPANY, ETC.:

Provisions of section 72A are applicable where there has been: (1) an amalgamation of a company owning an industrial undertaking or a ship or a hotel with another company or an amalgamation of a banking company referred to in section 5(c) of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 with a specified bank²⁵; or (2) from assessment year 2008-09 and onwards, an amalgamation of one or more public sector company or companies engaged in the business of operation of aircraft with one or more public sector company or companies engaged in similar business.

Section 72A(1) provides that accumulated loss and unabsorbed depreciation of amalgamating company can be carried forward and set off against the profits of amalgamated company subject to the fulfilment of conditions specified u/s. 72A(2). The following conditions are to be fulfilled by —

- (1) the amalgamated company —
 - (a) holds continuously, at least three-fourths in the book value of fixed assets of the amalgamating company acquired as a result of amalgamation, for five years from the date of amalgamation;
 - (b) continues the business of the amalgamating company for at least five years from the date of amalgamation;
 - (c) fulfils such other conditions as prescribed in Rule 9C to ensure the revival of the business of the amalgamating company or to ensure that the amalgamation is for genuine business purpose,
- (2) the amalgamating company —
 - (a) has been engaged in the business, in which the accumulated loss occurred or depreciation remains unabsorbed, for three or more years;
 - (b) has held continuously, as on the date of amalgamation, at least three-fourths of the book value of fixed assets held by it two years prior to the date of amalgamation.

In case the above conditions are not fulfilled, the set off of loss or allowance of depreciation made in any previous year in the hands of the amalgamated company shall be deemed to be the income of the amalgamated company for the year in which such conditions are not complied with [Section 72A(3)].

“Industrial undertaking” means any undertaking which is engaged in: (a) the manufacture or processing of goods; or (b) the manufacture of computer software; or (c) the business of generation or distribution of electricity or any other form of power; or (d) mining; or (e) the construction of ships, aircrafts or rail systems; or (f) the business of providing telecommunication services, whether basic or cellular, including radio paging, domestic satellite service, network of trunking, broadband network and internet services [Section 72A(7)(aa)].

The benefits available to the amalgamated company are:

- (1) in the year of amalgamation, the unabsorbed loss of the amalgamating company could be set off against the income of the amalgamated company under any head of income. This is so because the unabsorbed loss of the amalgamating company becomes the “current loss of the amalgamated company” in the year of amalgamation. Hence the provisions of section 71 will apply,
- (2) the amalgamated company can carry forward and set off accumulated loss/unabsorbed depreciation of the amalgamating company as if no amalgamation had taken place. That is overall period of eight years for set off will be counted from the year of loss of the amalgamating company.

(B) FIRM/SOLE PROPRIETARY CONCERN IS SUCCEEDED BY A COMPANY:

Where there has been reorganisation of business, whereby, a firm/sole proprietary concern is succeeded by a company fulfilling the conditions laid down in section 47(xiii)/47(xiv), then, accumulated loss and the unabsorbed depreciation of the firm/sole proprietary concern shall be deemed to be the loss or allowance for depreciation of the successor company for the previous year in which the business reorganisation was effected. Such set-off will be allowed as if no succession had taken place. That is, the overall period of eight years for set-off will be counted from the year of loss/allowance for depreciation of firm/sole proprietary concern. However, if any of the conditions laid down in the proviso to section 47(xiii)/47(xiv) are not complied with, the set-off of loss or allowance for depreciation made in any previous year in the hands of successor company, shall be deemed to be the income of the company chargeable to tax in the year in which such conditions are not complied with [Section 72A(6)/72A(7)(a)&(b)].

25. “Specified bank” is defined to mean the State Bank of India, or its subsidiaries or a new bank constituted u/s. 3 of the Banking Companies (Acquisition and Transfer of Undertakings) Act, 1970/1980 [Section 72A(7)(c)].

(C) DEMERGER OF COMPANIES:

In the case of a demerger of companies, the accumulated loss and allowance for unabsorbed depreciation of the demerged company shall be set off in the hands of resulting company in the following manner—

(a) where such loss or unabsorbed depreciation is directly relatable to the undertakings transferred to the resulting company, it will be allowed to be carried forward and set off in the hands of the resulting company;

(b) where such loss or unabsorbed depreciation is not directly relatable to the undertakings transferred to the resulting company, it will be apportioned between the demerged company and the resulting company in the same proportion in which the assets of the undertakings have been retained by the demerged company and transferred to the resulting company. Such apportioned loss or allowance of depreciation will be allowed to be set off in the hands of demerged company or the resulting company, as the case may be.

The set off of such loss or unabsorbed depreciation of the demerged company will be allowed in the hands of resulting company as if no demerger had taken place. That is, overall period of eight years for set off will be counted from the year of loss/allowance for depreciation of the demerged company.

The Central Government is empowered to notify such conditions as it considers necessary to ensure that the demerger is for genuine business purposes [Section 72A(4)/ 72A(5)/ 72A(7)(a) & (b)].

(D) AMALGAMATION OF A BANKING COMPANY WITH A BANKING INSTITUTION:

Section 72AA provides that where a banking company has been amalgamated with a banking institution under a scheme sanctioned and brought into force by the Central Government u/s. 45(7) of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949, the accumulated loss and the unabsorbed depreciation of such banking company shall be deemed to be the loss or the allowance for depreciation of the banking institution for the previous year in which the scheme of amalgamation was brought into force and the provisions of the Income-tax Act, relating to set-off and carry forward of loss and unabsorbed depreciation shall apply accordingly. For the definition of the terms 'accumulated loss', 'banking company', 'banking institution' & 'unabsorbed depreciation', refer Explanation to section 72AA.

(iii) Speculation loss:
(Section 73)

Speculation loss can be set off in the same year only against the speculation profits. Unabsorbed speculation loss will be carried forward and set off against speculation profits of the subsequent assessment years upto 4 years [Section 73(4)]. It may, however, be noted that loss under any other head of income other than "Capital gains", can be set off against the speculation profits in the same assessment year under section 71.

The business of purchase or sale of shares by companies (which are not investment, banking or financial companies) shall be treated as speculation business. The loss from such dealings can be set off only against profits or gains of a speculation business (Explanation to section 73).

In respect of speculation business, the assessee has an option as under:

(i) either to first set off the speculation losses carried forward from an earlier year against the speculation profits of the current year and then to set off the current year's losses from other sources against the remaining part, if any, of the current year's speculation profits;

(ii) or to first set off the current year's losses from non-speculation business and other sources against the current year's speculation profits and then to set off the carried forward speculation losses of the earlier years against the remaining part, if any, of the current year's speculation profits [Vide Circular No. 23 (XXXIX-4), dt. 12-9-1960].

(iv) Loss under the head "Capital gains":
(Section 74^{25a})

Loss under the head "capital gains" cannot be set off against income under any other head of income in the same assessment year [Section 71(3)]. Loss relating to short-term capital asset is to be set off against gains from long-term capital assets and/or gains from any other short-term capital assets in the same assessment year [Section 70(2)]. Loss relating to long-term capital asset is to be set off only against gains from any other long-term capital assets (and not gains from any short-term capital assets) in the same assessment year [Section 70(3)].

Capital loss (short-term or long-term) which cannot be set off in the same assessment year can be carried forward for set off. Unabsorbed loss relating to short-term capital asset is to be carried forward and set off against income from capital gains, both long-term and short-term [Section 74(1)(a)]. Unabsorbed loss relating to long-term capital asset is to be carried forward and set off only against long-term capital gains and not against short-term capital gains [Section 74(1)(b)]. Unabsorbed loss (short-term or long-term) can be carried forward for eight succeeding assessment years [Section 74(2)]. Also refer item (ii) on page 177.

(v) Losses from races including horse races:
(Section 74A)

The loss arising from owning and maintaining race horses will be allowed to be set off in the same year from the income arising out of owning and maintaining race horses only.

The loss incurred by the owners of race horses in the activity of owning and maintaining such horses which cannot be wholly set off in the same year in which the loss is incurred are allowed to be carried forward under section 74A(3) and set off against income from the same source in subsequent years upto a period of four assessment years immediately following the assessment year for which the loss is first computed.

(vi) Losses of firms and their partners:
[Sections 75 & 78]

Unabsorbed loss (apportioned to a partner), if any, of the firm relating to assessment year 1992-93 and earlier years which could not be fully set off in the hands of partner upto assessment year 1992-93, will be set off against the income of the firm in assessment year 1993-94 and subsequent years. This is subject to the condition that the said partner continues in the said firm and that such set off is in accordance with sections 70, 71, 72, 73, 74 & 74A [Section 75].

The loss of firm relating to assessment year 1993-94 and subsequent years, will be set off only in the hands of the firm. However, share relatable to an outgoing partner, either by retirement or death, will be excluded for the purposes of such setting off [Section 78(1)].

EXAMPLE: The firm consists of partners A, B, C & D with equal shares i.e., 25% each. During the previous year relevant to assessment year 2009-10, partner D has retired from 1-4-2008 and in his place E has been taken up as partner with the same share i.e., 25%. For the assessment year 2009-10, the firm is assessed on business income of Rs. 1,15,000 without set off of the loss of the preceding years. The assessed business loss of the firm for assessment year 1998-99 is Rs. 15,000, for assessment year 1999-2000 is Rs. 10,000, for assessment year 2000-01 is Rs. 5,000, for assessment year 2001-02 is Rs. 10,000, for assessment year 2002-03 is Rs. 5,000, for assessment year 2003-04 is Rs. 5,000, for assessment year 2004-05 is Rs. 10,000, for assessment year 2005-06 is Rs. 60,000, for assessment year 2006-07 is Rs. 5,000, for assessment year 2007-08 is Rs. 20,000 and for assessment year 2008-09 is Rs. 5,000. The net assessable business income of the firm for assessment year 2009-10 will be worked out as under:

(1) Assessed loss of the firm for the assessment years 1998-99 to 2000-01	Rs. 30,000	[Rs. 15,000 + Rs. 10,000 + Rs. 5,000]	cannot be set off as period of 8 succeeding assessment years has expired in assessment year 2006-07/2007-08/2008-09 [Section 72(3)]	..	..	..	Rs.	NIL

(vii) Losses of closely-held companies where change in shareholding has taken place:
(Section 79)

Unabsorbed loss of closely-held companies relating to earlier previous years will not be set off in a previous year where a change in shareholding has taken place unless in the said previous year, shares carrying atleast 51% of voting power are beneficially held on the last day thereof by the persons who held shares to the similar extent in the previous year in which the unabsorbed loss was incurred. However, change in shareholding in a previous year consequent upon death of a shareholder or transfer of shares by way of gift made by a shareholder to his relative, will not be taken into account for this purpose [1st proviso to section 79(a)].

The minimum shareholding as stated above will not apply to any change in the shareholding of an Indian company, which is subsidiary of a foreign company as a result of amalgamation or demerger of a foreign company, subject to the condition that 51% shareholders of the amalgamating company or demerged foreign company continue to be shareholders of the amalgamated or the resulting foreign company [2nd proviso to section 79(a)].

(viii) Priorities for carry forward and set off of losses and allowances:

The following priorities in the carry forward and set off of losses and allowances will have to be observed:

- (i) Current scientific research capital expenditure [Section 35(1)].
- (ii) Current depreciation [Section 32(1)].
- (iii) Brought forward business/profession losses [Section 72(1)].

- (iv) Unabsorbed family planning promotion expenditure [Section 36(1)(ix)].

(B) ASSESSMENT OF FIRMS^{25b} AND ITS PARTNERS:

[Sections 2(24), 10(2A), 15, 28, 40(b), 75, 78, 140, 143, 155, 167A, 184, 185, 187, 188, 188A, 189, 194A(3) & 246A]

Salient features of assessment of firms and its partners are—

1. There will be no distinction between registered firm and unregistered firm.
2. All firms, which are assessable as firms, will be charged to tax at maximum marginal rate under section 167A [For assessment years 2006-07 & 2007-08, the said rate is 30% as I.T. plus S.C. @ 10% of I.T. plus Addl. S.C. @ 2% of I.T. & S.C.; for assessment years 2008-09 & 2009-10, the said rate is 30% as I.T. plus S.C. @ 10% of I.T. where the taxable income exceeds Rs. 1,00,00,000 plus Addl. S.C. @ 3% of I.T. & S.C., if any]. For the purposes of payment of advance tax during the financial year ending on 31-3-2010, refer Paragraph C of Part III of the First Schedule to the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009.
3. Section 184 provides that a firm shall be assessed as a firm if the partnership is evidenced by partnership deed and individual shares of the partners are specified in such deed. A true copy of such partnership deed certified and signed by all the partners (excluding minors) should be filed along with the first return of income. Once a partnership firm is assessed as a firm for any assessment year, it will continue to be assessed as a firm for subsequent years till a change in constitution of the firm or share of the partners takes place. Where a change takes place in the constitution of the firm or the share of the partners, the procedure to be followed is the same as in the case of a new firm i.e., a true copy of partnership deed certified and signed by all the partners (excluding minors) should be filed along with the return of income of the relevant assessment year. It may be noted that return of income of the firm is required to be signed by the managing partner and not by all the partners (excluding minors). If for any unavoidable reason he is unable to sign or where there is no managing partner, then, return is required to be signed by any partner who is not a minor [Vide section 140(cc)].
4. For failure to follow the procedure (as in Para 3 above) in relation to any assessment year, the firm shall be assessed as a firm for that assessment year (Section 185). In any assessment year where there is any default on the part of a firm as is mentioned in section 144, the firm will be assessed as a firm for that year [Section 184(5)]. However, where a firm is assessed as a firm u/s. 185/184(5), no deduction by way of any payment of interest, salary, bonus, commission or remuneration made by such firm to any of its partner shall be allowed in computing the total income of the firm. Such interest, salary, etc. will not be assessed in the case of such partner as business income u/s. 28(v).
5. In computing the income of the firm, any payment of salary, bonus, commission or remuneration, by whatever name called (hereinafter referred to as remuneration) to any partner who is not a working partner will be disallowed under section 40(b). Subject to Para 7, even in respect of working partners^{26/27}, ceilings for remuneration have been prescribed under section 40(b)(v)^{27a} as under:

(i) FOR PROFESSIONAL FIRMS REFERRED TO IN SECTION 44AA²⁸:

- (a) on the first Rs. 1,00,000 of the book-profit^{28a} .. Rs. 50,000 or at the rate of 90% of the book-profit^{28a}, or in case of a loss .. whichever is more;
- (b) on the next Rs. 1,00,000 of the book-profit^{28a} .. at the rate of 60%;
- (c) on the balance of the book-profit^{28a} .. at the rate of 40%.

25b. 'Firm' shall have the meaning assigned to it in the Indian Partnership Act, 1932 and, in relation to assessment year 2010-11 and subsequent years, shall include a limited liability partnership as defined in the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008.

26. "Working partner" means an individual who is actively engaged in conducting the affairs of the business or profession of the firm of which he is a partner [Explanation 4 to section 40(b)].

27 The Board has clarified vide Para 48.7 of Circular No. 636, dt. 31-8-1992 [198 ITR (St.) 44] that "The Assessing Officers who invoke the provisions of section 40A(2) in any case, must keep in mind the assurance given by the Finance Minister in his speech dated 30-4-1992 in Parliament during the budget discussion". The assurance given by the Finance Minister is—

"There seems to be some apprehension that the provisions of section 40A(2) of the I.T. Act, may be indiscriminately resorted to by the Assessing Officer (AO) to make disallowance out of salary paid to the partners as being excessive. The Central Board of Direct Taxes will be asked to issue instructions to the AO so as to ensure that this power is not used in the case of small firms and even otherwise, it should be used sparingly".

27a. For the notes on substituted section 40(b)(v) by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 4.9.

28. Profession referred to in section 44AA(1) is legal, medical, engineering or architectural profession or profession of accountancy or technical consultancy or interior decoration or any other notified profession (i.e., authorised representative, film artist, company secretary & information technology).

28a. Refer footnote No. 29 on page 188.

(ii) FOR FIRMS OTHER THAN PROFESSIONAL FIRMS:

- (a) on the first Rs. 75,000 of the book-profit²⁹ .. Rs. 50,000 or at the rate of 90% of the book-profit²⁹, or in case of a loss whichever is more;
- (b) on the next Rs. 75,000 of the book-profit²⁹ .. at the rate of 60%;
- (c) on the balance of the book-profit²⁹ .. at the rate of 40%.

Any payment in excess of the above ceiling will be disallowed in the hands of the firm.

6. Subject to Para 7, as far as payment of interest to any partner is concerned, any payment in excess of interest calculated at the rate of 12% p.a. simple interest will be disallowed under section 40(b)(iv).

7. It may be noted that payment of remuneration to working partners and interest to partners as explained in Para 5 & 6 above should be authorised by the partnership deed³⁰. If such payments are not so authorised, then such payments will be disallowed u/s. 40(b) in computing the income of the firm. Where such payments are duly authorised by and are in accordance with the terms of partnership deed, same will be allowed as deduction only for a period beginning with the date of the partnership deed and not for any earlier period.

