

There may be four types of situations while attempting MCQs of CA-CPT

1st Type Easiest questions

There may be some questions which are from the topics that you have prepared quite well.

You have practiced and solved questions containing similar concepts earlier also and that too with ease.

You are confident that you will be able to solve these.

These are the easiest questions in which you can score easily.

Suggestion: Better you do it fast but with utmost care.

2nd Type A bit time-consuming questions

You know you can solve these questions but they are a bit time-consuming.

You are confident you will be able to crack them when you come back to them.

Attempt these questions in the second round of question attempting.

Suggestion: Mark them in the first stage for easy identification later.

3rd Type Most time consuming questions

These are the most time consuming questions.

You are not sure whether you can crack them rightly.

But you can give it a try after doing 1st and 2nd stage questions.

Suggestion: Mark them double tick for easy identification later.

4th Type Questions About which you do not have any idea

These are the questions about which you have no idea.

Suggestion: Cross them for identification and don't attempt them.
