Why traders / short term investor are not gaining from share market. Read following interesting observation made by us during discussion with trader.

1. By the time message received, price has gone up and immediately follows profit booking message. In such circumstances I do not understand what to do .I make small profit because difference between entry and exit price is low.

   This happens because YOU received information during market hours. To avoid, YOU should select scrip and it's expected high and low in advance and then trade. Watch first half an hour trading movement. If price moves near to your expected high price then sell for intraday and if price moves near to your expected low price then buy for intraday. YOU SHOULD BELIEVE IN YOURSELF RATHER THAN HEARSAY.

2. Sometimes gap between current price and stop loss is higher than the gap between current price and target price, thus loss amount is bigger than profit margin.

   This happens when there is high increase in price or gap between high and low is high. In such circumstances check volume (preferably last one week) and trend of scrip, if YOU feels, then enter else ignore scrip because YOU have hundred of scrip for selection at your fingertips. DO NOT FORGET THAT YOU ARE TRADING FOR YOUR PROFIT.

3. I do not believe in stop loss price.

   YOUR experience can not challenge, but information like past data, past volume, trend will support your decision strongly. If you have information like when target hit after stop loss saves you from big unforeseen losses. Remember YOU are the only person responsible for your decision. CONFIDENCE or OVERCONFIDENCE, because money is YOURS, profit or loss is YOURS.

4. I buy shares on advice and if price falls down, then shall I buy more shares to average out price?

   We know that there is a pain when price fall down against your expectation. YOU buy more shares to average out price, so that even small increase in price will give you profit in totality, but further fall in price will give you huge loss. That is why before taking decision to average out price, you should have information of scrip like past and current trend history, past data. With the help of such information, you are in position to take informed decision and thus chances of wrong decision are less. YOU SHOULD NOT FORGET YOUR PRIME MOTTO OF MAKING PROFIT.

5. By the time I received advice price of the share has gone up, in such circumstances is it advisable to buy shares?

One of the prime reasons is gap between high and low is high. Who will advise you whether scrip will move up or down? If you ask for advice from someone and YOU buy shares as advisor has suggested. If the price moves up, advisor will call and enquired how much profit YOU made. If the price moves down, YOU will call to know what next, YOU will not get satisfied answer. YOU should always believe in YOURSELF, YOUR DATA, YOUR TREND ANALYIS, YOUR JUDGEMENT, because you are investing your money for YOUR PROFIT.

6. When advices are more, then which scrip to select for trade? Many times it happens that scrip in which I trade, hit stop loss rest hit target? Is it my bad luck?

On base of analyzing technical chart advisor gives advice. Who is right and who is wrong? In such circumstances you choose advisor who participate in YOUR LOSS also. If no such advisor then cross check information received by you. Check 15 days history of scrip along with trend, advice, success rate and so on. Remember there is NO BAD LUCK, ONLY BAD INFORMATION. IF YOU WILL WIN, PEOPLE WILL FOLLOW YOU, ELSE YOU WILL FOLLOW PEOPLE. CHOICE IS YOURS.

7. No information available, once scrip hit stop loss.

Normally advisor expects that you have exit from scrip either on target or stop loss. Everyday lots of advice are generated, no one remember past. This is the normal tendency. Since YOU only know that YOU have not exited from advice, YOU have to take your own decision based on information YOU have. PEOPLE FORGET COW, ONCE MILK IS GIVEN BY COW.

8. Should I hold scrip, if it has cross target price?

No doubts your intention is to gain more profit, rather than searching scrip. But if price falls down, then you may not able to exit from scrip and question will continue whether to hold share? Friend, do not love your stock, encash stock once you get your desired amount. You have hundreds of scrip everyday at YOUR fingertips, then why to love single scrip.

9. If the scrip has cross stop loss price, then why to book loss, shall I hold scrip till cross target price?

Yes, I agree with YOU, why to book loss. There must be something wrong at selection process. You should check past data that whether scrip achieved target after hitting stop loss, then it is worth to wait for target. YOUR SCRIP DATA AND TREND WILL PLAY IMPORTANT ROLE. Your decision will affect your BANK BALANCE. Up or down choice is yours.

10. I faith my source from where I get information?

To faith on YOUR source is good, if information is only meant for YOUR SCRIP and specially for YOUR PROFIT. If it is a general information then cross checking of information is very good. Cross checking with data or hearsay is your choice because YOUR INVESTMENT IS AT RISK.

11. A strong determination that I will make profit from Market?

No doubts about your experience of market, but how much times will you wait to make profit from Market? Data will give you information, YOUR experience will give you decision power i.e. 1+1=11.Think it.

12. I have given information to my friend /group, how can I exit without making profit?

Your friend / group trust you because you are more knowledgeable/resourceful then them. Will not like to sharpen your knowledge / resources? Will you not like that you and your friend /group make profits?

13. I have purchased tips from market, found they are not worthwhile?

Since neither YOU have time nor technical knowledge, YOU hired professional TIP providers. They provide information about their scrip at their time and not of YOUR CHOICE SCRIP at YOUR TIME. On the base of TIP you trade in Market. You trade lakhs of rupees without knowing SCRIP MIS. Is it not a blind faith?

14. In market so many tips circulated at free of charge, then why I should go for paid services?

No lunch is free. There is simple theory you get buy call other get sell call. 50-50 game. It may possible that they want to exit? BE CAREFUL. There are lots of complaints, experience of traders who has suffered huge losses by getting wrong information or not getting information on time. You check details on www.stockmarketcomplaints.com. Still you like to trade blindly?