8. Under Explanation 1 to section 40(b), where an individual is a partner in a representative capacity, for example, as Karta of HUF, then, the interest paid to him in his individual capacity will not be disallowed. The interest paid to the person so represented by the partner, i.e., HUF, will be disallowed subject to the provisions of section 40(b)(iv).

Under Explanation 2 to section 40(b), where a partner is paid interest on behalf of, or for the benefit of, any other person, such interest will not be disallowed. For example, if a partner is paid interest as a trustee or a guardian for another person, that interest will not be disallowed.

It may be noted that, the gross interest paid by the firm to partner (and not net interest i.e., interest paid by the firm to a partner as reduced by the interest received by the firm from him) will be disallowed under section 40(b), if it exceeds the prescribed limit of 12% p.a. simple interest.

9. For notes in respect of “Losses of firms and their partners”, refer item (vi) on page 186.

10. Any interest, salary, bonus, commission or remuneration, by whatever named called, due to, or received by, a partner from firm, will be assessed in the hands of the partner. These have been treated as income under section 2(24)(ve). Under Explanation 2 to section 15, the salary received by partner will not be treated as salary income and hence deduction u/s. 16 cannot be availed of. Instead, both remuneration and interest will be assessed as business/professional income in the hands of partner under section 28(v).

In the assessment of partner, his share in the total income of the firm will be exempt under clause (2A) of section 10. Explanation to this clause states that share of a partner in a firm shall be computed by dividing the assessed income of the firm in the same proportion as the profit sharing ratio mentioned in the partnership deed. It may be noted that assessed income and not the net profit as per books of account of the firm has to be taken into account for the purpose of exemption.

Salary, interest, etc. received by the partner from the firm will be assessable as business income in his hand under section 28(v). The partner, therefore, can claim any expenses wholly and exclusively incurred by him for the purpose of the business of the firm. It may also be noted that remuneration and/or interest to partners in excess of the prescribed ceiling limit will be disallowed in the hands of the firm u/s. 40(b) and taxed there at the flat rate. In such a case the amount of salary, remuneration, etc. and/or interest so disallowed will be reduced from the salary, remuneration, etc. and/or interest assessable in the hands of the partner [Proviso to section 28(v)]. Refer Example 2 on page 254.

29. “Book-profit” means the net profit, as per the profit and loss account, computed under sections 28 to 44DB of the Income-tax Act. The remuneration paid or payable to partners, if debited to the profit and loss account, will have to be added back to the net profit [Explanation 3 to section 40(b)]. Refer Examples on page 254.

30. The CBDT has clarified vide its Circular No. 739, dt. 25-3-96 [218 ITR (St.) 131] that “for the assessment years 1993-94 to 1996-97 deduction for remuneration to working partners may be allowed u/s. 40(b)(v) on the basis of the clauses of the type mentioned below incorporated in the partnership deed:

- (a) the partners have agreed that the remuneration to a working partner will be the amount of remuneration allowable under the provisions of section 40(b)(v) of the Income-tax Act; or
- (b) the amount of remuneration to working partner will be as may be mutually agreed upon between partners at the end of the year.”.

From assessment year 1997-98 and onwards, no deduction u/s. 40(b)(v) will be admissible unless the partnership deed either specifies the amount of remuneration payable to each individual working partner or lays down the manner of quantifying such remuneration.

11. Under section 187(2), change in the constitution of the firm occurs where:

(1) one or more of the partners cease to be partners or one or more new partners are admitted in such circumstances that one or more of the persons who were partners of the firm before the change continue as partner or partners after the change; or

(2) there is a change in the share of some or all the partners and all the partners continue before and after the change in shares.

Where a firm is dissolved on the death of a partner it will not be treated as a change in the constitution of the firm under section 187(2)(a) [Refer proviso to section 187(2)]. If, in such a case, the surviving partners continue the business of the firm, it will not be treated as change in constitution but succession, provided the firm was dissolved on death of partner. The result will be that two separate assessments will have to be made, treating it as two separate firms in pursuance of provisions contained in section 188. The firm's income of the period before death and after death of partner cannot be clubbed and assessed to tax. The surviving partners will have to file certified copy of deed of partnership as explained in Para 3 on page 187.

However, it may be noted that even after death of any partner, partnership can be continued if the partnership deed specifically provides that the firm shall not be dissolved on the death of any partner. In such a case, it will be treated as a change in constitution and not succession.

12. The liability of a firm to pay tax, penalty or any other sum for an assessment year can be recovered from any or all the persons, who were, during the previous year relevant to assessment year, partners and the legal representative of any such partner who is deceased (Section 188A).

(C) INTEREST PAYABLE & RECEIVABLE BY AN ASSESSEE:

Under the Income-tax Act, interest is chargeable from the assessee in respect of certain defaults. The assessee is also entitled to receive interest in certain cases. The various sections under which interest is payable or receivable in relation to assessment year 1989-90 and onwards are as per Interest Chart on page 194. It may be noted that rate of interest was 12% per annum upto 30-9-1984 and thereafter @ 15% per annum in relation to assessment year 1988-89 and earlier years. The circumstances under which liability to pay interest u/s. 234A or 234B or 234C or 234D or, the right to receive interest arises u/s. 244A, are explained hereafter.

- (a) from 8-9-2003 and onwards, at the rate of 1% for every month or part of a month,
- (b) from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003, at the rate of 1¼% for every month or part of a month,

³¹. In cases where any income accrues or arises for any previous year due to operation of any order of court, statutory authority or of the Government passed after the close of the said previous year, interest u/s. 234A, 234B & 234C shall be reduced or waived by the Chief Commissioner of Income-tax/Director-General of Income-tax subject to the conditions, for the period and to the extent specified in Order u/s. 119(2)(a) [Vide F. No. 212/495/92-ITA. II, dt. 2-5-1994: 208 ITR (St.) 3]. Also refer Board's clarifications on reduction or waiver of interest on pp. 191-192.

The interest payable for late filing of return of income cannot be waived or reduced.

Where a return of income is furnished in response to notice u/s. 148 or u/s. 153A, in a case where the income has been determined u/s. 143(1) or assessment has already been completed, after the expiry of time allowed under such notice, the interest at the specified rate [Refer item 1(a) on page 189] for every month or part of a month will be chargeable from the day immediately following the expiry of time allowed under such notice to the date of furnishing the return. However, if the return is not furnished, then, such interest will be charged upto the date of completion of reassessment or recomputation u/s. 147 or reassessment u/s. 153A. If the amount of tax on which interest has been charged for late filing of return of income is increased or reduced as a result of any rectification, appeal, revision or settlement, the interest will also be increased or reduced accordingly.

BOARD'S CLARIFICATIONS ON REDUCTION OR WAIVER OF INTEREST:

Interest u/s. 234A, 234B & 234C may be reduced or waived by the Chief Commissioner (CC)/Director-General of Income-tax (DG), vide³⁴ order F.No. 400/129/2002-IT(B), dt. 26-6-2006 in the following cases—

(1) Where the books of account and other incriminating documents have been seized u/s. 132, and the assessee has been unable to furnish the return of income for the previous year, during which the action u/s. 132 has taken place, within the time specified, and CC/DG is satisfied that the delay in furnishing such return of income cannot reasonably be attributed to the assessee.

33. For rounding off of the amount on which interest is to be calculated, refer Rule 119A on page 194.

34. Earlier orders F.No. 400/234/95-IT(B) dt. 23-5-1996 and 30-1-1997 [For gist of said orders, refer page 191 of ITRR 2006-07] stands superseded by this order. Petition allowed in accordance with order dt. 23-5-1996/30-1-1997, such order allowing waiver should not be reopened/revised. If the petition has been rejected in past because Board had not issued this direction earlier, such petition may be reconsidered and decided in accordance with order dt. 26-6-2006.

INTEREST PAYABLE

(2) Where any income chargeable to income-tax under any head of income, other than “Capital gains”, is received or accrued after due date of payment of instalment(s) of advance tax which was neither anticipated nor was in the contemplation of the assessee, and advance tax on such income is paid in the remaining instalment(s), and the CC/DG is satisfied that this is a fit case for reduction or waiver of interest chargeable u/s. 234C.

(3) Where any income which was not chargeable to income-tax in the case of an assessee on the basis of any order passed by the jurisdictional High Court, and as a result, he did not pay income-tax in relation to such income in any previous year, and subsequently, in consequence of any retrospective amendment of law or decision of the Supreme Court, or as the case may be, a decision of a larger Bench of the jurisdictional High court (which was not challenged before the Supreme Court and has been final), in any assessment/re-assessment proceedings the advance tax paid by the assessee during financial year is found to be less than the amount of advance tax payable on his current income, and the assessee is chargeable to interest u/s. 234B or 234C, and the CC/DG is satisfied that this is a fit case for reduction or waiver of such interest.

(4) Where a return of income could not be filed by the assessee due to unavoidable circumstances and such return of income is filed voluntarily by the assessee or his legal heirs without detection by the Assessing Officer.

The class of cases referred to in (1) & (4) are specified only for the purposes of waiver of interest charged u/s. 234A.

(b) Interest chargeable for defaults in payment of advance tax:

[Sections 234B and 234C³⁵]

Interest in respect of: (1) defaults in payment of advance tax will be levied u/s. 234B at the specified rate for every month or part of a month [For further details, refer sub-item (i) of item (7) on pp. 291-292], and (2) deferment of advance tax will be levied u/s. 234C at the specified rate per month for a period of 3 months [For further details, refer sub-item (ii) of item (7) on pp. 293-294].

(c) Interest on excess refund:

[Section 234D]

W.e.f. 1-6-2003, section 234D provides that where the refund granted to the assessee u/s. 143(1) is found to be not due on regular assessment or the amount refunded u/s. 143(1) exceeds the amount refundable on regular assessment, the assessee shall be liable to pay simple interest at the rate of $\frac{1}{2}\%$, from 8-9-2003 and onwards [two-third per cent., upto 7-9-2003] on the whole or the excess amount so refunded, for every month or part of a month from the date of grant of refund to the date of such regular assessment. If as a result of an order u/s. 154, 155, 250, 254, 260, 262, 263 or 264 or an order of the Settlement Commission u/s. 245D(4), the refund granted, if any, u/s. 143(1) is found to be correctly allowed, either in whole or in part, then, the interest chargeable u/s. 234D(1) shall be reduced accordingly. The assessment made for the first time u/s. 147 or 153A, shall be treated as a regular assessment for the purpose of section 234D.

(d) Interest payable by an assessee on delayed payment of tax other than advance tax:

[Section 220(2)]

If an assessee fails to pay any tax, penalty, etc., within 30 days from the date of receipt of the notice of demand issued under section 156, he shall be liable to pay interest on the outstanding demands at the rate of 1% from 8-9-2003 and onwards [$1\frac{1}{4}\%$, from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003; $1\frac{1}{2}\%$, from 1-4-1989 to 31-5-2001] for every month or part of a month for the period of default after 31-3-1989³⁶.

Illustration: An assessee was served with a notice of demand for Rs. 64,000 on 1-9-2008. He was allowed to pay the tax in four equal instalments of Rs. 16,000 each on 1-10-2008, 1-11-2008, 1-12-2008 & 1-1-2009 and pays accordingly. What will be the interest payable by him u/s. 220(2) on delayed payments?

Notice of demand served on	1-9-2008
Demand payable within 30 days, i.e., by	1-10-2008
Demand	Rs. 64,000
Less: Paid on 1-10-2008	Rs. 16,000
	Rs. 48,000
(i) Interest on Rs. 48,000 for one month from 1-10-2008 to 31-10-2008 @ 1% per month	Rs. 480
(ii) Interest on Rs. 32,000 (Rs. 48,000 less Rs. 16,000 paid on 1-11-2008) for one month from 1-11-2008 to 30-11-2008 @ 1% per month	Rs. 320
(iii) Interest on Rs. 16,000 (Rs. 32,000 less Rs. 16,000 paid on 1-12-2008) for one month from 1-12-2008 to 31-12-2008 @ 1% per month	Rs. 160
Total interest payable u/s. 220(2)	Rs. 960

- Notes: 1. Interest under section 220(2) is payable on delayed payments irrespective of whether extension of time for making the payment has been granted or not.
2. Interest charged under section 220(2) is to be reduced in consequence of any reduction in tax as a result of any appeal, rectification or revision.

35. Refer footnote No. 31 on page 189.

36. The rate of interest is 12% p.a. for the period of default upto 30-9-1984 and @ 15% p.a. for the period of default from 1-10-1984 to 31-3-1989.

3. Interest under section 220(2) is not chargeable in respect of delayed payments of advance tax. For default in payment of advance tax, the assessee will render himself liable to penalty under section 221.
4. In addition to interest under section 220(2), an assessee will also be liable to penalty under section 221 for default without good and sufficient reasons in making the payment of tax within the time allowed. The penalty under section 221 can be imposed from time to time to the extent of the tax (including advance tax) in arrear. The penalty under section 221 would be impossible even if the tax has been paid after the default in payment has occurred.
- However, the CBDT have clarified [Vide Circular No. 530, dt. 6-3-1989: 176 ITR (St.) 240 read with Circular No. 589, dt. 16-1-1991: 187 ITR (St.) 79] that, on an application made by an assessee, the Assessing Officer will exercise his discretion u/s. 220(6) so as to treat the assessee as not being in default in respect of non-payment of tax on the amounts disputed in first appeal pending before the Deputy Commissioner (Appeals)/Commissioner (Appeals), subject to the conditions mentioned in the said circular.
5. The Chief Commissioner or Commissioner may reduce or waive the interest paid or payable u/s. 220(2), if the following conditions are fulfilled:
- payment has caused or would cause genuine hardship to the assessee;
 - the non-payment of demand u/s. 156 was due to circumstances beyond the control of the assessee; and
 - the assessee has co-operated with the department in assessment and recovery proceedings.
6. Where an assessment order is cancelled u/s. 146 or cancelled/set aside by an appellate/revisonal authority and cancellation/setting aside becomes final, then, no interest u/s. 220(2) can be charged pursuant to the original demand notice but can be charged only after the expiry of 35 days or 30 days, as the case may be, from the date of service of demand notice pursuant to such fresh assessment order [Vide Circular No. 334, dt. 3-4-1982: 135 ITR (St.) 10].

2. Interest payable to assessee:

[Section 244A]

Interest on excess payment of advance tax, tax deducted or collected at source and any other tax or penalty becoming refundable will be paid u/s. 244A at the rate of one-half per cent. from 8-9-2003 and onwards [one and one-half per cent. (upto 30-9-1991)/one per cent. (from 1-10-1991 to 31-5-2001)/three-fourth per cent. (from 1-6-2001 to 31-5-2002)/two-third per cent. from 1-6-2002 to 7-9-2003], for every month or part of a month.

The period for which the interest is payable will be:

(a) for advance tax and tax deducted or collected at source, from 1st April of the relevant assessment year to the date on which the refund is granted [Section 244A(1)(a)]. However, no interest will be payable, if the amount of refund is less than 10% of the tax determined u/s. 143(1) or on regular assessment [Proviso to section 244A(1)(a)] (Refer Example 1 given hereafter); and

(b) for all other taxes/penalties, from date of payment of tax/penalty to the date on which the refund is granted [Section 244A(1)(b)] (Refer Example 2 given hereafter).

Delay in granting refund, if any, attributable to the assessee will be excluded from the period for which interest is payable [Vide section 244A(2). Refer Para 11.4 of Circular No. 549, dt. 31-10-1989: 182 ITR (St.) 49].

If the amount on which interest was payable is increased or reduced due to regular assessment orders, reassessment, rectification, appeals, revision or Settlement Commission's orders, interest also will be increased or reduced.

It may be noted that interest allowed u/s. 244A is to be treated as income of the previous year in which it is allowed and is, therefore, required to be declared in the return of income for the corresponding assessment year.

EXAMPLE: 2.

(a) Tax due as per return of income for assessment year 2008-09 filed on due date i.e., on 25-7-2008 is Rs. 60,000. The said tax is paid as under:

Note: As the refund arises out of regular demand paid on 1-11-2009, interest is payable from that date [Vide section 244A(1)(b)].

37. In the above Example 1, if there was 2 months' delay in filing the return of income (i.e., filed on 30-11-2009) then the period of delay of 2 months attributable to the assessee will be excluded from the period for which interest is payable [Refer section 244A(2)]. Interest payable at the rate of ½% p.m. for 10 months [12 months less 2 months' delay in filing the return] on Rs. 12,000 will be Rs. 600.

An employer, who has not filed the said return within the time allowed u/s. 115WD(1) or 115WD(2), he may file the return before the expiry of one year from the end of the relevant assessment year or before the completion of the assessment, whichever is earlier [Sec. 115WD(3)]. For failure to furnish return of fringe benefits before the due date specified in section 115WD(1), the AO may levy penalty, a sum of Rs. 100 for everyday during which the failure continues [Section 271FB].

Assessment procedure:

The assessment procedure, including best judgment assessment is similar to that of assessment of income u/s. 143 & 144 of the Income-tax Act [Sections 115WE & 115WF]. The reassessment procedure is similar to that of reassessment of total income u/s. 147 & 148 of the Income-tax Act [Sections 115WG & 115WH]. The salient features of assessment procedure in respect of fringe benefits is given hereafter.

Substituted section 115WE(1)¹⁰, w.e.f 1-4-2008, provides that the value of fringe benefits of an assessee shall be computed u/s. 115WE(1) after making the following adjustments to the value of fringe benefits in the return —

(b) an incorrect claim, if such incorrect claim is apparent from any information in the return. The Explanation (a) to section 115WE(1) defines the term “an incorrect claim apparent from any information in the return” as such claim on the basis of an entry, in the return: (1) of an item, which is inconsistent with another entry of the same or some other item in such return; (2) in respect of which information required to be furnished to substantiate such entry has not been furnished under the Income-tax Act; and (3) in respect of a deduction or value of fringe benefits, where such deduction or value exceeds specified statutory limit which may have been expressed as monetary amount or percentage or ratio or fraction.

10. Upto 31-3-2008, for the notes on the then section 115WE(1), refer page 201 of ITRR 2008-09 (70th Year of Publication).

The tax and interest, if any, shall be computed on the basis of value of fringe benefits computed as above and intimation shall be sent to the assessee accordingly. Similarly, refund if any due shall be granted to the assessee on the basis of value of fringe benefits so computed. Intimation shall be sent before the expiry of one year from the end of the financial year in which the return is filed [Proviso to section 115WE(1)]. The acknowledgement of the return shall be deemed to be intimation, in cases where no tax or refund is due and where no adjustment is made [Explanation (b) to section 115WE(1)].

The Board may formulate a scheme for centralised processing of returns with a view to expeditiously determining the tax payable by, or refund due to, the assessee [Section 115WE(1A)]. For the purpose of giving effect to the scheme made u/s. 115WE(1A), the Central Government may issue a notification in the Official Gazette, directing that any of the provisions of the Income-tax Act relating to processing of returns shall not apply or shall apply with such exceptions, modifications and adaptations as may be specified in that notification. However, such direction shall not be issued after 31-3-2010 [Section 115WE(1B)]. Every notification issued u/s. 115WE(1B) and the scheme made u/s. 115WE(1A) shall be laid before each House of Parliament [Section 115WE(1C)].

Where the Assessing Officer decides to scrutinise the return of fringe benefits filed by the assessee, he will issue a notice under section 115WE(2) requiring the assessee either to attend his office or to produce, or cause to be produced there, evidence in support of the return filed. Such a notice has to be served before the expiry of 6 months from the end of the financial year¹¹ in which the return is furnished. He may also call for the production of any accounts and documents by issuing notice under section 115WE(2).

The assessment shall then be made under section 115WE(3) on the basis of evidence produced. On the basis of such assessment, the Assessing Officer will determine the sum payable by the assessee or sum refundable to the assessee. For this purpose, the tax and/or interest paid by the assessee u/s. 115WE(1) will be deemed to have been paid towards such regular assessment. Where it is found that excess refund has been granted u/s. 115WE(1), it shall be recovered, treating it as tax payable. The assessment so made is appealable.

The “best judgment assessment” u/s. 115WF is made in the following circumstances:

- (i) failure to file return of fringe benefits under section 115WD(1) or 115WD(3) or 115WD(4); or
- (ii) failure to comply with all the terms of a notice under section 115WD(2) or failure to comply with direction issued under section 142(2A); or
- (iii) having filed the return of fringe benefits, the assessee fails to comply with all the terms of a notice issued under section 115WE(2).

The Assessing Officer after taking into account all relevant material and after giving the assessee an opportunity of being heard, will make the assessment of the fringe benefits to the best of his judgment and determine the sum payable by the assessee on the basis of such assessment. Where a notice under section 115WD(2) had been issued to the assessee prior to making of an assessment under section 115WF, then, notice of opportunity of being heard as stated above will not be given by the Assessing Officer.

Section 115WG provides that where the Assessing Officer has reason to believe that any fringe benefits chargeable to tax have escaped assessment for any assessment year (hereafter referred to as the relevant assessment year), he may reopen the relevant assessment, after recording his reasons for doing so, by issuing a notice under section 115WH calling upon the assessee to file a return of fringe benefits. The return called for will have to be furnished by the assessee within the time specified in the notice issued u/s. 115WH(1). The time limit for issuing such notice u/s. 115WH(1) is 6 years from the end of the relevant assessment year [Section 115WH(3)]. However, where an assessment u/s. 115WE(3) or section 115WG has been made for the relevant assessment year, no notice shall be issued u/s. 115WH(1) by an Assessing Officer, after the expiry of 4 years from the end of the relevant assessment year, unless the Chief Commissioner or Commissioner is satisfied that it is a fit case for the issue of such notice [Section 115WH(4)].

Payment of advance tax in respect of fringe benefits:

The FBT on fringe benefits is payable in advance during any financial year, in accordance with section 115WJ, in respect of the fringe benefits which would be chargeable to tax for assessment year immediately following that financial year, such fringe benefits hereafter referred to as the “current fringe benefits” [Section 115WI]. An assessee who is liable to pay advance tax u/s. 115WI, shall on his own accord, pay advance tax on current fringe benefits calculated in the manner mentioned hereafter [Section 115WJ(1)].

11. Upto 31-3-2008, such a notice has to be served before the expiry of 12 months from the end of the month in which the return is furnished.

DEDUCTIONS FROM THE GROSS TOTAL INCOME*CHAPTER VI-A[From assessment year 2006-07 and onwards]

Sections 80C to 80U specifies the deductions to be made from the gross total income. Gross total income means the total income, under all heads of income, computed in accordance with the provisions of the Act [Section 80B(5)].

The gross total income is to be arrived at before allowing any deduction under Chapter VI-A and after setting off unabsorbed losses, depreciation, etc. of the earlier years. While deductions u/s. 80C to 80GGC are in respect of certain payments made by the assessee, the deductions u/s. 80-IA to 80RRB are in respect of certain incomes.

The deduction in respect of certain incomes are to be allowed against the net income, that is after deducting expenses, etc. incurred for earning the gross income. In other words, income against which the deduction is to be allowed will first be computed as per the provisions of the Act and thereafter the deduction u/s. 80-IA to 80RRB will be computed and allowed in respect of such net income [Section 80AB].

In computing the total income of an assessee in relation to assessment year 2006-07 and subsequent assessment year, any deduction admissible under section 80-IA [for details, refer page 226], or section 80-IAB [for details, refer page 221], or section 80-IB [for details, refer pp. 227-228] or section 80-IC [for details, refer page 221] or section 80-ID, in relation to assessment year 2008-09 and subsequent years [for details, refer page 222] or section 80-IE, in relation to assessment year 2008-09 and subsequent years [for details, refer page 223], shall be allowed to him only if he furnishes a return of income for such assessment year on or before the 'due date' specified in section 139(1). In other words, if such return is furnished on or after the 'due date' specified u/s. 139(1), then such deduction will not be allowed in computing the total income [Section 80AC].

It may be noted that the aggregate amount of the deductions under Chapter VI-A should not, in any case, exceed the gross total income [Section 80A(2)¹].

Notes:

(1) Deduction allowed u/s. 80CCA in respect of deposits under National Savings Scheme Rules, 1987 or payment to annuity plan (i.e., 'Jeevan Dhara' & 'Jeevan Akshay' plans of L.I.C.) is deemed to be the income in the following circumstances:

(a) where any amount (including interest accrued) standing to the credit of assessee under the National Savings Scheme/notified scheme in respect of which deduction has been allowed u/s. 80CCA, is withdrawn in whole or in part in any previous year, the whole of the amount so withdrawn shall be deemed to be the income of the previous year in which withdrawal is made. Interest on the deposits made under the National Savings Scheme/notified scheme will be taxable only in the year of withdrawal;

(b) where any amount is received on account of surrender of the policy or as annuity or bonus in any previous year, the whole of the amount so received shall be deemed to be the income of the previous year in which the amount is received.

However, amount received under the National Savings Scheme by the legal heirs on the death of the depositor is not chargeable to income-tax in the hands of the legal heirs. Similarly, the amount paid by way of Gross Insurance Value Element under annuity plans of L.I.C. to the nominee or legal heirs of the assessee after his death will also not be chargeable to income-tax in the hands of nominee/legal heirs [Circular No. 532, dt. 17-3-1989: 176 ITR (St.) 327]. But, amounts paid to an assessee on closure of account under the National Savings Scheme on the expiry of 3 years would be taxable u/s. 80CCA(2) [Vide Circular No. 534, dt. 7-4-89: 177 ITR (St.) 33]. For further details, refer item (i) on page 190 of ITRR 1995-96 (57th Year of Publication).

(2) Deduction allowed u/s. 80CCB in respect of investment made under Equity Linked Savings Scheme is deemed to be the income in the following circumstance:

Where any amount invested in the units issued under a plan formulated under the Equity Linked Savings Scheme in respect of which a deduction u/s. 80CCB has been allowed is returned in whole or in part either by way of repurchase of such units or on the termination of the plan, by the Fund or the Trust, as the case may be, in any previous year, it will be deemed to be the income of that previous year and charged to tax accordingly.

Further, the difference between the repurchase price and amount invested in units will be deemed to be the capital gains arising in the previous year in which such repurchase takes place or the plan is terminated [Refer section 45(6)].

However, as per clause (e) of Para 6 of the Equity Linked Savings Scheme, 1991 [Refer 188 ITR (St.) 10], any withdrawal made by a nominee or legal heir of the deceased assessee will not form part of the taxable income of the nominee or the legal heir in the year of withdrawal.

In such cases, surcharge is payable on the whole amount of income-tax subject to marginal relief provided in the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009. The total amount payable as income-tax and surcharge on such income shall not exceed the amount payable as income-tax on a total (taxable) income of Rs. 1,00,00,000 by more than the amount of income that exceeds Rs. 1,00,00,000 [Vide proviso to Paragraph C of Part I of the First Schedule to the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009]. The marginal relief operates upto taxable income between Rs. 1,00,00,010 & Rs. 1,04,47,760. Additional surcharge @ 2% & @ 1% of the aggregate of I.T. & S.C. so computed is also payable.

5. Additional surcharge @ 2% & @1% of I.T. & S.C., if any, is payable on the whole amount of income-tax & S.C., if any, as no ceiling limit of total (taxable) income is provided in the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009.

6. Self-assessment tax shall also include interest payable u/s. 234A, 234B & 234C, if any. For details, refer page 179.

7. Where the total (taxable) income/current income of the firm include taxable long-term capital gains and short-term capital gains referred to in section 111A, the income-tax/advance tax on total (taxable) income/current income, as reduced by long-term capital gains & the said short-term capital gains, is to be computed with reference to the above table. Income-tax/advance tax on long-term capital gains/the said short-term capital gains, is to be computed at the flat rate prescribed in section 112(1)(d)(ii)/111A(1)(i). The income-tax/advance tax payable by the firm, is the sum total of income-tax/advance tax on total (taxable) income/current income [as reduced by the long-term capital gains/the said short-term capital gains], and the income-tax/advance tax on long-term capital gains/said short-term capital gains. The aggregate amount of income-tax/advance tax so arrived at is to be increased by S.C. on I.T. where the taxable income exceeds Rs. 1,00,00,000 (refer footnote 4 above) and further increased by an addl. S.C. @ 2% & @1% of aggregate of I.T. & S.C. The resultant sum so arrived at is the tax/advance tax payable by the firm.

SHORT NOTES ON THE WEALTH-TAX ACT, 1957:(For and from the assessment years 2006-07 to 2009-10)

The Wealth-tax Act which came into force from assessment year 1957-58 occupies a place of importance in the scheme of taxation. It is, therefore, necessary to understand the broad and salient features of this Act in as simple a language as possible.

GENERAL(1) Assessee:*[Section 2(c)]

“Assessee” means a person by whom wealth-tax or any other sum of money (e.g., interest, penalty) is payable under the Wealth-tax Act or in respect of whom any proceeding under that Act has been taken for determining the wealth-tax payable by him or the amount of refund due to him and includes:

- (1) legal representative of a deceased person [Section 19];
- (2) executor or executors of the estate of a deceased person [Section 19A]; and
- (3) a person deemed to be the agent of any person residing outside India [Section 22].

(2) Assessment year:[Section 2(d)]

An assessment year means a period of 12 months commencing on 1st April and ending on 31st March of the following year. For instance, assessment year 2009-10 commenced on 1st April, 2009 and will end on 31st March, 2010.

(3) Valuation date:[Section 2(q)]

“Valuation date” in relation to an “assessment year” means the last day of the previous year as defined under section 3 of the Income-tax Act.

The valuation date will be 31st March being the last day of the uniform previous year in all cases.

(4) Assessable entities:(Section 3)Persons chargeable to wealth-tax:*

Under section 3 of the Wealth-tax Act, the following persons are chargeable to wealth-tax on their net wealth as on the valuation date corresponding to the assessment year:

- (1) Individual, (2) Hindu undivided family, and (3) Company.

The word “Individual” has not been defined in the Wealth-tax Act but on the basis of court decisions, it has been given a wide meaning. The word “Individual”, therefore, means not only a human being but also includes a group of persons forming an unit.

Rates at which wealth-tax is to be charged:

While income-tax is chargeable on the total income of an assessee at the rates laid down in the annual Finance Act of the relevant year, the wealth-tax is to be charged under section 3(2)¹ of the Wealth-tax Act:

- (a) in respect of an individual and a Hindu undivided family, at the flat rate of 1% of the net wealth exceeding Rs. 15 lakhs.
- (b) in respect of a company [as defined in section 2(17) of the Income-tax Act], at the flat rate of 1% of the net wealth exceeding Rs. 15 lakhs.

(5) Residential status:

Explanation 1 to section 6 of the Wealth-tax Act lays down that an individual or a Hindu undivided family shall be deemed to be “not resident in India” or “resident but not ordinarily resident in India” during the year ending on the valuation date, if in respect of that year, the individual or the Hindu undivided family, as the case may be, is “not resident in India” or “resident but not ordinarily resident in India” within the meaning of the Income-tax Act. The residential status as explained on pp. 50-52 under the “Short notes on the Income-tax Act, 1961” also holds good under the Wealth-tax Act.

An individual having balance to his credit in a Non-resident (External) Account, the interest whereof is exempt under section 10(4)(ii) of the Income-tax Act, 1961, shall be deemed to be not resident in India during the year ending on valuation date, if in respect of that year he is resident outside India as defined under section 2(q) of the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1973 (Refer page 53) [vide Explanation 1A to section 6].

1. For the notes on amendment of section 3(2) by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 10.6.

(6) Citizenship of India:

The tax liability under the Wealth-tax Act is determined on the basis of residential status of an assessee as also on the basis of his being a citizen of India or not a citizen of India. The term “Citizen” is defined in Article 5 of the Constitution. In order to be a citizen of India, a person must have domicile in the territory of India and must satisfy any of the following three conditions:

- (1) he must have been born in India; or
- (2) either of his parents must have been born in India; or
- (3) he must have been ordinarily resident in India for not less than five years before 26-1-1950.

A person would cease to be a citizen of India if he has voluntarily acquired the citizenship of any foreign State.

(7) Assets which fall outside the purview of the Wealth-tax Act:

Asset other than assets specified in section 2(ea) are outside the purview of the Wealth-tax Act and hence not chargeable to wealth-tax. Wealth-tax is chargeable only on assets specified in section 2(ea). The assets specified in section 2(ea) are:

(a) Any guest house; residential house^{1a}; commercial property; and/or farm house situated within 25 kilometres from the local limits of any municipality² or a cantonment board; but excluding:

However, urban land shall not include:

(1) land on which construction of a building is not permissible under any law or the land on which building is constructed with the approval of the appropriate authority,

(2) any unused land held by the assessee for industrial purposes for a period of two years from the date of its acquisition by him, and

(f) Cash in hand, in excess of Rs. 50,000, of individuals and Hindu undivided families and in the case of other persons any amount not recorded in the books of account.

The assets mentioned above are chargeable to wealth tax without any exemption. The other assets such as, shares, debentures, deposits, units, loans advanced, etc., etc. are not liable to wealth-tax [Refer Example on page 278].

1a. One house or part of a house or a plot of land not exceeding 500 sq. metres belonging to an individual or a Hindu undivided family is exempt without monetary ceiling u/s. 5(vi).

2. “Municipality”, i.e., whether known as municipality, municipal corporation or by any other name.

3. The term “Jewellery” includes (a) ornaments made of gold, silver, platinum or any other precious metal or any alloy containing one or more of such precious metals, whether or not containing any precious or semi-precious stones, and whether or not worked or sewn into any wearing apparel; (b) precious or semi-precious stones, whether or not set in any furniture, utensils or other article or worked or sewn into any wearing apparel [Explanation 1 to section 2(ea)]. However, “Jewellery” does not include the Gold Deposit Bonds issued under the Gold Deposit Scheme, 1999 notified by the Central Government.

4. “Municipality”, i.e., whether known as a municipality, municipal corporation, notified area committee, town area committee, town committee or by any other name.

5. For areas notified as urban, refer Notification No. 871(E), dt. 9-11-1993 [205 ITR (St.) 1].

(8) Net wealth:[Section 2(m)]

Net wealth means the aggregate value of all the chargeable assets [specified in section 2(ea), refer item (7) on page 266], wherever located, belonging to the assessee on the valuation date including assets which are to be included in his net wealth under section 4 as diminished by the aggregate value of all the debts owed by the assessee on the valuation date which have been incurred in relation to the assets specified in section 2(ea).

However, wealth-tax liability⁶ on the aforesaid assets will not be deductible as a debt for arriving at the net wealth u/s. 2(m).

(9) Incidence of tax on the basis of citizenship and residential status:

A. In the case of an assessee who is a citizen of India, the tax liability will be as under:

(i) If he is “resident and ordinarily resident”, he will be chargeable to tax in respect of—

(a) the value of the assets and debts located in India, and

(b) the value of the assets and debts located outside India.

(ii) If he is “resident but not ordinarily resident” or “non-resident”, he will be chargeable to tax in respect of the value of all assets and debts located in India except the value of assets in respect of which interest is not to be included in total income under section 10 of the Income-tax Act. The value of assets and debts located outside India is exempt in his case under section 6 of the Wealth-tax Act.

B. In the case of an assessee who is not a citizen of India, the tax liability will be as under:

If he is “resident and ordinarily resident” or “resident but not ordinarily resident” or “non-resident”, he will be chargeable to tax on net wealth located in India except the assets in respect of which interest is not to be included in total income under section 10 of the Income-tax Act. The value of assets and debts located outside India is exempt in his case under section 6 of the Wealth-tax Act.

(10) Valuation of assets:[Section 7]

Value of any asset, other than cash, belonging to the assessee, shall be its value as on the valuation date determined in the manner laid down in Schedule III to the Wealth-tax Act and not under the Wealth-tax Rules. This Schedule contains 21 Rules for determining the value of assets as stated hereunder:

Any provision made in the trust deed giving right to the beneficiary or any other person to acquire or purchase any property of the trust at a stipulated price under the terms of the trust deed or restrictive covenant in any instrument of transfer is to be ignored for the purposes of determining the market price of such property as on the valuation date. Thus, the restrictive clauses in the trust deed or in the instrument of transfer will be disregarded for the purpose of determining the market value of such property chargeable to wealth-tax [Rule 21 of the Schedule III].

(a) Valuation of immovable property:

(Rules 3 to 8 of Part B of Schedule III)

6. The liability under the Wealth-tax Act is not a debt owed by the assessee incurred in relation to the assets taxable under the Wealth-tax Act. Therefore, no deduction is to be allowed for wealth-tax liability in the computation of the taxable net wealth from assessment year 1993-94 and onwards [Circular No. 663, dt. 28-9-1993: 203 ITR (St.) 134].

DEFINITIONS:

(1) “Gross maintainable rent” means:

(a) where the property is not let, the amount of annual rent assessed by the local authority for the purposes of levy of property tax or any other tax. If there is no such assessment or the property is situated outside the area of any local authority, the amount which the owner can reasonably be expected to receive as annual rent had such property been let;

(b) where the property is let, the amount received or receivable as annual rent or the annual value assessed by the local authority for the purposes of levy of property tax or any other tax, whichever is higher.

“Annual rent” means the actual rent received or receivable⁸ by the owner throughout the previous year. However, in cases where the property is partly let-out and partly vacant during the previous year, the annual rent means the amount which bears the same proportion to the amount of the actual rent received or receivable by the owner for which the property is let, as the period of 12 months bears to the number of months (including part of a month) during which the property is let.

EXAMPLE 1: Mr. A receives Rs. 9,000 as rent of a residential house for a period of 9 months. The house was vacant for 3 months. The annual rent is to be adopted at Rs. 12,000 [Rs. 9,000 × 12 (months) ÷ 9 (months)].

Further, such actual rent is to be increased by—

(i) the amount of municipal taxes, if borne by the tenant;

(ii) 1/9th of the actual rent, if expenditure on repairs is borne by the tenant;

(iii) the amount calculated @ 15% p.a. on the amount of deposit (not being advance rent for 3 months or less) outstanding from month to month, for the number of months (excluding part of a month). However, if the owner pays interest to the tenant on deposit so taken, the increase to be made to the actual rent as above should be limited to the sum by which the amount calculated aforesaid exceeds the interest.

EXAMPLE 2: Mr. A let out his property to Mr. B from 1-4-2008 for a period of 3 years @ Rs. 36,000 p.a. The annual value of the property assessed by a local authority is Rs. 30,000. Mr. A has taken on the said date a deposit of Rs. 1,20,000 to be adjusted at the end of the period. Mr. A pays interest to Mr. B @ 6% p.a. i.e., Rs. 7,200 p.a. Mr. B bears repairs expenses and also municipal taxes amounting to Rs. 8,000. Annual rent will be:

Actual rent for the year ⁹ (gross maintainable rent)	Rs.	36,000
Add: Municipal taxes borne by Mr. B.	Rs.	8,000
For repairs expenses borne by Mr. B: 1/9th of actual rent Rs. 36,000 .. .	Rs.	4,000
Interest @ 15% p.a. on deposit of Rs. 1,20,000 .. .	Rs.	18,000
Less: Interest paid to Mr. B @ 6% p.a. on Rs. 1,20,000 .. .	Rs.	7,200
	Rs.	10,800
	Rs.	22,800
Annual rent	Rs.	58,800

(iv) where the owner has received any amount by way of premium or otherwise as consideration for leasing or any modification of the terms of the lease, the amount obtained by dividing the premium or other amount by the number of years of the period of lease.

EXAMPLE 3: If in the Example 2 above, if Mr. A had taken Rs. 1,20,000 as premium for leasing for a period of 20 years, instead of deposit, the annual rent will be Rs. 54,000 [Rs. 36,000 + Rs. 8,000 + Rs. 4,000 + Rs. 6,000 (Rs. 1,20,000 premium ÷ 20 years, being number of years of the lease period)].

(v) where the owner derives any benefit or perquisite, whether convertible into money or not, as consideration of leasing or any modification of the terms of the lease, the value of such benefit or perquisite should be added to the actual rent.

(2) “Net maintainable rent” means the amount of gross maintainable rent as reduced by,—

(i) the amount of taxes levied by any local authority in respect of the property, e.g. municipal taxes; and

(ii) a sum equal to 15% of the gross maintainable rent.

EXAMPLE 4: Gross maintainable rent in the manner worked out in item (1) above is, say ..	Rs.	60,000
Less: Municipal taxes levied by local authority	Rs.	10,000
15% of Rs. 60,000 (gross maintainable rent)	Rs.	9,000
Net maintainable rent	Rs.	41,000

(3) “Aggregate area” means the aggregate area in relation to the plot of land on which the property is constructed and the unbuilt area.

8. Rent received or receivable shall include all payments for user of property, value of all benefits or perquisites, whether convertible into money or not, obtained from a tenant or occupier of the property and also any sum paid by such a tenant or occupier in respect of any obligation which would have been payable by the owner.

9. As the actual rent received (Rs. 36,000) is more than annual value (Rs. 30,000), actual rent (Rs. 36,000) is to be taken.

(4) “Specified area”, in relation to the plot of land on which the property is constructed, means:

(a) where the property is situate at Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi or Madras, 60% of the aggregate area;

(b) where the property is situate at Agra, Ahmedabad, Allahabad, Amritsar, Bangalore, Bhopal, Cochin, Hyderabad, Indore, Jabalpur, Jamshedpur, Kanpur, Lucknow, Ludhiana, Madurai, Nagpur, Patna, Pune, Salem, Sholapur, Srinagar, Surat, Tiruchirapalli, Trivandrum, Vadodara (Baroda) or Varanasi (Banaras), 65% of the aggregate area;

(c) where the property is situate at any other place, 70% of the aggregate area:

Provided that where under any law for the time being in force, the minimum area of the plot of land required to be kept as open space for the enjoyment of the property exceeds the specified area, such minimum area shall be deemed to be the specified area.

(5) “Unbuilt area”, in relation to the aggregate area of the plot of land on which the property is constructed, means that part of such aggregate area on which no building has been erected.

CAPITALISATION OF NET MAINTAINABLE RENT:

[Refer Rule 3 of the Schedule III]

The value of any immovable property, being a building or land appurtenant thereto, or part thereof, for inclusion in the net wealth is to be arrived at as under:

Where the property is constructed on:

(a) Free hold land		Net maintainable rent × 12.5
(b) Leasehold land and where the unexpired period of lease of such land is:
(1) 50 years or more		Net maintainable rent × 10
(2) less than 50 years		Net maintainable rent × 8.

EXAMPLE 5: The net maintainable rent of a building is say, Rs. 40,000.

			Value for inclusion in the net wealth
(1) free hold land	net maintainable rent Rs. 40,000 × 12.5		Rs. 5,00,000
(2) lease hold land where the unexpired period of lease of such land is:
(a) 50 years or more	net maintainable rent Rs. 40,000 × 10		Rs. 4,00,000
(b) less than 50 years	net maintainable rent Rs. 40,000 × 8		Rs. 3,20,000

However, where such property is acquired or construction of which is completed after 31-3-1974 and value arrived at as above is lower than the cost of acquisition/construction, as increased by the cost of any improvement to the property, then the value of the property under Rule 3 for the purposes of inclusion in the net wealth shall be the cost of acquisition/construction as so increased by cost of improvement. This restriction will also apply to a self-occupied residential house subject to certain conditions mentioned in item (b) hereafter.

PREMIUM TO BE ADDED TO THE CAPITALISED VALUE IN CERTAIN CASES:

[Refer Rule 6 of the Schedule III]

Where the unbuilt area of the plot of land on which the property is constructed exceeds the specified area, the capitalised value of the property shall be increased by an amount calculated as hereunder:

Where the difference between the unbuilt area and the specified area—

exceeds 5% but does not exceed 10% of the aggregate area	..	by an amount equal to 20% of such value;
exceeds 10% but does not exceed 15% of the aggregate area	..	by an amount equal to 30% of such value;
exceeds 15% but does not exceed 20% of the aggregate area	..	by an amount equal to 40% of such value.

(b) Valuation of self-occupied residential house:

Value of a house belonging to the assessee and exclusively used by him for residential purposes throughout the period of 12 months immediately preceding the valuation date, may at the option of the assessee, be taken to be the value determined in manner laid down in Part B of the Schedule III [refer item (a) on page 267] as on the valuation date next following the date on which he became the owner of the house or on the valuation date relevant to assessment year 1971-72, whichever is later [Section 7(2)].

Where such a house is acquired prior to assessment year 1971-72, its value, at the option of the assessee, be taken to be as prevailing on the valuation date relevant to assessment year 1971-72 or the value determined in manner laid down in Part B of Schedule III [refer item (a) on page 267], whichever is beneficial to the assessee.

Where such a house is acquired or constructed subsequent to assessment year 1971-72 but on or before 31-3-1974, the value of such a house is to be determined in the manner laid down in Part B of Schedule III [refer item (a) on page 267].

Where such a house is acquired or constructed on or after 1-4-1974 and the cost of acquisition or construction (as increased by the cost of improvement, if any) exceeds the value determined under Rule 3, then, such cost (as increased by the cost of improvement, if any) will be taken as its value and not as determined under Rule 3 [2nd proviso to Rule 3].

However, one house belonging to an assessee, exclusively used by him for self-occupation, whose cost of acquisition or construction (as increased by the cost of improvement, if any) does not exceed—

- (1) Rs. 50,00,000, if the house is situate at Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi or Madras,
- (2) Rs. 25,00,000, if the house is situate at any other place, the value determined under Rule 3 will be taken and not cost of acquisition or construction (as increased by the cost of improvement, if any) [3rd proviso to Rule 3].

Where the assessee owns more than one house cost of each of which exceed the value determined under Rule 3, the concession of adopting the value under 3rd proviso to Rule 3 will apply only in respect of one house at the option of the assessee, as may be specified by him [4th proviso to Rule 3].

Where the house is constructed by the assessee, the date on which the construction of the house is completed will be taken to be the date on which he became owner of the house. "House" includes a part of a house being an independent residential unit [Explanation to section 7(2)].

PROVISIONS OF RULE 3 OF THE SCHEDULE III NOT APPLICABLE IN CERTAIN CASES:

[Refer Rules 8 & 20 of the Schedule III]

(1) Where the Assessing Officer, with the previous approval of the Joint Commissioner, is of opinion that it is not practicable to apply the provisions of Rule 3 [Rule 8(a)];

(2) where the difference between the unbuilt area and the specified area exceeds 20% of the aggregate area [Rule 8(b)];

(3) where the property is constructed on lease-hold land and the lease expires within 15 years from the relevant valuation date and the deed of lease does not give an option to the lessee for the renewal of the lease [Rule 8(c)].

In the above circumstances where the provisions of rule 3 are not applicable, the value of the property is to be determined in the manner laid down in rule 20.

(c) The valuation of other assets:

The valuation of jewellery has to be made by the authorised registered valuer appointed by the Government. Where the value of jewellery does not exceed Rs. 5,00,000, then, assessee has to submit a statement in the prescribed Form 0-8A along with the return of net wealth. If value exceeds Rs. 5,00,000, its value will be as per the valuation made by the Valuation Officer, on a reference made to him by the Assessing Officer. For the rates of gold and silver from 4-11-1983 to 31-3-2009, refer page 280.

The valuation of jewellery will be on the basis of its 'fair market value' on the valuation date. Where the value of the jewellery exceeds Rs. 5 lakhs, a valuation report from a registered valuer in the prescribed form should be filed along with the return of net wealth¹⁰. If the Assessing Officer is of the opinion that the value of jewellery is less than its fair market value, he may, subject to section 16A(1), refer the valuation of such jewellery to the Valuation Officer. The value estimated by such Valuation Officer will be adopted by the Assessing Officer.

In case of uncertainty in the matter of correct valuation of any asset, it would be advisable to get the asset or assets valued by the approved valuer appointed by the Government. Though the valuation report is not by itself binding on the department, the assessee would not be subjected to any penalty for understatement of the value of any asset on the ground that its value as adopted in the assessment order is higher than that estimated by the approved valuer.

10. The Board has clarified vide Circular No. 646, dt. 15-3-93 [200 ITR (St.) 228] that "The report of the registered valuer obtained for one assessment year can also be used for subsequent four assessment years subject to the adjustments specified in Para 3 of the said circular. In such a case a copy of the said valuation report along with a chart showing the specified adjustments shall be filed along with the return of net wealth for each of the four assessment years."

Units of Unit Trust of India/Administrator of specified undertaking/specified company, Units of Mutual Fund, Central Government securities, State Government securities, Debentures/Bonds of the companies, Preference and Equity shares of companies and Corporation Bonds are not assets within the meaning of section 2(ea) [For details, refer item (7) on page 266] and hence not chargeable to Wealth-tax. Since these assets are not chargeable to Wealth-tax, the question of valuation of such assets does not arise.

NET WEALTH OF AN ASSESSEE TO INCLUDE CERTAIN ASSETS:

(Section 4)

Section 4 deals with the inclusion of the value of certain assets in the net wealth of an assessee though under the general law such assets do not belong to the assessee. The circumstances under which these assets are to be included are discussed hereunder:

Assets transferred to the following categories of persons fall within the ambit of

Section 4(1)(a):

- (1) Assets transferred to spouse (i.e., husband or wife):

[Section 4(1)(a)(i)]

Value of assets which are transferred directly or indirectly (otherwise than for adequate consideration or in connection with an agreement to live apart) by a husband to his wife or by a wife to her husband are to be included in the hands of the transferor.

- (2) Assets transferred to minor children other than a married daughter:

[Section 4(1)(a)(ii)]

Value of assets which on the valuation date are held by a minor child (not being a married daughter) of an individual are to be included in the net wealth of the parent who is having greater net wealth or where the marriage of his parents does not subsist, in the net wealth of that parent who maintains the minor child in the previous year. Where such assets are once included in the net wealth of the either parent, such assets shall not be included in the net wealth of the other parent in any succeeding year unless the Assessing Officer is satisfied, after giving that parent an opportunity of being heard, that it is necessary so to do [Vide 3rd proviso to section 4(1)(a)]. However, assets acquired by the minor child out of his income [referred to in the proviso to section 64(1A) of the Income-tax Act] and held on the valuation date is not to be included in the net wealth of his parent [Vide 2nd proviso to section 4(1)(a)].

Where the assets are held by a minor child suffering from any disability of the nature specified in section 80U of the Income-tax Act (refer page 225), such assets will not be included in the net wealth of any parent as provisions of section 4(1)(a)(ii) are not applicable. Such minor child's wealth will be assessed in the hands of such child.

- (3) Assets transferred to persons or association of persons:

[Section 4(1)(a)(iii)]

Value of assets transferred by the individual, directly or indirectly (otherwise than for adequate consideration), to a person or association of persons for the immediate or deferred benefit of the individual, his or her spouse, shall be included in the net wealth of the individual.

- (4) Transfer of assets to an association of persons otherwise than under an irrevocable transfer:

[Section 4(1)(a)(iv)]

Value of assets transferred by the individual to a person or association of persons is to be included in the hands of the transferor, if the transfer is by way of revocable transfer.

In other words, if the transfer is by way of an "irrevocable transfer", the asset will not be deemed as belonging to the transferor.

The expression "irrevocable transfer" as defined in the Explanation to section 4 means a transfer of assets which, by the terms of instrument effecting it, is not revocable for a period exceeding 6 years or during the life time of the transferee, and under which the transferor derives no direct or indirect benefit.

A transfer of assets would not be considered as "irrevocable transfer" if the instrument of transfer contains any provision of the re-transfer, directly or indirectly, of the whole or any part of the assets or income therefrom to the transferor or in any way gives the transferor a right to re-assume power, directly or indirectly, over the whole or any part of the assets or income therefrom [Explanation to section 4].

(5) Assets transferred by an individual to his or her son's wife:

[Section 4(1)(a)(v)]

The value of assets transferred by an individual, directly or indirectly (otherwise than for adequate consideration), to his or her son's wife on or after 1-6-1973 are to be included in the assessment of the transferor.

(6) Assets transferred by an individual to a person or association of persons for the benefit of son's wife:

[Section 4(1)(a)(vi)]

Where an individual has transferred assets on or after 1-6-1973 otherwise than for adequate consideration to a person or association of persons directly or indirectly for the immediate or deferred benefit of son's wife, of such individual, such assets will be included in the net wealth of the individual.

(7) Transfer of assets referred to in any of the sub-clauses of section 4(1)(a) which are chargeable to gift-tax or exempt from gift-tax:

[1st proviso to section 4(1)(a)]

Under the 1st proviso to section 4(1)(a), the value of the assets referred to therein and transferred after the end of the previous year relevant to the assessment year 1971-72 and subsequent years by way of gift is to be included in the net wealth of the individual even though such gift is chargeable under the Gift-tax Act, 1958 or is exempt under section 5 of that Act.

In connection with the above deemed assets it may be noted that:

It is not necessary that the transferred asset should be held by the transferee on the valuation date in the same form in which it was transferred. Thus, if an individual transfers cash to his or her spouse or minor child (includes a step-child and an adopted child) which is used before the valuation date for the purchase of house property, and/or urban land, it is the value of the asset so acquired which is to be included in the net wealth of the individual and not the cash originally transferred [Section 4(1)(a)].

(8) Interest of an assessee in a firm or an association of persons:

[Section 4(1)(b)]

The value of the interest in the assets of the firm or association, of an assessee who is a partner in a firm or a member of an association of persons, determined in the manner laid down in Rules 15 and 16 of Schedule III will be included in the net wealth of the assessee.

Where a minor is admitted to the benefits of partnership, the interest of such minor in the firm determined in the manner laid down in Rules 15 and 16 of Schedule III will be included in the net wealth of the parent who is having greater net wealth or where the marriage of his parents does not subsist, in the net wealth of that parent who maintains the minor child in the previous year. Where such interest of minor is once included in the net wealth of either parent for any assessment year, such interest in subsequent years will not be included in the net wealth of the other parent unless the Assessing Officer is satisfied, after giving that parent an opportunity of being heard, that it is necessary so to do.

(9) Conversion or transfer of separate property of an individual into Hindu undivided family property:

[Section 4(1A)]

Sub-section (1A) of section 4 provides that where an individual being a member of a Hindu undivided family converted his personal property into Hindu undivided family property after 31-12-1969, by throwing it in the common stock of the family, he is deemed to have transferred the converted property through the family, to the members of the family, for being held by them jointly. The whole of such converted property shall be deemed to belong to the individual and will be included in his net wealth.

Where an individual transfers his separate property, directly or indirectly, to the Hindu undivided family of which he is a member, for inadequate consideration, the value of such transferred property (even by way of gift) will be included in the net wealth of the individual.

In the event of partial or total partition of the Hindu undivided family, the shares attributable to the spouse of the individual in the converted property will be included in the net wealth of the individual under the provisions of section 4(1).

(10) Partial partition:

[Section 20A]

Partial partition of a Hindu undivided family taking place after 31st December, 1978 will not be recognised.

Where any such claim is made before the Assessing Officer that a partial partition of a Hindu undivided family, which has hitherto been assessed as undivided, has taken place after 31st December, 1978, such family will continue to be liable to be assessed under the Wealth-tax Act as if no such partial partition had taken place.

Further, each member or group of members of such family immediately before such partial partition and also the family itself will be jointly and severally liable for the tax, penalty, interest, or any other sum payable under this Act by the family in respect of any period, whether before or after the partial partition. The several liability of any member or group of members will, however, be computed according to the portion of the joint family property allotted to him or it at such partial partition.

For the purposes of section 20A, "partial partition" shall have the meaning assigned to it in clause (b) of the Explanation to section 171 of the Income-tax Act (refer page 61).

The provisions of section 20A are not applicable to a partial partition of a separate property converted into Hindu undivided family property after 31-12-1969 discussed under preceding item (9) on facing page.

(11) Section 4(1)(a) not applicable to assets transferred by an individual before 1-4-1956:

[Section 4(4)]

The provisions of section 4(1)(a) are not applicable in respect of assets transferred by an individual before 1-4-1956 and the value of the assets so transferred shall not be included in his net wealth.

(12) Gift of money by mere book entries without actual delivery of money:

[Section 4(5A)]

Section 4(5A) of the Act provides that where a gift of money is made by mere book entries and it is not proved to the satisfaction of the Assessing Officer that there was actual delivery of the money at the time when the book entries were made, the value of such gift will be included in the net wealth of the donor.

(13) Tax treatment of members of co-operative housing societies/company/AOP:

[Section 4(7)]

A member of co-operative society, company or other association of persons to whom a building or part of a building (i.e., flat) has been allotted, will be deemed to be the owner of such building/flat.

(14) Deemed owner in respect of certain types of properties:

[Section 4(8)]

Section 4(8) provides that a person shall be deemed to be owner in the following two types of properties:

- (a) property taken possession through part performance of a contract of the nature referred to in section 53A of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882;
- (b) property taken either on lease exceeding a year or through any transaction as is referred to in section 269UA(f) of the Income-tax Act.

EXEMPTION IN RESPECT OF CERTAIN ASSETS:

[Section 5]

Section 5 of the Wealth-tax Act, 1957 enumerates various assets which are exempt from wealth-tax.

Upto assessment year 1992-93, various types of assets [as discussed in sub-item (ii) & item (B) on page 249 of ITRR 1994-95 (56th Year of Publication)] were wholly or partially exempt under the then section 5. From assessment year 1993-94 and onwards, in view of the revised definition of the term 'asset' in section 2(ea) [for details, refer item (7) on page 266], barring the following all other exemptions have been withdrawn:

(1) Property held under trust or other legal obligation for any public purpose of a charitable or religious nature in India [Section 5(i)].

Exemption under this clause will not be allowed to the trust carrying on business unless—

- (i) the business income of the trust is exempt under section 11(4A) of the Income-tax Act; or
- (ii) the business is carried on by an institution, fund or trust referred to in clauses [(22) or (22A), upto assessment year 1998-99] (23B) or (23C) of section 10 of the Income-tax Act.

(2) The interest of the assessee in the coparcenary property of any Hindu undivided family of which he is a member subject to the condition that provisions of section 4(1A) of the Wealth-tax Act are not applicable [Section 5(ii)].

(3) One residential building in the occupation of ex-ruler [Section 5(iii)].

(4) Heirloom jewellery of ex-ruler [Section 5(iv)].

(5) In respect of moneys and the value of assets brought into India, or the value of assets acquired out of such moneys¹¹ brought into India, by persons of Indian origin or a citizen of India, in cases where such persons return to India with the intention of permanently residing therein. This exemption will be available for seven successive assessment years commencing with the assessment year next following the date on which such person returns to India [Section 5(v)].

Moneys standing to the credit of such person in a Non-resident (External) Account in any bank in India in accordance with the Foreign Exchange Regulation Act, 1973 and any rules made thereunder, on the date of his return to India, shall be deemed to be moneys brought by him into India on that date [Explanation 2 to section 5(v)].

(6) From assessment year 1999-2000 and onwards, one house or part of a house or a plot of land not exceeding 500 sq. metres belonging to an individual or a Hindu undivided family [Section 5(vi)]. For assessment years 1994-95 to 1998-99, the exemption is restricted to one house or part of a house belonging to an individual or a Hindu undivided family [The then section 5(vi)].

Note: In my opinion, circulars referred to hereunder will also apply to section 5(vi) as the provisions contained in the then section 5(1)(iv) are the same as in the existing section 5(vi):

- (1) Exemption u/s. 5(1)(iv) is available even for houses used for commercial purposes [Vide Circular letter F. No. 317/23/73-W.T., dt. 29-7-1973].
- (2) Where a property is jointly held in co-ownership, each of the co-owners will be entitled to claim exemption u/s. 5(1)(iv) subject to monetary ceiling limit [Vide Board's F. No. 10/69/69-W.T., dt. 26-8-1969].

LIABILITY TO ASSESSMENTS IN SPECIAL CASES

(1) Charitable or religious trust:

(Section 21A)

Notwithstanding anything contained in section 5(i), where any property is held under trust for any public purpose of a charitable or religious nature in India, tax shall be recoverable from the trustee in respect of the property held by him under trust at the flat rate of 1% on net wealth exceeding Rs. 15,00,000^{11a}, if the trust forfeits exemption by reason of any of the following factors, namely —

- (i) any part of the trust's property or any income of the trust, including income by way of voluntary contributions is used or applied, directly or indirectly, for the benefit of any person referred to in section 13(3) of the Income-tax Act, e.g., the settlor, the trustee, their relatives, etc.; or
- (ii) any part of the income of the trust, created on or after 1st April, 1962, including income by way of voluntary contributions, enures, directly or indirectly, for the benefit of any person referred to in section 13(3) of the Income-tax Act; or
- (iii) any funds of the trust are invested or deposited or any shares in a company are held by the trust, in contravention of the investment pattern for trust funds laid down in section 13(1)(d) read with section 11(5) of the Income-tax Act.

However, the provisions of section 21A will not apply in the following cases:

- (1) where any part of such property or any income of such trust is used or applied for the benefit of any person referred to in section 13(3) of the Income-tax Act, in compliance with a mandatory term of the trust (created before 1-4-1962), no wealth tax shall be leviable since the provisions of section 21A(i) do not apply.
- (2) where the charitable and religious trust is entitled to exemption from income-tax in respect of its income under clauses (21) or (22) or (22A) or (23B) or (23C) of section 10 of the Income-tax Act.

(2) Association of persons:

[Section 21AA]

Where assets chargeable to wealth-tax are held by an association of persons and the individual shares of the members of the association in the income or assets or both are indeterminate or unknown (on the date of formation of the association or at any time thereafter) the net wealth of such association will be taxed at the flat rate of 1% of net wealth exceeding Rs. 15,00,000^{11a}.

The provisions of this section are not applicable to a company or a co-operative society and society registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860.

(3) Wealth-tax in the case of companies including closely-held companies:

Under section 3(2) of the Wealth-tax Act, a company [as defined in section 2(17) of the Income-tax Act] will be charged to wealth-tax at the flat rate of 1% of net wealth exceeding Rs. 15,00,000^{11a}. Wealth-tax is chargeable in respect of the assets specified in section 2(ea) as detailed in item (7) on page 266. Provisions contained in the Wealth-tax Act will apply to companies. For Example, refer page 262.

11. In the case of a person referred to above, the moneys and the value of assets brought by him into India and the value of the assets acquired by him out of such moneys within one year immediately preceding the date of his return and at any time thereafter will qualify for exemption. The exemption will, however, be limited to a period of seven successive assessment years commencing with the assessment year next following the date on which such person returned to India.

11a. For the exemption limit enhanced by the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, refer Rapid Finder on page 36 for para 10.6.

MISCELLANEOUS:(1) Return of wealth:*(Section 14)

Where the net wealth of an assessee, including the net wealth of any other person in respect of which he is assessable (for instance u/s. 4), exceeds the taxable limit, he has to voluntarily file the return of net wealth under section 14(1) on or before the due date prescribed under section 139(1) of the Income-tax Act. The due dates for filing the return of income under section 139(1) for various categories of assessee, are as under:

In relation to assessment year 2006-07 and subsequent years:

(a) where the assessee is: (1) a company; or (2) a person (other than a company) whose accounts are required to be audited under Income-tax Act or any other law; or (3) a working partner of a firm whose accounts are required to be audited under Income-tax Act or any other law	By 30th September ¹² , for assessment year 2008-09 and subsequent years By 31st October ¹² , upto assessment year 2007-08
(b) in the case of any other assessee other than (a) above	By 31st July ¹² .

The above dates are mandatory. The Assessing Officer does not have power to extend the due dates mentioned above. Assessing Officer will not issue notice under section 14, if the assessee has not filed a return of net wealth. But he may issue such a notice under section 16(4)(i), if the assessee has not filed a return within the time allowed as above. To illustrate, if the return of net wealth for the assessment year 2009-10 is not filed by 30-9-2009, by an assessee falling under category (a) above, Assessing Officer may issue notice u/s. 16(4)(i) to the assessee to furnish the said return, on or after 1-10-2009. The return of net wealth which shows net wealth below the maximum amount which is not chargeable to tax shall be deemed never to have been furnished.

Where an assessee files return of net wealth after the due date mentioned above, interest at the rate of 1% from 8-9-2003 & onwards [$1\frac{1}{4}\%$, from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003; 2%, upto 31-5-2001], for every month or part of a month on the amount of tax payable on the net wealth as determined u/s. 16(1)(i) or on regular assessment, will be levied for the period of delay i.e., from due date of furnishing the return to the date of furnishing the return. If the return is not furnished, interest will be levied from the due date of furnishing the return to the date of completion of assessment u/s. 16(5) [Section 17B]. No penalty, as hitherto, is leviable for delay or failure in furnishing the return.

Where a return has not been furnished within the time allowed under section 14(1) or under a notice issued under section 16(4)(i) or where it has been furnished but some omission or wrong statement is discovered therein, section 15 permits an assessee to file a return or a revised return, as the case may be, at any time before the expiry of one year from the end of the relevant assessment year or before the completion of the assessment, whichever is earlier.

(2) Self-assessment:(Section 15B)

Under section 15B, where any tax is payable on the basis of the return of net wealth required to be furnished under sections 14 or 15 or 16(4)(i) or 17, then, such tax shall be paid before the filing of the return and the return shall be accompanied by proof of payment of such tax (i.e., self-assessment challan). Interest u/s. 17B, if any, payable for delayed filing of return of net wealth, such interest upto the date of furnishing the return also should be paid alongwith self-assessment tax. Where the amount paid on self-assessment falls short of tax and interest payable on the basis of the return, the amount paid will be first adjusted against the interest and the balance, if any, against the tax payable.

For the failure to pay the self-assessment tax, the assessee would be deemed in default u/s. 15B(3). However, there is no provision to levy penalty for such default.

(3) Assessment procedure:(Section 16)

The assessment procedure under the Wealth-tax Act is similar to that of Income-tax. Refer sub-items (A) to (C) of item (ii) on pp. 180-181.

W.e.f. 1-6-1999, the assessment procedure u/s. 16(1) of the Wealth-tax Act is similar to that of Income-tax Act [Refer sub-item (A) of item (ii) on page 180].

12. For extended 'due date' in relation to assessment years 2006-07 to 2008-09, refer footnote No. 32 on page 190.

For failure to pay the demand made on regular assessment within 30 days from the date of receipt of the notice of demand, the assessee will be liable to pay interest u/s. 31(2) and penalty u/s. 32. Where the period of default in paying the regular demand commences on or after 1-4-1989 and ends after that date, the interest will be payable at the rate of 1½% (upto 31-5-2001)/1¼% (from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003)/1% (from 8-9-2003 & onwards), for every month or part of a month.

(4) Time limit for completion of wealth-tax assessments or reassessments:

(Section 17A)

(W.e.f. 1-6-2001)

Section 17A prescribes the time limits for completion of assessments or reassessments as under:

Type of assessment	Time limit for completion of assessment or re-assessment
(1) Regular assessment made u/s. 16,—
(a) for assessment years 1989-90 to 2003-04	Two years from end of the relevant assessment year.
(b) for assessment year 2004-05 and onwards	Twenty-one months from end of the relevant assessment year.
(2) Assessment or reassessment made u/s. 17,—
(a) where the notice is served u/s. 17(1) on or after 1-4-2000 but before 1-4-2005	One year from the end of the financial year in which such notice was served.
(b) where the notice is served u/s. 17(1) on or after 1-4-2005	Nine months from the end of the financial year in which such notice was served.

Valuation for Gold ornaments:

In my opinion, while determining the market value of gold ornaments, the following factors are required to be taken into consideration, namely:

(i)	Difference in price between 24 carats of standard gold and 22 carats of gold ornaments	..	..	8.33%
(ii)	Licensed dealer's margin of profit when ornaments are sold in the market	..	..	3.00%
(iii)	Melting charges payable to Government refinery and for conversion of gold ornaments into standard gold bars	..	..	0.67%
	% to be deducted in respect of gold bangles	..	..	12.00%

Soldering made of copper, silver, etc. in necklaces and other fancy ornaments varying between 8% & 10%	..	..	..	9.00%

% to be deducted in respect of gold ornaments other than gold bangles	..	21.00%

For the reasons stated above it is suggested to adopt the following formula:

Gold bangles	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	deduct 12%
Other ornaments made of gold	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	..	deduct 21%

†From assessment year 1993-94 and onwards, Units of Unit Trust of India/Administrator of specified undertaking/ specified company, Units of Mutual Fund, Central Government securities, State Government securities, Debentures/Bonds of the companies, Preference and Equity Shares of companies and Corporation Bonds are not assets within the meaning of section 2(ea) [For details, refer item (7) on page 266] and hence not chargeable to Wealth-tax. SALIENT FEATURES OF THE PROVISIONS RELATING TO ADVANCE TAXPayable during the financial year ending on 31-3-1997 & subsequent years:
(assessment years 1997-98 to 2010-11):

The provisions of the 'advance tax' scheme in respect of advance tax payable, during the financial year ending on 31-3-1997 and subsequent years, are as explained below:

(1) Income subject to advance tax:

[Section 207]

The advance tax shall be payable on all the items of income included in the total income chargeable to tax for the assessment year immediately following the financial year in which the advance tax is payable. This would mean that: (a) capital gains, and (b) income referred to in section 2(24)(ix) i.e., winnings from lotteries, crossword puzzles, races including horse races, card games, other games, gambling or betting, will not be excluded from the total income for the purposes of computation of advance tax despite the fact that the said items of income are of non-recurring nature. In short, the whole of the total income chargeable to tax (referred to as the "current income") will be liable to payment of advance tax. Refer Examples on page 289.

(2) Conditions of liability to pay advance tax:

[Section 208]

Under section 208¹ it is obligatory to pay advance tax during the financial year in every case where the advance tax payable is Rs. 10,000 or more. Thus, if the advance tax payable as computed under section 209 is less than Rs. 10,000, there would be no obligation on the part of any assessee to pay advance tax during the financial year 2009-10 and subsequent years (assessment year 2010-11 and subsequent assessment years).

(3) Computation of advance tax:

[Section 209]

(a) Where the calculation is made by the assessee for the purposes of payment of advance tax under section 210(1) or 210(2) or 210(5) or 210(6), he shall first estimate his current income and then calculate the income-tax thereon at the rates in force in the financial year. For the financial year ending on 31-3-2010, advance tax is to be calculated at the rates specified in Part III of the First Schedule to the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009 [Section 209(1)(a)].

(b) Where the calculation is made by the "Assessing Officer" by an order made under section 210(3), the income-tax shall be calculated by him at the rates in force in the financial year,—

(i) on the total income assessed as per the latest regular assessment, or

(ii) on the total income returned by the assessee for any subsequent previous year, whichever is higher [Section 209(1)(b)].

However, where a return is furnished by the assessee under section 139 or in response to notice under section 142(1) or a regular assessment is made in respect of the previous year later than that referred to in (b)(i) & (b)(ii) above, the Assessing Officer may issue an amended order under section 210(4) on the basis of such return or regular assessment. The income-tax will have to be calculated by him on the total income thus returned or assessed, as the case may be, at the rates in force in the relevant financial year [Section 209(1)(c)].

NOTES:

1. The income-tax calculated by the assessee or the Assessing Officer, as the case may be, shall be reduced by the amount of income-tax deductible or collectible at source during the relevant financial year under any provision of the Income-tax Act from any income (as computed before allowing any deductions under the Income-tax Act) which has been taken into account in computing current income. The amount of income-tax so reduced shall be the advance tax payable in that year [Section 209(1)(d)].

2. Net agricultural income, if any, is to be taken into account while computing "advance tax" [Section 209(2)]. In cases where the net agricultural income does not exceed Rs. 5,000 (as against Rs. 600, upto assessment year 2001-02), it is to be ignored [Section 2(2)/2(10) of the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009].

3. There is no distinction in the tax rates applicable to specified Hindu undivided families (i.e., those with one or more members having independent taxable income) and non-specified Hindu undivided families. Thus, for assessment year 2010-11, same rates i.e., those specified in item I of Paragraph A of Part III of the First Schedule to the Finance (No. 2) Act, 2009, will apply to all Hindu undivided families.

1. Under section 208 it is obligatory to pay advance tax during the financial year in every case where the advance tax payable is Rs. 5,000 or more. Thus, if the advance tax payable as computed u/s. 209 is less than Rs. 5,000, there would be no obligation on the part of any assessee to pay advance tax during the financial years 1996-97 to 2008-09 (assessment years 1997-98 to 2009-10).

(4) Procedure for the payment of advance tax during the financial year 1996-97 & subsequent years (assessment year 1997-98 and onwards):[Section 210]

It is no longer necessary for the assessee to file statement of advance tax or estimate of advance tax. Filing of estimate of advance tax (i.e., intimation in the prescribed Form No. 28A) would be necessary only where the Assessing Officer has issued a demand notice under section 210 and the assessee estimates advance tax payable at a lesser figure [Refer sub-item (b) hereafter].

The procedure for payment of advance tax during financial year 1996-97 and subsequent years is laid down in section 210. The relevant provisions of this section are as explained hereunder:

*(a) Payment of advance tax by the assessee of his own accord:[Section 210(1) & 210(2)]

Every person who is liable to pay advance tax under section 208 (i.e., in cases where the advance tax payable is Rs. 5,000 or more), whether or not he has been previously assessed by way of regular assessment, shall, of his own accord, pay, on or before the due dates specified in section 211(1) [refer item (5) on facing page], the appropriate percentage, of the advance tax on his current income calculated under section 209 as explained in item (3) on page 287 [Section 210(1)].

An assessee who has paid any instalment or instalments of advance tax under section 210(1) as explained above, may increase or reduce the amount of advance tax payable in the remaining instalment or instalments in accordance with his estimate of the current income and make payment of the said amount in the remaining instalment or instalments as specified in section 211(1) [Section 210(2)].

In the case of a person who has already been assessed by way of regular assessment in respect of the total income of any previous year^{1a} may be required by the Assessing Officer by issue of an order in writing under section 210(3), at any time during the financial year but not later than the last day of February, to pay advance tax calculated under section 209(1)(b). The Assessing Officer will issue notice of demand under section 156 to such assessee in pursuance of the said order specifying the instalment or instalments in which such tax is to be paid [Section 210(3)].

If, after making an order under section 210(3) and at any time before the 1st day of March, a return of income is furnished by the assessee under section 139 or in response to notice under section 142(1) or a regular assessment of the assessee is made in respect of a previous year later than that referred to in section 210(3), the Assessing Officer may issue an amended order under section 210(4) with a notice of demand under section 156 requiring the assessee to pay, on or before the due date or each of the due dates specified in section 211(1) following after the date of the amended order, the appropriate percentage of advance tax computed on the basis of total income declared in such return or in respect of which the regular assessment aforesaid has been made [Section 210(4)].

An assessee who is served with a notice of demand in pursuance of an order of the Assessing Officer under section 210(3) or an amended order under section 210(4) may, if in his estimation the advance tax payable on his current income would be less than the amount of advance tax specified in such order or amended order, send an intimation in the prescribed Form No. 28A to the Assessing Officer to that effect and pay such advance tax calculated under section 209 in accordance with his estimate on or before the due date or each of the due dates specified in section 211(1) falling after the date of such intimation [Section 210(5)].

In cases where the advance tax payable in pursuance of an order of the Assessing Officer under section 210(3) or amended order under section 210(4) is estimated by the assessee to exceed the amount of advance tax specified in the said order or amended order or intimated by him under section 210(5), he shall pay on or before the due date of the last instalment specified in section 211(1), the appropriate part or, as the case may be, the whole of such higher amount of advance tax in accordance with his estimate in the manner laid down in section 209 [Section 210(6)].

To summarise, the calculation for the payment of advance tax is to be made by the assessee at the rates in force in the relevant financial year where the payment is to be made under section 210(1) or section 210(2) or section 210(5) or section 210(6), while such calculation is to be made by the Assessing Officer for making an order under section 210(3) or amended order under section 210(4).

^{1a}. Upto 31-5-2002, after the words 'previous year', add 'and who has not paid any advance tax u/s. 210(1) [as explained in sub-item (a) above]'.

(5) Advance tax when payable:[Section 211]

Advance tax as calculated under section 209 on the current income shall be payable in three instalments (four instalments, in the case of an assessee being a company) during each financial year. Where the current income includes capital gains and/or income of the nature referred to in section 2(24)(ix) (i.e., winnings from lotteries, crossword puzzles, races including horse races, card games, other games, gambling or betting), the assessee should pay the whole amount of tax payable thereon as part of the remaining instalments of advance tax which are due after the accrual or arising of the said types of income. In a case where such income arises after 15th March, after the payment of last instalment of advance tax, the whole amount of advance tax payable thereon should be paid on or before 31st March [1st proviso to section 234C(1) read with proviso to section 211(1)].

If notice of demand issued u/s. 156 in pursuance of an order of the Assessing Officer u/s. 210(3) or an amended order u/s. 210(4) is served after any of the due dates specified in the above Table I, or the case may be, II, the appropriate part or, as the case may be, the whole of the amount of advance tax specified in such notice shall be payable on or before those dates falling after the date of service of the notice of demand [Section 211(2)].

2. In the above Example 1, after payment of last instalment of advance tax on or before 15-3-2010, Shri Joshi sells land on 18-3-2010. Long-term capital gains on the sale of land computed under section 48 [Refer item 4 on page 144] is Rs. 75,000. Revised income subject to advance tax (called "current income") for the purpose of payment of advance tax on long-term capital gains⁶ by 31-3-2010 will be as under:

Income subject to advance tax [as worked out in Example 1 above]	Rs. 2,90,000
Add: Long-term capital gains (arose on 18-3-2010 ⁷ on sale of land)	Rs. 75,000

Advance tax payable on long-term capital gains by 31-3-2010⁷ Rs. 15,450

- Notes: (1) Shri Joshi is neither required to file statement of advance tax nor estimate of income.
(2) The whole amount of tax on capital gains has to be paid as part of the remaining instalments of advance tax which are due after the said capital gains arose as explained in Example 2 above in order to avoid levy of interest under section 234C. It may be noted that the loss under the head "Capital gains" (whether short-term or long-term) cannot be set off against any other head of income in the same previous year [Vide section 71(3)]. From assessment year 2003-04 and onwards, loss relating to long-term capital asset cannot be set off/carried forward for set off, against gains relating to short-term capital asset in the same/following assessment year [Section 70(3)/74(1)(b)].

(6) Consequences for non-payment of advance tax:

[Section 218]

If an assessee does not pay on the date specified in section 211(1), any instalment of advance tax that he is required to pay by an order of the Assessing Officer under section 210(3) or section 210(4) and does not send to the Assessing Officer an intimation u/s. 210(5) or does not pay the advance tax on the basis of his estimate u/s. 210(6), he shall be deemed to be an assessee in default in respect of such instalment or instalments. Where an assessee is deemed to be in default, penalty u/s. 221 is leviable for the unpaid instalment or instalments. For other defaults in payment of advance tax, penal interest u/s. 234B and/or 234C is leviable. No penalty is leviable for such defaults u/s. 273 in relation to assessment year 1989-90 and subsequent years [Vide section 273(3)].

4. For deduction u/s. 80C, refer item (i) on pp. 211-213.

5. Refer footnote No. 2 on page 289.

6. Capital gains as well as income referred to in section 2(24)(ix) is to be included in the current income [Vide section 207].

7. As the long-term capital gains arose on 18-3-2010 (i.e., after last instalment of advance tax due on or before 15-3-2010), the whole of the amount of advance tax payable Rs. 15,450 in respect of long-term capital gains is to be paid by 31-3-2010 [Vide 1st proviso to section 234C(1) read with proviso to section 211(1)].

If the long-term capital gains arose say on 17-12-2009 (i.e., after expiry of 2nd instalment of advance tax due on or before 15-12-2009), the whole of the amount of tax payable amounting to Rs. 15,450 in respect of the said capital gains is to be paid as part of the remaining instalment of advance tax which is due i.e., on or before 15-3-2010. On or before 15-3-2010, Shri Joshi has to pay a sum of Rs. 20,250 [i.e., Rs. 4,800 (as worked out in Example 1) plus Rs. 15,450 being tax on the said capital gains (as worked out above)] as instalment of advance tax.

Accordingly, if the long-term capital gains arose say on 17-9-2009 (i.e., after expiry of 1st instalment of advance tax due on or before 15-9-2009), the whole amount of tax payable amounting to Rs. 15,450 in respect of the said capital gains is to be paid as part of the remaining instalments of advance tax which are due i.e., on or before 15-12-2009 and 15-3-2010. Shri Joshi has to pay: (1) on or before 15-12-2009, a sum of Rs. 12,870 [i.e., Rs. 3,600 (as worked out in Example 1) plus Rs. 9,270 (being 60% of Rs. 15,450 tax on the said capital gains as worked out above)], and (2) on or before 15-3-2010, a sum of Rs. 10,980 [i.e., Rs. 4,800 (as worked out in Example 1) plus Rs. 6,180 (being Rs. 15,450 tax on the said capital gains as worked out above less Rs. 9,270 paid on or before 15-12-2009)].

(7) Interest, chargeable for defaults in, and receivable for, payment of advance tax:[Sections 234B, 234C & 244A]

The provisions relating to the levy of interest under sections 234B & 234C for defaults in the payment of advance tax or deferrment of advance tax in relation to the assessment year 2002-03 and any subsequent assessment years is as stated hereafter.

*(i) Interest chargeable for defaults in payment of advance tax:[Section 234B⁸]

Where the assessee fails to pay advance tax which he is liable to pay u/s. 208 or, where the advance tax paid under the provisions of section 210 is less than 90% of the assessed tax, he shall be liable to pay simple interest (which is mandatory⁹) from 8-9-2003 and onwards at the rate of 1%¹⁰ for every month or part of a month, comprised in the period from 1st April next following the financial year in which the advance tax was payable (i.e., 1st April of the relevant assessment year) to the date of determination of total income u/s. 143(1) and where a regular assessment is made, to the date of such regular assessment. The interest shall be chargeable on the entire amount of the assessed tax for failure to pay advance tax or, as the case may be, on the difference between the assessed tax and the advance tax paid u/s. 210.

For the purposes of this section, “assessed tax” means the tax on the total income determined u/s. 143(1) or on regular assessment as reduced by the amount of,—

(1) any tax deducted or collected at source in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XVII on any income which is subject to such deduction or collection and which is taken into account in computing such total income;

(2) any relief of tax allowed u/s. 90 on account of tax paid in a country outside India (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards);

(3) any relief of tax allowed u/s. 90A on account of tax paid in a specified territory outside India referred to in that section (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards);

(4) any deduction, from Indian income-tax payable, allowed u/s. 91, on account of tax paid in a country outside India (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); and

(5) any tax credit allowed to be set off in accordance with the provisions of section 115JAA (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 onwards) [Explanation 1 to section 234B(1)].

Where an assessee has paid tax as self-assessment u/s. 140A or otherwise before the date of determination of total income u/s. 143(1) or completion of the regular assessment, the interest shall be calculated at the prescribed rate/rates on the liable amount in two stages; first, from 1st April of the relevant assessment year to the date of payment of such tax and thereafter on the liable amount as reduced by such payment upto the date of regular assessment. Where the interest has been paid by the assessee along with self-assessment tax u/s. 140A, such interest shall be reduced from the interest chargeable upto the date of such payment [Section 234B(2)].

Notes: (1) Where an assessment is made for the first time under section 147 or, w.e.f. 1-6-2003, under section 153A, the assessment so made shall be regarded as regular assessment for the purposes of section 234B [Explanation 2 to section 234B(1)].

(2) The “tax on the total income determined under section 143(1)” shall not include additional income-tax, if any, payable under section 143(1A), for levying the interest under section 234B [Explanation 3 to section 234B(1)].

(3) Where, as a result of re-assessment or re-computation under section 147 or, w.e.f. 1-6-2003, section 153A, or as a result of any rectification under section 154 or as a result of any appeal or revision or order of the Settlement Commission under section 245D(4), the amount on which interest was payable has been increased or decreased, as the case may be, the interest shall be increased or decreased accordingly. Where the interest is increased, the Assessing Officer shall serve on the assessee a notice of demand in the prescribed form specifying the sum payable. In a case where the interest is reduced, the excess interest paid, if any, shall be refunded [Sub-sections (3) & (4) of section 234B].

(4) Interest is payable for every month or part of a month which means that fraction of a month will not be ignored and interest at the prescribed rate/rates will be charged even for part of a month [Section 234B(1)].

(5) The interest leviable under sections 234B and 234C [discussed in sub-items (i) & (ii) of item (7)] is mandatory⁹ and there is no provision in the Act for reduction or waiver of this interest.

8. Refer footnote No. 2 on page 289.

9. In cases where any income accrues or arises for any previous year due to operation of any order of court, statutory authority or of the Government passed after the close of the said previous year, interest u/s. 234A, 234B & 234C shall be reduced or waived by the Chief Commissioner of Income-tax/Director-General of Income-tax subject to the conditions, for the period and to the extent specified in Order u/s. 119(2)(a) [Vide F. No. 212/495/92-ITA. II, dt. 2-5-1994: 208 ITR (St.) 3]. Also refer Board's clarifications on waiver or reduction of interest on pp. 191-192.

10. The rate of interest for every month or part of a month: (a) upto 31-5-1999, is at the rate of 2%; (b) from 1-6-1999 to 31-5-2001, is at the rate of 1½%; & (c) from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003, is at the rate of 1¼%.

Examples:

- (1) Shri Joshi, who is aged 45 years, files the return of income for the assessment year 2009-10 on 29-9-2009 (due date for filing return is 30-9-2009) declaring income of Rs. 3,10,000. i.e., 6 months × interest @ 1% p.m. × Rs. 2,600 short-fall Rs. 156

(2) Interest under section 234C(1)(b)(ii):

(A) In the case of assessee (other than companies):

As already explained in item (5)(B) on page 289, in the case of an assessee (other than a company), the advance tax is payable in three instalments at the prescribed percentage in respect of each instalment. In the first instalment at 30% of the advance tax on current income is payable on or before 15th September¹¹ of the relevant financial year. Likewise, in the second instalment at 60% of the advance tax due as reduced by the amount, if any, paid in the earlier instalment is payable on or before 15th December¹¹ of the relevant financial year. In the third instalment at 100% of the advance tax due as reduced by the amount, if any, paid in the earlier instalment or instalments is payable on or before 15th March¹¹ of the relevant financial year.

Where the assessee, other than a company, who is liable to pay advance tax u/s. 208 has failed to pay such tax or the advance tax paid by the assessee on his current income:

(1) on or before 15th September or on or before 15th December is less than 30% or 60%, respectively, of the “tax due on the returned income”, then, the assessee shall be liable to pay simple interest (which is mandatory¹²) at the rate of 1%, from 8-9-2003 and onwards [$1\frac{1}{4}\%$, from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003; $1\frac{1}{2}\%$, upto 31-5-2001] per month for a period of three months on the amount of the short-fall from 30% or, as the case may be, 60%, of the “tax due on the returned income” [Section 234C(1)(b)(i)];

(2) on or before 15th March is less than the “tax due on the returned income”, then, the assessee shall be liable to pay simple interest (which is mandatory¹²) at the rate of 1%, from 8-9-2003 & onwards [$1\frac{1}{4}\%$, from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003; $1\frac{1}{2}\%$, upto 31-5-2001] on the amount of the shortfall from the “tax due on the returned income” [Section 234C(1)(b)(ii)].

For the purposes of section 234C(1) the “tax due on the returned income” means the tax chargeable on the total income declared in the return of income for the relevant assessment year, as reduced by the amount of: (a) any tax deductible or collectible at source in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XVII on any income which is subject to such deduction or collection and which is taken into account in computing such total income; (b) any relief of tax allowed u/s. 90 on account of tax paid in a country outside India (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); (c) any relief of tax allowed u/s. 90A on account of tax paid in a specified territory outside India referred to in that section (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); (d) any deduction, from Indian income-tax payable, allowed u/s. 91, on account of tax paid in a country outside India (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); and (e) any tax credit allowed to be set off in accordance with the provisions of section 115JAA (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards) [Explanation to section 234C(1)].

However, if the total income includes any capital gains and/or income of the nature referred to in section 2(24)(ix) (i.e., winnings from lotteries, crossword puzzles, races including horse races, card games, other games, gambling or betting), interest on short-fall in payment of advance tax (arising on account of under-estimate or failure to estimate such income) under this section will not be levied, provided the whole of the amount of tax on such income is paid as part of the remaining instalment/instalments of advance tax which is/are due after such income arose or accrued. Refer Example 2 on page 290 [1st proviso to section 234C(1)].

Illustration: Suppose “tax due on the returned income” of Mr. A for the assessment year 2009-10 is Rs. 60,000. Advance tax paid by him is Rs. 56,000 (Rs. 10,000 on 15-9-2008, Rs. 16,000 on 15-12-2008 and Rs. 30,000 on 15-3-2009).

Due date of instalment	Instalment payable	Instalment paid	Short-fall in payment of instalment	Interest payable on short-fall	Amount of interest payable
On or before 15-9-2008	Rs. 18,000 ¹³	Rs. 10,000	Rs. 8,000	1% p.m. on Rs. 8,000 × 3 months (i.e., from 15-9-2008 to 15-12-2008)	Rs. 240
On or before 15-12-2008	Rs. 26,000 ¹⁴	Rs. 16,000	Rs. 10,000	1% p.m. on Rs. 10,000 × 3 months (i.e., from 15-12-2008 to 15-3-2009)	Rs. 300
On or before 15-3-2009	Rs. 34,000 ¹⁵	Rs. 30,000	Rs. 4,000	1% on Rs. 4,000	Rs. 40
Total interest payable under section 234C					Rs. 580

Note: In the illustration given above, if the last instalment of advance tax Rs. 30,000 is paid, by Mr. A, after 15-3-2009, say on 31-3-2009, then, the interest payable u/s. 234C(1)(b)(ii) in respect of instalment due on or before 15-3-2009 would be Rs. 340 [i.e., 1% on Rs. 34,000 (Rs. 60,000 tax due on the returned income less Rs. 26,000 advance tax paid on or before 15-3-2009)].

11. Refer footnote No. 2 on page 289.

12. Refer footnote No. 9 on page 291.

13. Being 30% of Rs. 60,000 “tax due on returned income”.

14. Being 60% of Rs. 60,000 “tax due on returned income” is Rs. 36,000 less Rs. 10,000 paid on 15-9-2008, as first instalment.

15. Being 100% of Rs. 60,000 “tax due on returned income” i.e., Rs. 60,000 less Rs. 26,000 paid on or before 15-12-2008 (i.e., Rs. 10,000 paid on 15-9-2008 plus Rs. 16,000 paid on 15-12-2008) = Rs. 34,000.

(B) In the case of companies only:

As already explained in item (5)(A) on page 289, in the case of a company, the advance tax is payable in four instalments at the prescribed percentage in respect of each instalment. In the first instalment at 15% of the advance tax on current income is payable on or before 15th June¹⁶ of the relevant financial year. Likewise, in the second instalment at 45% of the advance tax due as reduced by the amount, if any, paid in the earlier instalment is payable on or before 15th September¹⁶ of the relevant financial year. In the third instalment at 75% of the advance tax due as reduced by the amount, if any, paid in the earlier instalment or instalments is payable on or before 15th December¹⁶ of the relevant financial year. In the fourth instalment at 100% of the advance tax due as reduced by the amount, if any, paid in the earlier instalment or instalments is payable on or before 15th March¹⁶ of the relevant financial year.

Where the assessee, being a company, which is liable to pay advance tax u/s. 208 has failed to pay such tax or the advance tax paid by the company on its current income:

(1) on or before 15th June or on or before 15th September or on or before 15th December is less than 15% or 45% or 75%, respectively, of the “tax due on the returned income”, then, the company shall be liable to pay simple interest (which is mandatory¹⁷) at the rate of 1%, from 8-9-2003 and onwards, [$1\frac{1}{4}\%$, from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003; $1\frac{1}{2}\%$, upto 31-5-2001] per month for a period of three months on the amount of the short-fall from 15% or 45% or 75%, as the case may be, of the “tax due on the returned income” [Section 234C(1)(a)(i)].

However, if the advance tax paid by the company on its current income on or before 15th June or on or before 15th September, is not less than 12% or, as the case may be, 36%, of the “tax due on the returned income”, then, it shall not be liable to pay any interest u/s. 234C(1)(a)(i) on the amount of the short-fall on those dates [Proviso to section 234C(1)(a)];

(2) On or before 15th March is less than the “tax due on the returned income”, then, the company shall be liable to pay simple interest (which is mandatory¹⁷) at the rate of 1%, from 8-9-2003 & onwards [$1\frac{1}{4}\%$, from 1-6-2001 to 7-9-2003; $1\frac{1}{2}\%$, upto 31-5-2001] on the amount of the short-fall from the “tax due on the returned income” [Section 234C(1)(a)(ii)].

For the purposes of section 234C(1) the “tax due on the returned income” means the tax chargeable on the total income declared in the return of income for the relevant assessment year, as reduced by the amount of: (a) any tax deductible or collectible at source in accordance with the provisions of Chapter XVII on any income which is subject to such deduction or collection and which is taken into account in computing such total income; (b) any relief of tax allowed u/s. 90 on account of tax paid in a country outside India (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); (c) any relief of tax allowed u/s. 90A on account of tax paid in a specified territory outside India referred to in that section (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); (d) any deduction, from Indian income-tax payable, allowed u/s. 91, on account of tax paid in a country outside India (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards); and (e) any tax credit allowed to be set off in accordance with the provisions of section 115JAA (applicable from assessment year 2007-08 & onwards) [Explanation to section 234C(1)].

However, if the total income includes any capital gains and/or income of the nature referred to in section 2(24)(ix) (i.e., winnings from lotteries, crossword puzzles, races including horse races, card games, other games, gambling or betting), interest on short-fall in payment of advance tax (arising on account of under-estimate or failure to estimate such income) under this section will not be levied, provided the whole of the amount of tax on such income is paid as part of the remaining instalment/instalments of advance tax which is/are due after such income arose or accrued. Refer Example 2 on page 290 [1st proviso to section 234C(1)].

(iii) Interest on refunds:[Section 244A]

Where refund is on account of excess payment of advance tax or tax collected at source or tax deducted at source, the period for which such interest is to be allowed will commence from 1st April of the relevant assessment year to the date on which the refund is granted (i.e., the date on which the refund order is issued). The delay, if any, in granting refund, if attributable to the assessee, then such period will be reduced from this period. The rate of interest is @ one-half per cent. from 8-9-2003 and onwards, [@ two-third per cent. from 1-6-2002 to 7-9-2003; @ three-fourth per cent. from 1-6-2001 to 31-5-2002; @ one per cent. from 1-10-1991 to 31-5-2001; @ one and one-half per cent. upto 30-9-1991] for every month or part of a month. No interest will, however, be payable if amount of refund is less than 10% of tax as determined under section 143(1) or on regular assessment. For further details, refer item 2 and Examples on page 193.

It may be noted that, w.e.f. 1-6-2003, where the refund granted to the assessee u/s. 143(1) is found to be not due on regular assessment, the assessee shall be liable to pay simple interest u/s. 234D on the whole or the excess amount so refunded. UNDER CHAPTER XVII OF THE INCOME-TAX ACT, 1961 (Contd.):

2. FROM INTEREST ON SECURITIES UNDER SECTION 193†:
 - A. In respect of cumulative debentures/bonds, tax is required to be deducted at source every time the interest is credited in the account books of the payer and is not to be postponed till the maturity of debentures/bonds [Circular No. 643, dt. 22-1-93: 200 ITR (St.) 181].
 - B.  - C. In respect of Deep Discount Bonds, tax is required to be deducted at source only at the time of redemption of such bonds, irrespective of whether the income from the bonds has been declared by the bond-holder on accrual basis from year to year or is declared only in the year of redemption. In a case where the bond-holder has declared the income from the said bonds on annual accrual basis during the term of the bond, he will be entitled to make an application u/s. 197 to AO to issue a certificate for no deduction of tax or deduction at a lower rate [Circular No. 4, dt. 13-5-04: 268 ITR (St.) 208].
3. FROM INTEREST OTHER THAN “INTEREST ON SECURITIES” UNDER SECTION 194A†:
 - A. The Board [Vide its Circular No. 715, dt. 8-8-95: 215 ITR (St.) 12] have clarified the provisions of section 194A, as amended by the Finance Act, 1995, as under:
 - Interest on reinvestment term deposit is liable for TDS at the time of credit of interest to the account of payee or at the time of payment thereof, whichever is earlier. If credit/payment is made to him annually, the tax may be deducted annually. Credit to interest payable account or suspense account, etc. is also taken as credit to the account of the payee [Vide answer to question No. 32 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 18].
 - Interest on variable deposit schemes is liable for TDS as the variable deposits are in the nature of time deposits [Vide answer to question No. 33 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 18].
 - If the time deposit is renewed after 1-7-1995, TDS will have to be made from interest paid or credited in respect of such a time deposit [Vide answer to question No. 34 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 18].
 - B. Deduction of income-tax from interest on time deposits with banks ††—
 - (i) clarification regarding [Circular No. 626, dt. 12-2-92: 193 ITR (St.) 209],
 - (ii) extension of applicability of section 194A [Circular No. 617, dt. 22-11-91: 192 ITR (St.) 277].
 - C. From interest payments under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, tax is to be deducted at source [Circular No. 526, dt. 5-12-88: 175 ITR (St.) 2].  - G. Where the bank discounts usance bill/hundi and credits the net amount to supplier's account immediately without waiting for realisation of the bill on due date, the property in bill passes to the bank & eventual collection on due date is receipt by bank. In such cases, net payment by bank to supplier is in the nature of price paid for the bill and no tax is to be deducted at source [Circular No. 65, dt. 2-9-71: 82 ITR (St.) 33].
 - H. In respect of cumulative deposits, tax is required to be deducted at source every time the interest is credited in the account books of the payer and is not to be postponed till the maturity of deposit [Circular No. 643, dt. 22-1-93: 200 ITR (St.) 181].

5. PAYMENTS TO CONTRACTORS AND SUB-CONTRACTORS UNDER SECTION 194C:
 - A. The Board [Vide its Circular Nos. 713, dt. 2-8-95: 215 ITR (St.) 4; 714, dt. 3-8-95: 215 ITR (St.) 5; and 715, dt. 8-8-95: 215 ITR (St.) 12] have clarified the provisions of section 194C, as amended by the Finance Act, 1995, as under:

 - The advertising may be in print or electronic media, i.e., in newspapers, periodicals, radio, television, etc. In such cases the tax has to be deducted u/s. 194C @ 1% of the payment made for advertising including production of programmes for such broadcasting and telecasting to be used in the advertising. In all other cases of work of broadcasting and telecasting including production of programmes for such broadcasting and telecasting, where advertising is not involved, tax has to be deducted @ 2% of the sum [Vide Circular No. 714: 215 ITR (St.) 5].
 - TDS is required to be made u/s. 194C @ 1% on advertising payment made by a client to an advertising agency. However, no TDS is required to be made if such payment is made by an advertising agency to the media, which includes both print and electronic media. It may be noted that, where advertising agency makes payments to their models, artists, photographers, etc., the TDS shall be u/s. 194J [Vide answers to questions No. 1 & 2 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 12].
 - If the advertising agencies give a consolidated bill including charges for art work and other related jobs as well as payments made by them to media, deduction of tax will be at the rate of 1% u/s. 194C. If, payments are made for production of programmes for the purpose of broadcasting and telecasting, these payments will be subjected to TDS at 2%. Even if the production of such programmes is for the purpose of preparing advertisement material, not for immediate advertising, the payment will be subjected to TDS at the rate of 2% [Vide answer to question No. 3 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 12].
 - If the payments are made directly to print and electronic media for release of advertisement, deduction will have to be made u/s. 194C @ 1%. However, payments made directly to Doordarshan may not be subjected to TDS as Doordarshan, being a Government agency, is not liable to income-tax [Vide answer to question No. 4 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 13].
 - The contract for putting up a hoarding is in the nature of advertising contract and provisions of section 194C would be applicable. If a person has taken a particular space on rent and thereafter sublets the same fully or in part for putting up a hoarding, he would be liable to TDS u/s. 194-I & not u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 5 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 13].
 - Tax is to be deducted u/s. 194C @ 1% of the gross amount of the bill (including bill of media and not restricted to payment of commission to the person who arranges release of advertisement, etc. [Vide answer to question No. 17 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 15].
 - The agreement of sponsorship of debates, seminars and other functions held in colleges, schools and associations with a view to earn publicity through display of banners, etc., put by the organisers is, in essence, an agreement for carrying out a work of advertisement. Therefore, provisions of section 194C shall apply [Vide answer to question No. 18 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 15].
 - TDS is required to be made on payments for cost of advertisements in the souvenirs brought out by the organisers [Vide answer to question No. 19 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 16].

CARRIAGE OF GOODS AND PASSENGERS BY ANY MODE OF TRANSPORT OTHER THAN BY RAILWAYS:

- The provisions of section 194C do not apply to the payments made to the airlines/any other mode of transport or the travel agents for purchase of tickets for travel by air or by any other mode of transport of individuals. The provisions, shall, however, apply when payments are made for chartering an aircraft/any other mode of transport for carriage of passengers or goods [Vide Circular No. 713: 215 ITR (St.) 4].
- Payments made to clearing and forwarding agents for carriage of goods shall be subjected to TDS u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 6 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 13].
- The travel agent, issuing tickets on behalf of the airlines for travel of individual passengers, would not be required to deduct tax @ source from the sum payable to airlines as he acts on behalf of the airlines. Since clearing and forwarding agents act as independent contractors, they would be liable to deduct tax @ source while making payments to a carrier of goods [Vide answer to question No. 7 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 14].
- Payments made to couriers for carrying documents, letters, etc., is in the nature of carriage of goods and, therefore, provisions of section 194C would be attracted in respect of such payments [Vide answer to question No. 8 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 14].

II. CIRCULARS ON DEDUCTION OF TAX AT SOURCE/COLLECTION AT SOURCE UNDER CHAPTER XVII OF THE INCOME-TAX ACT, 1961 (Contd.):

- In the case of payments to transporters, normally, each GR can be said to be a separate contract, if the goods are transported at one time, even though payments for several GRs are made under one bill. But, if the goods are transported continuously in pursuance of a contract for a specific period or quantity, each GR will not be a separate contract and all GRs relating to that period or quantity will be aggregated for the purpose of TDS [Vide answer to question No. 9 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 14].
- It is obligatory to deduct tax @ source out of payment of freight when the goods are received on “freight to pay” basis [Vide answer to question No. 10 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 14].

CATERING:

- TDS is not required to be made when payment is made for serving food in a restaurant in the normal course of running of the restaurant/cafe [Vide answer to question No. 11 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 14].

WORKS CONTRACT, ETC.:

- Payment to recruitment agencies are in the nature of payments for services rendered and hence TDS shall be u/s. 194J and not u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 12 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 14-15].
- Payments made by a company to a share registrar is liable to TDS u/s. 194J and not u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 13 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 15].
- FD commission and brokerage are not liable to TDS u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 14 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 15].
- Payment for supply of printed material as per prescribed specifications is liable to TDS u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 15 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 15].

Provisions of section 194C would apply in respect of a contract for supply of any article or thing as per prescribed specifications only if it is a contract for work and not a contract for sale as per the principles in this regard laid down in para 7(vi) of Circular No. 681 [Refer item 2(c) on page 322] [Vide Circular No. 13, dt. 13-12-2006: 287 ITR (St.) 174].

- Payment of commission to external parties in relation to rendering of services for procurement of orders is not liable to TDS u/s. 194C. TDS may be made u/s. 194J if such services involve payment of fees for professional or technical services [Vide answer to question No. 16 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 15].
- The payments made to an electrician or to a contractor who provides the service of an electrician will be in the nature of payment made in pursuance of a contract for carrying out any work and hence TDS will be u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 28 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 17].
- Routine, normal maintenance contracts which include supply of spares will be liable to TDS u/s. 194C. However, where technical services are rendered, TDS will be u/s. 194J [Vide answer to question No. 29 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 17].
- TDS has to be made on the gross amount of bill including reimbursements for actual expenses [Vide answer to question No. 30 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 18].
- Since the arrangement between the customers and cold storage owners are basically contractual in nature, the provision of section 194C and not section 194-I will be applicable to the amounts paid as cooling charges by the customers of the cold storage [Vide Circular No. 1, dt. 10-1-08: 297 ITR (St.) 83].

- B. Deduction of tax at source u/s. 194C — Instruction regarding — Circular Nos. 95, dt. 15-11-72:86 ITR (St.) 84; 114, dt. 21-6-73: 90 ITR (St.) 22; 295, dt. 27-4-81: 130 ITR (St.) 6; 613, dt. 14-11-91:192 ITR (St.) 254; 632, dt. 20-8-92:197 ITR (St.) 416; and 681, dt. 8-3-94: 206 ITR (St.) 299. Gist of Circular No. 681 is as under:

Fresh guidelines regarding deduction of tax at source u/s. 194C in supersession of Circulars No. 86 dt. 29-5-72 [86 ITR (St.) 86], 93 dt. 26-9-72 [86 ITR (St.) 30] and Para II of Circular No. 108, dt. 20-3-73, w.e.f. 1-4-1994:

- (a) The provisions of section 194C shall apply to all types of contracts for carrying out any work including transport contracts, service contracts, advertisement contracts, broadcasting/telecasting contracts, labour contracts, materials contracts and works contracts. The term ‘service contracts’* would include services rendered by such persons as lawyers, physicians, surgeons, engineers, accountants, architects, consultants, etc. However, where the payment, for services rendered, is in the nature of salary chargeable under the head income from “Salaries”, section 194C will not apply [In such cases, tax deduction at source will be u/s. 192]. The term ‘transport contracts’ would, in addition to contracts for transportation and loading/unloading of goods, also cover contracts for plying buses, ferries, etc., along with staff (e.g. driver, conductor, cleaner, etc.). The term ‘materials contracts’ would mean contracts for supply of materials, where principal contract is for work and labour and not a contract for sale of materials. Payments made to persons who arrange advertisement, broadcasting, telecasting, etc., would be covered by section 194C.
- (b) Section 194C would apply to written as well as oral contracts.

* W.e.f. 1-7-1995, tax at source from payments made for ‘fees for professional or technical services’ will be under section 194J and not under section 194C.

II. CIRCULARS ON DEDUCTION OF TAX AT SOURCE/COLLECTION AT SOURCE UNDER CHAPTER XVII OF THE INCOME-TAX ACT, 1961 (Contd.):

- (c) Where the payment made under the contract is likely to exceed Rs. 10,000 [w.e.f. 1-7-1995, Rs. 20,000] for the entire period during which the contract will remain in force, tax should be deducted at source. Where the initial contract price is less than Rs.10,000 [w.e.f. 1-7-1995, Rs. 20,000], but later on the payment exceeds that amount, deduction should be made in respect of earlier payments as well.
 - (d) Where advance payments are made during the execution of a contract and such payments are to be adjusted at the time of final settlement of accounts, tax will have to be deducted at the time of making advance payment, if the total payment is likely to exceed Rs. 10,000 [w.e.f. 1-7-1995, Rs. 20,000].
 - (e) The other conditions governing deduction of tax at source u/s. 194C would continue to apply.
2. The provisions of section 194C would not apply:-
 - (a) to payments made for hiring or renting of equipments, etc.
 - (b) to payments made to banks for discounting bills, collecting/receiving payments through cheques/drafts, opening and negotiating letters of credit and transactions in negotiable instruments.
 - (c) to contracts for sale of goods. Otherwise, where processing/fabricating goods is done according to the specification of such payers and the ownership thereof passes to such payers only when the article or thing is delivered, section 194C will not apply, as it will be a contract for sale, which is outside the purview of section 194C.
 3. The above guidelines will apply w.e.f. 1-4-1994. Tax deduction already made up to 31-3-1994 in accordance with the earlier guidelines [Circular Nos. 86, 93 & 108] will be regarded as compliance with the provisions of section 194C.

 - E. Deduction for payments to contractors and sub-contractors in bidi manufacturing industry — Clarification regarding [Circular No. 433, dt. 25-9-85: 157 ITR (St.) 27 and Circular No. 487, dt. 8-6-87: 166 ITR (St.) 137].

6. INSURANCE COMMISSION UNDER SECTION 194D:
Deduction of income-tax @ source u/s. 194D — Instructions regarding [Circular No. 112, dt. 31-5-73: 93 ITR (St.) 33; Circular No. 120, dt. 8-10-73: 93 ITR (St.) 1; and Circular No. 121, dt. 8-10-73: 92 ITR (St.) 5].
 7. FROM PAYMENT OF RENT UNDER SECTION 194-I*:
 - A. The Board [Vide its Circular Nos. 715, dt. 8-8-95: 215 ITR (St.) 12 and Circular No. 718, dt. 22-8-95: 215 ITR (St.) 67] have clarified the provisions of section 194-I, as under:
 - If a person has taken a particular space on rent and thereafter sublets the same fully or in part for putting up a hoarding, he would be liable to TDS u/s. 194-I and not u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 5 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 13].
 - Payments made by persons other than individuals and HUFs[§] for hotel accommodation taken on regular basis[†] will be in the nature of rent subject to TDS u/s. 194-I [Vide answer to question No. 20 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 16].
 - If there are a number of payees, each having a definite and ascertainable share in the property, the limit of Rs. 1,20,000 p.a. will apply to each of the payees/co-owners separately [Vide answer to question No. 21 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 16].

* Also refer, sub-item V of item 9 on page 325.

§ It may be noted that, provisions of section 194-I will cover payment of rent made by an individual or a HUF where the total sales, gross receipts, or turnover from business/profession carried on by the individual or HUF exceed the monetary limits specified u/s. 44AB(a)/(b) (w.e.f. 1-6-2002, vide 2nd proviso to section 194-I) [Circular No. 5, dt. 30-7-02: 257 ITR(St.) 4].

† Where earmarked rooms are let out for a specified rate and specified period or where a room or set of rooms are not earmarked, but hotel has a legal obligation to provide such types of rooms during the currency of the agreement, same would be construed to be accommodation made available on "regular basis". However, where an agreement is in the nature of a rate contract (i.e., providing specified types of hotel rooms at pre-determined rates), it cannot be said to be accommodation "taken on regular basis" and hence provisions of section 194-I will not apply to such rate contract agreement [Circular No. 5, dt. 30-7-02: 257 ITR(St.) 4].

II. CIRCULARS ON DEDUCTION OF TAX AT SOURCE/COLLECTION AT SOURCE UNDER CHAPTER XVII OF THE INCOME-TAX ACT, 1961 (Contd.):

- The tax is to be deducted from actual payment of rent and there is no need of computing notional income in respect of a deposit given to the landlord. If the deposit is adjustable against future rent, the deposit is in the nature of advance rent subject to TDS [Vide answer to question No. 22 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 16].
 - In a case where the tenant makes a non-refundable deposit, tax would have to be deducted at source as such deposit represents the consideration for the use of land/building, etc., and, therefore, partakes of the nature of rent. If, however, the deposit is refundable, no tax would be deductible at source. If the deposit carries interest, the TDS on such interest will be u/s. 194A [Vide answer to question No. 2 of Circular No. 718: 215 ITR (St.) 68].
 - The tax is to be deducted at source from rent paid, by whatever name called, for hire of property. The incidence of TDS does not depend upon the nomenclature, but on the content of the agreement as mentioned in clause (i) of Explanation to section 194-I. In other words, taking premises on rent but styling the agreement as a business centre agreement would attract provisions of section 194-I [Vide answer to question No. 23 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 16].
 - In a case of composite arrangement for user of premises and provisions of manpower for which consideration is paid as a specified percentage of turnover, provisions of section 194-I would apply if the composite arrangement is in essence the agreement for taking premises on rent [Vide answer to question No. 24 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 16-17].
 - Warehousing charges will be subjected to TDS u/s. 194-I [Vide answer to question No. 3 of Circular No. 718: 215 ITR (St.) 68].
 - Since the arrangement between the customers and cold storage owners are basically contractual in nature, the provision of section 194C and not section 194-I will be applicable to the amounts paid as cooling charges by the customers of the cold storage [Vide Circular No. 1, dt. 10-1-08: 297 ITR (St.) 83].
 - If the municipal taxes, ground rent, etc. are borne by the tenant, no tax will be deducted on such sum [Vide answer to question No. 4 of Circular No. 718: 215 ITR (St.) 68].
 - Section 194-I is applicable to rent paid even for the use of a part or a portion of any land or building [Vide answer to question No. 5 of Circular No. 718: 215 ITR (St.) 68-69].
- B. 1. There is no requirement to deduct tax at source on income by way of 'rent' if the payee is the Government. In the case of local authorities referred to in section 10(20) and statutory authorities referred to in section 10(20A), there will be no requirement to deduct tax at source from income by way of rent if the person responsible for paying it is satisfied about their tax exempt status u/s. 10(20)/10(20A) on the basis of a certificate to this effect given by the said authorities [Circular No. 699, dt. 30-1-95: 212 ITR (St.) 2].
2. Since the income of Regimental Fund/Non-Public Fund established by the Armed Forces of the Union for the welfare of past/present members of such forces or their dependents is exempt u/s. 10(23AA), no tax may be deducted at source u/s. 194-I from the income of such funds [Circular No. 735, dt. 30-1-96: 218 ITR (St.) 5].
3. Since the service tax paid by the tenant does not partake the nature of "income" of the landlord and the landlord only acts as a collecting agency for collection of service tax, TDS u/s. 194-I would be required to be made on the amount of rent paid/payable without including service tax [Circular No. 4, dt. 28-4-2008: 300 ITR (St.) 92].
- C. Provisions of section 194-I are not applicable to the sharing of proceeds of film exhibition between a film distributor and a film exhibitor owning a cinema theatre since: (1) the exhibitor does not let out the cinema hall to the distributor; (2) the share of the exhibitor is on account of composite services; and (3) the distributor does not take the cinema building on lease or sub-lease or tenancy or under any agreement of similar nature [Circular No. 736, dt. 13-2-96: 218 ITR (St.) 97].
8. FROM PAYMENT OF FEES FOR PROFESSIONAL OR TECHNICAL SERVICES UNDER SECTION 194]*:
- The Board [Vide its Circular Nos. 714, dt. 3-8-95: 215 ITR (St.) 5; 715, dt. 8-8-95: 215 ITR (St.) 12; 726, dt. 18-10-95: 216 ITR (St.) 61; and 766, dt. 24-4-98: 231 ITR (St.) 13] have clarified the provisions of section 194] as under:
- An advertising agency making payments for professional services to a film artiste such as an actor, a cameraman, director, etc., is liable for TDS @ 5% [10%, w.e.f. 1-6-2007] u/s. 194] [Vide para 4 of Circular No. 714: 215 ITR (St.) 5].
 - An advertising agency making payments to their models, artistes, photographers, etc. is liable for TDS @ 5% [10%, w.e.f. 1-6-2007] u/s. 194] [Vide answer to question No. 1 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 12].
 - Payment to recruitment agencies are in the nature of payments for services rendered and hence TDS shall be u/s. 194] and not u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 12 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 14-15].
 - Payments made by a company to a share registrar is liable to TDS u/s. 194] and not u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 13 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 15].
 - If rendering of services for procurement of orders involve payment of fees for professional or technical services, TDS on such payments may be made u/s. 194] and not u/s. 194C [Vide answer to question No. 16 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 15].
 - For the financial year 1995-96, the limit of Rs. 20,000 will have to be worked out taking into account all the payments from 1-4-1995 to 31-3-1996. But the deduction of tax @ source would be made at the specified rate only from the payment made on or after 1-7-1995 [Vide answer to question No. 25 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 17].
 - Payments made to a hospital for rendering medical services liable for TDS u/s. 194] [Vide answer to question No. 26 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 17].

* W.e.f. 13-7-2006, provisions of section 194] are also applicable to payment of royalty or any sum referred to in section 28(va).

II. CIRCULARS ON DEDUCTION OF TAX AT SOURCE/COLLECTION AT SOURCE UNDER CHAPTER XVII OF THE INCOME-TAX ACT, 1961 (Contd.):

- TDS has to be made on the gross amount of bill including reimbursements for actual expenses [Vide answer to question No. 30 of Circular No. 715: 215 ITR (St.) 18].
- Any fees paid through regular banking channels to any chartered accountant, lawyer, advocate or solicitor who is resident in India by the non-residents who do not have any agent or business connection or permanent establishment in India may not be subjected to the provisions of TDS u/s. 194J. However, foreign companies or foreign law and accountancy firms are required to send a quarterly statement (from the quarter ending 31st December, 1995), indicating the name and address of the person to whom the payments are made, to the Deputy Secretary, Foreign Tax Division, CBDT, Department of Revenue, M/O Finance, New Delhi [Vide Circular No. 726: 216 ITR (St.) 61].
